

HAWK Headlines 3.20.25

This coming week we have IAR testing in grades 3-5. All learners have been working hard to get to this point. One grade level builds upon the next. In the next week and the week after spring break, our third through fifth grade learners will showcase their knowledge on the IAR test. Please make sure your learners are well fed and rested so that they can give their best. Let's make this week before spring break a great one! Together we rise!
