Working with our community to provide professional police services since 1858.

Chief Brian Miller

MESSAGE FROM CHIEF MILLER

We are excited to reintroduce our community to our district policing model and the dedicated officers assigned to each area. These officers will be your primary point of contact for non-emergency situations, fostering stronger connections and a deeper understanding of the community's needs. By remaining in their designated areas for extended periods, our district officers can better serve and support you.

When policing our community, we strive to address issues effectively and collaboratively to achieve meaningful and measurable results. Organizationally, we have adopted and standardized four specific service priorities that reflect our culture and mission, while also aligning with our community expectations. These service priorities focus on reducing crime, increasing traffic safety, improving quality of life, and engaging with the community. We have and continue to see immense value in our district policing and community engagement models as they build partnerships, provide insightful feedback on our efforts, share safety information, and lead to transformative impacts including crime reductions.

We believe that successful policing stems from collaboration and mutual respect between the police and the community we serve. By focusing on relationship building and understanding the unique needs of each community member, we can continue to amplify our effectiveness, and reinforce our commitment to excellence. This personalized approach ensures that we are not just a presence in the community, but a valued partner in its success. We will intentionally build relationships and community-based solutions to be safer, stronger, and together as One Petaluma!

We look forward to reporting back on our efforts and effectiveness in quarterly released newsletters. We value your input and welcome feedback, so that we continue to improve our service to the community.
