*Look-Ahead Notes: San Diego State defeated Nevada, 70-56, at home last season; SDSU is 4-0 at home vs. the Wolf Pack in the Mountain West era

Team Notes

- San Diego State wins its fifth straight game to move to 18-10 on the season and 10-7 in the Mountain West.
- The five-game winning streak is the SDSU's longest of 2017-18. The average margin of victory during the streak is 15.8 points.
- San Diego State's five-game win streak is tied with Nevada for the longest active streak in the Mountain West.
- Tonight was the first time during its five-game winning streak that SDSU trailed in the second half.
- San Diego State wins its fifth straight conference game. It is the longest league win streak for the Aztecs since winning 13 straight during the 2015 and 2016 Mountain West seasons.
- San Diego State's last seven victories have all been by eight points or more.
- SDSU is currently alone in fifth place in the MW standings and sits a half-game back of fourth-place New Mexico.
- The 10 Mountain West wins are more than the Aztecs' total from last year (9).

Series Notes

- San Diego State improves to 11-6 all-time vs. Boise State.
- The Aztecs are 5-2 vs. the Broncos in San Diego and 4-2 inside Viejas Arena.
- SDSU snaps a two-game losing streak to the Broncos at home.

Game Notes

- San Diego State won their seventh straight game when leading with 5:00 to go.
- The Aztecs held Boise State to its lowest field-goal percentage (.396) and point total (64) in Mountain West action this season.
- SDSU handed Boise State its worst conference loss this season.
- SDSU had 10 steals, which is its second-highest total this season and tied for the most during conference action after it had 10 vs. SJSU.
- San Diego State committed just eight turnovers, which matched its lowest total in conference play this season (at Boise State).
- SDSU has had a single-digit rebounding total in two straight games and nine times this season (6 vs. MW schools).
- The Aztecs were outrebounded, 34-31, but won for the second straight game when on the short end of the ledger.
- San Diego State made just one three-pointer, but made 23-of-29 from the free-throw line. The 23 free throws were two short of equaling Boise State's free-throw attempted total for the game. The Broncos were 18-for-25 from the charity stripe.
