FAN VOTING UNDERWAY FOR PVF ALL-STAR ROSTERS

The voice of the fans will be heard – as today begins voting for the rosters of the inaugural Pro Volleyball Federation All-Star Match, scheduled for Saturday, February 22 at Fishers Event Center and a national broadcast on CBS.

Fans will be able to make multiple selections for the teams, with the final rosters containing 12 players per team. Fans visiting ProVolleyball.com/vote will have the chance to select two players per position. The votes will be grouped among outside hitters, opposite hitters, middle blockers, liberos and setters, with fans being able to select two players per position.

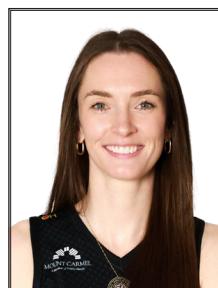

"The minute we knew we were having an All-Star Match was the minute we knew we wanted to get fans involved," noted Pro Volleyball Federation CEO Jen Spicher. "Our fans have been fantastic and so supportive of our great players from the start and giving them a chance to vote for who they wanted to see in this match made perfect sense."

Fan voting will take place over the next two weeks and be open for all fans and followers of the PVF. Every player on every team's roster is eligible and the top voters will earn automatic inclusion on the 2025 PVF All-Star rosters. Additional players will be selected by the coaches and the league office.

The All-Star Voting is powered by WIT, the leading digital fan activation platform for over 100 professional teams and league offices across North America, including several members of Pro Volleyball Federation.

Tickets for the first pro volleyball All-Star Match in history are available now. Fans can visit ProVolleyball.com/pvftickets to purchase tickets today, or visit the Fishers Event Center box office.

Burrow Family Joins Ownership Group Of Columbus Fury

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Professional quarterback Joe Burrow and his parents Jimmy and Robin Burrow have joined the ownership group of Pro Volleyball Federation's Columbus Fury, the team announced.

The Burrows previously joined the League as equity partners soon after its launch in November 2022. Since then, the family has played an integral role in the League's growth and development, including attracting team owners and other Founding Partners.

"We are thrilled to add another layer of involvement in Pro Volleyball Federation with our new role with the Columbus Fury," said Jimmy Burrow, who also serves as Director, Brand Advancement for Pro Volleyball Federation. "Robin and I have made Ohio home, and Joe grew up in Ohio, so being able to be a part of Ohio's Pro Volleyball Federation team is a natural fit for us. We believe in this League and are excited about the future of Pro Volleyball Federation and the Columbus Fury."

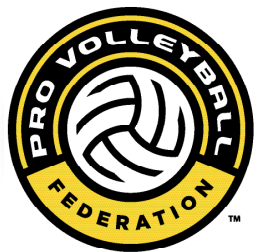

Columbus will play its home matches at Nationwide Arena. The Fury open their home schedule on Wednesday, February 21, against the Omaha Supernovas. Season ticket deposits are being accepted now at columbusfury.com.

"I have been watching the growth of Pro Volleyball Federation since my parents and I joined the League, and it has been very impressive to see," said Joe Burrow. "It seems like every day more great news is announced about the League, whether it's the great players who continue to sign with the League, the outstanding coaches who are involved, or the new ownership groups and markets that are added. I am very proud to be a part of it, and I am now excited to say that my family is involved in the Columbus Fury ownership group."

Joe Burrow has already established an amazing legacy early in his career, having advanced the Cincinnati Bengals to a Super Bowl, won a national championship at the collegiate level, and won the Heisman Trophy. Joe spent three years on the Ohio State football team and is an Ohio State University graduate. Joe went on to play football at LSU where he won the Heisman Trophy and a national championship, and where he received his master's degree. Jimmy's Ohio ties also run deep, having served as defensive coordinator for Ohio University from 2005-18.

The Burrows join the ranks of high-profile individuals who have acquired ownership stakes in teams throughout the League. Three-time Olympic gold medalist Kerri Walsh Jennings is part of the ownership group of the San Diego Mojo, while global entertainment superstar Jason Derulo is an owner of the Omaha Supernovas. Dan DeVos (Grand Rapids Rise) and his family own the NBA's Orlando Magic, and the McCarthy Family who own the newly-announced Kansas City Pro Volleyball Federation team are also minority owners in the Kansas City Royals and Sacramento Kings.
