Ty Tucker, Ohio State Head Coach

On the match and the conditions...

"I thought we came out and played good doubles and we controlled all three courts obviously, it is tough conditions playing at 9 a.m. in 50-degree weather. We had some spots that we could have been better in but for the most part our guys came out and took care of business."

On what the team did well...

"That doubles point is very important and we came out right out the gates and had good energy and put first serves in the court and it carried through into the singles."

Geoff Young, Minnesota Head Coach

On his thoughts about Ohio State...

"They are number two in the country and deservedly so, they are really good players. They do all the little things well so we have to learn from it and it is a good match to learn from."

On taking the next step...

"We have to get better at doubles and handling pace at the net, that is the biggest thing probably. We just have to keep working on the little things because it is different for every player up and down the lineup but I am sure we will get after it the next two weeks."

Mikael Torpegaard, Ohio State

On his game plan today...

"I try to take innovative in points like first strike tennis. I tried to put my opponent under pressure and my biggest goal today because we were outside was holding serve. I did not get broken once today and that is the biggest reason on why I am satisfied in my match today. I am also really happy with my team performance as well."
