Super Smash Bros
- Anantha N.

Do you want to know why my fingers would barely open and close? It is Super Smash Bros. I played so long, my fingers would barely open and close. I kept say-ing, “Just one more game.” I haven’t had this much fun with a game. This game is part of Nintendo Wii. This game is also available in Nintendo 3DS version and now is one of the most popular games.

Now lets talk about this game. This is a fighting game with humor and excite-ment. What if you want to combine and play with Nintendo’s characters, Super Sonic, PAC-MAN, and Charizard from Pokémon series? Yes you can in this game. You can use your own Mii to fight against Bowser. It’s endless fun.

How to play this game? Controls are easy to remember. They are the A and B buttons. The left thumb stick is for jump-ing. The buttons execute wild super attacks and special moves. It’s very hilar-ious for example Diddy Kong can shoot peanuts and throw banana peels. You can also pickup power ups, shields, and jumps etc.

I enjoy playing this game every day and you will also love it. Why are you waiting? Go and have good fun with it.

Pet Tips

Pet Tips

By: Isha V.

Are you having trouble choosing a cer-tain pet like, maybe... a dog? Well I can help! Here are some great tips I have found from books and the internet to help.

The first step to choosing a dog is to ask your family and yourself do we live in a apartment that allows dogs, or do we live in a house? The next question is, is anyone in our family allergic to dogs? If so, that’s alright, because you can get a dog with hair, not fur like a Poodle or Labradoodle (mix of a Labrador and a Poodle). The third question is, do we have a medium to large backyard, or a small backyard. These questions help you with the breed/type of dog you are getting. Now, do we want a puppy, or an adult dog? Try making a chart with these questions until you are ready for the next step.

The second step for choosing a dog is to search up a website about dog breeds. The website can tell you if you can get a medium to large dog, or a small dog based on the questions above. Athletic or energetic dogs would love your medium to large backyard, but that doesn’t mean small dogs would love it just the same! Although, your dog would hate to be cooped up in a small back-yard if he was a bundle of energy!

The last and final step to choosing a dog is based on whether you have younger siblings or do both your parents work full time. For younger siblings, I recommend a gentle and athletic Labra-dor, or a sweet King Cavalier Charles Spaniel. If you want a nice guard dog, the majestic German Shepherd is family friendly , and the tough but goofy Rott-weiler is not a bad choice either.

Again, a website on dogs would be helpful to answer your questions! One more thing, I also recommend that you get your dog from a shelter or breeder. Getting a dog from a pet shop isn’t a good choice because they end up being sick. I hope these tips helped you to make adopting a dog a little easier!

Davidson Celebrity

Ms. Matovitch

By: Hannah A.

Lights, camera, action! We all love movies, but we wouldn’t have any without books and stories. We can enjoy all the stories we want at the library. Ms. Matovich, our school li-brarian, brings the stories to all of us.

Question: When were you born?

Answer: June 1, 1980

Q: Why are you a librarian?

A: I became a librarian because I love to read! And it is so great helping all of the students at Davidson learn to love reading too, experiencing how the sto-ries from all the books come to life and have such an impact on us all.

Q: When you were younger did you want to be a librarian?

A: When I was little I wanted to be a teacher. In fact, one of my favorite things was to play school with my dolls.

Q: Why do you like this school?

A: With Davidson it was such a great experience and opportunity to open a brand new library and build it up from the ground.

Q: Who do you appreciate in the school?

A: I appreciate Ms. Long so much – she is such a help to me! Of course I appreciate all of the specials teams and all the work they do to help our students learn more and enjoy learn-ing.

Q: What do you like most about work-ing with students?

A: Students are so great. They make me laugh, they keep me on my toes, they keep me young. It is amazing how smart our students are, and it is so great to see how much they love to read!

Q: How long have you been a librari-an?

A: I’ve been a librarian for seven years now.

Q: What did you do before you be-came a librarian?

A: Before becoming a librarian, I also taught second grade for a year and first grade for six years.

Q: The Christmas holiday is coming up, what do you like about the holi-day?

A: Of course I love reading. Reading “The Night Before Christmas” to my boys is so much fun and such a great story to share on Christmas Eve. I love picking out a fresh Christmas tree, decorating the tree, making milk and cookies for Santa and setting out food for the reindeer.

Be sure to make good use of the Da-vidson Library and our great librarian, Ms. Matovich – you’ll learn something and have fun at the same time.

MINIONS

Rating:

“Respect power!” ‘Banana!’ can you guess who shared that quote? If you guessed Scarlet and Bob, you were right!

Minions is full of funny stuff like this! The minions are searching for a new leader after a couple of ‘incidents’ with their old ones. So Stuart sets out with Bob and Kevin to rescue their boring minion lives. Soon they find themselves in New York standing in the middle of the road, holding up a sign that says Orlando.

Soon a family picks them up and then they shoot a bunch of police cars, rob a bank, and enter an old apple shack which opens up into a mansion (for parking cars)!..There they meet Scarlet Overkill the greatest super-villain of all time. She challenges them to a contest of who will be her sidekick and they win!

So they fly to her palace in London and the Minion’s 1st job is to get the Queen of England’s crown. With Scarlet’s husband Herb’s top of the line equipment it shouldn’t be too hard right? WRONG-O! In fact they end up in such a mix-up that Bob becomes the King of England and Scarlet gets furious! – Until Bob hands over the crown (of course). But then a new Super villain comes to town and steals it from Scarlet! The Minions are beginning to wonder is there a new greatest Super – Villain of all time? Can you guess who it is? Hint: starts with a Gr.!

If you watch this movie I hope you like it as much as I did!

Veterans Day

By : Namrata J.

On Wednesday November 11th, Americans celebrated Veterans Day. It was first celebrated on Nov. 11th,1919 by U.S. president Wilson as "Armistice Day" to honor the soldiers who served during World War 1. All of the Americans commit to this holiday because they know words, hugs, and a thankful smile will not change what would happen on the battlefield. It finally became a legal holiday in 1938.

Well, what is the difference between Memorial and Veterans day? Memorial Day is when we honor and pay our respects to the ones who died or got wounded. On the other hand Veterans day is when we thank LIVING veterans for serving for our nation and their contributions and dedication they gave to our country. So the next Veterans Day try to thank these amazing men and women who have served in this country and do not forget to say

HAPPY VETERANS DAY TO ALL!

Miami

By Aanya P.

Miami is a vibrant, colorful trip you need to take! It has a lot of attractions, AWESOME BEACHES, and nice weather.

The hotel you should stay at is called Diplomat resort and spa. It has 3 large pools, a ton of amenities, and a beach in front of the resort! I personally think that if you’re going to book a room, tell them to book a Superior 2 double beds. It has ocean view, a balcony, marble bathrooms, separate tubs and showers, and so much more. It has linens to help you relax and same with the bathroom which will also help you unwind from all the fun you’ve just had. The balcony gives you splendid views of the ocean and/or city life! It also has 2 chairs and a small table if you wish to eat in your own balcony or just sit back and relax. The resort itself is an absolutely splendid experience!!

There are so many activities that you may want to do or most likely will do. #1, obviously you will go to the pool and #2, BEACH!!! #3 Ooh! Ooh is Hollywood hot glass art gallery! It’s EXTREMELY fun where kids get to do their own glass creations with hot melted glass!! There are so many more exciting things to do but I’m just recommending these 3. Well that’s about it in Miami, see you back in Cozumel Islands Mexico!!

Mane Wolf

By Adriana

The mane wolf is the largest canine of South America. Its markings resemble those of a fox, but it is not a fox, nor is it a wolf, it is not related to other canines. It is the only species in the genus Chrysocyon.

The mane wolf is a mammal, found in open and semi-open habitats, especially grasslands with scattered bushes and trees, in south, central west, southern Brazil, Paraguay, northern Argentina, Bolivia east and north of the Andes, and southern Peru. It is very rare in Uruguay possibly because of habitat loss. The mane wolf is near threatened, while it is considered vulnerable by the Brazilian government.

The mane wolf bears minor similarities to the red fox, even though it belongs to a different genus. The average adult weighs 51 pounds, is 35 inches tall at the shoulder, has a head-body length of 100 centimeters, with the tail adding another 45 centimeters. Its ears are large and long.

The mane wolf is the tallest of the wild canines; its long legs are likely an adaptation to the tall grasslands where it lives. The fur of the mane wolf may be reddish brown to golden orange on the sides, with long black legs, and a distinctive black mane, the tip of the mane wolf's tail is white.

Mane wolves hunt at night between sundown and midnight, it uses its large ears to listen for prey animals in the tall grass. The mane wolf is an omnivore, which means it eats meat and plants, vegetables, and fruits. It specializes in small mammals such as rabbits and mice. But most of its portion in diet is vegetables.

Mane wolves mating season ranges from November to April. Pups are black-furred and curious. The pups are fully grown when one year old. During their first year, the pups are known to rely on their parents for food

Our World

By: Emma Zuo

Our world has many interesting places and animals and things we do. Here are a few animals that are definitely extraordinary!

1. Sea Pig: The sea pig is actually a type of sea cucumber. It doesn’t really have a brain and is extremely cute. If you check this animal out on google, you might find that it looks nothing like a pig or a sea cucumber, and it’s pink!

2. Sea Spider: The sea spider can grow very large and live 2300 feet down in the ocean. It has 8 legs and 3-4 extra limbs. The reason it can grow so large is that it breathes through holes in its body, absorbing more oxygen and growing larger. This creature can be found in any ocean.

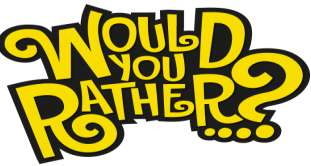

3. Icefish: What is amazing about this fish is that its organs including its heart are white and it has colorless blood that could almost pass for water. The icefish is translucent and scaleless and can survive in – 1.8 Celsius waters.

4. Mantis Shrimp: This creature has the deadliest, fastest punch in the world and its punches are impossible to see at normal speed. The speed of its punch can go 50 mph in 3 milliseconds! This animal also has the most complex eyes in the animal kingdom.

5. Giant Oarfish: This animal is so extraordinary because so little is known about them. It is the one of the largest known fish and lives so deep that usually people do not see them unless they have washed up on the beach dying, sick or dead. Also the giant oarfish is said to signal an earthquake. Yikes!

So those are some fascinating animals of the world that you might want to check out. There are many more cool creatures out there and scientists continue to discover them even now!

World News

To say that David Richards loves to create Christmas light displays is an understatement.

In the past four years, the Canberra resident has picked up three Guinness World Records - Two for 'most Christmas lights on a residential property' and one for 'largest image made of LED lights.' On November 27th, the Canberra resident broke yet another record - This time for 'most lights on an artificial Christmas tree.' The stunning 72-foot tree that was lit up in the presence of thousands of excited residents and a Guinness World Record official featured baubles, presents, and a massive star. All, of course, were sparkling with lights - A total of 518,838 colorful bulbs to be exact! It handily surpassed the previous record of 374,280 lights established by Universal Studios, Japan in October 2015. Richards first two record-setting displays were personal efforts created with the help of friends and family at his home in suburban Canberra. However, when the increasing popularity of his light displays started filling up the neighborhood streets, the Australian man was forced to seek out a public venue. Fortunately, he did not have to look far. In 2014, Canberra officials asked Richards to help set up a large LED display at the city's popular Petrie Plaza.

The 'crazy Christmas lights guy' as he likes to call himself did not disappoint. His record-breaking 1.2 million light bulb display arranged to resemble giant 3-D Christmas presents was so popular that in 2015, Richards was asked to work his magic on the city's Christmas tree. As you can imagine, creating these unique displays is no easy task. Richards, who is a lawyer by day, says he spends several months consulting with lighting architects, electrical & civil engineers, as well as designers, planning every last detail. And while the effort would be well worth it if the records remained uncontested, such is not the case.

So far, most of the records set by Richards have been surpassed. His 2013 record for 'most Christmas lights on a residential property' was outdone within days by a family in LaGrangeville, New York, who adorned their home with over 600,000 Christmas lights. His 2014 'largest image made of LED lights' record was beaten earlier this year by a picture of a dragon created using 1,529,103 lights at a hotel in Myoka, Japan. Whether his latest record lasts a little longer, remains to be seen. But Richards does not care about records or fame. His main reason for creating these displays is to raise funds for Canberra-based charity SIDS and Kids ACT. The non-profit is dedicated to eliminating sudden and unexpected death in children from conception onwards and providing programs and services. The cause is dear to the father of three, who lost his one-month-old son, Thomas, to Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) in 2002. Hopefully, his dedication will pay off, and a cure will be found soon.

Is Football Too Violent?

By:Lohit M

Ok so football, one of the only two games that America only plays getting too violent. This is beyond a big deal because football is a sport that most Americans love. Some people think the violence makes it better but it doesn't. In fact, it makes it worse. People who could be living normal lives are living them in pain. Here are some of the most biggest injuries in football...

- 1.wide receiver Taylor Gabriel got a concussion(2015)
- 2.defensive player Dennis Byrd broke his c-5 vertebrae and suffered temporary paralysis ending his football career (1992)
3. Running back Musa smith got a compound fracture on his right tibia, no football for 2 years (2004).

This is pretty violent but I assure you there will be worse in the future. Do you think football is too violent? That's it for now but stay tune for more.

Our Past

The Revolutionary War

By: Colleen C.

Many of the rights and freedoms that we enjoy most in life didn't even exist where I'm about to take you. We're going back to the year 1775 to experience the Revolutionary War. The great war that lead us toward independence began on April 19, 1775. Britain at the time, wanted to be the most powerful, and in control, as many country's do. As the year 1776 began, the colonies decided that they were ready and strong enough to declare independence from Britain. Britain did not acquire a taste for this decision and automatically said "No!". Then the war really began.

Great Britain and the colonies were at war for many years after, then things began to slow down. In 1883 The colonies had French allies who helped back Britain into a corner. Eventually getting them to sign peace treaties that they had denied many years earlier. On September 10 the finale treaty was signed and we had officially won our independence. Soon after, we became a country, which lead to many problems, political and non-political. But that's an article for another day. See you next time on issue #4 of the Dragon Times!

Sweet Treat Central

Nothing Bundt cake is a small shop located in La Centerra and offers delicious Bundt cakes that you will find nowhere else.

The store in La Centerra, is a cute, upbeat little store that offers different Bundt cake samples every day and also sells nice kitchen utensils.

When asking for a cake, don't worry they are all awesome. The Bundt cakes are moist and rich; Served with luscious cream cheese frosting.

If you want a classic cake flavor, I recommend the chocolate Bundt cake. It is not just plain boring chocolate, it is rich, thick chocolate cake with chocolate chips. Like a giant brownie. I also really like the lemon flavor. It has an almost sour sweetness a little bit of tartness.

They also make seasonal flavors like: pumpkin spice, cinnamon swirl, ginger bread (some stores only), and red velvet.

So next time you have a sweet tooth, head to nothing Bundt cakes where there is nothing "Bundt" good cakes.

What Do You Think?

Hello again, reader. I'm Carter A. and I want your opinion. This month, I am writing about our opinion on whether our school loves, or doesn't love, spirit sticks. Some say yes, others say no. what do you say?

Kindergarten loves our spirit sticks, saying they are cute and love the way they hang off their backpacks like angels. They also say they love the adorable colors and designs.

First grade was kind of balanced, with positive and negative comments. They said they are kind of useless, but cute to have and fun to play with.

Second grade was very precise {which I admire, especially from second graders} telling me they were excited to have and use them. I definitely liked second grade's comments.

Third graders were just plain exited to have them and had almost no negative comments about them

Fourth graders were not lovers of spirit sticks, but enjoyed having them, and were proud to have something showing their school achievements.

Fifth graders didn't really mind having them, and didn't really notice their existence.

So, are you a lover, or a hater of spirit sticks? I'm Carter A., and I want your opinion!

Katy ISD Happenings

Katy ISD Spelling Bee

Do you know Katy ISD is having a school campus spelling bee contest? YES. Students those who have gotten qualified for the spelling bee will be facing a real challenge in studying the words to prepare themselves for school campus spelling bee, which will take place on December the 10th. For those who win the school campus spelling bee, Katy ISD hosts a district Spelling Bee each February ... and second place alternate of the Katy ISD Spelling Bee both qualify to participate in the regional Spelling Bee hosted by PBS, which is truly wonderful and a great honor. Spelling bee is a competition in which contestants are asked to spell a broad selection of words, usually with a varying degree of difficulty. The concept is thought to have originated in the United States, now also held in some other countries around the world. The first winner of an official spelling bee was Frank Neuhauser, who won the 1st National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C. in 1925 at age eleven. US Spelling bee students usually start competition in elementary schools (primary schools) or middle schools. Classes compete against other classes in the same grade, or level, and the winning class is determined by the score of each class. On an individual level, school spelling bees determine which child will represent his or her school at district, state and national competitions. If you ever wonder how the winning experience will be or representing you for the school by carrying quite a responsibility. It is truly unbelievable experience which we can't express with words rather you feel it in your heart. SO COME AND TRY, I PROMISE YOU WILL BE GLAD YOU DID IT. ~ Mini J.

The History of Mickey Mouse

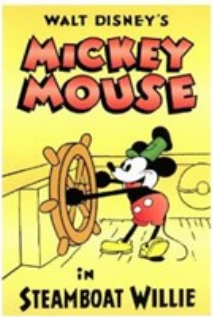

By Noah P.

A New Beginning

On Nov 18, 1929 Mickey Mouse debuted in the silent cartoon Plane Crazy. Theater owners were bored when they saw a little mouse in a film that wasn't even finished! Disney tried again in the Galloping Gaucho, but they rejected that too. Disney kept tinkering with Mickey and came out with Steamboat Willie. Theater owners decided to give Disney a chance and crowds came out bursting with joy. Steamboat Willie was considered as a new beginning for Disney.

The Firsts of Animation

After Steamboat Willie, Disney won two Academy Awards for making the first sound cartoon and creating Mickey. In The Carnival Kid, Mickey says his first words "Hot Dogs"!

The Later Years

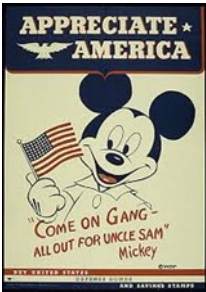

In later cartoons like Into the Mirror, Pluto's Christmas Tree, and Orphan's Benefit, Mickey is joined by other characters like Donald Duck. Mickey is also famous in his role in Mickey's Christmas Carol as Scrooge's Assistant.

Mickey Today

Today Mickey has his own show, appears in lots of video games, and coming soon is a movie that shows a new generation of the character. Mickey Mouse is still loved by millions of children all over the world.

Mickey's Birthday is on November 18th!

Magnus Chase and The Sword of Summer

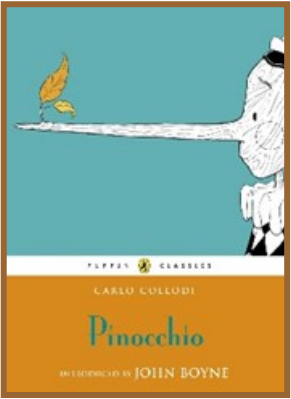

Magnus Chase has seen his share of trouble. Ever since that terrible night two years ago when his mother told him to run, he has lived alone on the streets of Boston, surviving by his wits, staying one step ahead of the police and truant officers. One day, Magnus learns that someone else is trying to track him down—his uncle Randolph, a man his mother had always warned him about. When Magnus tries to outmaneuver his uncle, he falls right into his clutches. Randolph starts rambling about Norse history and Magnus's birthright: a weapon that has been lost for thousands years. The more Randolph talks, the more puzzle pieces fall into place. Stories about the gods of Asgard, wolves, and Domsday bubble up from Magnus's memory. But he doesn't have time to consider it all before a fire giant attacks the city, forcing him to choose between his own safety and the lives of hundreds of innocents. . . . Sometimes, the only way to start a new life is to die. Finally. I'm writing a book review for the Dragon Times. Now this book is a revolution for the whole Percy Jackson Fandom. Uncle Rick. has written a new book! He has absolutely stunned us all in his new book Magnus Chase and The Sword of Summer. The first thing you need to know is...Magnus sure has a good sense of humor. I shouldn't say good. It's more that he has an AWE-SOME sense of humor. This book is told by Magnus as he goes through some crazy things. Sure you can say he's a lot like Percy. He has a sword that can turn into something ordinary, he has a crazy awesome sense of humor, he has friends that have watched over him that aren't really human, he's a demigod, and I'm sure I could go on and on, but that would take a while. Ok so nonetheless he is a demigod son of. Should I tell you? Why don't you find out? So he's been homeless for 2 years since his mother died. Sad isn't it? But he's had "friends" taking care of him. Hearth and Blitz have looked out for him since he became homeless and his life wasn't bad to the extreme. But being homeless has its cons. Sometimes the way to start a new life is to die. That's exactly what Magnus does as he fights the fire giant Surt, taking himself and the giant into the harbor water. Now comes a girl named Samirah-Al-Abbas, who recognizes Magnus as a hero and takes him to Valhalla, the afterlife for heroes. Magnus soon leaves Valhalla on a quest to delay Ragnarok, the doom of the gods. Read the book as he travels throughout the Nine Worlds on his exhilarating quest to re-bind Fenrir and stop Surt.

In all demigodishness, Ahana P.S. Did I mention Magnus is Anna-beth's cousin? Got any suggestions for any articles I should do? Email me at fandom-furies@gmail.com

Pinocchio

By: Sanjana P.

This book was written by John Boyne and is about a naughty little puppet named Pinocchio who lies and creates mischief. The first naughty thing Pinocchio did was run out of the house and into a police officer. The police sent Geppeto, Pinocchio's creator to jail for saying that Pinocchio would get in big time trouble when they got home. The big mistake Pinocchio makes is that he lies a lot! Whenever he does his nose grows longer! Pinocchio does a lot of other naughty things. One example is when he was supposed to buy a book but instead he went to a puppet show. The worst mistake he made is when he got some coins from the puppet show and two clever animals tricked him into giving them his money and Pinocchio fell for it. Finally Pinocchio learns his lesson when his dad gets swallowed by a whale. Then he makes a promise to learn no matter what. At the end Pinocchio finally becomes a real boy The moral of this story is: Don't lie, Keep your promises, and Do what you're supposed to do. Don't forget to read this awesome book!!!!!!
