

Living History

Seniors On Display

The Streetsboro Senior community invites loved ones and community members to join them for an exhibition showcasing their greatest treasures. The Senior community will not only be displaying themselves - but also their heirlooms, stories, hobbies, achievements and so much more.

Their stories are personal and captivating. Hear why their journey and this exhibition are so important to them. In a world where everything is disposable, we invite you to see what has lasted the true test of time. Witness our Living History.
