Application and Processing Timeline for new Specific Plans, Specific Plan Amendments, and Zoning Amendments

* The Development Review Committee (DRC) is made up of representatives from various City departments, who will review your project and begin to identify issues, but is not the decision-making body for project approval. You will be invited to an internal DRC meeting approximately 2 weeks after project submission, to ask or answer any questions.

 The applicant is responsible for all costs associated with public noticing and processing the application.

Purpose of a Specific Plan

A Specific Plan is a tool for the systematic implementation of the General Plan, but is not a component of a General Plan. It provides specific land use direction and development regulations for an area within the City, consistent with the General Plan and other regulations of the City of Petaluma and the County of Sonoma. Often, Specific Plans are used to establish a link between implementing policies of the General Plan and individual development proposals in a defined area.

The Central Petaluma Specific Plan (CPSP), for example, aims to redirect growth into Central Petaluma by providing for a mixture of new employment, housing, shopping and entertainment activities developed around the downtown, the riverfront warehouse district, and two future transit centers at the historic Petaluma depot and on Caulfield Lane. The proposed development pattern and street design promote a comfortable walking environment.

The City of Petaluma or a private party applying for a tentative subdivision map could initiate the preparation of a Specific Plan. The Specific Plan is a document subject to California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and would normally require the preparation of an environmental impact report (EIR).

Amendments to a Specific Plan

The process of preparing, adopting, or amending a Specific Plan is generally the same as that for a General Plan with some differences. At least one public hearing by the Planning Commission is required by State law is required. A Specific Plan may be amended as necessary, but must be consistent with the General Plan.

Purpose of a Zoning Ordinance

The City of Petaluma Zoning Ordinance carries out the policies of the Petaluma General Plan by classifying and regulating the uses of land and structures within the City, consistent with the General Plan. This Zoning Ordinance is adopted to protect and promote the public health, safety, comfort, convenience, prosperity, and general welfare of residents, and businesses in the City.

Amendments to the Zoning Ordinance

Amendments to the Zoning Ordinance include changes to the boundaries of zoning districts, designations of properties in zoning districts, and amendments to the text of the Zoning Ordinance. Amendments may be initiated by the City Council, Planning Commission, Zoning Administrator, or property owners affected by the proposed Amendment. Zoning Amendments will only be approved if the Planning Commission and City Council find the Amendments to be in conformity with the General Plan.
