

ATTENTION: Property Owners Affected by the Tubbs Fire in Sonoma County

ALERT: You are responsible for installing and maintaining erosion controls to prevent sediment and other pollutants from leaving your property when it rains and during the rebuilding process.

Russian Riverkeeper is here to help you meet that requirement at NO COST to you.
First come, first served while funds last.

The County of Sonoma and the Rose Foundation for Communities and Environment have provided funding to Russian Riverkeeper to provide you with experienced, certified design services, products and installation of erosion and sediment control devices.

Please Note: Services are only available to properties that will be inactive through April 30, 2019.

If you have construction, grading or tree work happening or planned, your contractor is legally responsible for erosion control requirements.

If you would like proven products and trusted, certified, and insured design/service providers along with more choices regarding protecting your property from sediment/erosion migration (on to or off of) please contact us via the email below or by phone with the following information:

Name: _____

Property Address: _____

Mobile Phone: _____ Email address: _____

Is there any construction or tree work on your property? Check all that apply

Active Tree Removal?: _____ Active Grading? _____ Active Construction? _____

Is tree removal, grading or construction activity planned before April of 2019?:

Yes: _____ No: _____

Is your lot near a creek or stream? Yes: _____ No: _____

Is your property steeply sloped, gently sloped or flat land? _____

Does your property have a gate? Yes: _____ No: _____

If gated/locked, please let us know how we can coordinate access with you? _____

Please email the information to Bob@russianriverkeeper.org or call our office at 707.433.1958 x101 with your information.

We're here to help!