The Offering

	Offering Price $1,060,000.00 $/unit: $151,430 Quality Build & Well-Preserved Classic Ridgecrest Charm Value Add Pathways to Proforma ~ 9 Cap Rate
	Investment Opportunity Unique opportunity to own a quality, updated 7 Unit Compound. Welcome to 1003 and 1005 Carlisle SE - a 4-plex and a tri-plex on two separate parcels packaged together. This fully revitalized community is embedded in an area of redevelopment in the Knob Heights Neighborhood - walking distance to Castle Coffee, the Source Community Center, a Community Garden, multiple classic neighborhood parks, and just minutes to UNM, CNM, Kirtland Air Force Base, the Albuquerque International Sunport, and I-25. All seven apartments have been modernized with care and an eye for resident comfort. Classic, well-preserved vintage finishes have been thoughtfully combined with all the right amenities - like in unit washer / dryers, very private yard spaces, updated fixtures and finishes, and additional storage. Some units have bonus detached oversized garage spaces and 1005 Carlisle SE has a brand new roof. The property is ideal for a value-add investor looking to capitalize on furnished / executive rentals to the just-opened Touro College of Dental Medicine, local nearby hospitals, Max Q, The Aviation Center of Excellence, Netflix, and the multitude of new jobs coming to the Albuquerque Metro's booming south side. Investors with an appetite for bigger projects will especially love the surplus of off-street parking and the potential of the oversized 2 car garage with huge (currently unused) bonus workshop rooms. This detached, separately metered building is teed up to make 1 or 2 additional apartments to complete this special compound. *While the sellers would prefer to sell the compound together, they will also consider selling each property separately. Inquire with Listing Brokers for more information.

Albuquerque Multifamily Market Overview

The Albuquerque multifamily market demonstrates robust health, driven by steady population growth, a diverse economy, and increasing demand for rental housing. The city's affordability compared to other southwestern hubs continues to attract new residents, fueling strong occupancy rates and consistent rent growth.

Key Economic Drivers

- Government & Defense

Presence of Kirtland Air Force Base and Sandia National Laboratories provides stable employment.

- Healthcare & Education

The University of New Mexico and numerous medical facilities anchor a growing healthcare and academic sector.

- Technology & Innovation

Emerging tech startups and a focus on R&D contribute to job creation and economic diversification.

- Tourism & Film Industry

New Mexico's growing film industry and vibrant tourism sector draw visitors and new residents.

- Upward Trajectory in the Multi-family Market

Albuquerque's Multi-family Occupancy Rate Grew to 95.7% in Quarter 2 of 2025 while rent growth continues inching upwards (with rents still well below national averages) even as other western markets continue to see rents fall.

Max Q Development: A Catalyst for Growth

The Max Q Development is a groundbreaking mixed-use project set to redefine Albuquerque's urban landscape. Strategically located near Kirtland Air Force Base and the Gibson Boulevard corridor, this ambitious development will feature a vibrant blend of residential, commercial, retail, and hospitality components, creating a dynamic hub for living, working, and entertainment.

Impact & Proximity

With its proximity to our subject property, Max Q is poised to significantly impact the immediate sub-market. The influx of new residents and businesses will generate substantial demand for quality housing, further stabilizing and appreciating property values in the surrounding areas. Much like the University of New Mexico or Nob Hill to the South, this development helps ensure a sustained pipeline of potential tenants seeking convenience and modern amenities.

Economic Catalyst & Timeline

Max Q represents a major economic catalyst for Albuquerque, promising job creation across various sectors and attracting new talent to the city and the neighborhood. The multi-phase project, currently in its initial development stages with significant infrastructure work underway, is projected to unfold over the next 5-7 years, guaranteeing long-term growth and sustained investment interest in the sub-market.

Enhanced Investment Opportunity

Increased Tenant Demand

The new employment centers and residential units within Max Q will drive strong demand for rental housing in nearby areas, including the subject property at 1003-1005 Carlisle SE.

Rental Rate Growth

The elevated standard of living and amenity-rich environment of Max Q will exert upward pressure on rental rates across the submarket.

Long-Term Appreciation

As Max Q matures, the sustained economic activity and desirability of the area will contribute to significant long-term property value appreciation.

Modern Infrastructure

The development brings with it new infrastructure and public spaces, enhancing the overall appeal and livability of the area and anchoring surrounding neighborhoods.

Explore Significant Tax Advantages with this Multi-Family Investment Opportunity

Important Disclaimer: This information is for informational purposes only and does not constitute tax advice. Tax benefits and depreciation strategies vary based on individual circumstances, property specifics, and current tax laws. Please consult with a qualified tax professional or CPA to understand how these strategies may specifically impact your tax situation and investment goals.

After Closing, Engage Cost Segregation Expertise

A detailed engineering-based study precisely identifies and reallocates asset costs, optimizing your depreciation schedule.

Mitigate Taxable Income

Investors classified as Real Estate Professionals can effectively offset income from other sources with significant depreciation deductions, providing broader tax relief.

Unlock Immediate Tax Savings

Deduct a large portion of eligible property costs upfront, significantly reducing your taxable income in the early years of ownership.

Increased Return on Investment (ROI)

Boost your investment's net present value and overall profitability through strategic tax deferrals and deductions.

Bonus Depreciation Advantage

Utilize current bonus depreciation rules to deduct a substantial percentage of qualified property in the first year it's placed into service.

Enhanced Cash Flow

By lowering your tax liability, more capital remains in your hands, ready for reinvestment in the property, debt reduction, or distribution.

Accelerated Depreciation

Reclassify components like land improvements, furniture, and fixtures to shorter depreciation schedules (e.g., 5, 7, or 15 years) instead of 27.5 or 39 years.

Portfolio Diversification Strategy

These tax advantages can be strategically applied across various properties, aiding in portfolio diversification and reducing the overall tax liability of your investment holdings.

Multi-Family Investment is Not All Balloons & Sunsets

You are considering Buying a classic Ridgcrest Apartment Complex with buildings 60 to 80 years old. It is not new and will not present or inspect as new construction. It was also not priced as new construction. We feel this unique property oozes ambiance, charm, and potential. Equally, the next Owner will need to be prepared to work with risks inherent in managing older apartment complexes
