ACADEMIC CATALOG

— 2022-23 —

Letter from the Editor

Dear Professor,

Welcome to P&R Publishing’s 2022–23 Academic Catalog, featuring our latest academic books and series. Inside you will find titles on apologetics, biblical studies, ethics, Hebrew and Greek, hermeneutics, political life, theology, and worldview, as well as commentaries and monographs on great thinkers.

We invite you to peruse the catalog and to read sample chapters of books and their endorsements on www.prpbooks.com. We are happy to provide exam and desk copies free of charge, when ordered for possible textbook use. See page 27 of this catalog for details.

To facilitate classroom use, most of the books include end-of-chapter helps (key terms, study questions, and suggestions for further reading), as well as end-of-book helps (glossary, bibliography, Scripture index, and index of subjects and names). Our titles are available in Kindle and iTunes/ePub formats, and many of them are also available from Accordance, Logos, and Olive Tree.

As always, the goals of our experienced editorial team—Amanda Martin (Editorial Director), Dave Almack (Director of Sales, Marketing & Acquisitions), and me—are to provide trustworthy works that meet the highest standards of Reformed scholarship and editorial professionalism.

As we look ahead to 2022–23 and beyond, we are encouraged by the academic books that we have contracted. They will continue P&R’s strong tradition of providing robust Reformed publications that illuminate, inform, and encourage.

Blessings,

John Hughes

The Holy Spirit

ROBERT LETHAM

The Holy Spirit is God and indivisible from the Father and the Son. Robert Letham thus develops a holistic and canonical view of the Spirit in the context of the Trinity, the person and work of Christ, and redemption. Heeding the cumulative wisdom of God’s people through the ages, he touches on disputed matters with care and grace—ultimately providing a deeply biblical, irenic, and engaging contribution to our understanding of the doctrine of the Holy Spirit.

ENDORSEMENT

“This book is a gold mine of scholarship concerning the blessed third person of the Trinity. Robert Letham digs deeply into the classic doctrine of the Holy Spirit as it developed from the early church to the medieval period and beyond, extracting riches for students of classic Christian doctrine. Furthermore, he discusses the refined interpretations of modern biblical commentators on the progressive revelation of God’s Spirit through redemptive history, a profitable study in biblical theology. It is a rare scholar who can write well in both historical and biblical theology, and Letham is eminently qualified to do so.”

—JOEL R. BEEKE, President, Puritan Reformed Theological Seminary

Christ of the Consummation

A New Testament Biblical Theology

O. PALMER ROBERTSON

In the first volume of noted theologian O. Palmer Robertson’s New Testament biblical theology, we grow to more fully appreciate the eyewitness character of the four men who attest to the supernatural in-breaking of the Christ. By each witnessing distinctive aspects of the coming of the King and the establishment of his kingdom, the gospel writers boldly describe a new phase in redemptive revelation.

ENDORSEMENTS

“This book is the perfect companion to expository preachers and teachers of the Gospels, as well as every other student of the Bible who desires to grow in both knowledge and devotion to Christ.”

—JOEL R. BEEKE, President, Puritan Reformed Theological Seminary

“This volume skillfully traces the climax of God’s dealings with his people and creation. It remains accessible to laypeople, yet satisfies the appetite of seasoned pastors and teachers.”

Theology for Ministry

How Doctrine Affects Pastoral Life and Practice

EDITED BY WILLIAM R. EDWARDS, JOHN C. A. FERGUSON, CHAD VAN DIXHOORN

When a rich theological perspective is lost, so is the larger story for pastoral ministry. When pastors see how God's whole counsel shapes and impacts their entire ministry, both pastors and churches will thrive.

Deeply connecting theology with practice, this volume seeks to recover the rich scriptural framework for ministry that is grounded in key Christian doctrines such as the triune God and his decrees, the person and work of Christ, and the application of all the benefits and blessings that come to us through the Spirit in our union with Christ. Contributors such as Joel Beeke, Ligon Duncan, Michael Horton, and Robert Letham write out of their experience as both pastors and theologians, providing a pattern of rich biblical-theological reflection that a vibrant ministry demands and that those engaged in ministry need in order to be sustained in their work.

ENDORSEMENT

"Some people think that systematic theology is impractical for ministry and irrelevant to the spiritual life. Yet God shows us through the example of Sinclair Ferguson that, by the grace of Christ, doctrine sanctifies life and energizes joyful service. This book, written by more than two dozen theologians influenced by Dr. Ferguson, shows how every point of theology can make God's servants more helpful, holy, and happy."

Divine Providence

A Classic Work for Modern Readers

STEPHEN CHARNOCK

Rigorous, practical, and deeply reverent, Divine Providence speaks to the struggles of believers today as it tackles difficult questions with biblical truth. Does God govern the world—and how? Is he the author of sin? Why do good people suffer while bad people thrive? What does God's providence mean for how we should live our lives?

In a masterful discourse, Puritan theologian Stephen Charnock arms us to trust in the One who works all things for his glory and the good of the church. This new edition, rendered in modern English, introduces contemporary Christians to one of the greatest Puritan thinkers and the beauty of divine providence—the comforting truth that “God is righteous, wise, and good, and nothing takes place that is not in his will.” Includes study questions for discussion and a foreword from Derek Thomas.

ENDORSEMENTS

"In chaotic and challenging times, what great comfort there is to be found in soul-nourishing reflection on God's providence. Carolyn Whiting has given us all a gift by bringing this classic text forward for contemporary readers."

—STEPHEN NICHOLS, President, Reformation Bible College; Chief Academic Officer, Ligonier Ministries

"Charnock shows how all Scripture contains the theme of God's providence and how this doctrine works to buck up our faith. More than three hundred years since this book's writing, in an act of providence that Charnock never would have anticipated, God has led Carolyn Whiting to update this work in an attractive new format."

—DALE RALPH DAVIS, Former Professor of Old Testament, Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson

Stephen Charnock (1628–80) was an English Puritan thinker known for his practical preaching and ability to explain deep doctrinal concepts clearly and persuasively; he also had an interest in physics. He served as a pastor in Dublin, Ireland, for several years before political and religious upheaval resulted in his ejection from pulpit ministry in 1660, along with more than two thousand other nonconformists. Although forbidden to preach publicly, he continued to study and write for fifteen years. When government restrictions eased, he co-pastored a church in London with Thomas Watson from 1675 until his death. He left behind “considerable treatises on some of the most important points of religion” that were collected soon afterward and published posthumously.

Christian Essentials

SERIES EDITOR RICHARD L. PRATT JR. AND RA MCLAUGHLIN

For decades, Third Millennium Ministries has been working to make a high-quality, orthodox theological education possible for anyone. Its master's-level course materials are written in accessible language, vetted by evangelical scholars, and used by seminaries, Bible colleges, churches, and mission organizations around the world. Now this established curricula is available in book form—an ideal resource for any student of theology, formal or informal.

SERIES ENDORSEMENTS

“Third Millennium’s theological resources explain complex theology in terms anyone can understand. I am happy to see these volumes appear in print for the first time. They are suitable for pastors, students, and laypeople—anyone who seeks to understand the coherent teaching of the Bible and why it matters today.”

—BRANDON CROWE, Professor of New Testament, Westminster Theological Seminary

“These solid, clear, vital presentations of the central doctrines of Christian theology provide sustaining foundational nutrition for a growing Christian. . . . These books provide excellent material not only for the individual believer but for group studies in churches that are committed to maintaining a firm grasp of the faith once delivered to the saints.”

Getting the Message

A Plan for Interpreting and Applying the Bible, Revised and Expanded

DANIEL M. DORIANI

This is a book for people who teach the Bible—for people who seek to interpret and apply the Scriptures with confidence. Do you want to remind yourself of familiar principles? Organize scattered methods? Prepare for a teaching ministry? Learn more about what exegesis entails? This serious but nontechnical introduction to Bible interpretation will meet you where you are and help you to hone critical skills.

Professor, author, and former pastor Daniel Doriani presents six steps of interpretation in the order in which students of Scripture use them: context, analysis, problems, themes, obligations, and reflection. He also presents the steps for a topical Bible study, discusses available resources, and offers suggestions for getting started.

Since its original publication in 1996, Getting the Message has been used by teenagers, college students, and seminarians and by Christian leaders on each inhabited continent. This new edition has been revised with a global audience in mind.

ENDORSEMENTS

“What I would have given for Dan Doriani’s wisdom and clear guidance in Getting the Message at the beginning of my ministry. The chapters on application alone are gold! For those who believe that preaching really matters, here’s the help they need to do it confidently, accurately, and joyously.”

—RAY CORTESE, Senior Pastor, Seven Rivers Presbyterian Church, Lecanto, Florida

“Whether you are a pastor, seminary student, Bible teacher, or simply someone wanting to better read, understand, and apply the Scriptures, this revised edition of Getting the Message is an invaluable tool!”

Inerrancy and the Gospels

A God-Centered Approach to the Challenges of Harmonization

VERN S. POYTHRESS

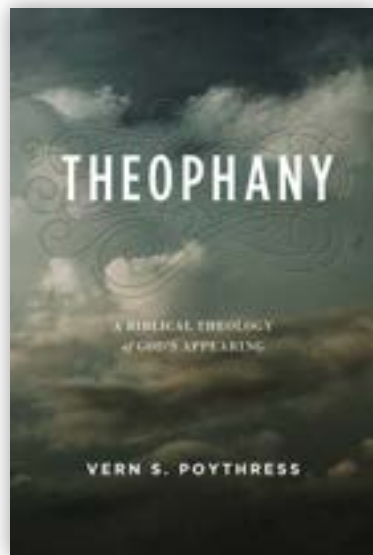

New Testament scholar Vern Poythress defends the inerrancy of the gospels and explains basic principles for harmonization. He also tackles some of the most complicated exegetical problems and offers solutions.

Vern S. Poythress (MLitt, University of Cambridge; PhD, Harvard University; DTh, University of Stellenbosch, South Africa) is distinguished professor of New Testament, biblical interpretation, and systematic theology at Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

ENDORSEMENT

“When Vern Poythress has chosen to write on a particular subject, the resulting book has always been (in my memory) the best book on that subject. This one is about the inerrancy of Scripture, dealing particularly with problems in the Gospel narratives, and I know of nothing better in the field. It is fully cogent, very helpful, linguistically sophisticated, and, above all, faithful to the Scriptures as the word of God.”

Theophany

A Biblical Theology of God's Appearing

VERN S. POYTHRESS

God's temporary appearances in Scripture—called theophanies—burst with important information about his character and his presence with his people. Ultimately, Poythress shows, these self-revelations powerfully anticipate Christ's permanent incarnation.

ENDORSEMENT

“Vern Poythress's Theophany is a theologically rich, spiritually edifying exploration of all that the Bible says about an awe-striking reality that fills the pages of Scripture: our infinite, personal Creator ‘who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see’ delights to make himself known through the senses he has given us, the universe he made and sustains, and his redemptive deeds in history, culminating in Jesus Christ. This biblical theology of God's appearing will expand your thoughts and nourish your heart.”

—DENNIS E. JOHNSON, Professor of Practical Theology, Westminster Seminary California; author, Triumph of the Lamb; Him We Proclaim; and Walking with Jesus through His Word

What about Evil?

A Defense of God's Sovereign Glory

SCOTT CHRISTENSEN

Christensen's theological response to the problem of evil examines how sin, evil, corruption, and death not only fit into redemptive history but also magnify the glory of a good God.

Scott Christensen (MDiv, The Master's Seminary) worked for nine years at the award-winning CCY Architects in Aspen, Colorado; several of his home designs were featured in Architectural Digest magazine. Called out of this work to the ministry, he graduated with honors from seminary and now serves as the associate pastor of Kerrville Bible Church in Kerrville, Texas.

ENDORSEMENT

“Christensen's articulate, inspiring, and gospel-driven presentation of the ‘greater-glory’ theodicy explores a significant way that God's Word addresses the problem of evil to strengthen our faith and evoke our worship.”

What about Free Will?

Reconciling Our Choices with God's Sovereignty

SCOTT CHRISTENSEN

The Bible claims that God's sovereignty is absolute and that humans make their own choices. Christensen explains two harmonizing views—Arminian and Calvinistic—making a fresh, biblical case for Calvinism's.

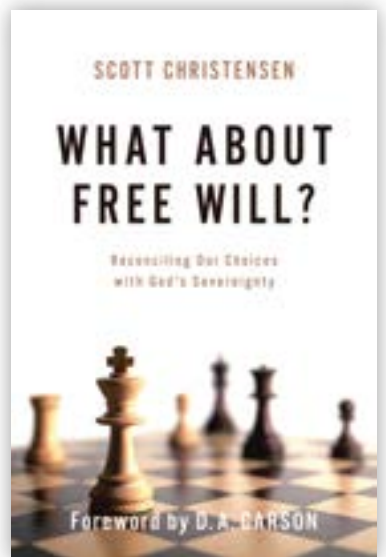

ENDORSEMENTS

“A clear, intelligent, immensely helpful overview of one of the most confusing conundrums in all of theology. . . . Scott Christensen doesn't sidestep the hard questions. The answers he gives are thoughtful, biblical, satisfying, and refreshingly coherent. Lay readers and seasoned theologians alike will treasure this work.”

—JOHN F. MACARTHUR, Grace Community Church

“Careful in description and argument . . . eminently readable. . . . Most important of all, this book breathes a spirit of wonder and gratitude before the face of a God who is not only all-powerful but good.”

Ethics as Worship

The Pursuit of Moral Discipleship

MARK D. LIEDERBACH, EVAN LENOW

Ethics as Worship examines the foundations and application of Christian ethics, offering an ethical system that emphasizes the worship of God as motivation, method, and goal of the ethical endeavor.

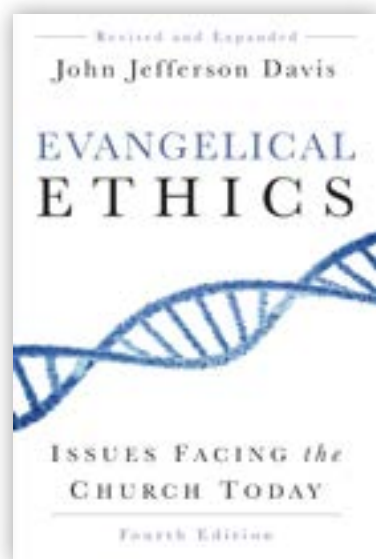

Mark D. Liederbach (MA, Denver Seminary; PhD, University of Virginia) is professor of theology, ethics, and culture; dean of students; and vice president for student services at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Evan Lenow (PhD, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary) is director of church and minister relations at Mississippi College in Clinton, Mississippi, and director of the Clinton extension center of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Evangelical Ethics

Issues Facing the Church Today, 4th ed.

JOHN JEFFERSON DAVIS

Evangelical Ethics is recognized as an authoritative Christian treatment of contemporary ethical issues. This revised and updated fourth edition adds a chapter on slavery and its legacy in the US.

John Jefferson Davis (PhD, Duke University), an ordained Presbyterian minister, is professor of systematic theology and Christian ethics at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in South Hamilton, Massachusetts. A former president of the Evangelical Philosophical Society, Dr. Davis is the author of several books.

ENDORSEMENT

“I am delighted that John J. Davis’s Evangelical Ethics is appearing again in a new edition. I have used the text in my classes for years. I admire its faithfulness to Scripture and Reformed theology and its power to stimulate good discussion. . . . I recommend the book highly.”

The Whole Counsel of God

RICHARD C. GAMBLE

This three-volume work explores the relationships between exegesis and hermeneutics, and between biblical, systematic, and historical theology for the glory of God and the enrichment of his church. Richard Gamble, an authority on Calvin, engages the writings of theologians across disciplines—from Calvin, Turretin, Witsius, and à Brakel, to Bavinck, Vos, Kline, Dillard, Frame, and many more—to assist him in this task.

Richard C. Gamble (PhD, Universitat Basel) is professor of systematic theology at Reformed Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh. He previously taught at Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando, Calvin College and Seminary, and Westminster Theological Seminary.

A History of Western Philosophy and Theology

JOHN M. FRAME

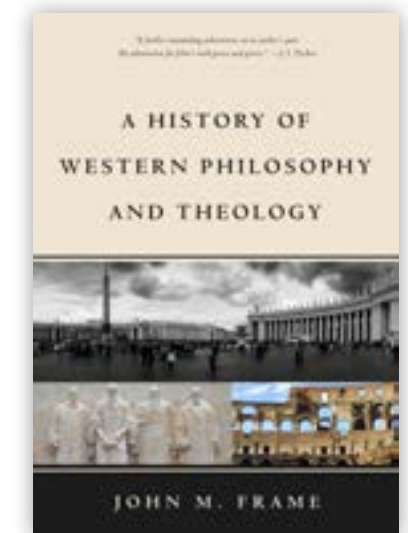

John Frame evaluates Western philosophy from a Christian worldview—rather than the other way around—thus both illuminating unbiblical philosophical theories and preparing Christians for today’s intellectual challenges.

John M. Frame (BD, Westminster Theological Seminary; AM, MPhil, Yale University; DD, Belhaven College) is J. D. Trimble Professor of Systematic Theology and Philosophy, Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando. He is the author of many books, including the four-volume Theology of Lordship series, and previously taught theology and apologetics at Westminster Theological Seminary (Philadelphia) and at Westminster Seminary California.

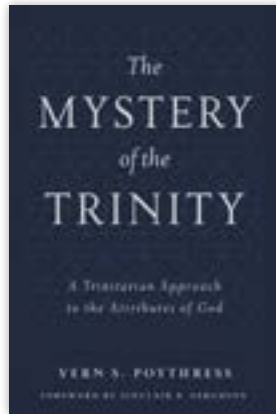

ENDORSEMENT

“John Frame has done it again! In the lucid and comprehensive style of his Theology of Lordship volumes, he here presents a full overview of Western thought about knowledge of God as it must appear to all who receive Holy Scripture, as he does, as the record, product, and present reality of God speaking. And the solid brilliance of the narrative makes it a most effective advocacy for the Kuyper-Van Til perspective that in a well-digested form it represents. It is a further outstanding achievement by John Frame. The book deserves wide use as a textbook, and I hope it will achieve that. My admiration for John’s work grows and grows.”

Systematic Theology

An Introduction to Christian Belief

JOHN M. FRAME

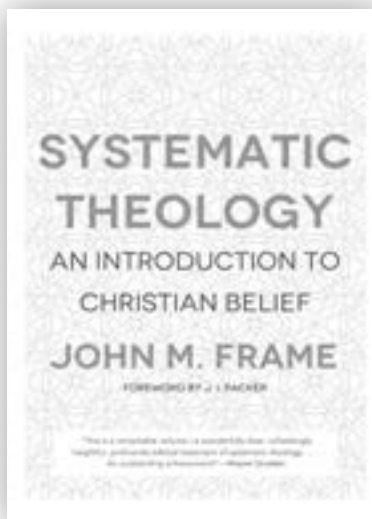

A biblical, clear, cogent, accessible, comprehensive, and practical summary of Christian belief by one of the most important and original American theologians of the last hundred years.

John M. Frame (BD, Westminster Theological Seminary; AM, MPhil, Yale University; DD, Belhaven College) is J. D. Trimble Professor of Systematic Theology and Philosophy, Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando.

ENDORSEMENT

“Many times in the past I have grown in my understanding of Scripture and benefited in my practice of ministry as a consequence of John Frame’s written reflections on God’s Word. Now the opportunity to draw upon that thought from a work that expands and systematizes his reflections from a lifetime of study and devotion is a great treasure for the church and a great gift to all in ministry.”

An Introduction to Systematic Theology

Prolegomena and the Doctrines of Revelation, Scripture, and God

CORNELIUS VAN TIL

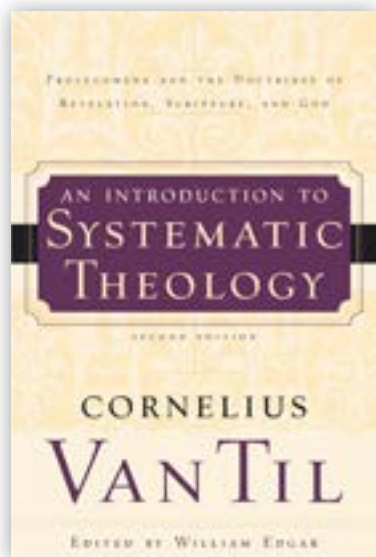

Van Til explores the implications of Christian theology, particularly for philosophy, as he discusses epistemology, general and special revelation, and the knowledge and attributes of God.

Cornelius Van Til (1895–1987) was born in Grootegast, the Netherlands, and immigrated with his family to the United States in 1905. He attended Calvin College and Calvin Seminary before completing his studies at Princeton Theological Seminary and Princeton University with the ThM and PhD degrees.

ENDORSEMENT

“One of Van Til’s two or three most important books, this is certainly a must-read for anyone who is trying to understand Van Til today. He challenges Christians to think in a distinctively biblical way. That biblical way opposes and challenges all religions and secular philosophies, all ideologies that place the ultimate source of truth and value in human beings rather than in God. Thoroughly re-edited, with an excellent introduction by William Edgar.”

Theology of Lordship

JOHN M. FRAME

John Frame’s Theology of Lordship series explores theology as the application of God’s Word to our lives in all situations. Frame speaks to the whole of the Christian life: God’s relationship to us, faith, apologetics, theology and philosophy, science and ethics, sexuality, Christ and culture, God’s personal communication to us in his Word, and more.

John M. Frame (BD, Westminster Theological Seminary; AM, MPhil, Yale University; DD, Belhaven College) is J. D. Trimble Professor of Systematic Theology and Philosophy, Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando. He is the author of many books and previously taught theology and apologetics at Westminster Theological Seminary and at Westminster Seminary California.

Institutes of Elenctic Theology

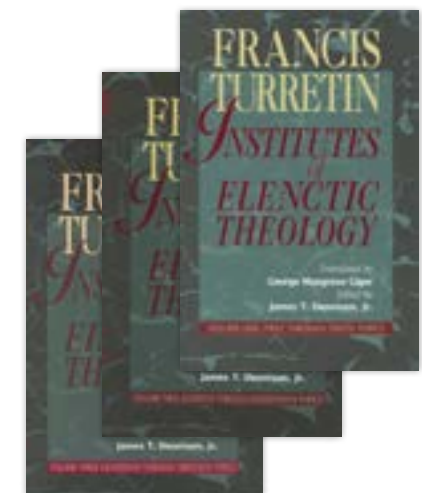

FRANCIS TURRETIN

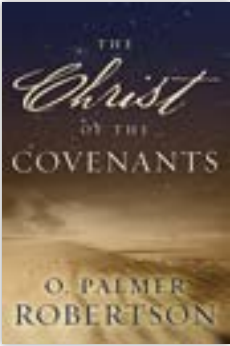

Francis Turretin (1623–87) has been called “the best expounder of the doctrine of the Reformed Church” (Samuel Alexander), “a marvelous synthesizer” (Roger Nicole), and “a towering figure among the Genevan Reformers” (Leon Morris). His Institutio Theologiae Elencticae, first published in 1679–85, was the fruit of some thirty years’ teaching at the Academy of Geneva.

“If ever a great theological work has been unjustly neglected it has been Francis Turretin’s masterful volumes on the whole of Christian doctrine. . . . I heartily . . . commend [them] to preachers, theological students, and lay persons everywhere.”

Great Thinkers

SERIES EDITOR NATE SHANNON

Great Thinkers is an academically, biblically, and theologically informed series that explores the seminal thoughts of leading philosophers and theologians who have shaped the modern world. Writing from a Reformed perspective, the authors in the series identify the most influential cultural features of each great thinker and the most apologetically effective ways to address these.

ENDORSEMENTS

“After a long eclipse, intellectual history is back. We are becoming aware, once again, that ideas have consequences. . . . Though succinct, each volume [in this series] is rich, and displays a balance between what Christians ought to value and what they ought to reject. This is one of the happiest publishing events in a long time.”

—WILLIAM EDGAR, Professor of Apologetics, Westminster Theological Seminary

“[These books] set forth accurately the views of the thinkers under consideration, and they enter into constructive dialogue, governed by biblical and Reformed convictions. I look forward to the release of all the books being planned and to the good influence they will have on the next generation of philosophers and theologians.”

—JOHN M. FRAME, Professor of Systematic Theology and Philosophy, Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary, Orlando
