Confidence in the product and the supplier Reliable and unbiased advice Cost effectiveness

These are the hallmarks by which you should judge decisions when fulfilling your duty to insure against the unexpected risks and liabilities you face in the daily running of your activities. Liabilities to staff, clients and the public; compensation for the theft of property; harm arising from accident, are typical of the risks to be insured.

Encompass is a market-leading policy setting the standard for third sector insurance.

Compare it with your present arrangements and see for yourself.
