Four Dallas PULSE Players Named 2026 MLV All-Stars

FRISCO, Texas [March 17, 2026] — Major League Volleyball announced today that four Dallas PULSE players — outside hitters Mimi Colyer and Sofia Maldonado Diaz, setter Natalia Valentin-Anderson, and middle blocker Layne Van Buskirk — have been selected to compete in the 2026 AdventHealth MLV All-Star Match on Saturday, March 28, at Addition Financial Arena in Orlando, Florida, at 11 a.m. CT / 12 p.m. ET. The match will air on CBS and stream on Paramount+.

All-Star selections were determined through a combination of fan voting, player input, and league selection, recognizing athletes who have delivered exceptional performances and made a significant impact this season.

Each team is represented on the two 12-player rosters, led by Indy Ignite with five selections, followed by Dallas and Orlando with four apiece. The teams will be coached by two volleyball standouts: Dan Meske of Louisville and Beth Launiere, longtime head coach at the University of Utah.

Colyer, the first overall pick in the 2025 Major League Volleyball Draft and the first selection in franchise history, has been a force in her rookie campaign. She leads the league in total points (299) and total kills (267), averaging 4.75 points and 4.24 kills per set. She set the league's season high for kills (23) and points (24) in a three-set match, recorded at Columbus on February 14 — marks that rank second all-time in MLV history. The Wisconsin product earned an MLV Player of the Week honor after posting 19 points and 18 kills on a .400 hitting percentage in a road win over Orlando on March 7.

Maldonado Diaz, who leads the league in both kills per set (4.40) and points per set (4.97), has recorded double-digit kills in 14 matches this season. The Guadalajara, Mexico native set team and career highs with 31 points and 30 kills on a .312 clip in a five-set victory at Omaha (Feb. 12), tying for the second-most kills in a match in MLV history. She is coming off an impressive week, totaling 15 kills and a .312 hitting percentage against Columbus on March 13, followed by 19 kills on a .429 clip against Atlanta on March 15. Alongside Colyer, the pair has become one of the league's most prolific offensive duos this season.

Valentin-Anderson has quarterbacked the league's most efficient offense this season. Dallas leads MLV in team hitting percentage (.279) and has surpassed the .300 mark in seven matches. The Puerto Rican Olympian leads the league in total assists (763), while averaging 3.42 digs per set, and recording 13 double-doubles. The reigning MLV Player of the Week totaled 85 assists across two matches last week, leading Dallas to back-to-back sweeps of Columbus and Atlanta, extending its winning streak to four matches and a .300+ hitting percentage in both contests.

Van Buskirk is a dominant presence at the net, ranking second in Major League Volleyball in total blocks (40), fourth in hitting efficiency (.356), and second in kill percentage (50.6%), helping power a PULSE front line that is tied for first in total blocks (166) and ranks second in blocks per set (2.63). The Team Canada member is coming off a standout week, highlighted by a season-high 13 kills on a .611 hitting percentage against Columbus on March 13. She followed with 10 kills on a .571 clip against Atlanta on March 15 and totaled three blocks across the two matches.

SOFIA MALDONADO DIAZ

Outside hitter Sofia Maldonado Diaz tied for the second-most kills in a match in MLV history with 30 in a road contest at Omaha (Feb. 12), earning the Dallas PULSE's first Player of the Week honor. Only one player in league history has recorded more kills in a single match, regardless of format. She also set the league's top mark for kills in a five-set match this season.

The former Louisville standout was one of four Dallas PULSE players—alongside Mimi Colyer, Natalia Valentin-Anderson, and Layne Van Buskirk—selected for the 2026 AdventHealth MLV All-Star Game. Maldonado Diaz competed for Team Meske, led by one of her former Louisville coaches, Dan Meske, and recorded eight points on five kills and three blocks.

Maldonado Diaz currently ranks second in Major League Volleyball in total points (443), points per set (4.92), total kills (385), and kills per set (4.28), while also tying for fourth in service aces (18).

MIMI COLYER

Rookie outside hitter Mimi Colyer is putting together a historic season for the Dallas PULSE in the team's inaugural year.

In a three-set road match at Columbus (Feb. 14), Colyer recorded 23 kills and 24 points — the most by any MLV player in a three-set match this season, a mark that still stands. Both totals rank second all-time in league history for a three-set match.

She earned Player of the Week honors following a 19-point, 18-kill performance in Dallas' 3-0 road sweep of Orlando on March 7, hitting .400. Colyer added one block and three digs while averaging 6.33 points per set, and led all players in kills. At that point, she had extended her league-leading totals to 273 points and 243 kills.

Colyer continued to raise the bar throughout the season. At Grand Rapids (March 18), she totaled 28 points — the highest in a four-set match this season — and set a single-set season high with 25 attacks in Set 2.

At Atlanta (March 26), the Wisconsin product delivered 32 points, the second-highest single-match total in the league this season and second-most in MLV history. She also recorded an MLV season-best 12 points in a single set (Set 2).

At San Diego (April 5), Colyer finished with 76 attacks in a five-set match, the most in the league this season and the second-most in any match in MLV history.

In the 2026 AdventHealth MLV All-Star Game, playing for Team Launiere, she tied the All-Star record with 13 points and 10 kills while leading the match in both categories.

Colyer currently leads the league in total points (479), points per set (5.04), total kills (424), and kills per set (4.46).

Her command has been instrumental in Dallas' sustained success, including an eight-game winning streak during the heart of the season (March 1 - April 3).

In Week 11, the Caguas, Puerto Rico native orchestrated three consecutive sweeps as part of a four-match winning streak — the longest in franchise history — while directing
