- AROUND THE HORN -

• Purdue lost 3 of 4 in its series at ETSU after getting outscored 12-1 over the final three innings of the final two games, blowing an 8-3 lead in game three and 2-0 edge in game four.
• The Boilermakers enjoyed a 19-run outburst in game two of the ETSU series, scoring three more than they had over the first seven games (16) of the season. It was Purdue's most runs since putting up 23 in a March 2015 win vs. Northern Illinois.
• The Boilers overcame early deficits of 4-1 and 3-0 in both games of the Saturday doubleheader at ETSU, but dropped the nightcap on a walk-off three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth. It was Purdue's first walk-off loss since May 2014 at Minnesota.
• After striking out 60 times over the first five games of the season, Purdue has done a much better job at putting the ball in play, striking out 28 times over the last five games. Situational hitting struggles continued through the series-opening loss at ETSU.
• The Boilers were batting .178 with RISP over their first six games, plating a runner from third with less than two outs in only 5 of 16 chances. But in the final three games at ETSU, Purdue hit .410 with RISP and plated that runner from third in 7 of 8 chances.

TANNER ANDREWS

- Joined Nick Dalesandro as the first Purdue pitchers since 2013 to make their first career starts on the mound during a season-opening weekend. However, he became the first non-freshman since 2011 to make his first start on a weekend.
- As a freshman made five of his seven appearances in Big Ten play after not making his collegiate debut until April 11.; worked three innings of one-run ball at nationally ranked Illinois in his first outing as a Boilermaker.
- Retired four of the five batters he faced over an inning and a third of hitless relief to close out the series-opening win against Penn State.
- Played four years of varsity baseball, basketball and football at Tippecanoe Valley High School in north central Indiana.
- Batted over .400 each year as a four-time all-conference performer; area player of the year and second team all-state performer in basketball averaged 20 points as a senior; first team all-state defensive back as a junior and then earned similar honors as a wide receiver his senior year.

*Active Multi-Year Purdue Letter-Winners Only

BOILERMAKERS MAKE FIRST TRIP TO STATE OF KANSAS SINCE 2012

• Purdue begins spring break with a trip to Lawrence for KU's Millard Management Classic. The Boilermakers played in two tournaments held at a single field a year ago, going 3-5 in those games. The Jayhawks represent the fifth and final first-time opponent on the schedule this season.

• Purdue has not been to the state of Kansas since splitting a four-game series at Wichita State on the backend of the 2012 spring break trip. The Boilermakers did visit Big 12 country last year for a weekend series at Oklahoma. Kyle Wood (9-for-11, 2B, 2 HR, 7 RBI, 2 BB, 4 R) enjoyed a monster series in Norman and claimed Big Ten Player of the Week honors after having 12 productive plate appearances in his 14 trips to the dish.

JOHNSON & WOOD PRODUCE A NUMBER OF FIRST TIMES SINCE AT ETSU

• There were a combined 11 home runs hit in the four-game series at East Tennessee State, including six by Purdue's Kyle Johnson and Kyle Wood. Both seniors recorded their first collegiate multi-homer games, joining Alec Olund as active Boilermakers to accomplish the feat. Purdue's three home runs in the 19-6 win were the team's most in a game since hitting four in a May 2012 win at Iowa that clinched the outright Big Ten title. The 27 runs the Boilermakers scored in the March 5 doubleheader at ETSU were their most in a single day since putting up 35 in a doubleheader sweep at Morehead State in February 2011.

• Johnson had career-highs of four hits and six RBI in his multi-homer game, the 19-6 Purdue win. He hit the first grand slam by a Boilermaker since Jack Picchiotti in the 2015 Big Ten opener vs. Rutgers. His 10 total bases were the most by a Boilermaker since Sean McHugh had 12 as part of a multi-homer game in May 2013. Johnson hit his grand slam in the seventh inning and a two-run shot the following frame, becoming the first Boilermaker since Cameron Perkins in May 2012 (at Iowa) to go deep in consecutive innings.

• Wood homered three times in the Saturday doubleheader, doing deep twice in the nightcap. He became the first Boilermaker since Perkins in February 2011 to homer in both games of a doubleheader. His three home runs in one day were the most by a Boilermaker since Dan Black's three-homer game against Indiana at the 2008 Big Ten Tournament.

DALESANDRO & MCGOWAN RIDING STREAKS ALREADY

• Freshmen Nick Dalesandro and Jacson McGowan have been regulars in the starting lineup early this season. Dalesandro did not start the Feb. 21 win at Georgia State, which stands as the only game so far either of them wasn't in the starting lineup.

• Dalesandro enters the weekend riding an eight-game hitting streak, which began when he delivered a two-run double with the bases loaded to break a 3-3 tie in the win at Georgia State. He's 11-for-28 (.392) with three doubles and five RBI during the streak. After getting chased from the mound in the bottom of the second inning of his game two start at ETSU, he delivered another bases-loaded two-run double the following frame to ignite the Purdue comeback. This year Dalesandro has become the first Boilermaker since Kyle Wood in April 2014 to bat in the lineup in the same game he was the starting pitcher. But you have to go back to February 2014 (Wood again) for the last time it happened in a weekend game.

• McGowan has hit safely in eight of the first 10 games and enters the weekend having reached base safely in six straight. He came through with a rare two-run sac fly with the bases loaded in the fourth inning of the 19-6 win at ETSU. The center fielder made a diving catch to take away a double, but Jack Picchiotti was able to score from second on the play.

EXCELLENT LONG RELIEF WORK

• The Boilermakers had a chance to win both games of the March 5 doubleheader at ETSU thanks to strong relief work from Matt Frawley (7 2/3 IP, 5 H, 1 ER, 0 BB, 6 K) and Shane Bryant (5 1/3 IP, 3 H, 3 R, 5 K). They combined for 13 innings of five-run ball, surrendering only eight hits and one walk while striking out 11. The effective long relief allowed Purdue to overcome its starting pitchers both failing to make it through the second inning.

• Frawley's 7 2/3 innings pitched and six strikeouts were both career highs. It was the longest relief outing by a Purdue pitcher since April 2013. He retired seven of the first eight batters he faced and later 14 of the final 16 that came to the plate against him. Bryant retired 14 of the first 17 batters he faced. He worked a pair of 1-2-3 innings and didn't give up a hit until the sixth inning during that stretch.

• In Purdue's comeback win at Georgia State on Feb. 21, Tanner Schumacher retired all 12 batters he faced over four perfect innings of relief.

SITUATIONAL HITTING FRUSTRATIONS IN LOSSES

• In the Boilermakers' eight losses this season they've struggled with timely hitting. Four of the eight losses have been by three runs or fewer. Purdue has actually had more chances for potential rallies than its opponents, seeing its leadoff man reach base safely 26 times (36 percent) to begin an inning. But the Boilers have left 62 runners on base (average of 7.75 per game) while hitting just .177 (14-for-79) with runners in scoring position.

• With a runner on third and less than two outs, Purdue has plated that runner in just 5 of 14 (36 percent) opportunities in its eight losses. Meanwhile, opponents have cashed in 15 of 18 (83 percent) chances with a runner on third and less than two outs. Purdue has struck out 73 times (average of 9 per game) in its eight losses, part of the reason it has not scored more runners from third with less than two outs. But when they have put the ball in play with runners on base, the Boilermakers have grounded into nine double plays.
