

A top-down view of various art supplies scattered on a white surface. There are several open jars of paint in red, blue, yellow, and white. A blue paint jar is tipped over, with blue paint spilled out. Numerous colored pencils and markers in various colors (blue, green, yellow, orange, red, purple, brown) are lying around. There are also some paint splatters and smudges on the white background.

SUMMER CERAMICS STUDIO

Sgraffito and Slab Vases

This is a studio course for artists of all levels: Beginners who have never used clay to experienced artists who just want the studio time or learn something new. This summer we will focus on building large slab vases and the Sgraffito decorating technique. Experienced students can use the course for open studio time. There are 6 available pottery wheels that students are free to use, but wheel throwing will not be a teaching focus of the class.

Time: 5 evenings from 6 - 8:00 pm

Dates: The first four classes, 7/10, 7/12, 7/17, and 7/19 will be building days. The fifth class, 7/26, will be for glazing.

Cost: $300 (includes all materials)
