Art on the Commons is a juried one-day exhibition of fine arts and crafts from more than one hundred artists in Ohio and surrounding states. Featuring high-quality artwork, live music and performances, specialty food vendors, a gorgeous park setting, and interactive hands-on art activities, Art on the Commons features something for everyone!

Rosewood Arts Center, a division of the Parks, Recreation and Cultural Arts Department of the City of Kettering, and the Kettering Arts Council, organize Art on the Commons. More information about the event is at www.playkettering.org/aotc.

ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

- All artists are competitively selected by a professional jury of artists.
- Art on the Commons attracts an average of 10,000 attendees from the entire Midwest region in just one day!
- Art on the Commons has been recognized as an outstanding festival by national and local publications
- Rosewood Arts Center, a regional leader and destination for arts education, creativity and arts appreciation, organizes and leads this one-day festival.
- Funds raised for Art on the Commons support arts education for all ages at Rosewood Arts Center.
