2006-07 Women's Golf Outlook

With three returning all-conference players and a talented group of newcomers, the 2006-07 San Jose State University women's golf team has its sights set on a return to NCAA Championship competition. The Spartans are the defending Western Athletic Conference champion, the program's first conference title since 1997.

"We know we have a 'deep' team," said head coach John Dormann after the team's season-opening tournament in Fort Collins, Colo. The Spartans, winners of four tournaments last year, finished third, but was second only to Colorado among schools in the West region. San Jose State did finish ahead of

2006 WAC Freshman of the Year

California, a recent power on the national scene in Division I women's golf.

Jenelle Gomez, a junior from San Jose and the 2006 WAC individual champion, is the most experienced returning player. The two-time all-conference selection was in the winner's circle for the first time at the major college level at last year's WAC championship. The nationally-ranked golfer by GolfStat in each of her first two seasons has nine top-20 finishes as a Spartan.

Sirapa Kasemsamran and Erica Moston, a pair of sophomores, adapted well to the competitive rigors of team golf in their first season. Kasemsamran was the 2006 WAC "Freshman of the Year" and a first-team All-WAC selection. The Thailand native was the team's most consistent player with 10 top-20 finishes in the team's 11 tournaments.

Moston, a second-team All-WAC pick, turned her game around in January 2006 to become one of the conference's top golfers. With some changes to her game, she trimmed more than three strokes per round off her scoring average between the fall and spring seasons and was instrumental in the Spartans' tournament wins. Whenever she finished in the top-10 individually, San Jose State took home a first-place trophy.

Unheralded Nina Rodriguez, a fourth returnee from last year, made some key contributions during the season. The one-time junior college transfer is battling for a steady spot in the lineup.

Dormann, the 2006 WAC "Coach of the Year," added a threesome of Jessica Issler, a transfer from Tulane, and two freshmen, Cristina Corpus from San Leandro and Kimberly Punyasavatsut from Anaheim, who should see plenty of action during the season. Issler played 3.5 seasons for Tulane and was one of many Green Wave student-athletes granted an additional season of eligibility due to the effects of Hurricane Katrina.

Corpus, who grew up in San Leandro, was one of the top junior golfers in Northern California. Tournament-tested, some local golf experts liken her skill level to current LPGA Tour pro and former San Jose State star Pat Hurst, who also starred at San Leandro High School before becoming a Spartan.

"...We have complete confidence in her," commented the Spartans coach after the season-opening tournament in Colorado. "She was a proven tournament player at the junior level and she showed what she is capable of doing in her first tournament..."

Carlie Hill, a four-year starter on the San Jose State softball team, returning redshirt Naomi Kim and Kanika Minocha round out the team. Hill, using her final season of athletic eligibility, lettered in golf at Woodland (Calif.) High School. Kim seeks her first action at the major college level while Minocha enjoyed some success as a high school player in India.

John Dormann
Head Coach
9th Season at SJSU

Dana Dormann
Assistant Coach
3rd Season at SJSU

After a very successful 2005-06 season, head coach John Dormann begins his second full season at the helm of the San Jose State University women's golf program. He was the assistant for both the men's and women's teams from October 1998 through 2005 when he took over as the head coach for both teams. Dormann was named the women's head coach in the April of 2005.

With four tournament wins during the season including the Western Athletic Conference Championship, Dormann was honored by his peers by being named the 2006 WAC Coach of the Year. After the season, Dormann caddied for his wife, Dana, at the 2006 U.S. Open for the second consecutive year and his 10th in a caddy role.

As the assistant coach for the men's and women's programs, the Spartans finished in the top-20 at the 1999 through 2001 NCAA Championships including a 15th place finish in 2000. San Jose State men's and women's golfers received All-Western Athletic Conference first or second-team recognition 24 times while he was the assistant coach. Ashley Gomes, a 2004 honorable mention All-American, was the 2004 WAC champion and "Player of the Year."

In the classroom, Spartan golfers received 25 Academic All-WAC awards and 10 national awards for academic excellence from the Golf Coaches Association of America (GCAA) and the National Golf Coaches Association (NGCA) during his tenure as the Spartans' top assistant.

Before coming on board with the Spartans, Dormann spent seven years as a professional caddy on the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) Tour. He worked for Meg Mallon and his wife, Dana Dormann. Mallon was the 1991 U. S. Open Champion.

"In addition to building a national championship-caliber team, we want to develop a program and student-athletes that represent the best in San Jose and the university," says the Spartans' coach.

Dormann, a native of Daly City, Calif., is a 1979 graduate of Riordan High School in San Francisco, Calif. A 1989 graduate of San Jose State, he majored in social studies. The Dormanns have two sons, William and Jason, and reside in Pleasanton, Calif.

Dana Dormann returns for her third season as an assistant women's golf coach. Dormann played on the San Jose State University women's golf teams during the 1985 through 1988 seasons. She was a member of the Spartans' 1987 NCAA Championship team. Dormann was a four-time tournament winner; the 1987 Pacific Coast Athletic Association "Player of the Year" and a three-time All-American. Her 76.46 stroke average for 141 rounds of college competition puts her in the top-10 all-time on the San Jose State list.

Dormann was the 1985 U.S. Junior and Junior World champion. The win at the U.S. Girls Junior Championship earned her an invitation to the 1986 U.S. Open. The native of Oxnard, Calif., began her professional career on the Women Professional Golfers' European Tour (WPGET). In her first LPGA event, the 1991 Oldsmobile LPGA Classic, she finished in second place. She won the 1992 Las Vegas LPGA International, birdieing her last hole, and won the 1993 McCall's LPGA Classic in Stratton Mountain, Vermont. Dormann was also a member of the 1992 and 1993 U.S. Nicheri Cup teams that competed against teams from Japan. She was the 1993 "Most Valuable Golfer" of the competition.

She was one of five Spartan All-Americans to make the cut at the 2006 U.S. Open after qualifying for her 13th Open of her career. She won the 2005 LPGA T-and-CP Championship for teaching and club professionals. That win garnered her an invitation to the 2006 LPGA Championship. Dormann still ranks among the top-90 golfers on the all-time LPGA money winning list. No longer active on the LPGA Tour, she is a teaching professional at the Pleasanton (Calif.) Golf Academy.

Located at the core of Silicon Valley, San José State University is an exceptional place for hands-on learning, professional development and personal growth. Whether you are a graduate or a friend of the university, there are many reasons you can be proud of San José State. From an award-winning faculty and high-achieving students to cutting-edge programs and growing collaborations with the community and the corporate world, SJSU is on the move as it meets the challenges of the 21st century.

Known for the high quality of its academic programs, its excellent faculty (87 percent hold doctorates or the highest degrees in their academic disciplines), and its diverse and committed student body, San José State successfully educates students to compete in today's complex, high tech and global economy.

For the past six years, San José State has been ranked among the top ten masters-level public universities in the West by U.S. News & World Report's survey of "America's Best Colleges." In the 2006 survey, the College of Engineering is ranked 14th among the nation's Best Undergraduate Engineering Programs (in addition, electrical engineering ranks 11th; civil engineering, 16th; mechanical engineering, 16th).

San José State is the number one supplier of education, engineering, computer science and business graduates to Silicon Valley, the world's high tech capital. The oldest and one of the largest universities in the 23-campus California State University (CSU) system, SJSU attracts students from throughout California, the United States and 100 countries of the world.

Located in the nation's 10th and California's third largest city, San José State had a fall 2005 enrollment of 29,975 students. Approximately 75 percent of the students were undergraduates; 25 percent were graduate students. Almost 59 percent of the student population had an ethnic affiliation. More than 100 different languages are spoken on campus.

Founded in 1857, SJSU is the oldest public institution of higher education on the West Coast. From its beginnings as a normal school to train teachers, the campus has matured into a comprehensive university offering 134 bachelors' and masters' degrees.

San José State is one of the largest public-sector employers in Silicon Valley, with about 2,500 full-time employees and an annual budget of $472 million (2005-06).

Some 7,862 bachelors' and masters' degrees were awarded in 2005-06 — continuing to support the region by supplying Silicon Valley with more graduates at the baccalaureate and masters' levels than any other school in the nation.

Don W. Kassing President

Don W. Kassing was appointed president of San José State University, the oldest and one of the largest universities in the 23-campus California State University system, in May 2005.

Kassing has moved the university forward in several key areas. Under his leadership, the campus is engaged in university-wide strategic planning, with the goal of making San José State University a university of choice by 2010. In February 2006, he accepted the largest single private donation to the university in its history, a $10 million gift from alumni Donald and Sally Lucas, to create a new graduate school of business.

As president and in his former role as vice president for administration and finance, Kassing led the development, construction and successful opening of two major campus facilities: the award-winning Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Library, based on a first-of-its-kind and highly successful partnership with the city of San José; and Campus Village, a state-of-the-art residence complex for students, faculty and staff, the largest such project in the California State University system, and the focus of a renewed sense of community on campus.

Before his appointment to the presidency, Kassing had served for more than a decade as vice president for administration and finance and as chief financial officer. As CFO, he had responsibility for all business and financial affairs of the university.

His previous 18 years of experience in higher education includes service as:

- * Vice President for University Relations and Administrative Services - Murray State University (Kentucky)
- * Vice President for Development and Public Affairs - Western State College of Colorado

From 1975 to 1986 he served at Belleville Area College, in Belleville, Illinois, where he taught management and marketing, served as department chair, and for two years was president of the Granite City Campus. Before that he worked for 11 years in private industry, including eight years in corporate finance and operations management for Brown Group Inc. and three years with General Motors Corporation.

Active in the community and the region, Kassing serves on the following boards:

- * San José Sports Authority
- * United Way Silicon Valley
- * San Jose Chamber of Commerce
- * Silicon Valley Leadership Group
- * Joint Venture Silicon Valley
- * Silicon Valley Higher Education Roundtable
- * Western Athletic Conference

Kassing holds a master's degree in business administration and a B.S. in economics from St. Louis University. He is married with three children and five grandchildren.

Some prominent SJSU alumni:

- Ben Nighthorse Campbell of Colorado, the first Native American to serve in the U.S. Senate
- Valerie Coleman-Morris, anchor for CNN Financial News
- Christopher Darden, attorney and member of the prosecution team in the O.J. Simpson trial
- Charles Gingold, vice president, Discovery Channel
- Fashion designer Jessica McClintock
- Actor Omar Benson Miller, seen in the film "8 Mile" and guest-star on TV's "West Wing"
- Jenny Ming, president, Old Navy and The Gap
- Gordon Moore, founder of Intel Corporation
- Tom and Dick Smothers, popular comedy duo
- Amy Tan, novelist, author of The Joy Luck Club, and 2003 winner of the Distinguished Alumnus Award from the American Association of State Colleges and Universities
- Dick Vermeil, former coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, the St. Louis Rams and the Kansas City Chiefs; The St. Louis Rams became Super Bowl champs under his leadership.
- Bill Walsh, former head coach of the San Francisco 49ers; Walsh led the team to three Super Bowls.

Tom Bowen Athletics Director

Tom Bowen was named San Jose State University's director of intercollegiate athletics on December 20, 2004. Under his leadership, the Spartans have made significant and meaningful strides forward as a viable Division I-A intercollegiate athletics program.

As the director, Bowen has overhauled the department's infrastructure; invested resources both in external and internal operations; initiated an enhanced website presence; and expanded marketing, promotions and advertising opportunities locally, regionally and nationally with the creation of Spartan Sports Properties. The Spartan Foundation, the department's fund-raising component, has enjoyed its most successful two-year period generating just over $2.0-million in personal and corporate contributions.

As an integral member of the University's presidential staff, he has created new short and long-term revenue streams for intercollegiate athletics and many other campus extra-curricular activities. His initiatives and leadership have created new energy department-wide and throughout the university.

His vision for student-athlete success and excellence led to the creation of a Student Success Services component. Academic Progress Rate (APR) scores as measured by the NCAA have risen dramatically under his watch. Above all, his goal for San Jose State University athletics is building a "Culture of Champions" academically, athletically and in the community.

He has appointed new head coaches in football, men's basketball, men's golf, women's golf and women's swimming and diving. In 2005-06, San Jose State won the Western Athletic Conference women's golf championship, recorded its highest finish ever at a NCAA regional championship in women's gymnastics, produced seven teams out of 16 with its best conference finish in years, and had WAC "Coaches of the Year" in women's golf and softball.

Bowen came to San Jose State after serving three years as the director of community affairs and the executive director of the 49ers Foundation for the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League. He directed all of the team's fund-raising activities and was responsible for alumni and current player participation in the community. San Francisco was the first NFL franchise to implement an annual giving program.

His Division I experience at the college level includes athletic administration positions at the University of California and Saint Mary's College in Moraga, Calif.

The 1983 graduate of the University of Notre Dame played high school football at Moreau High in Hayward, Calif. He majored in theology/sociology and spent six years studying for the priesthood with the Holy Cross Fathers. Bowen went on to earn a master's degree in administration/education from the University of San Francisco in 1990.

Bowen currently is an adjunct professor at the University of San Francisco School of Sports Management. He has been a guest lecturer at several Bay Area university campuses.

The Denver, Colo., native was born on May 27, 1961. He and his wife, Mia, are the parents of three children. In 2006, Andrew will be eight-years-old; Peter, four; and, daughter, McKenna, three.

Golf Facilities

Almaden Golf & Country Club

Almaden Golf & Country Club, former host to the LPGA and Nike Tours, is one of a few courses used by the women's golf team for practice.

Los Altos Golf & Country Club

Los Altos Golf & Country Club, the home of Juli Inkster, is a premier facility for the Spartans to use.

"We are extremely fortunate to have the opportunity to practice at such first-class facilities. They offer our student-athletes a unique variety of golf experiences. We are very grateful for the generosity of the courses."

Head Coach John Dormann

The Golf Club at Boulder Ridge

The Golf Club at Boulder Ridge, located in San Jose, serves as one of the women's golf team's practice courses.

Coyote Creek Golf Club, San Jose's premier public golf facility also serves the women's golf team. The facility hosted the 2006 WAC Championships. Pictured are holes 17 (above) and 5 (right).
