

City of New Fairview
Operational Update
Week of April 20, 2020

Operations –Jamie Wisdom, our Public Works Contractor, completed mowing along the right-of-way by the City property along Martin Dale Lane. He had to repair the sewer line behind City Hall. Using the tractor and the box blade he dragged the gravel on Graham Road. We do not know why, but the well/spring in front of City Hall has gone dry.

Jamie also completed pothole patching on Branding Iron and the Hilltop area for now. He also performed patching in the Rio Rancho and Sky View neighborhoods. Next week Jamie will be digging out bar ditches in the Hilltop and Branding Iron neighborhoods and other areas identified by Ryley Paroulek. We have leased a backhoe for a month at a cost of $1,800. We continue to get positive feedback from the people in the neighborhoods who are very grateful for the temporary repairs.

Administration – This week’s Council meeting worked much better, especially the audio portion, using the telephone method. Thank you Brooke for doing the research and leg-work to make that work for everyone!

The team had a conference call with ProudCity to discuss the implementation of our new website. Our kickoff date will be May 4 and the process will take about three months in total. We have scanned in all of the City’s ordinances and forwarded them to Franklin Legal to begin the process of digitizing our codes and ordinances.

We received three proposals for building inspection services. Jim Estep is currently reviewing them. We should have an agenda item on May 4 with a recommendation for one or more of the firms.
