LET'S MAKE different MISTAKES

This quote from Willow B. exemplifies the spirit of the day's sessions. With topics ranging from data interoperability to stories about working with all different levels of government, learning from the past and building new futures was the order of the day.

Are you Experiencing a SOCIAL EMERGENCY?
by Leslie & Ayako.

Whether you are engulfed by gov mech or tired of mistreatment of living beings there is a safe place - you just have to create it. make a Social Emergency Response Center (SERC) for your hood. Bring on the cooking, making, healing and plotting. In no time your community will go from passive sheep to collective radical action preps. Manual and kits online at DS4SI.org and soon publiclab.org.

WHAT THE BEEP?

by Molly de Blanc
Over the course of the day, a high pitched beep sounded in the room. While Willow pressed a bunch of buttons to no avail, Bronnan and Goldie stepped in. "It's a building problem... being worked on." A hoodie was taped on in the meantime.
UPDATE: the issue was resolved by 4PM.
