

City of New Fairview
Operational Update
Week of May 18, 2020

Operations –

Jamie Wisdom, our Public Works Contractor, addressed several projects around town this week. He addressed more road maintenance Hilltop Road at Wilson Court. We received the “Road Work Ahead” signs and Jamie has been using them. Thank you Council for helping us work safely!

Jamie purchased a chain saw and has been clearing tree limbs that have been hiding signage. These signs were on Hilltop close to Judge Court.

Before

After

The stop sign at Skyway and Skyview Court was addressed.

Jamie also replaced the stop sign at FM 407 and Skyway. Before and after below. Guess which is which. 😊

Additional clean up work was done around and behind the multi-purpose building.

Administration –

Staff continues to work diligently accumulating information for the auditor. In addition, staff had another very productive week working on the new website with our Proud City partners. With all of Brooke's hard work we should have the new website up and running by the middle of June, much sooner than anticipated.

I met with Kim Wilson this week about assisting with setting up our new financial software and training Monica and Brooke on governmental fund accounting. She would come in one day per week for 8-10 weeks. Her rate is $100 per hour. She has many years of public finance experience and is a CPA. She is considering the offer.

I reached out to Pronto Staffing in Decatur at the request of Council and have hired a temporary maintenance worker to partner with Jamie. Nathan Wilson starts Tuesday. We will be paying him $13.00 plus the temp agency fees.

The City's ISO report was forwarded to Council about two weeks ago. The Mayor pointed out that one of the areas that was scored low was the training and certifications of our inspectors, Jim Estep, Don Strange and Chris McGinn. The report was forwarded to them and they were asked to review it. The Mayor is correct. Don Strange put together a table that reflects all of the training and certifications these folks hold. I have sent it to Esther Sola at ISO and asked them to reconsider in light of this new information.
