Adaptive Technology

Equitable access is a vital component of the Santa Ana Public Library's mission. Through adaptive technology, the library provides tools, equipment, and software that assist and enhance communication and interaction with technology.

Kurzweil 3000

Helps students with learning challenges such as dyslexia, dysgraphia, and other literacy obstacles to read, study, and write independently.

Kurzweil 1000

Makes printed or electronic text readily available to people with visual impairments.

Fusion (JAWS + Zoom Text)

Assists visually impaired users to read the computer screen via text-to-speech output and screen magnification.

Interpretype

Facilitates real-time communication between hearing and deaf individuals.

Optelec Page Magnifier

Magnifies documents, books, magazines, and other printed text to improve user reading experience.
