The California Watercolor Association is pleased to present a show of some of its members' work at the Falkirk Cultural Center in San Rafael.

CWA is a watercolor society with approximately 500 members across North America and internationally, as well. Annually, CWA has three to four members shows, a national exhibition, workshops throughout the year, community outreach to help students and veterans, and monthly meetings with demonstrations about painting in water media.
