Blondy Jhune Bridges Construction Update #10

Dear All,

The drill shaft construction continues through the end of next week. The eight shafts at the west bridge have been anchored into the ground, and the steel cages are scheduled to be filled by the end of this week. The footings for the west bridge retaining walls are being dug this week as well. The drilling is planned for the eight shafts at the east bridge starting next week.

Sincerely,

Stanton Foerster, PE
Public Works Director/City Engineer
