HEAD COACH AMY PAULY

When the Orlando Valkyries franchise was formed in 2023, Amy Pauly stepped in as the program's first-ever head coach, setting the foundation for the team's future. Most recently before joining Orlando, she was associate head coach of the women's volleyball program at the University of Southern California (USC). Pauly also serves as the Vice President of Volleyball Operations.

Pauly's coaching experience extends far beyond her time at USC, with impactful stops at both the University of Alabama–Birmingham and Villanova. "My goal has always been to create an environment where athletes can grow, trust each other, and play competitive volleyball," Pauly said.

Her leadership has already made a strong impression within the organization. "Amy brings a level of professionalism, preparation, and care that sets the tone for everyone around her," said Sarah Ratzlaff, Vice President of the Orlando Valkyries. For Pauly, this role is a chance to elevate the championship foundation she established, pushing the Valkyries toward an even stronger season ahead.
