Kiewit Court

The Omaha Supernovas have announced an expanded partnership with Kiewit for the 2026 season, strengthening a growing collaboration with one of North America's largest and most respected construction and engineering firms.

The signature Kiewit Court will return to the CHI Health Center, featuring the company's iconic branding emblazoned on Omaha's Taraflex performance court. The logos made their first appearance on the FS1 nationally televised match on Saturday, March 22, 2025, between the Supernovas and Indy Ignite, in which Omaha welcomed 12,929, marking the second-largest crowd in professional volleyball history.

As part of the enhanced partnership, Kiewit's distinctive branding will be showcased on the Supernovas jersey with the CHI Health Center also hosting Kiewit Night for a 2026 home match. The Kiewit-Supernovas strategic partnership will also include a variety of local and national marketing and community activations, featuring prominent branding during matches, on TV, the web and radio to support recruiting, business development and other key stakeholder outreach.

"Kiewit is excited to expand our strategic partnership with the Supernovas and support the growth of women's volleyball in Omaha and across the U.S.," said Alicia Edsen, senior vice president, Kiewit Corporation. "We're proud to have our brand prominently positioned on Kiewit Court and on the jerseys of these impressive professional athletes, who are as focused as we are at being the best at what we do – on the job and in our communities. We look forward to working collaboratively with the Supernovas to benefit both of our organizations inside and outside our walls."

"We're proud to continue and strengthen our partnership with a world-class company like Kiewit, whose dedication to excellence, innovation, and community mirrors the values of the Supernovas," said Diane Mendenhall, President of the Omaha Supernovas. "Building on the momentum of being Kiewit's first collaboration in professional women's sports makes this next chapter especially exciting. Having Kiewit Court as the stage for our matches enhances the major-league energy our athletes bring, and our fans feel every time we compete. Together, we're advancing the foundation for women's pro volleyball in Omaha, across Nebraska, and throughout the country while creating an environment where athletes, fans, and our entire community cannot only thrive, but dream bigger together."

CHI Health Center Omaha

CHI Health Center Construction

Built for $291 million and finished in the fall of 2003, CHI Health Center Omaha is a key element in the continued renovation and development of Omaha's riverfront. The facility formerly known as Qwest Center Omaha (2003-11) and CenturyLink Center Omaha (2011-18) is located on a 421-acre site of the former Union Pacific Railroad yards.

In 2018, CHI Health agreed to pay $23.6 million over 20 years for the naming rights to the arena. Among the amenities at CHI Health Center Omaha are seven locker rooms, five dressing rooms and a media interview room. In the summer of 2023, a lighting upgrade project was completed. CHI Health Center Omaha also provides more than 194,000 square feet of exhibition space.

Funding for CHI Health Center Omaha came from private donations, taxes and projected revenue from the facility. The facility has hosted some of America's top sporting events, including the NCAA Men's Basketball Championships (2008, 2012, 2015, 2018 and 2024), NCAA Volleyball Championships (2006, 2008, 2015, 2020 and 2022), U.S. Olympic Team Trials for Swimming (2008, 2012, 2016 and 2021), NCAA Wrestling Finals (2010), the U.S. Figure Skating Championships (2013) as well as four title fights for boxing champion Terence Crawford.

New Scoreboard and LED Displays at CHI Health Center Omaha

MECA is excited to debut CHI Health Center's brand-new, state-of-the-art scoreboard and other new LED displays ahead of the 2025 fall sports season. The new center-hung scoreboard features over 34.8 million pixels, over ten times as many as the old scoreboard, and 2,344 square feet of wraparound video display, including four underbelly displays for those sitting closer to the action.

Other technology refreshes inside the arena include enhanced ribbon displays on each side of the arena, four vomitory displays mounted above each of the entrances to the seating bowl, 16 new courtside scorers' table LED displays, and an end wall video display at the south end of the arena. The CHI Health Center's exterior displays were also included in the upgrades. The marquee display at 10th Street and Capitol Ave, and six parking displays, were upgraded as well. This $6.5 million improvement keeps the CHI Health Center as one of the best indoor sporting venues in Nebraska and the Midwest, regularly hosting NCAA men's basketball and volleyball national championships.

The new LED displays made their debut during the Nebraska vs. Creighton volleyball match on Tuesday, September 16, 2025.

THE NEBRASKA PIPELINE

Connections to the Cornhusker State extend well beyond Nebraska's borders across Major League Volleyball...

Atlanta Vibe

Kayla Banwarth — Head Coach

- Former two-time national championship-winning Nebraska Volleyball assistant coach and player.

Beau Lawler — Assistant Coach

- Nebraska's Video Coordinator in 2019.

Ava Martin — Outside Hitter

- Three-time All-American at Creighton and No. 2 overall pick in the 2025 MLV Draft.

Columbus Fury

Noel Carpio — Assistant Coach

- Spent two seasons as a volunteer assistant at Creighton for 2018 and 2019.

Dallas Pulse

Kaitlyn Hord — Middle Blocker

- Led the country in blocks and blocks per set at Nebraska for her final college season in 2022.

Indy Ignite

Taylor Landfair — Opposite

- Minnesota transfer that spent her last two college seasons at Nebraska before being taken No. 28 overall.

San Diego Mojo

Kayla Caffey — Middle Blocker

- Played at Nebraska (2020-21) helping NU to the 2021 National Title Match.

Hayden Kubik — Outside Hitter

- Spent her first two college seasons at Nebraska (2022-23) before transferring to Tennessee. Taken No. 3 overall in the 2025 MLV Draft.

LUKA SLABE BEGINS U.S. PRO VB CHAPTER

- Slabe was announced as the new Omaha Supernovas head coach on August 5, 2025, marking a new era for the franchise as it enters the 2026 Major League Volleyball Season.
- Slabe has been a coaching mainstay for USA Volleyball, currently serving as an assistant coach for the U.S. Men's National Team since 2024. Slabe will continue in that role during the Supernovas offseason as he helps lead the U.S. Men into the 2028 L.A. Olympics.
- The Slovenian helped usher in the golden era of women's volleyball for Team USA as the Americans won the country's first-ever gold medal at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics, plus three-straight FIVB Volleyball Nations League titles in 2018, 2019, and 2021.
- Slabe has seven years of head coaching experience with pro teams across Europe from 2008 to 2015. In that time, Slabe's teams won six national and international championships alongside six runner-up finishes.
- Winning an NCAA men's volleyball national title at BYU as a player in 2001, Slabe later served as an assistant coach for his alma mater from 2015 to 2018, aiding the Cougars to a 75-16 record in three years with two national runner-up finishes.
- Slabe served as the head coach for the NC State women's volleyball program for five seasons (2020-2024), leading the Wolfpack to a 78-55 record and its fourth-ever NCAA Tournament appearance.

FAMILIAR FACES

- The Supernovas welcomed back their biggest batch of returners in franchise history, re-signing five players from 2025 and one from the 2024 championship-winning team.
- Reigning MLV Outside Hitter of the Year Brooke Nuneviller returns to Omaha as a two-time All-League First Team pick after ranking second in MLV in kills per set (3.77), fourth in kills (381) and sixth in both total digs (348) and digs per set (3.45).
- The 2024 MLV Rookie of the Year, Reagan Cooper remains with the Novas for a second-straight season after collecting 265 kills (9th in MLV) and 3.49 kills per set (6th) in 2025.
- The hard-swinging opposite Emily Londot tallied 2.78 kills and 2.17 digs per set across 46 sets in her rookie campaign after getting drafted at No. 10 overall in the second round by the Supernovas. She'll become Omaha's longest tenured rookie draftee in 2026.
- Allison Holder will be one of the best backup liberos in MLV this season. She became Omaha's starter in the last five matches of 2025, finishing with 1.70 digs per set.
- Similar to Holder, middle blocker Toyosi Onabanjo came alive in the back half of her rookie season, recording 26 of her 33 season kills in the season's final three matches, including 11 kills and two blocks in the semifinal loss to Indy.
- Finally, 2025 MLV Setter of the Year Sydney Hilley re-signed with the Supernovas after spending one season with the Indy Ignite — where she led the franchise to a MLV Runner-Up finish in their first season. She was a part-time starter with Omaha in the 2024 regular season before sparking the Supernovas' inaugural MLV Championship run to earn postseason MVP honors.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE NEBRASKA

- Omaha has always focused on homegrown talent in its roster building and that didn't change in 2026 with a franchise-record six players having Nebraska connections.
- Opposite Merritt Beason was one of the Supernovas' biggest signings in the free agency period. Before spending her rookie season in Atlanta as the No. 1 overall pick in the MLV Draft, Beason was an All-American for Nebraska, spending 2023 and 2024 in Lincoln.
- Middle blocker Leyla Blackwell became best friends with Beason in their senior season in Lincoln in 2024. The San Diego native became a fourth-round pick of her hometown Mojo where she spent her rookie campaign before returning to Nebraska.
- Outside Hitter Norah (Sis) TeBrake has a similar pedigree, tallying two All-America honors in four years at Creighton before becoming the No. 3 overall pick by Orlando where she would help the Valkyries win the 2025 MLV Championship.
- Holder and middle blocker Elise Goetzinger share roots in Omaha as each spent their final college seasons at Creighton. Holder helped the Bluejays to an NCAA Tournament appearance in 2022 while Goetzinger aided CU to an NCAA Regional Final — the best postseason finish in school history.
- The Supernovas dipped back into the Creighton pipeline for the second-straight year, taking Bluejay All-American middle blocker Kiara Reinhardt at No. 8 overall in the first round.

BUILT ON CHAMPIONSHIP PEDIGREES

NCAA National Championships Supernovas player won in their collegiate careers. Morgan Hentz won three ('16,'18,'19) at Stanford for the most by any active MLV player. Sydney Hilley (2021, Wisconsin) and Elise Goetzinger (2020, Kentucky) each led their programs to its first-ever title.

25

AVCA All-American honors among the 2026 roster, including nine first team selections. Hilley leads with five and Brooke Nuneviller has four while Emily Londot and Hentz each have three. Norah \(Sis\) TeBrake has two honors.

30

International medals for the U.S. Women's National Team Program, including 21 gold. Sarah Parsons is the team leader, claiming 10 (nine gold) with six of those overlapping with Luka Slabe's time with the U.S. Women.

36

All-conference awards won by the Supernovas across their collegiate careers. Londot was a five-time All-Big Ten pick while Hilley, Nuneviller, TeBrake, Hentz, Beason, Leao and Blackwell each earned three or more.

39

Conference titles won by Omaha's roster. Reinhardt won the BIG EAST regular season and tournament crowns in all six of her college seasons. Goetzinger won in all five of her years — four at Kentucky and one at Creighton.

10

Collegiate position or national awards won by the Supernovas. Parsons' 2016 AVCA and Big Ten Player of the year awards highlight the batch. Hilley and Hentz each won three conference position awards (Setter, Libero).

10

MLV All-League & All-Star honors awarded to current Supernovas players. Nuneviller and Hentz have achieved back-to-back first team selections while Hilley (2025) and Cooper (2024) each made an All-League team.

MLV major award winners populate the Supernovas roster in 2026, which is highlighted by the reigning Outside Hitter (Nuneviller), Setter (Hilley), and Libero (Hentz) of the Year. Plus, Cooper won the 2024 Rookie of the Year.

MLV Champions — Brooke Nuneviller (2024), Sydney Hilley (2024) and Norah TeBrake (2025).

PRESEASON HONORS

- The Supernovas were voted to finish second in the 2026 MLV Preseason Poll, garnering 43 points and three first-place votes — which is only behind the defending champion Orlando Valkyries (46 points, 5 votes).
- Seven players were named to the Preseason All-League Team, with Omaha's Brooke Nuneviller and Morgan Hentz representing the franchise. It marked Nuneviller's second straight preseason all-league selection, while Hentz made MLV history as one of only two players to earn the honor in three consecutive seasons, joining former Atlanta teammate Leah Edmond.
- Omaha have been projected to finish inside the top three in all three league preseason polls — first in 2024 and third in 2025.
- The Supernovas are the lone team in MLV history to receive first-place votes in all three seasons.

HEAD COACH INFORMATION

HEAD COACH ALISHA CHILDRESS

- 1st Season with San Diego (0-0 Record)
- 1st Career Season (0-0 Record)

Alisha Childress was announced as the second head coach in San Diego Mojo history on August 9, 2025. After playing two seasons in Major League Volleyball (MLV) with the Vegas Thrill, Childress moved into coaching with previous stints at Stanford and the U.S. Women's National Team.

As a player, Childress is regarded as one of the top setters in the world. During her nine-year professional career, she played in the United States, Italy, Turkey, Poland, Puerto Rico and Brazil. As part of the Thrill in 2024 and 2025, Childress collected All-League accolades in 2024 while also earning Most Inspirational Player honors from the league's coaches, and playing in the league's inaugural All-Star Match in 2025.

Childress directed U.S. National Team offensive attacks for six years, helping lead Team USA to a bronze medal at the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio, where she earned Best Setter honors.

Childress played collegiately at Penn State from 2006-09 for legendary head coach Russ Rose, leading the Nittany Lions to three straight national titles from 2007-09 and posting a 110-2 record during the three-year run. She was a three-time AVCA All-American, three-time All-Big Ten Conference and three-time NCAA Championship All-Tournament selection, and a nominee for the 2009 Honda Volleyball Award.

CHILDRESS VS. OMAHA SUPERNOVAS

- Childress will face the Supernovas for the first time as a professional head coach.
- 2-6 vs. Omaha as a player.

HEAD COACH INFORMATION

HEAD COACH ÁNGEL PÉREZ

- 3rd Season with Columbus (17-35 Record)
- 3rd Career Season in U.S. (17-35 Record)

The Columbus Fury have agreed to a multi-year contract extension for head coach Ángel Pérez, the organization announced. Pérez enters his third season as head coach of the Fury in 2026.

Pérez helped bring professional volleyball to Columbus as the Fury's first head coach, leading the team during the inaugural season in 2024. The Río Piedras, Puerto Rico native, returned for a second season in 2025 and will continue to build on the foundation he helped create.

An accomplished coach and player, Pérez came to Columbus after leading Las Pinkin de Corozal in Puerto Rico's Women's Superior Volleyball League. He led the team to back-to-back championships in 2022 and 2023 and was named the league's Manager of the Year both seasons.

Pérez is a distinguished former international player and one of the best-ever male players in Puerto Rico history, having played professionally in France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Romania, and Slovenia. He also represented the Puerto Rico national team beginning in 2006 and later served as team captain from 2013 to 2018.

GENERAL MANAGER JOHN COOK

1ST SEASON AS GM & CO-OWNER

25 SEASONS AS HEAD COACH OF NEBRASKA

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Omaha Supernovas are honored to welcome volleyball legend and four-time collegiate national champion John Cook as Co-Owner and General Manager of the organization.

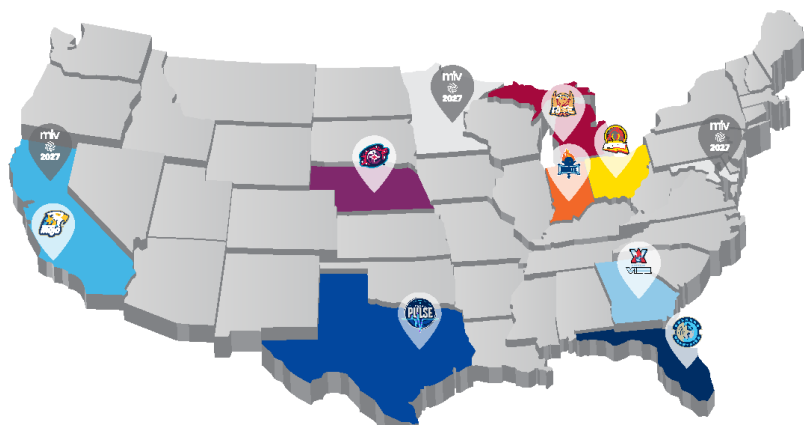

"After more than 30 years of coaching, I knew I wanted the next chapter to be just as impactful and becoming the General Manager of the Omaha Supernovas is exactly that opportunity," said Cook. "I've spent my career helping grow the game at the college level, and now I have the chance to take that knowledge and apply it in a new way, with the world's leading professional volleyball franchise. The energy around our sport has never been higher, and the Supernovas are at the forefront of that momentum. There's no better place than Nebraska, and no better organization than the Supernovas, to help take this sport to the next level."

In what marks the most monumental signing in professional volleyball history, Cook will help lead all team operations, including player and coaching staff signings, as the Supernovas prepare for a run at the MLV Championship, with regular season action set to start in January 2026.

Cook will report to and collaborate closely with Team President Diane Mendenhall, whose continued leadership of the front office and external operations has helped propel the Supernovas to No. 1 in the world in professional volleyball average attendance for two consecutive seasons.

The foundation of this reunion was laid 25 years ago, when Cook hired Mendenhall as he took the reins of Nebraska Volleyball in 2000, first-ever Director of Operations, making her just the third person in NCAA history to hold a dedicated operations role in volleyball.

"I've always cherished my relationship with Coach Cook, and it's incredibly special to be reuniting with him," said Mendenhall. "It's a full-circle moment, as he was the one who brought me to Nebraska when he took over volleyball program in 2000. I was there with him from the beginning and saw firsthand how he built it into the national powerhouse we see today. Being part of that foundation shaped how we approached building the Supernovas, and we leaned on that same blueprint at the pro level. His vision, experience, and winning mentality is unmatched, and I'm thrilled to be working alongside Coach Cook again as he helps elevate Major League Volleyball to stand shoulder to shoulder with the world's most elite professional sports leagues."

In a landmark move for the sport, Pro Volleyball Federation (PVF) and Major League Volleyball have announced plans for a single, united league poised to elevate professional women's volleyball in the United States. The unified league will be branded as MLV.

MLV will be the longest running professional women's volleyball league and the only one operating with independent-ly owned teams in-market, alongside a league structure built to resemble those at the pinnacle of sports. It will build on its first two successful seasons, which saw outstanding digital engagement, with more than 80 million social impressions, nearly one million total engagements and over 250,000 social followers. In addition, attendance has reached more than 750,000 over the first two campaigns, with 45 nationally-televised matches – including an inaugural All-Star Match that drew a peak viewership of 445,000 on CBS network television.

Scheduled to begin play in January 2026, MLV is an evolution of PVF and the upcoming campaign will be recorded as the league's third season.

MLV will feature the following team lineup for 2026 - Atlanta, Columbus, Dallas, Grand Rapids, Indianapolis, Omaha, Orlando and San Diego. In 2027, the league is currently slated to expand with three more franchises with the addition of teams in Minnesota, Washington DC and Northern California, who will use '26 to introduce fans to the league in advance of their inaugural seasons.
