Season Preview

With young players who have proven they can shoot low scores joined by another quality group of freshmen, San Jose State University continues laying the groundwork for one of the up-and-coming men's golf programs. Head coach John Kennaday has six returning letterwinners and three promising freshmen who are capable of being in the lineup and posting under par scores.

Stephan Stallworth, a second-team All-Western Athletic Conference selection and the team's 2006-07 recipient of the Venturi Cup as the top performer, heads the list of returning letterwinners. Stallworth had six top-20 individual finishes in 11 tournaments as a freshman.

Rosco Valentine, who had 13 under-par or par rounds a season ago, is another capable top-of-the-lineup player. Drew Nottenkamper and Levi Garcia, part of last year's freshman class with Stallworth, had their moments in the sun during the fall and spring seasons, respectively.

Jon Tringale, one of two seniors, gives the Spartans another experienced player in the lineup. Redshirt freshman Ryan Collins hopes to see his first action with the Spartans this season.

Incoming freshmen Peter Gibbs, Mark Hubbard and Miguel Camitoc figure prominently in the Spartans' plans this season. All three enjoyed successful junior golf careers regionally and nationally. Camitoc represented the Philippines during his days in junior golf.

John Kennaday Head Coach 3rd season

John Kennaday was appointed the San Jose State University men's golf coach in April 2005. His hire marked a return to his alma mater where he was a 1987 All-American as a senior.

Kennaday has patiently and systematically enhanced the Spartans' program. In his first season, San Jose State finished no lower than fifth in three of the team's last four tournaments and had a school-best third place finish at the 2006 WAC Championship. Last season, the Spartans had three more top-five finishes.

Freshman Stephan Stallworth was a second team All-WAC choice for 2006-07 and Aaron Conrad and Jon Tringale received academic All-WAC honors for the second year in a row.

He returned to San Jose State after spending six seasons as the head coach for the Santa Clara University men's golf team. The once dormant program became competitive in the West Coast Conference and along the West Coast. In 2001, he was named the conference "Coach of the Year."

An adept fundraiser, he has managed and directed the Spartans' "Fun Raiser" for men's golf. The event has attracted Spartan alums and PGA Tour winners Ken Venturi, Roger Maltbie, Mark Wiebe and Arron Oberholser for a day of instruction and goodwill.

Besides his San Jose State duties, he is the personal coach for Oberholser, a two-time Spartan All-American, winner of the 2006 AT&T Pebble Beach Pro-Am and one of the top-50 ranked players in the world the last two seasons on the PGA Tour.

Kennaday was a two-time Coast Conference "Most Valuable Player" at Monterey Peninsula College before transferring to San Jose State. He was a 1986 and 1987 first-team All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association pick. Kennaday helped the Spartans to a 12th place tie at the 1987 NCAA Championships.

He went on to play professionally on the Canadian PGA, NIKE and Golden State Tours for 7.5 years. Kennaday set the course records at Rancho Canada West in Carmel, Calif., with a 64 and at Spring Valley Golf Course in Milpitas, Calif., with an 11-under par 61.

His teaching career began in Milpitas where he served as a teaching pro at the Mark Docak's Complete Golf School. He also was an assistant pro at the Spring Valley Golf Course.

John and his wife, Christina, have two sons, Jack and Benjamin. The Kennaday family resides in San Jose.

Chris Stout Assistant Coach 3rd season

Chris Stout is in his third season as a member of the San Jose State University coaching staff.

A 1993 graduate of Texas Tech University, Stout played his collegiate golf at Christopher Newport University in Virginia. He was an assistant head professional at the Great Hills Golf Course in Austin, Texas from 1994 to 1999 where he served as the director of the junior golf program, worked in conjunction with the local First Tee Program and provided regular instruction for amateur golfers.

Stout played professionally from 1999 through 2004. He played on the Texas Tight Lies Tour in 2004, the Golden Bear Tour in 2001 and 2003 and the Canadian Tour in 2000 and 2002. He recorded three top-10 finishes in Golden Bear Tour events.

Chris and his wife, Amy, reside in San Jose.

Western Intercollegiate History

The Western Intercollegiate, hosted by San Jose State, has flourished since its inception as the Northern California Intercollegiate in 1947 and will be in its 62nd year in 2008.

Early on, area junior colleges, business colleges and four-year schools comprised the early fields. The 50's brought inevitable growth until a gigantic field of 35 teams and 210 golfers descended upon Pasatiempo in 1962.

It became evident that the phenomenal spurt of college golf could not be accommodated in one tournament and the tournament became a prestigious invitational with a limit of 25 teams beginning in 1968. Since then, the strength of the field has grown to the point where teams from Hawaii to Duke venture to the Alister MacKenzie-designed course.

These championships have served as a springboard to the PGA Tour. Bob Rosburg, Ken Venturi, Jerry Heard, Johnny Miller, Tom Shaw, Ron Cerrudo, John Lotz, Dave Stockton, Al Geiberger, Tom Watson, Tom Purtzer, Roger Maltbie, Howard Twitty, Peter Jacobsen, Bobby Clampett, Mark O'Meara, Duffy Waldorf, Tiger Woods and Arron Oberholser have gone after the Western Intercollegiate championship during their college days.

The 50th Western Intercollegiate, held in 1996, became the first nationally-televised in-season collegiate tournament - emphasizing the longest-running tournament west of the Mississippi River. In a stunning manner, Arron Oberholser of San Jose State overtook Tiger Woods of Stanford on the final four holes for the individual title.

The format once was 18 holes of qualifying and eight in match play to a 54-hole stroke play format. In the past, the best five of six scores on a daily basis counted to the team total. Today, the best four out of five scores for each 18 comprise the team score.

The skyline of downtown San Jose

Situated at the hub of Silicon Valley is San Jose – the third largest city in California and the 10th largest in the nation. San Jose, strategically located at the sunny, southern tip of the San Francisco Bay, is surrounded by rolling hills and striking mountains. San Jose’s vibrant and growing downtown is the setting for San Jose State University and the focus for important financial, commercial and arts communities.

*“ San Jose is a confident and exciting city, full of optimism and opportunity. We treasure our past. We embrace our diversity. We nurture our future, in our children and through stewardship of our resources. People are proud to live here. Our city is committed to sustaining and improving the quality of life in every neighborhood, for every resident, now and in the future.” –
www.sanjoseca.gov*

San Jose offers a neighborhood feel in a metropolitan environment.

Regional growth and stability are complemented by an active cultural life. San Jose is the home of the Silicon Valley High Technology and the Children’s Discovery museums, the San Jose Museum of Art, San Jose Symphony, the San Jose-Cleveland Ballet, numerous galleries and arts centers, Opera San Jose, the Winchester Mystery House and other respected professional and community group theater groups.

Light rail and historic trolley lines, the 18,000-seat HP Pavilion at San Jose, convention facilities, shops and a diverse night scene add to the excitement. Reflecting the cultural richness of the community is a wide range of restaurants.

A reason the South Bay has grown so dramatically is its quality of life. The mild climate encourages an active and casual lifestyle. There are more than 100,000 acres of land for biking, rollerblading and other outdoor activities. Boasting nearly 300 days of sunshine and an average sum-

- 30 minutes from the Pacific Ocean
- Population - 945,000
- Average annual household income of $84,857 according to Money magazine
- One of the top-25 “brainiest” cities in the country
- More college graduates per 100 residents than any other major U.S. city
- More home owners than any large city in the country
- Worker productivity is twice the national average
- Best public safety record of any large metropolitan area in the United States the last 10 years.
- International airports – San Jose, San Francisco and Oakland

mer temperature of 74 degrees, San Jose symbolizes the best California has to offer. The region’s 1.6-million residents enjoy recreational and entertainment opportunities year-round. Within a short drive are San Francisco, beaches from Santa Cruz to Carmel, the California coastal redwoods, Lake Tahoe and Yosemite National Park.

San Jose State University will host the 2010 NCAA Division I Men’s Basketball Championship First & Second Round at the 18,200-seat HP Pavilion in downtown San Jose.

San Jose State University, Silicon Valley's metropolitan university, is pre-eminent in broadly educating leaders and professionals for an increasingly complex and global society.

Located in the heart of the Silicon Valley, this university has aided the development of the computer industry and the resulting technological advances in our nation by providing the largest source of engineering, science and business graduates to Silicon Valley companies.

Graduating about 7,000 students annually, San Jose State University also provides the professional infrastructure for the region – from teachers to social workers to artists to law enforcement officers to nurses. The terms, “leaders and professionals,” describe not just the types of graduates who earn their degrees at San Jose State, but also the roles they assume in their communities and in their fields of endeavor.

San Jose State University's place in history is well-established. Founded in 1857, it was the first public institution of higher education on the West Coast. From its humble beginnings as a normal school to train teachers for the developing frontier, it has matured into a master's university offering 191 bachelor's and master's degrees.

The university's 30,000 students study in eight fully-accredited colleges: Applied Sciences and the Arts, Business, Education, Engineering, Humanities and the Arts, Science, Social Sciences and Social Work. One strength of the academic program is the broad general education curriculum that brings common elements -- critical thinking, writing and communication skills, and cultural pluralism -- to diverse studies. Academic strength also is seen in the university's nationally-recognized programs.

Examples include the School of Music, the School of Art and Design, the School of Journalism and Mass Communications, the School of Nursing and the School of Library and Information Science.

In each discipline, quality teaching remains a priority. Tenured faculty teach introductory as well as advanced courses with an emphasis on small classes. Learning facilities include computer-equipped classrooms, the Western world's only undergraduate nuclear science facility and North America's largest Beethoven Center. Focusing on applied research, faculty receive a growing number of contracts and grants each year. From Moss Landing Marine Research Laboratory to the NASA Ames Research Center, faculty are exploring everything from the depths of the ocean to the surface of Mars.

San Jose State University also finds strength in its diversity. For first-generation students, it is a gateway to economic independence and social mobility. It is also an incubator of cultural and intellectual development and an opportunity for lifelong learning. Students range in age from first-time freshmen to college transfers to professionals seeking additional education. Student demographics – with ethnic pluralism – provide the benefits of multiple cultures and diverse student interests and activities. From residence life to athletic teams to social clubs to co-op jobs – student activities meet the needs of this diverse student body.

Don W. Kassing, University President

As president of San Jose State University, Don W. Kassing heads the oldest and one of the largest universities in the 23-campus California State University system. Appointed in 2004, Kassing has moved the university forward in several key areas. Under his leadership, the campus is engaged in university-wide strategic planning, with the goal of making San José State University a university of choice by 2010.

Before his appointment to the presidency, Kassing had served for more than a decade as vice president for administration and finance and as chief financial officer. As CFO, he had responsibility for all business and financial affairs of the university. His previous 18 years in higher education included service as vice president for university relations and administrative services at Murray State University, in Kentucky, and vice president for development and public affairs at Western State College of Colorado. He also served for two years as president of the Granite City Campus of the Belleville Area College, Belleville, Illinois. Before that, he worked for 11 years in private industry, including eight years in corporate finance and operations management for Brown Group, Inc., and three years with General Motors Corporation.

Since February 2006, he has accepted the three largest private donations to the university in its 150-year history:

- A $10 million gift from alumni Donald and Sally Lucas for the graduate school of business,
- A $15 million gift from alumnus Charles W. Davidson for the College of Engineering, and
- A $10 million gift from alumna Connie Lurie for the College of Education.

"San Jose State makes an enormous difference in one of the best communities of America. I'm excited about the great future we are shaping together." - Don W. Kassing

President Don W. Kassing addresses the gathering at the San Jose State University Men's Golf Friendraiser.

Active in the community and region, Kassing serves on the following boards:

- * San José Sports Authority
- * United Way Silicon Valley
- * San José Chamber of Commerce
- * Silicon Valley Leadership Group
- * Joint Venture: Silicon Valley
- * Silicon Valley Higher Education Roundtable

He is also a member of the United Way Community Impact Committee.

Kassing holds an M.B.A. and a B.S. in Economics from St. Louis University. He is married with three children and seven grandchildren.

As president and in his former role as vice president for administration and finance, Kassing led the development, construction and successful opening of two major campus facilities: the award-winning Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library, based on a first-of-its-kind and highly successful partnership with the city of San José; and Campus Village, a state-of-the-art residence complex for students, faculty and staff, the largest such project in the California State University system, and the focus of a renewed sense of community on the campus.

San José State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age disability, disabled veteran's or Vietnam veteran's status. This policy applies to all San José State University student, faculty and staff programs and activities. Questions regarding this policy should be directed to the Director of the Office of Equal Employment/ Affirmative Action, San José State University, (408) 924-1115.

Tom Bowen, Director of Athletics

Tom Bowen was named San Jose State University's director of intercollegiate athletics on December 20, 2004. Under his leadership and with his vision for the department, San Jose State has established itself as a viable Division I-A intercollegiate athletics program with proven athletic, academic and financial successes to his credit.

At the core of Bowen's mission for San Jose State University athletics is building a "Culture of Champions" academically, athletically and in the community. To that end, the Notre Dame alum has overhauled the department's infrastructure; invested resources both in external and internal operations; initiated an enhanced website presence; and expanded marketing, promotions and advertising opportunities locally, regionally and nationally with the creation of Spartan Sports Properties.

With his fund raising acumen, Bowen has led the Spartan Foundation - the department's fund-raising component - to unprecedented development heights, capped by a department record $1.5 million during the 2006-07 fund drive.

As an integral member of the University's presidential staff, he has created new short and long-term revenue streams for intercollegiate athletics and many other campus extra-curricular activities. His initiatives and leadership have created new energy department-wide and throughout the university. The university has benefitted from Athletics' increasing visibility, receiving record donations during the 2006-07 time frame.

In 2006-07, football capped its finest season in nearly two decades, posting a 9-4 overall record and capturing the New Mexico Bowl championship. Women's cross country and women's water polo, ranked sixth nationally in the final coaches' poll, turned in their best record in years. There were All-American performances in football and women's water polo. Men's basketball, football, women's swimming, women's volleyball and women's water polo players competed in national team or individual national competitions. For the second year in a row, a San Jose State player won the Western Athletic Conference women's golf individual title.

He has appointed new head coaches in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's golf, women's golf, women's swimming and diving, softball and women's volleyball. In 2005-06, San Jose State won the Western Athletic Conference women's golf championship, recorded its highest finish ever at a NCAA regional championship in women's gymnastics, produced seven teams out of 16 with its best conference finish in years, and had WAC "Coaches of the Year" in women's golf and softball.

Bowen's vision for student-athlete success and excellence led to the creation of a Student Success Services component. Academic Progress Rate (APR) scores as measured by the NCAA have risen dramatically under his watch - a 42-point increase since his installation as director.

Bowen came to San Jose State after serving three years as the Director of Community Affairs for the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League. He directed all of the team's fund-raising activities and was responsible for alumni and current player participation in the community. Also serving as the executive director of the 49ers Foundation, San Francisco was the first NFL franchise to implement an annual giving program.

His Division I experience at the collegiate level includes athletics administration positions at the University of California and Saint Mary's College in Moraga, Calif. As an assistant and associate director of athletics at the University of California from July 2000 through September 2002, he was responsible for athletic fund-raising. Bowen was credited with developing the first comprehensive planned giving program for the Golden Bears.

At Saint Mary's College, he was the Director of Foundations and Corporate Relations from May 1995 to January 1997 before being appointed to an associate director of athletics position by the president of the college. His grant proposal acumen helped raise $6.1-million in academic funding for the institution. From January 1997 through April 2000, he managed the athletics department's budget, directed a corporate sponsorship program and interacted with the academic senate, faculty and university personnel on student-athlete issues.

His first professional leadership appointment in athletics was at De La Salle High School in Concord, Calif. From 1987 through 1995, he held the positions of assistant football coach and athletics director.

He is a Level 2 certified member of the College Athletic Business Management Association (CABMA), the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and the National Society of Fund Raising Executives.

The 1983 graduate of the University of Notre Dame played high school football at Moreau High in Hayward, Calif. He majored in theology/sociology and spent six years studying for the priesthood with the Holy Cross Fathers. Bowen went on to earn a master's degree in administration/education from the University of San Francisco in 1990.

An active member of the Bay Area community, he serves on the board of the San Jose Sports Authority. He is an adjunct professor at the University of San Francisco School of Sports Management and at San Jose State University's Department of Kinesiology where he teaches sports management classes. As a senior faculty member of the Capital Campaign Institute based in Minneapolis, Minn., from 1996 through 2002, he is a frequent guest lecturer at several Bay Area university campuses. Bowen continues to speak before major corporations headquartered locally on the topics of leadership, management and motivation.

The Denver, Colo., native and his wife, Mia, are the parents of three children: sons, Andrew and Peter, and, daughter, McKenna.

Student Success Services

Today's Spartan student-athlete has more opportunities to succeed academically than ever before. Located in the Simpkins Stadium Center, the Scott Gadway Academic Center was dedicated in January 2003. Here, student-athletes have a place to study, work with tutors, utilize computers or seek academic advice.

The recently-remodeled Scott Gadway Academic Center is a gift from alums Stan and Marilyn Gadway, to honor their late son, Scott, a 1991 San Jose State graduate who majored in aeronautics. He died in a 1996 skydiving accident.

The facility's spirit is echoed at its entrance:

"May all students who use this room share Scott's love and lust for life and his desire to be the very best that one could be in every pursuit."

The Silver Creek Valley Country Club is a 20-minute drive southeast from the campus. Renovated in 2002 by architect Mike Strantz, the course is more visually stimulating and beautiful than ever.

The Spring Valley Golf Course, located in the rolling hills of Milpitas, is 20 minutes north from San Jose State. County parks and horse trails border the course.

Tucked in and around the hills 20 minutes south of San Jose State, Cinnabar Hills offers spectacular views on a 27-hole tract. Designed by award-winning architect John Harbottle III, each hole maintains the area's natural slope and protects residing wildlife. Hundreds of oak trees enhance the landscape.
