Acequia Madre Garden Compound

An exceptionally rare offering on Santa Fe's Historic Eastside, this distinguished gallery-centered compound encompasses five unique residences set within extraordinary garden grounds of remarkable beauty and serenity. Anchored by a celebrated fine art gallery, the estate has evolved into a refined enclave where art, architecture, and landscape exist in seamless dialogue. Mature gardens, shaded pathways, and a tranquil pond create an atmosphere of privacy and contemplative elegance rarely found in the region. Each residence contributes its own character to the compound while collectively forming a cohesive estate of uncommon scale and cultural significance. The gallery itself presents an extraordinary platform for distinguished and emerging artists, reinforcing the property's enduring connection to Santa Fe's internationally recognized artistic heritage. Rich in atmosphere and possibility, the Historic Eastside Garden Compound offers a singular opportunity to acquire a legacy property at the intersection of culture, history, and refined residential living.

This Historic Garden Compound is a truly one-of-a-kind opportunity to invest in a Residential Compound that is a significant element of the historic Eastside, where culture, history, and residential living converge in the most meaningful way.
