 Final Edition

Final Score: San Diego State 65, No. 6/6 Nevada 57

Records: Nevada (24-2; 11-2 Mountain West); San Diego State (17-9; 9-4 Mountain West)

Next Game: Saturday, Feb. 23 | at UNLV, 7 p.m. PT | Thomas & Mack Center | Las Vegas, Nev. | ESPNU | 101.5 KGB, XTRA 1360

Big Notes

- San Diego State's win over No. 6 Nevada represents the highest-ranked team the Aztecs have ever defeated. SDSU has three wins over teams that were ranked No. 7 at the time of the game (most recently: Feb. 18, 1988 vs. Brigham Young).
- This is San Diego State's sixth victory over an AP top 10 team and first since March 12, 2011 vs. No. 8 Brigham Young (72-54) in the Mountain West tournament championship game.
- The Aztecs are 3-0 against a ranked Nevada team over the last 365 days. No other Division I team has beaten a same ranked opponent three times over the last year.
- San Diego State has won 13 straight Mountain West home games. Currently, that is tied for the seventh-longest streak in the country in home conference games.
- Nevada has scored 57 or less points just six times over the last four seasons (since 2015-16) since Eric Musselman became head coach. Four of those six outings have come against San Diego State.

More Ranked Notes

- San Diego State records its 33rd all-time win against a nationally-ranked AP team.
- Of those 33 wins against ranked teams, 25 have come while Brian Dutcher was at SDSU (22 as an AHCHCIW/associate/assistant and three as the head coach).
- Brian Dutcher improves to 3-0 against AP Top 25 teams at home.
- Since the start of the 2017-18 season, San Diego State is 4-3 against AP Top 25 teams. Entering today, only 15 teams in the nation that have faced at least six top 25 opponents in that time frame owned a winning record against those opponents.

Team Notes

- San Diego State has won its last three games against Nevada. Since Feb. 12, 2017, SDSU is 3-1 against the Wolf Pack, while the rest of the country is a combined 8-61.
- San Diego State has handed Nevada three of its last five losses.

- The Aztecs held Nevada to its lowest point total (57 points) since scoring 56 against San Diego State on Feb. 12, 2017.
- With the victory, the Aztecs pull within two games of first-place Nevada in the Mountain West standings. The Aztecs remain one-game back in the loss column of second-place Utah State and are now tied in the loss column with Fresno State.
- SDSU is 27-1 in the Brian Dutcher era when holding its opponent to 45 percent field goal shooting and 35 percent three-point shooting.
- San Diego State has won a season-high four consecutive games.
- The Aztecs are 7-1 in their last eight games.
