38 square footage or additional residential units beyond the maximum for which the parcel is zoned,
39 usually in exchange for the provision or preservation of an amenity at the same site or at another
40 location. Under California law, a housing development that provides 20 percent of its units for lower 41 income households, or 10 percent of its units for very low income households, or 50 percent of its 42 units for seniors, is entitled to a density bonus. (See "Development Rights, Transfer of.") As defined
43 by state law (Government Code Section 65915 et seq.), an increase of at least twenty five percent over 44 the maximum density otherwise allowed by the applicable zoning district, that is granted to the 45 owner/developer of a housing project who agrees to construct a prescribed percentage of dwelling units

14 adjacent to existing urbanization and utilities-while leaving unchanged historic, sensitive, or 15 hazardous areas. In some jurisdictions, for example, developers can buy development rights of 16 properties targeted for public open space and transfer the additional density to the base number of 17 units permitted in the zone in which they propose to develop.

18

23 neighboring properties and the community as a whole, from the standpoint of site and landscape
24 design, architecture, materials, colors, lighting, and signs, in accordance with a set of adopted criteria
25 and standards. "Design Control" requires that certain specific things be done and that other things not 26 be done. Design Control language is most often found within a zoning ordinance. "Design Review"
27 usually refers to a system set up outside of the zoning ordinance, whereby projects are reviewed
28 against certain standards and criteria by a specially established design review board or committee. (See 29 "Architectural Control.")

32 benefit from a high-volume pedestrian location.

33
34 ~~Developable Acres, Net. The portion of a site that can be used for density calculations. Some 35 communities calculate density based on gross acreage. Public or private road rights-of-way are not
36 included in the net developable acreage of a site.~~

37
38 Developable Land. Land that is suitable as a location for structures and that can be developed free of 39 hazards to, and without disruption of, or significant impact on natural resource areas.

40
41 Developer. An individual who or business that prepares raw land for the construction of buildings or 42 causes to be built physical building space for use primarily by others, and in which the preparation of 43 the land or the creation of the building space is in itself a business and is not incidental to another 44 business or activity.

1 Development. The physical extension and/or construction of urban land uses. Any construction
2 activity or alteration of the landscape, its terrain contour or vegetation, including the erection or alteration
3 of structures. Development activities include: subdivision of land; construction or alteration of

9 compliance with the municipal code, and Government Code Sections 65864 et seq. A development
10 agreement is intended to provide assurance to the applicant that an approved project may proceed subject
11 to the policies, rules, regulations and conditions of approval applicable to the project at the time of 12 approval, regardless of any changes to town policies, rules, and regulations after project approval. In 13 return, the town ~~is may be~~ assured that the applicant will provide infrastructure and/or pay fees required
14 by a new project.

17
18 Development Rights. The right to develop land by a ~~property owner landowner~~ who maintains fee-
19 simple ownership over the land or by a party other than the owner who has obtained the rights to 20 develop. Such rights usually are expressed in terms of density allowed under existing zoning. For 21 example, one development right may equal one unit of housing or may equal a specific number of 22 square feet of gross floor area in one or more specified zone districts. (See "Interest, Fee" and 23 "Interest, Less-than-fee," and "Development Rights, Transfer of [TDR].")

24
25 Development Rights, Transfer of (TDR). Also known as "Transfer of Development Credits," a 26 program that can relocate potential development from areas where proposed land use or 27 environmental impacts are considered undesirable (the "donor" site) to another ("receiver") site
28 chosen on the basis of its ability to accommodate additional units of development beyond that for 29 which it was zoned, with minimal environmental, social, and aesthetic impacts. (See "Development
30 Rights.")

31
32 Diameter of a Tree. Trunk diameter measured at fifty-four inches above the ground (also known as 33 "Diameter at breast height," or "DBH"). In the case of a trunk that is divided into limbs at a point below

25 seen from overhead.

26

44 easements on the private property of individuals to be able to install and maintain utility facilities.

45

1 Easement, Conservation. A tool for acquiring open space with less than full-fee purchase, whereby
2 a public agency buys only certain specific rights from the property owner landowner. These may be
3 positive rights (providing the public with the opportunity to hunt, fish, hike, or ride over the land), or

15 services for export to firms and individuals outside a defined localized economic area, and non-basic 16 activities whose goods and services are consumed at home within the boundaries of the local 17 economic area. Viewed another way, basic activity exports goods and services and brings new dollars
18 into the area; non-basic activity recirculates dollars within the area. This distinction holds that the 19 reason for the growth of a particular region is its capacity to provide the means of payment for raw 20 materials, food, and services that the region cannot produce itself and also support the non-basic 21 activities that are principally local in productive scope and market area. (See "Industry, Basic" and 22 "Industry, Non-basic.")

27 and minimal supplemental services for the homeless. Shelters come in many sizes, but an optimum
28 size is considered to be 20 to 40 beds. Supplemental services may include food, counseling, and 29 access to other social programs. (See "Homeless" and "Transitional Housing.") No individual or 30 household may be denied emergency shelter because of an inability to pay.
31

32 Eminent Domain. The right of a public entity to acquire private property for public use by condemnation,

6 characteristics of an area and to determine what effects will result if the area is altered by a proposed
7 action, prepared in compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA). ~~A report required
8 of General Plans by CEQA and which assesses all the environmental characteristics of an area and 9 determines what effects or impacts will result if the area is altered or disturbed by a proposed action.~~ (See

23 Fire Hazard Zone. An area where, due to slope, fuel, weather, or other fire-related conditions, the 24 potential loss of life and property from a fire necessitates special fire protection measures and planning
25 before development occurs.

28 fire wall; not fireproof.
29

39 special flood hazard and the risk premium zones applicable to that community.
40

41 Flood Plain. The relatively level land area on either side of the banks of a stream regularly subject to 42 flooding. That part of the flood plain subject to a one percent chance of flooding in any given year is 43 designated as an "area of special flood hazard" by the Federal Insurance Administration.

 3 elevation more than one foot. No development is allowed in floodways.

4
 5 Floor Area Ratio (FAR). The ratio of floor area to total lot area. FAR restrictions are used to limit the 6 maximum floor area allowed on a site (including all structures on the site). The maximum floor area of all
 7 structures (measured from exterior wall to exterior wall) permitted on a site (including carports) shall be
 8 determined by multiplying the floor area ratio (FAR) by the total net area of the site (FAR x Net Site Area
 9 = Maximum Allowable Floor Area). The gross floor area permitted on a site divided by the total net
 10 area of the site, expressed in decimals to one or two places. For example, on a site with 10,000 net
 11 sq. ft. of land area, a Floor Area Ratio of 1.0 will allow a maximum of 10,000 gross sq. ft. of building
 12 floor area to be built. On the same site, a FAR of 1.5 would allow 15,000 sq. ft. of floor area; a FAR
 13 of 2.0 would allow 20,000 sq. ft.; and a FAR of 0.5 would allow only 5,000 sq. ft. Also commonly
 14 used in zoning, FARs typically are applied on a parcel-by-parcel basis as opposed to an average FAR
 15 for an entire land use or zoning district.

 26 between major land use generators. At Level of Service "E," they carry approximately 1,875 vehicles
 27 per lane per hour, in both directions. Major streets cross at a different grade level.

7 representing the highest level of service, as follows:
8

9 Level of Service A. Indicates a relatively free flow of traffic, with little or no limitation. On 12 movement and speed. All queues clear in a single signal cycle.

13 Level of Service C. Denotes a reasonably steady, high-volume flow of traffic, with some 14 limitations on movement and speed, and occasional backups on critical 15 approaches.
16

17 Level of Service D. Denotes the level where traffic nears an unstable flow. Intersections still 18 function, but short queues develop, and cars may have to wait through one
19 cycle during short peaks.
20

21 Level of Service E. Describes traffic characterized by slow movement and frequent (although 22 momentary) stoppages. This type of congestion is considered severe, but is 23 not uncommon at peak traffic hours, with frequent stopping, long-standing
24 queues, and blocked intersections.
25

26 Level of Service F. Describes unsatisfactory stop-and-go traffic characterized by "traffic jams"
27 and stoppages of long duration. Vehicles at signalized intersections usually

30

31
32

None of these proceedings may be initiated until approved by the Commission to develop and determine the sphere of influence for each local government agency each county that reviews and evaluates all proposals for formation of special districts, incorporation of cities, annexation to special districts or cities, consolidation of districts, and merger of districts with cities. Each county's LAFCo is empowered to approve, disapprove, or conditionally approve such proposals. The front lot line on a corner lot is the line with the shortest frontage. ~~(If the street fronting lot lines of a corner lot are equal in length, the front lot line shall be determined by the director.)~~ On a through lot, both lot lines are front lot lines and the lot is considered to have no rear lot line.

Loudness. A subjective term for the sensation of the magnitude of sound.

Low Impact Development (LID). ~~A sustainable practice that benefits water supply and contributes to water quality protection. Unlike traditional storm water management, which collects and conveys storm water runoff through storm drains, pipes, or other conveyances to a centralized storm water facility, LID takes a different approach by using site design and storm water management to maintain the site's pre-development runoff rates and volumes. The goal of LID is to approximate a site's pre-development hydrology by using design techniques that infiltrate, filter, store, evaporate, and detain storm water runoff close to the source of rainfall. A set of stormwater management strategies that reduces impervious surfaces, treats runoff, controls runoff peaks and durations, and thereby helps protect water quality and stream resource integrity.~~

Low-Income Area. An area with household incomes at or below 80 percent of the statewide median income or with household incomes at or below the threshold designated as low income by the Department of Housing and Community Development's list of state income limits adopted pursuant to Section 50093 of the Health and Safety Code.

Low-Income Household. A household with an annual income usually no greater than 80 percent of the area median family income adjusted by household size, as determined by a survey of incomes conducted by a city or a county, or in the absence of such a survey, based on the latest available

18 retail establishment that sells the products being maintained or repaired, they are instead considered part 19 of the retail use.

20
21 Mandatory Element. A component of the General Plan mandated by State Law. ~~California State~~
22 ~~law requires that a General Plan include elements dealing with seven subjects—circulation,~~
23 ~~conservation, housing, land use, noise, open space and safety—and specifies to various degrees the~~ 24 ~~information to be incorporated in each element. (See "Land Use Element.")~~
