Blondy Jhune Bridges Construction Update #20

Dear All,

Starting Tuesday, May 2, 2017, at 5:00 AM, the concrete is scheduled to start arriving for the last concrete pour. I am sorry that this operation is so early. These small paving areas are considered very low priority by the concrete companies. The bridge contractor is somewhat subject to when concrete companies want to deliver.

The contractor is now planning to open both bridges the week of May 15. The two main delay factors are now 1) the installation of the guardrail and 2) rainy weather.

To date, all the concrete paving is done on both sides of the west bridge and the east side of the east bridge.

Please avoid hanging around the constructions zones. These areas are not safe for the general public, and your safety cannot be guaranteed. The contractor works delinquently to avoid risks, but these locations are dangerous to the general public.

Sincerely,

Stanton Foerster, PE
Public Works Director/City Engineer
