Dear Fox Families,

As we move further into the school year, I want to take a moment to express my gratitude for the trust you place in us each day. It's a privilege to watch your children grow, not just academically, but as kind, capable individuals who support one another and contribute to our school community.

This year, we're continuing to focus on creating a positive learning environment where every student feels seen, supported, and challenged. Your partnership is a key part of that mission. Whether it's with your kind words, helping with homework, or simply asking about your child's day, your involvement matters.

Thank you for being an essential part of our school family.

-Andrena Baker, Principal

COUNSELORS' CORNER

Halloween is a fun and exciting time, but safety comes first! Make sure costumes fit properly and are visible in the dark—adding reflective tape or glow sticks can help. Always accompany young children while trick-or-treating and stick to well-lit, familiar neighborhoods. Remind your child to only visit homes with the porch light on and avoid eating any treats until they've been inspected.
