Who
Creative lighting firm .PSLAB

What
'Streetlights' on award-winning design company DOSarchitects' office facade

Where
Lever Street, London

Why
On the occasion of the 2011 Clerkenwell Design Week, .PSLAB drew on vintage car headlamp fixtures, an original product they had created for DOSarchitects in 2008 to launch a temporary installation.

How
The office building got a shiny new facelift when a metal 'skin' was fixed parallel to the wall to overcome the constraint of the site's uneven surface. This 'skin' held the lamp fixtures, which were fitted with energy-saving light bulbs and external wiring was incorporated into the overall design. When lit during the evening, the piece projected bold discs of light onto the street and into the office space.
