Value over features brings the product to life

Feature

- 30 GB of Storage
- Gmail for Business
- Google Drive
- Gmail Data Loss Prevention
- Google Hangouts
- Collaborative capabilities
- Control Google Drive folder installation

Value

- Cut cost with one central enterprise solution
- Email archiving to prevent data loss in case of an emergency
- Build your business on top of the best enterprise infrastructure
- Ability to work from anywhere

Storytelling puts the product in their hands

Pitching

“Google Workspace is a cloud storage solution which can store 10,000 documents or 2 million photos. Plus you will have email archiving and advanced admin controls. This includes Organizational units if interested”

Storytelling

“I recently spoke to another medical group who was using the editors to collaborate on their papers which cut down on time spent sharing their papers.

Do you know if you have any shadow IT happening in a similar fashion?”

Google Workspace

Pro Blogger uses Google Workspace Referral Programme to support small businesses

After quitting his job in 2008 to become a full-time Pro Blogger, Harsh Agrawal now manages four successful technology blogs and oversees a team of eight at iStockX.com. As someone who is passionate about digital and helping others build successful businesses online, Harsh is a big fan of Google Workspace.

"Blogging, like any other online business, is about being professional, and the way to look professional is to have a domain-based email address. The way Google Workspace makes it so easy to get a branded email address for your business, which means your emails to clients and partners get taken more seriously."

Great for small businesses

For Harsh and other small business owners like him, Google Workspace is a good proposition because it offers an easy and affordable way to get a professional set of business tools.

"The people I speak to don't realize they can get a domain-based email address so affordably. They think it's something that's not easily available for small businesses, and that's where Google Workspace can help."

Harsh Agrawal, entrepreneur

Available in all languages. Check the resource site for the recommendations based on your country.

Tips for successful recommendations

- 1 Identify people who have unprofessional emails or use a web mail system
- 2 Recommend Google Workspace to entrepreneurs and independent professionals
- 3 Seek companies who handle business that need extra mobility and tools that aren't associated with a specific device
- 4 Develop your own website to demonstrate the benefits of Google Workspace
- 5 Emphasize that Google Workspace eliminates the inconvenience of server crashes, spam, lack of space and poor storage capacity
- 6 Mention the ease and usability of the Google Workspace tools
- 7 Explain how the characteristics and advantages of Google Workspace offset other costs
- 8 Talk about problems that can be solved by using a suite of integrated tools

Basic Questions

These questions may help you identify if your contact will benefit from Google Workspace

Once you know how their business works and what issues they have, come up with solutions based on all that Google Workspace has to offer

Available in all languages. Check the resource site for the basic questions based on your country.

Basic questions to start a successful recommendation

Asking the right questions is the key to generating good references.

- 1 Which email platform do you use? Do you have owned or leased servers?
- 2 Why don't you have an email with your own domain?
- 3 Have you considered the benefits if your email was @mycompany.com?
- 4 Does your company have problems with spam, data loss or instability in network connection?
- 5 Does your company have a cloud storage solution?
- 6 Would you like to ensure the safety of your data?
- 7 Do your employees waste a lot of time performing IT tasks?
- 8 Would you like to have the IT services of a big company without investing in infrastructure or maintenance?
- 9 Could your employees benefit from a better communication platform?
- 10 Would you like to give your team the tools to increase productivity and effectiveness?
- 11 Does your company have employees who travel or work remotely, who also need to stay up to date and connected with the office?
- 12 Do your employees use an online calendar that can be updated in real-time to organize their activities and help schedule optimal meeting times?
- 13 Would you like access to your work documents and your company email from anywhere and from any device, even when traveling?
- 14 Can your employees benefit from working on the same documents or presentations simultaneously rather than sending files back and forth?
- 15 Does your company need large storage capacity?
