Spartan Volleyball Coaching Staff

CRAIG CHOATE Head Volleyball Coach

Four consecutive 20-win seasons and three NCAA Tournament appearances are just a few of the accomplishments San José State head volleyball coach Craig Choate has achieved the past 12 years at the helm of the Spartan program. He returns for the 2005 campaign with a 213-162 school record and a 242-227 coaching record in 15 years.

San Jose State has advanced to the championship match of the Western Athletic Conference Tournament in 2001 and 2003. The Spartans entered the 2003 tournament as the sixth seed and upset third-seeded Fresno State in the quarterfinals in five games before upsetting second-seeded SMU 3-1 in the semifinal match. SJSU faced Hawaii in the championship and lost 0-3, but four Spartans were named to the all-tournament team - Carrie Nash, Kimberly Noble, Jessie Shull and Allison Dillon. Noble was named to the first team All-WAC, while Shull was named to the second team.

During the 2003 season, Choate also became the winningest coach in San Jose State history. He passed Dick Montgomery who had 191 wins in nine years.

The Spartans finished fourth in the WAC in 2002 and reached the semifinals of the WAC Volleyball Tournament for the second consecutive season. Middle blocker Stephanie Pascucci was named to the All-WAC first team.

The 2001 season was a success for Choate's team. For the first time since 1990, San Jose State finished the season ranked in the top-25. The Spartans finished 24th after making its 12th NCAA Tournament appearance. For the first time in Choate's tenure, San Jose State won its opening round NCAA Tournament match, defeating Santa Clara, 3-2. The Spartans then lost in the second round, 3-0, to eventual national champion Stanford. The team also finished second at the 2001 WAC Volleyball Tournament held in San Jose. Choate recorded his 200th career coaching victory in a 3-0 win over Auburn.

Choate took the 2000 Spartan team to the NCAA Tournament for the second time while at the helm of the Spartan program. The team posted a 22-10 win-loss record, won two tournaments and finished second in the WAC standings for the second consecutive season.

WAC "COACH OF THE YEAR" IN 1999

In 1999, the team finished with a 25-6 overall and an 11-3 WAC record. The Spartans, second in the WAC, broke the school record for most consecutive matches won at 14 and best match winning percentage at .806. Spartan Joslynn Gallop was named the WAC Co-Player of the Year and honorable mention ASICS All-America. She also broke three school and WAC records.

For all of his team's accomplishments in 1999, Choate was honored by his peers by being named the Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year. It was the first time in his coaching career that he had won this honor.

Choate's 1998 team advanced to the semifinal match of the WAC Volleyball Tournament after defeating top-seeded Colorado State, 3-2, in the quarterfinals. That year, SJSU made its 10th appearance in the NCAA Tournament in a first-round match against Colorado.

Choate's teams have produced six winning seasons at the school during his tenure. He recorded his 100th victory at San José State with a 3-0 win over SMU at the 1998 WAC Tournament. His 21-12 record in 1998 was the second 20-win team he has coached at the school. The 1994 team won 23 matches and finished second at the 1994 National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS & RECOGNITION

During his tenure at San José State, the Spartans have beaten nationally-ranked teams including Hawai'i, Pacific, Brigham Young, Fresno State, Santa Clara and San Diego. Choate has coached two honorable mention All-America selections, one first team All-West region player, one first team and three second team All-Northwest Region players, 11 first team and 11 second team all-conference selections and three WAC All-Freshman team selections.

Choate also involves his team in various community service activities throughout the school year. The team has sorted food and clothing for the Sacred Heart Community Center, picked oranges for the Second Harvest Food Bank and fed the homeless on Thanksgiving in Las Vegas.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Choate is still an active player in various tournaments. This past May, he won a silver medal at the USA Open Volleyball Championships Men's "45's" Team in Atlanta. Choate also won silver medals in 2002 and 2003 as a member of the "45's" Team in Dallas and in 1999 as a member of the "40's" Team in San Jose. Choate participated in the 1981 USVBA senior men's division open championships and received All-America honors.

Academics are also stressed to the student-athlete. Choate has had at least one player named to the Academic all-WAC team the past nine years. Some of his former student-athletes have gone on to become successful coaches and administrators in the athletic profession.

Choate came to SJSU after three years as the head coach of the New Mexico State University women's volleyball program; one he brought up from a five-win season his first year as head coach to a 14-15 record in 1992. Prior to New Mexico State, he was an assistant coach for five years for the Brigham Young and Cal Poly women's programs and the Pepperdine men's program.

Choate began his coaching career in 1985 at BYU. In 1990, Choate was an assistant coach with the men's volleyball program at Pepperdine under Marv Dunphy, the head coach of the 1988 U.S. Olympic men's volleyball team.

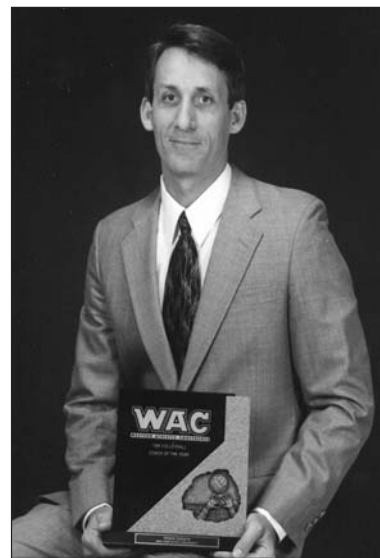

A 1978 graduate of Brigham Young University with a Bachelor of Science in physical education, Choate earned a Master of Arts degree in physical education in 1982 and a second undergraduate degree, a Bachelor of Arts in history, in 1984, both from BYU.

While attending BYU, Choate played on the Cougars' men's club volleyball team for four years. He played on the club volleyball team from 1976-78 before serving a two-year Mormon mission in West Germany. He returned to BYU and played two years, 1980-82, while earning his master's degree.

Choate was an assistant coach at the Olympic Festival in 1994 and 1995. He holds memberships in the AVCA (American Volleyball Coaches Association), the USAV, has a CAP III (Coaching Accreditation Program) coaching certification. He is an AVCA/USA Today Top-25 Poll voter and a clinician at the 1992 YES Clinic.

Choate, born March 18, 1956, in Los Angeles, Calif., resides in San José.

Western Athletic Conference

In its 44th year, the Western Athletic Conference continues to evolve and features some of the nation's best intercollegiate competition. One thing that remains unchanged is the persistent nature of the nine schools in the WAC to advance their programs to contend at the top levels of the NCAA.

The WAC provides its student-athletes the chance to travel to scenic destinations and gain exposure in some of the nation's most diverse markets. In addition, the WAC's student-athletes work to achieve the highest levels of success with the academic support of their respective institutions.

The WAC has experienced tremendous success. Over the past three years, it has won 63.6 percent of its bowl games, the best winning percentage of any conference in the nation. In the past two seasons, the WAC has sent a total of eight teams to bowl games.

In men's basketball, a team has advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament in 11 consecutive seasons. Every current school in the WAC has competed in the NCAA Tournament since 1990. Fresno State softball and Louisiana Tech women's basketball have both competed in every NCAA Tournament ever held.

In 2001, the WAC partnered with ESPN and added SportsWest in 2003 for unprecedented coverage of football and basketball. Over the past two years, the networks have shown a total of 52 football games, by far the most in a two-year range in WAC history.

The WAC is the sixth oldest among the nation's 11 Division I-A conferences. Its history traces back to July 27, 1962, when the original six-team league of Arizona, Arizona State, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming began competition.

The first championship was held in November 1962. Arizona won the men's cross country title and New Mexico followed with the first WAC football title. Arizona finished second in the NCAA College World Series and, less than three years later, Arizona State claimed the league's first NCAA title when the Sun Devils won the College World Series trophy. Rice was the last WAC school to earn an NCAA team title when it won the College World Series in 2003.

Since that year, several changes have occurred. UTEP and Colorado State became members in September 1967, while Arizona and Arizona State withdrew on June 30, 1978. The WAC then added San Diego State (1978), Hawai'i (1979) and Air Force (1980).

The 1990-91 athletic year was the first in which both men and women competed under the WAC name. Fresno State was added in 1992, and then in 1996, the women's programs from Air Force and Hawai'i along with six new schools (UNLV, Rice, San Jose State, SMU, TCU and Tulsa) came into the WAC. Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, UNLV, New Mexico, San Diego State, Utah and Wyoming withdrew on June 30, 1999. Nevada (2000), Boise State (2001) and Louisiana Tech (2001) were added while TCU withdrew following the 2000-01 season. The current membership was established on July 1, 2005, when Idaho, New Mexico State and Utah State joined the WAC after Rice, SMU, UTEP and Tulsa withdrew.

Presently, the WAC crowns champions in 19 sports - eight men's and 11 women's. For the men, there are championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, indoor track and field and outdoor track and field. Championships for women are held in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and volleyball.

San José State University

San José State University, Silicon Valley's metropolitan university, is the largest source of engineering, science and business graduates for the world's most exciting technology center.

San José State offers its students:

- o an exceptional learning environment
- o a cultural crossroads
- o talented and imaginative colleagues
- o a place to hone professional skills
- o the intellectual vitality of the Bay Area

A nationally-acclaimed university:

- o 4th best regional public university in the western United States – 2003 U.S. News & World Report, "America's Best Colleges"
- o 15th most popular college or university in America for the transfer student – 2003 U.S. News & World Report, "America's Best Colleges"
- o 10th nationally for the greatest number of bachelor's degrees awarded to minority students – 2004 Black Issues in Higher Education, "Top 100"
- o 27th nationally for the greatest number of Hispanic bachelor's degree graduates – Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education, "Top 100 Colleges for Hispanics," May 5, 2003

A personable, large and diverse university:

Founded in 1857, San Jose State was the first public institution of higher education on the West Coast. From its beginnings as a normal school to train teachers for the developing frontier, it has matured into a master's university offering 150 bachelor's and master's degrees.

San José State University finds strength in its diversity. For many first-generation students, it is a gateway to economic independence and social mobility. It is an center of cultural and intellectual development and an opportunity for lifelong learning.

Students range in age from first-time freshmen to college transfers to professionals seeking additional education. Student demographics — with ethnic pluralism — provide the benefits of multiple cultures and diverse student interests and activities.

The university's 30,000 students study in eight fully accredited colleges: Applied Sciences and Arts, Business, Education, Engineering, Humanities and the Arts, Science, Social Sciences and Social Work. Academic strength also is seen in the university's nationally-recognized programs. Examples include the School of Music, the School of Art and Design, the School of Journalism and Mass Communications, the School of Nursing and the School of Library and Information Science.

Learning facilities include computer-equipped classrooms and the Western world's only undergraduate nuclear science facility. Focusing on applied research, faculty members are exploring everything from the depths of the ocean to the surface of Mars.

Graduation, employment opportunities, success and leadership:

Graduating 6,000 students annually, San José State provides the professional infrastructure for the region — from teachers to social workers to artists to law enforcement officers to nurses.

In the California State University system, San José State University ranks first among 23 campuses for an all-time number of employment listings. More than 355,000 jobs are available through the campus Career Center.

- o An average of 13 employment opportunities per student.

The terms, "leaders and professionals," describe not just the types of graduates who earn their degrees at San José State, but the roles they assume in their communities and in their fields of endeavor.

Don W. Kassing President

Don W. Kassing was appointed president of San José State University in May 2005 after serving eight months as interim president. He will serve as the permanent president until 2007, when a search will be undertaken for his successor.

Kassing had served San José State as vice president for administration and finance and chief financial officer since November 1993. As vice president for administration and finance, he was responsible for six major administrative units on campus: Administrative Systems and Finance, Facilities Development and operations, Human Resources, University Police Department, University Computing and Telecommunications and Spartan Shops, Inc. As Chief Financial Officer, he had overall responsibility for all business and financial affairs of the campus. He is responsible for the financing and construction of the new Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library and the Campus Village Project (student and faculty housing). He served as Treasurer of the University Foundation and provided administrative oversight to all auxiliaries.

Kassing's 25 years experience in higher education includes service as:

- * Vice President for University Relations and Administrative Services - Murray State University (Kentucky)
- * Vice President for Development and Public Affairs - Western State College of Colorado

From 1975 to 1986 he served at Belleville Area College, in Belleville, Illinois, where he taught management and marketing, served as department chair, and for two years was president of the Granite City Campus. Before that he worked for 11 years in private industry, including eight years in corporate finance and operations management for Brown Group Inc. and three years with General Motors Corporation.

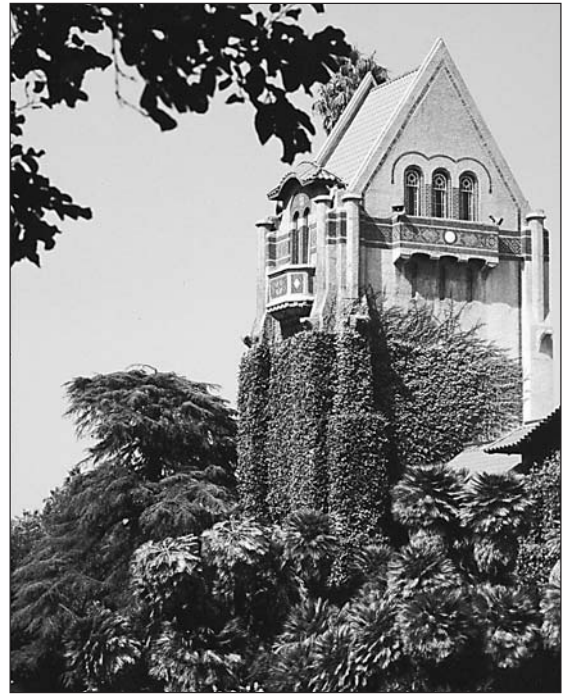

Kassing was named acting president of SJSU in August 2004 after the departure of president Paul Yu, who resigned for health reasons. In his fall address, Kassing outlined five strategic initiatives the campus focused on in 2004-05: budget transparency; advancement; information technology; enrollment management-student life; and strategic planning.

His professional contributions include:

- * San José Sports Authority Board
- * United Way Silicon Valley Board
- * United Way Community Impact Committee
- * San José Downtown Association
- * Western Athletic Conference

In its July 2005 issue, San Jose magazine named him to its "Power 100" - an annual list of the most influential people in Silicon Valley.

Kassing holds a master's degree in business administration and a B.S. in economics from St. Louis University. He is married with three children and five grandchildren.

Dr. Martin King, Jr. Library

The new Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Library, located on the main campus of San Jose State University, one of California's leading institutions of higher learning, opened on August 16, 2003. A first-of-its-kind collaboration between a city and a university, the $177-million, 475,000 square-foot library provides a center for life-long learning. Students, faculty and the community have access to the information they will need for educational and personal growth throughout their lives.

"...The King Library will provide a center for life-long learning opportunities where our students and faculty as well as the community can connect with both technology and human expertise to help them succeed in today's information society," says Patricia Breivik, dean of the university library.

Among the features of the 10-acre, 10-floor Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Library on the northwest corner of the main campus are:

Students can walk from classes on the main campus directly to the new Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Library without crossing a street for study sessions, general research work and a state-of-the-art world of learning opportunities.

- 3,623 seats
- 1,800 seats wired for internet connections
- 400 public computers
- 135 databases of information
- 4 computer instruction laboratories
- 112 workstations available in the computer instruction labs
- 37 group-project rooms
- 8 built-in projector screens
- 4 pianos

The collaborative design of the new Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Library provides many opportunities for academic, cultural and community programs. Multilingual and special collections for San Jose's diverse ethnic groups are available. A special adaptive technology area in the library assures all people have ability to access the information and databases available.

"It is clear that SJSU is beginning to be a leader among campuses in ensuring that its graduates will be on the 'HAVES' side of the digital divide, and that is something of which we can all be proud," - Patricia Breivik, retired Dean of the San Jose State University Library.

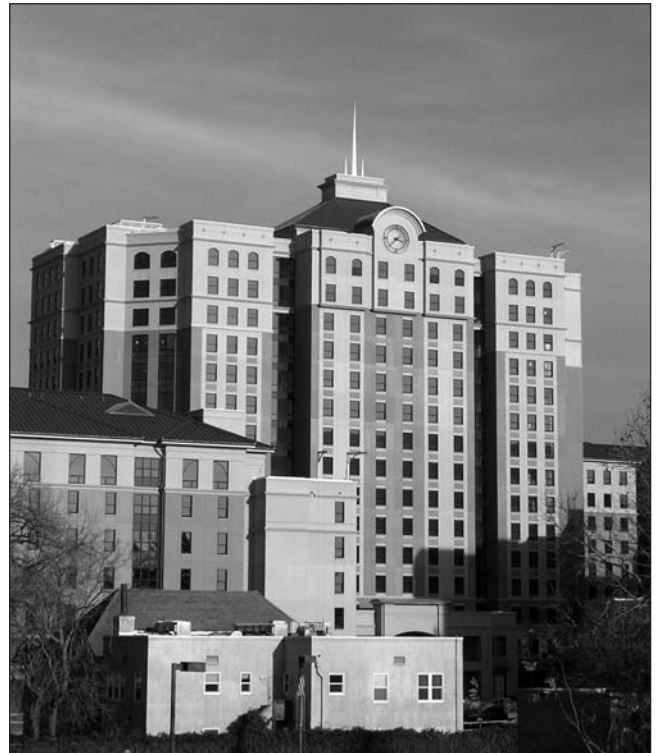

Campus Village

In the fall of 2005, San José State University will open the doors of Campus Village to more than 2,279 students, faculty and staff. Positioned on Tenth Street between San Carlos and San Salvador on the southeast corner of the main campus, the Campus Village will be a gateway to incredible academic resources and campus activities, the excitement of downtown San José, the opportunities of Silicon Valley, and some of the greatest recreational areas in the world.

The Campus Village will include three buildings. Building A is set aside for faculty and staff. Building B is for upperclassmen and graduate students. Two-, three- and four-bedroom apartments with a full kitchen are available in Building B. Building C, which features suite-style living, shared bathroom facilities, a common living area and a kitchenette, is reserved for freshmen. The lifestyle in Building C resembles a typical college dormitory experience.

Campus Village will include recreational and study areas, a full-service computer lab, wireless internet access, an interactive gaming center, laundry facilities, meeting rooms, retail stores and underground parking for 700 vehicles. Fully equipped nearby recreational facilities offer residents space to work out, swim, play basketball, volleyball, ping-pong or pool.

Hassle-free access to the main campus is another asset to the Campus Village. Walking to the Student Union or the main entrance to The Event Center, home for the San Jose State University men's and women's basketball teams, will be five minutes or less. Residents also can walk or bicycle to the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Library without crossing any streets.

When completed, the Campus Village will anchor the south east corner of the main campus (as seen in top photo). The Campus Village will be the tallest structure at San Jose State University. Residents will be able to check grades and access the internet at the Campus Village's "Activity Center."

Tom Bowen, Director of Athletics

Tom Bowen was named San Jose State University's director of intercollegiate athletics on December 20, 2004. His leadership positions at the professional, collegiate and high school levels have prepared him to effectively deal with the complexities, intricacies and nuances of managing and operating a NCAA Division I-A program.

The long-time Bay Area resident came to San Jose State after serving three years as the director of community affairs and the executive director of the 49ers Foundation for the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League. He directed all of the team's fund-raising activities and was responsible for alumni and current player participation in the community. San Francisco was the first NFL franchise to implement an annual giving program. The 49ers Foundation raised over $3.0-million during his tenure.

His Division I experience at the college level includes athletic administration positions at the University of California and Saint Mary's College in Moraga, Calif.

As an assistant and associate director of athletics at the University of California from July 2000 through September 2002, he was responsible for all athletic fundraising. Credited with developing the first comprehensive planned giving program for the Golden Bears, the Athletic Annual Fund realized a $2.7-million increase in donations and contributions.

At Saint Mary's College, he was the Director of Foundations and Corporate Relations for the Christian brothers institution from May 1995 to January 1997 before being appointed an associate director of athletics position by the president of the college. His grant proposal acumen helped raise $6.1-million in academic funding for the institution. From January 1997 through April 2000, he managed the athletics department's budget, directed a corporate sponsorship program and interacted with the academic senate, faculty and university personnel on student-athlete issues.

The 1983 graduate of the University of Notre Dame played high school football at Moreau High in Hayward, Calif. He majored in theology/sociology and spent six years studying for the priesthood with the Holy Cross Fathers. Bowen went on to earn a master's degree in administration/education from the University of San Francisco in 1990.

His first professional leadership appointment in athletics was at De La Salle High School. From 1987 through 1995, he held the positions of assistant football coach and athletics director.

The new San Jose State University director of athletics is a Level 2 certified member of the College Athletic Business Management Association (CABMA), the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), the National Society of Fund Raising Executives and an associate member of the Indiana University School of Philanthropy.

Bowen currently is an adjunct professor at the University of San Francisco School of Sports Management. A senior faculty member of the Capital Campaign Institute based in Minneapolis, Minn., from 1996 through 2002, he has been a guest lecturer on the campuses of the University of California, Stanford, San Jose State and Saint Mary's College. Bowen continues to speak before major corporations headquartered locally on the topics of leadership, management and motivation.

The Denver, Colo., native was born on May 27, 1961. He and his wife, Mia, are the parents of three children. In 2005, Andrew will be seven-years-old; Peter, three; and, daughter, McKenna, two. The Bowen family resides in Danville, Calif.

Tom brings important and valued experience to us. We're very pleased he has accepted this important leadership position with San Jose State. His administrative and fund raising skills will be essential components to be competitive in the WAC and to make our athletic program a visible and an important part of the university's efforts to be distinctive." – Don W. Kassing, San Jose State University President.

Along the way, Northern Colorado made significant strides in securing needed funds to apply for the Big Sky Conference. He was credited with launching an Athletic Capital Campaign as well as restructuring the annual giving and marketing programs.

From 1993 until 2004, Harlan worked in multiple capacities in the University of Arizona athletics department. He began his career as a graduate assistant under current San Jose State University head football coach Dick Tomey. From there, he assumed control of event operations and in 2000, served as Tournament Director for the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Championship West Regional held in Tucson. He was promoted to assistant director of athletics in 2002 and was responsible for game scheduling, annual funding, and regional development and marketing.

Huntsville led the league in paid attendance averaging 6,572 fans per game., nearly double the NBDL minimum requirement of 3,500.

For the last two Olympic Games held in the United States, she was a regional operations manager for the 1996 Atlanta Summer Olympic Committee and a senior general manager for the 2002 Salt Lake City Winter Olympic Committee. "I am excited to be able to give something of this magnitude back to San Jose State University," Garcia said. "They have been such an integral part in my life. I am just happy to be at a point in life that I can do something like this....My family and I are proud to create this legacy that will always serve as a reminder of how much San Jose State means to me."

"San Jose State has been a stepping stone that has provided me an education, a degree and of course, the tools I needed to be successful in the NFL." – Jeff Garcia

Koret Athletic Training Center

“Spartan Strength – We Build Winners”

In November 2001, the Koret Athletic Training Center, a major cornerstone of “The Campaign for Student-Athletes...Building a Proud Future,” opened at San Jose State University. The Koret Athletic Training Center is a state-of-the-art facility that encompasses over 10,000 square-feet of training space.

The Koret Athletic Training Center also contains a 1,000-square foot rehabilitation and training room that services physical therapy and sports specific rehabilitation. The facility enables the sports medicine staff of athletic trainers, doctors, surgeons, specialists and physical therapists to provide the best possible care to help prevent and rehabilitate injuries.

Motto

The motto of the strength and conditioning program is, “Spartan Strength – We Build Winners.” Techniques learned help build a character foundation necessary to succeed in life –

- hard work
- pride
- dedication
- a commitment to excellence.

Program Emphasis

The San Jose State University strength and conditioning program emphasizes–

- speed
- mental toughness
- power
- injury prevention
- strength
- nutrition

All training movements are sport and position specific to copy a student-athlete’s performance on the field. The Spartan strength and conditioning program will maximize a student-athlete’s potential.

Programs are scientifically designed to promote injury prevention by pre-habilitating the student-athlete. An emphasis is placed on training areas that are prone to injuries. While all injuries cannot be stopped, the Spartan strength and conditioning program can decrease the likelihood of injury.

Student Success Services

Today's Spartan student-athlete has more opportunities to succeed academically than ever before. Located in the Simpkins Stadium Center, the Scott Gadway Academic Center was dedicated in January 2003. Here, student-athletes have a place to study, work with tutors, utilize computers or seek academic advice.

The recently-remodeled Scott Gadway Academic Center is a gift from alums Stan and Marilyn Gadway, to honor their late son, Scott, a 1991 San Jose State graduate who majored in aeronautics. He died in a 1996 skydiving accident.

The facility's spirit is echoed at its entrance:

"May all students who use this room share Scott's love and lust for life and his desire to be the very best that one could be in every pursuit."

The new Student Success Services team will be readily available to help student-athletes achieve their academic goals. Cindy Kato, who spent the last 15 years at the University of Minnesota, is the director of the Spartans' Student Success Services unit. She was the assistant director for learning in academic counseling and student services/intercollegiate athletics. Kato joined the Big Ten school in 1990 as the its original learning specialist for intercollegiate athletics.
