Cougar Families-

I hope everyone enjoys the extra long weekend! We do not have school on Monday, October 8th and the District is closed.

Our 8th graders will take the PSAT on Wednesday this week. The link below takes you to a great presentation that explains the PSAT 8/9:

This week, our PTO will be selling candy after school on Tuesday-Friday from 3:40-4:00 pm. This is a treat for our students and a way for PTO to raise money to support KMS activities.

This week is homecoming week at Centennial HS. We do not participate in CHS dress up days since we have our own dress up days to support Kerr sports. Also, mums/garters are not allowed at Kerr during the school day.

Safety reminder: Please do not stop on Dian to drop off or pick up your child. The safest way to drop off/pick up is to come through our parent line where we have staff members helping students cross traffic. Thanks for your help with this!

Have a great week!

-Kalee McMullen, Principal

Spotlight on Excellence

Our 6th grade Social Studies students participated in a fun "scoot" activity last week. They moved through 25 different stations in the hall where they talked through different social studies topics and questions with their peers. It was a great review activity for the upcoming assessment.

CONSTRUCTION ZONE

The rain held off this week and I was able to make a site visit and walk through the new building. It was exciting to see walls going up, stairs to the second floor, and preparations for the athletics wing of the building.
