Conference Coach of the Year Awards

Richard Moodie was named head coach of the Purdue soccer team on November 28, 2023, and will be in his second season with the Boilermakers in 2025. Moodie came to Purdue from South Alabama and will be the third head coach in the program's 27-year history. He won seven conference titles at South Alabama - three regular-season and four postseason - and coached his athletes to 19 individual Sun Belt postseason awards and 44 all-conference accolades in addition to being named the conference coach of the year twice, in 2019 and 2023.

A native of Stenhousemuir, Scotland, Moodie coached his alma mater, Carson-Newman, from 2011-16, leading the men's team from 2011-16 and the women from 2012-16 before taking the reigns at South Alabama in 2017. He boasts a 198-118-35 (.614) career record, a 139-74-26 (.636) mark leading the C-N and USA women's programs and a 91-36-19 record at the Division I level in seven seasons at USA.

Moodie's coaching tenure at Carson-Newman included multiple NCAA Division II tournament appearances with both programs and a national runner-up finish in 2013. He coached several conference player of the year and All-America honorees and was recognized with Region Coaching Staff of the Year honors. Moodie, who has coached 12 players that went on to have professional playing careers, played professionally himself, including in the MLS with the Columbus Crew, before he began his coaching career.

Moodie's seven-year tenure at South Alabama began with a sweep of the Sun Belt Conference regular-season and tournament titles and an NCAA Tournament appearance in 2017. Another championship sweep, and an NCAA berth, followed in 2019. That began a stretch of three consecutive Sun Belt Tournament crowns and NCAA bids, as Moodie guided the Jaguars to two more tournament titles and NCAA appearances in 2020 and 2021. The 2023 season saw Moodie and South Alabama win another regular-season Sun Belt championship.

The three-year NCAA Tournament streak began in 2019, which also was South Alabama's second Sun Belt championship sweep in three seasons under Moodie. He was named the Sun Belt Coach of the Year and USA swept the postseason awards, winning the Player, Offensive Player, Defensive Player, Newcomer and Freshman of the Year accolades. A First Team All-Region honor punctuated the campaign as the Jaguars were 16-4-2, 8-1-1 in conference play.

Moodie came to South Alabama from Carson-Newman, where he was the head coach of the Division II men's team from 2011-16, going 59-44-9, and the women's program from 2012-16, with a 48-38-7 record.

The Carson-Newman women went 17-4-1 in 2016 and registered a first-round win in the NCAA Tournament. The squad won the regular-season and postseason conference crowns and a school-record 10 players earned all-league accolades. Conference and Region Player of the Year honors came along with All-America distinction by the national leader in points per game. Moodie and his staff were named the Region Staff of the Year.

While also leading the men's program, Moodie guided his club to four consecutive seasons with a third-place finish or better in the league, with a conference title in 2015. He led the team to the NCAA title game in 2013 and was named the CaptainU National Coach of the Year. Moodie's time with the men's team also included a SAC Coach of the Year honor in 2015, a Player of the Year honor and several All-Region and All-America accolades.

A four-year letterwinner at Carson-Newman from 2002-05, Moodie is among the program's all-time leaders with 73 games played and 59 career starts. His teams totaled a 49-10-6 record in his last three seasons, with a 19-1-1 mark in SAC play. Moodie helped his team to three consecutive regular-season titles and three NCAA Tournament berths in as many years. The Eagles also won the 2005 tournament crown. The 2003 campaign ended in the national quarterfinals, the furthest the team had ever gotten at the time. The school's first unbeaten conference season came in 2004, along with another conference title. In 2005, C-N made the national quarterfinals once again after a 7-0 SAC record and an 18-2-2 overall mark. Moodie was recognized on the All-Conference team and earned First Team All-Region honors.

Professionally, Moodie played with the Columbus Crew and Cincinnati Kings in 2007. Moodie graduated from Carson-Newman in 2006 with a degree in business management. He earned his masters degree from the school of education in 2008. Moodie and his wife, Jess, have two children, Caragyn and Trystan.
