Silicon Valley's Airport Sets a New Record with 15.7 Million Passengers Served in 2019

-- America's fastest-growing major airport over the past four years --

San Jose, Calif. – Mineta San Jose International Airport \(SJC\) passenger traffic continued to soar in 2019, with nearly 15.7 million departing and arriving passengers - a 9.3% increase with 1.3 million more customers choosing Silicon Valley's airport compared to 2018. Over the past four years, SJC has continued to be America's fastest-growing major airport.

"This marks the second consecutive year of record-breaking passenger totals for Silicon Valley's airport. This growth is due to our airlines being responsive to our travelers' needs by providing more flight options around the globe, the airport's close proximity to Fortune 500 companies, and SJC's convenience, efficiency and on-time reliability," said John Aitken, SJC Director of Aviation.

SJC travelers in 2019 enjoyed more nonstop destinations; the opening of six more gates to accommodate continued growth; the opening of a second common-use lounge; and new and exciting food, beverage and retail concessions. In addition, SJC became the first U.S. airport to offer all-digital, in-terminal advertising.

In 2020, SJC customers can expect even more nonstop destinations, more connections to a broader global network and more choices to eat.

"With the strength of our local economy and commitments from our airline partners to provide more flight choices for Silicon Valley travelers, we are excited for the opportunities in 2020 and beyond," added Aitken.
