

SCHILLER INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY (SIU) TRANSFORMS STUDENTS WHILE PREPARING THEM TO DEVELOP INTO GLOBAL CITIZENS OF THE WORLD WHO CAN MEET THE CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES THAT LIE AHEAD.

Schiller International University is willing to help students to integrate global and French market. Therefore, SIU decided to put in place this training expedition in cooperation with SIS UP to allow students to understand French culture and job market in an international context, and help them with the job searching tools (CV, interviews and motivation letters).

This project is established upon a request from Rafe Jabari, the Deputy Director, the Director of the student and career services Department at Paris Campus, in order to help students with their professional project during studies and after graduation.

Last year, SIS UP accompanied a group of 10 SIU students in a 4-month program designed to develop their knowledge and discernment on the different societal issues in France in relation to their own experience in their different countries. This experience has been successful.

Today, SIS UP would like to better understand the students' profiles and expectations regarding their professional engagement in order to provide tailor-made elements and trainings to help the students better know themselves, the French culture and face an international job market.

"The SIS UP program has given me tools with which to shape the passion I have always had but never quite understood how to mold into action. [...] I came into this program as a student with many grievances to bear against an unjust world, yet the SIS UP method and ethics taught me that [...] underneath frustration lies empathy, and that informed compassion is the starting point for change."
