PRODUCTS OVERVIEW

- ▶ Our company is in direct partnership with one of the largest domestic producers of premium full spectrum Hemp Oil. Because our extracts come direct from the source with no brokers, sales reps, or middle men, we are able to put forth the absolute highest quality at a substantially lower price than brands with comparable product. Our farm is located in the high plains of Pueblo, CO on over 700 acres of certified organic land. After harvest, our biomass is transported to an FDA registered facility in Evergreen, CO, where we have four of the largest continuous feed Co2 extraction machines in the world and over 18,000 square feet of processing and fulfillment. This location is GMP compliant and works closely with the CO health department to ensure shelf stability, accurate expirations, and clean manufacturing from seed to sale.
- ▶ Good product starts with good soil, but it doesn't stop there. We grow our plants free of pesticides or chemicals, then extract them with only Co2, unlike the majority of the market who uses ethanol or hexane extracted isolate. We don't over process our products into a pure isolate because full spectrum products provide what is commonly referred to as the "entourage effect." When cannabinoids are used in conjunction with one another, they seem to provide a broader range of health benefits. Once our extract has been decarboxylated and winterized, we combine it with only organic carrier oils, ingredients, and flavorings. When it comes to products like gummies, pet treats, seamless soft gels, and our skin care items, we work alongside experienced manufacturers who can provide us with high end natural formulations to combine with our high end hemp oil.
