

Let's Plan Together to Reduce Flooding in Marin City!

Please join us for a community meeting on June 1 to explore how to reduce flood risk in Marin City and provide input to design a community-centered plan.

The Marin City Stormwater Plan will aim to collectively develop a public stormwater plan to reduce flood risk at the highway and local roads and explore how to reduce flooding for Marin City neighborhoods. This plan will guide potential implementation of future projects and help to attract grant funding to turn this plan into action.

At the meeting, you will:

-  Ask questions about the existing conditions
-  Share thoughts about how flooding impacts you and your community
-  Join an interactive, optional walking tour of Marin City to identify flooding hotspots
