

Vision

Restorative Partners envisions a widespread embrace of a restorative justice approach and practice primarily in the Tri-Counties Criminal Justice System. Our work involves reaching out to all stakeholders: victims, offenders, law enforcement, corrections, non-profits, universities, businesses, and faith-based communities to create a more healing response to those impacted by crime.

Mission

Transforming lives impacted by crime through healing services and relationships.

Goals

1. We educate the community in the philosophy and practice of restorative justice.
2. We partner with stakeholders to initiate, sponsor, and coordinate services at the SLO County Jail, Juvenile Hall and in the SLO community.
3. We recruit and train volunteers to share their gifts and expertise in our programs.
4. We create a wide base of support to sustain our programs.

Volunteer Opportunities

In-Custody Program

We look for a minimum twice a month commitment to participate in programs alongside the men, women, and youth in-custody. We have the occasional need for program leaders and new program development. Volunteering with Restorative Partners is an act of mutuality. We invite volunteers to join any of our programs to walk their healing journey alongside others wanting to do the same.
