Empowering Families. Defending Life & Liberty.

“I’ve been there for the big fights in the State Capitol. I’ve seen wave after wave of attack on the ideals of human dignity and the institution of the family. It’s not enough that the next governor put his “x” in the “pro-family” issue box. We need a governor who understands that it’s our responsibility to come to the defense of liberty and individual freedom. We need to speak up for those who have no voice. That’s why I’m running for governor.”

– Representative Sam Rohrer
Republican for Governor

Sam’s Life & Record

State Representative Sam Rohrer has been one of Pennsylvania’s leading voices for constitutional government and family-affirming public policies. The son of a union steelworker, Sam strongly advocates issues that impact working families. By promoting the role of parents in their children’s education, opposing tax increases on employees and workers, and crafting landmark legislation to eliminate school property taxes, Sam continues to build broad bipartisan coalitions on a range of important issues.

Sam and his wife Ruth Ann are the parents of six children and three grandchildren. The Rohrer family considers their commitment to faith and family as their highest priorities.

“Nothing is inevitable when people of conscience make our case simply, passionately and respectfully. That’s how we win.”

A COMMITMENT TO PENNSYLVANIA’S FAMILIES

Life

A champion for the right to life, Sam Rohrer is committed to policies that prevent the use of taxpayer funds for abortion, end the exploitation of women and promote compassionate alternatives like adoption. As a state lawmaker, Sam has earned the consistent support of pro-life and pro-family organizations. He will be a strong pro-life governor.

Marriage

As a sponsor of the Pennsylvania Marriage Protection Amendment, Sam has opposed all efforts to redefine the institution of marriage. As governor, he’ll be a strong voice for marriage-affirming public policies.

Religious Freedom

Whether defending the rights of Amish families or opposing overregulation of faith-based schools, Sam Rohrer has been a leading advocate for the First Amendment protections of religious expression.

Education & Parental Rights

Sam Rohrer led the fight in the House against Outcomes Based Education, won new rights for homeschooling families and challenged the ACLU’s position on parental rights. He’s the author of the landmark Educational Improvement Tax Credit that has allowed tens of thousands of parents to choose new schools for their children. As governor, Sam believes expanding choice and competition in education is critical to raising up a generation of excellence in Pennsylvania.

Gambling Expansion

Sam Rohrer has been a vocal opponent of Governor Rendell and the organized gambling lobby. He believes that public priorities should never be funded by schemes that prey on working families and the poor, or reward one special interest over another. From the failed promise to reduce school property taxes to the false hope that budgets can be balanced by casino revenue, Sam has consistently predicted the failure of policy proposals like gambling.
