The Colorado State men's basketball team closes a two-game homestand Saturday, playing host the San Diego State Aztecs. The Mountain West Conference game is set for 4 p.m. MT from Moby Arena (8,745).

The game will be televised live on The Mtn. with Rich Cellini (play-by-play) and Blaine Fowler (color analyst) bringing fans all the action from court-side.

The Rams (12-8, 3-3 MWC) are coming off of a 63-57 victory over the TCU Horned Frogs on Wednesday. The Aztecs (14-6, 3-3 MWC) were idle this week after falling 71-69 vs. BYU at home last Saturday.

The Rams enter the contest looking to improve upon their 9-1 home record at Moby Arena.

With the exception of the team's MWC-opening victory over New Mexico (74-64), and a road loss at UNLV (66-76), four of SDSU's last six games, all MWC contests, have been decided by an average of 2.8 points per game.

Fans can listen to the game on the Colorado State Sports Network. Jerry Schemmel will call all the action court-side. The game will be carried on flagship KLZ (560 AM) in Denver and on KCOL (600 AM), locally. Rams fans worldwide can listen to the action live streaming audio on CSURams.com/allaccess.

Live statistics are available by clicking the "GameTracker" logo on the men's basketball "Schedule/Results" page on CSURams.com.

Looking ahead

The Rams open February with a trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, to face the Utah Utes on Wednesday. CSU then returns to Moby Arena to begin the final round of MWC play with a home tilt against Border War rival Wyoming, Feb. 6, at Moby Arena. Both games will be televised on The Mtn at 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. MT, respectively.

About San Diego State

San Diego State brings back eight letterwinners from its 2008-09 squad that finished the season 26-10, earning a trip to the NIT. This season, the Aztecs are 14-6, with impressive wins against Arizona and at then-No. 15 New Mexico. San Diego State is off to a 3-3 start to conference play, however, and is tied with CSU and Utah for fourth place in the league standings.

Steve Fisher is in his 11th year as head coach of the Aztecs, posting a record of 187-146. During his 18-plus-season career as a head coach, Fisher has recorded 371 wins.

The Aztecs have an experienced core of two seniors and five juniors. Billy White, Malcolm Thomas and D.J. Gay lead the attack among the junior class, combining for 45 percent of the team's offensive production. White and Thomas shoot better than 50 percent from the floor and all three have connected on more than 30 percent of their three-point attempts. Malcolm also ranks second on the team with 7.9 rebounds.

While the junior class is getting the job done, it's freshman Kawhi Leonard who is leading the team in points and rebounds. The first-year forward averages 11.6 points and 9.5 rebounds per game, and is also tied for the team lead with 28 steals.

Series vs. San Diego State

Despite claiming 61 percent of the battles in the series since it formed in 1961, the Rams have dropped the four most recent games, and the last four at Moby Arena. CSU's last win over San Diego State was a 69-64 upset in the quarterfinals of the 2006-07 MWC tournament. CSU has dropped the last eight regular-season meetings, and is looking for its first home win since a 93-88 overtime win during the 2004-05 season. CSU, however, holds a strong advantage over the Aztecs all-time at Moby Arena, winning 22 of the 28 meetings.

Last season vs. San Diego State

The Rams dropped a home contest against the Aztecs last January, 78-59, but were able to keep the game closer in San Diego, falling 68-59, in the regular-season finale.

Current Rams vs. San Diego State

No player is averaging double figures in his career against San Diego State. Harvey Perry has done the most damage, scoring 15 points in two games. Andy Ogide has added 14 points in a pair of contests, while pulling down nine rebounds. In a road game against the Aztecs his freshman year, junior F Andre McFarland hit five field goals on his way to a 13-point, six-rebound effort.

Defending the Fort

Colorado State won its first eight home games of the season before suffering an 80-72 loss vs. visiting UNLV on Jan. 20. The eight-game streak marked the longest home winning streak for the Rams since the team rattled off nine straight at Moby between the 2004-05 and 2005-06 seasons.

The Rams improved their home mark to 9-1 on Wednesday with a 63-57 victory over the TCU Horned Frogs.

Through the years, Moby Arena has been a tough environment for opposing teams. CSU has won 70 percent (437-189) of its games at Moby Arena. Since the 2002-03 season, the Rams have had several winning streaks to start their home season: 2002-03, 13 consecutive; 2004-05, 9; 2005-06, 8; and 2006-07, 6.

Home Court Advantage

CSU looks to reel in its 10th win of the season at Moby Arena on Saturday. The last time the Rams had 10 wins on their home court was in 2006-07 when the team went 10-4.

The Rams' 9-1 home record to start the season marks the best home record through 10 games since 2004-05, when CSU also started the season 9-1 at home. That year, the Rams finished with an overall record of 11-17, with all of their season's wins coming at Moby Arena (11-4 home record).

With an all-time 70 percent (443-189) winning percentage at Moby Arena, a win on Saturday would give the Rams a double-digit season win total for the 23rd time in the arena's history.

Green goes for 20

Freshman G Dorian Green scored a team-leading 20 points in the Rams' loss to UNLV on Jan. 20. Green, the Rams' leading scorer at 13.5 points per game, reached 20 points for the second time in his 18-game career at CSU. He tallied a personal-best 21 points in the Rams' 77-62 victory over Colorado on Dec. 10.

Following the Rams

Rams on the radio

Rams basketball can be heard live worldwide on the Nelligan Sports Colorado State Sports Network. The 2009-10 season will feature live game coverage of all of Colorado State's exhibition, regular-season and postseason contests.

Veteran broadcaster Jerry Schemmel, the play-by-play voice of the Denver Nuggets since 1992, enters his first season as the new voice of CSU men's basketball. Longtime CSU broadcaster Brian Roth will fill in for Schemmel as the play-by-play voice when the Nuggets' schedule conflicts.

Block Party

Led by senior Mame Bocar Ba's two blocks, the Rams swatted away a season-high five shots against TCU on Wednesday. It was the most blocked shots since CSU recorded five against Air Force on Jan. 20, 2009. The Rams also blocked a half dozen shots twice last year.

Streaking vs. TCU

With Wednesday's win against TCU, it gives the Rams a two-game winning streak against the Horned Frogs. The two game streak is the longest current winning streak for the Rams among any of their conference opponents. CSU also has won the most recent meeting against Wyoming and Air Force.

Strong Freshman Class

The Rams have a talented trio of freshmen that have turned many heads during their first year of collegiate basketball. Through two-thirds of the regular season, these freshmen are eyeing several categories in CSU's freshman record book.

Dorian Green not only leads the team but ranks No. 9 in the MWC with a scoring average of 13.2 points per game. His current average would go down as third all-time among freshmen at CSU behind former players Eddie Hughes (15.4 ppg.) and Matt Nelson (14.0 ppg.).

Pierce Hornung has been great on the glass, averaging 5.0 rebounds a contest. His current average is tied for fourth all-time with Nelson.

Greg Smith is coming off of his best performance vs. TCU on Wednesday, posting career highs in minutes (29) and points (15). He has turned his play up a notch over the past two weeks. Since Jan. 16 at BYU, the freshman is averaging 11.8 points per game. On the season, he averages 7.6 points and 3.9 rebounds.

Busch in the starting lineup

Senior forward Travis Busch made his first start in a Rams uniform on Jan. 23 at New Mexico, tallying a career-high-tying seven points in 25 minutes. Busch remained in the starting lineup for the second consecutive game in the Rams' victory over TCU on Jan. 27, once again tying his career-high at CSU with seven points again the Horned Frogs in 20 minutes of action.

Smith hitting his stride

Over his last four games, entering Saturday's contest against San Diego State, freshman F Greg Smith has shown steady improvement for the Rams and has seen his production, and minutes, rise steadily in MWC play.

Smith is coming off of his best performance as a freshman at CSU in which he posted career highs in minutes (29) and points (15), leading CSU to a victory over TCU on Wednesday at Moby Arena.

That performance capped a four-game stretch in which Smith averaged 11.8 points and 4.5 rebounds per contest, while hitting 81.5 percent (22-for-27) from the free-throw line during one of the Rams' toughest stretches on their schedule.

Smith was a bright spot during a three-game losing streak for the Rams. He posted a then-career-high and team-leading 13 points at BYU on Jan. 16, and matched that effort and tied for team-high honors with another 13-point effort at New Mexico on Jan. 23. Smith also tallied six points and four rebounds in a tough home loss to UNLV on Jan. 20.

Rams giving back to the community

Members of the Colorado State men's basketball team will, once again, be participating in "Senior Night Out," a community service project in which the team volunteers to spend time with residents at Worthington Independent Living Center in Fort Collins. The Rams' visit will take place Thursday evening, and many of the residents will then be special guests of the CSU men's basketball program at Saturday's game against San Diego State.

CSU staff lacing 'em up for Coaches vs. Cancer

Members of the Colorado State coaching staff will be donning sneakers as part of their game-day attire on Saturday against San Diego State, to show their support for the American Cancer Society and the Coaches vs. Cancer "Suits and Sneakers" awareness weekend.

Franklin a force for the Rams

Despite struggling from the free-throw line (3-for-14 FTs) in the Rams' 80-72 loss vs. UNLV on Jan. 20, junior F Travis Franklin turned in one of the best single-game performances by a CSU player this season. Franklin poured in 17 points, while pulling down a game-high-tying nine rebounds and dishing out a team-leading five assists. It marked just the second time this season that a CSU player had scored in double-figures, and led the team in both rebounds and assists. Franklin also accomplished the feat when he tallied 10 points and added 10 rebounds, while dishing out a pair of assists at Northern Colorado on Dec. 1., a 70-63 CSU loss. Freshman Greg Smith also accomplished the feat at New Mexico on Jan. 23 with 13 points, seven rebounds and three assists.

Wire-to-wire

Prior to the Rams' Jan. 16 loss at BYU, which snapped a three-game winning streak, Colorado State had not trailed in three straight contests, beginning with a 93-71 home win over Yale. The Rams then captured an 83-73 road win at Wyoming, and a 70-48 home victory over Air Force, all wire-to-wire wins.

Ogide named MWC Co-Player of the Week

Colorado State's Andy Ogide was selected as the Mountain West Conference Co-Player of the Week on Jan. 10. He shared the honor with BYU's Jonathan Tavernari.

Ogide, a 6-9 forward from Marietta, Ga., led Colorado State to its first 2-0 start in conference play since 2003 with wins at Wyoming (83-73) and at home vs. Air Force (70-48).

Against Wyoming, he scored a game-high 22 points and grabbed a game-high-tying six rebounds. He also collected a career-high three steals and dished out two assists, while shooting 9-of-16 from the floor in 27 minutes vs. the Cow-boys.

Against Air Force, Ogide was a perfect 4-of-4 from the field in scoring a game-best 13 points. He also tallied five rebounds and three assists in 22 minutes of action. For the week, Ogide averaged 17.5 points, 5.5 rebounds and 2.5 assists per contest. He shot 65 percent from the field (13-for-20) and 81.8 percent from the charity stripe (9-of-11).

It marked the first-career weekly honor for Ogide and the first for a Rams' player since Nov. 19, 2007 (Stuart Creason and New Mexico's J.R. Giddens).

Rams in conference openers

Colorado State's 83-73 victory at Wyoming on Jan. 6 marked just the second time that CSU has opened its MWC schedule with a victory. The last time was the 2002-03 season, also CSU's last appearance in the NCAA tournament. That season the Rams began their MWC schedule with back-to-back home victories over New Mexico (74-58) and Air Force (51-49). The Rams finished that season with a 5-9 overall record in the MWC but capped the season with a memorable run to the MWC championship and a first-round matchup with the Duke Blue Devils in the Salt Lake City Regional of the NCAA tourney. Since the formation of the MWC in the 1999-2000 season, the Rams are now 2-9 in conference openers.

Scoring for the Rams

Freshman G Dorian Green, junior F Travis Franklin and junior F Andy Ogide rank 1-2-3 for the Rams in terms of scoring through 20 games this season. Green (13.2 ppg.) has scored in double figures in 13 of his first 20 collegiate contests as a true freshman, while Franklin (11.0 ppg.) has reached double-figure scoring in 10 of his last 15 games. Ogide (11.2 ppg.) has led CSU in scoring in five games this season, including the Rams' first two MWC victories, at Wyoming (22 points) and vs. Air Force (13 points).

Entering Saturday's game vs. TCU, Green ranks ninth in the MWC in scoring, and first among freshmen. Ogide is 16th and Franklin is tied for 20th.

Putting it on the line

CSU has become one of the top teams in the Mountain West Conference when it comes to getting to the free throw line this season. Entering Wednesday's contest vs. TCU, CSU is averaging 26.8 free throw attempts per game as a team. This ranks third in the MWC behind Wyoming (30.7 per game) and the New Mexico (27.6 per game).

This season, the Rams are 11-1 when attempting more free-throws than an opponent. The Rams are 11-0 when making more free-throws than an opponent.

Against the state of Colorado

Not only is CSU perfect at home this season, but Miles' squad has been impressive at home against Division I teams from the state of Colorado. CSU is riding a five-game home winning streak against Colorado programs, and is 6-2 overall at Moby Arena against intrastate rivals. The streak began early last season with an 85-74 win over Northern Colorado, followed up by a 67-56 win vs. Air Force. This season, Miles' squad put up a 64-59 win against Denver and a 77-62 triumph over rival Colorado. Most recently, the Rams defeated Air Force, 70-48, at Moby Arena on Jan. 9.

Defense to offense

Over a three-game stretch from Dec. 31-Jan. 9 that included victories over Yale, Wyoming and Air Force, Colorado State scored 65 point off of opponents' turnovers. During that stretch, the Rams forced opponents into more than 15 turnovers per game.

McFarland climbing the three-point charts

For his career at Colorado State, McFarland has hit 119 three-pointers, just one shy of cracking the program's top-10 list. David Turcotte (1984-88) currently holds the 10th spot with 120 career three-pointers. McFarland's career three-point percentage of .420 is currently ninth, just behind Turcotte (.426), in the Rams' record book.

Hot start

The Rams began the 2009-10 season with a record of 7-3 through 10 games. It marked the best start for CSU through 10 games since the 2006-07 season (8-2).

Rams on the road

Colorado State's 83-73 victory at Wyoming on Jan. 6 marked the Rams' first road victory of the season. It snapped a six-game road losing streak overall. CSU's previous road victory came Feb. 21, 2009, a 71-66 triumph over Air Force at Clune Arena.

Since then, the Rams have dropped tough road contests at BYU and at New Mexico.

Perry returns

Senior G Harvey Perry returned to the lineup against Yale on Dec. 31, after serving a nine game suspension due to his academic performance. Head Coach Tim Miles made the decision to suspend Perry prior to the Rams' game vs. Mayville State on Nov. 24. Perry played just five minutes against the Bulldogs in his return to the hardwood, tallying two points and two rebounds in the Rams' victory.

Rams win streak

With a 64-56 victory Dec. 20 against Northern Arizona, the Rams established a new high for consecutive wins in the Tim Miles era, four straight. The loss at UCLA on Dec. 22 snapped the Rams' overall win streak. The Rams' four consecutive victories were the most by a CSU squad since the 2006-07 team rattled off nine straight victories.

Standing out during the streak

During Colorado State's four-game winning streak no players stood out more for the Rams than freshman G Dorian Green, junior F Travis Franklin, and junior G Adam Nigon. Green had led the team in scoring at 16.5 points per game, while averaging 3.8 rebounds. Franklin ranks right behind Green, pouring in 15.5 points per game. He leads the team in rebounding at 5.8 per contest. The duo has combined to hit 48 of 66 attempts from the free-throw line during that stretch. Nigon, who entered this season with a career scoring average of 2.9 ppg., is also in double-figures scoring at a clip of 10.3 points per game during the Rams' winning streak. He is leading the Rams in three-point shooting, hitting 8-of-17 attempts for a .471 percentage. Green is the only other player to hit a trey for the Rams during that stretch, hitting 40 percent (8-for-20) from beyond the arc. Nigon also leads the Rams in assists during CSU's streak, dishing out 12 helpers, more than double any other player on the team.

Nigon heating up

Junior Adam Nigon entered the season averaging 2.87 points per contest through two seasons. This year, the guard is averaging 8.5 points, and is just two points shy, entering Saturday's contest vs. SDSU, of matching his career scoring total from his freshman and sophomore campaigns, combined. Nigon is shooting 40.1 percent from the floor and 37.8 percent from three-point range. During a five-game stretch from Nov. 29 to Dec. 12, he averaged 11.6 points, including a career-high 17 against Montana, helping the Rams to a 4-1 record during that stretch.

Entering Saturday's contest vs. SDSU, Nigon has scored in double figures in four of his last nine games. He was the lone Ram to connect from long range at BYU on Jan. 16, and will look to extend his streak of consecutive games with a trey to eight games against the Aztecs.

Seeing double

Junior F Travis Franklin recorded his second career double-double performance in the Rams' victory over rival Colorado (Dec. 10). Franklin tallied 22 points, his second 20-point effort of the season, and capped off the double-double performance with 10 rebounds to help CSU to the 77-62 victory. Franklin shot 7-for-9 from the field and 8-for-10 from the free-throw line, while adding a block and two steals against the Buffs. Franklin also recorded a double-double (10 points, 10 rebounds) nine days earlier in the Rams' 70-63 loss at Northern Colorado (Dec.1).

Seeing double, part two

Freshman F Greg Smith recorded his first career double-double on Dec. 20 in the Rams' victory over Northern Arizona. Smith, playing in just the seventh game of his career at CSU, tallied 10 points and 10 rebounds to help the Rams to the 64-56 victory.

Seeing double, part three

Senior F Andy Ogide became the third player this season to record a double-double for the Rams, joining classmate Travis Franklin and freshman Greg Smith. Ogide recorded 14 points and a game-high 10 rebounds in the Rams 63-57 victory over TCU on Wednesday. It marked Ogide's fifth career double-double, but his first since Jan. 17, 2009 at Utah (19 points, 10 rebounds). The Rams are 3-2 all-time when Ogide records a double-double.

500 and counting

Forward Andy Ogide garnered MWC player-of-the-week honors on Jan. 10, and the final points scored in the win against Air Force, a jumper with 3:05 remaining to put the Rams up by 11, was also his 500th of his career in a Rams uniform. The junior did it in 46 games, and will have one year of eligibility remaining at CSU to try to become the 18th player in CSU history to record 1,000 points. Ogide has now recorded 529 points in 50 career games entering Saturday's contest vs. San Diego State.

Classmate Andre McFarland is also on pace to reach 1,000 points for his career and is the Rams' active career scoring leader with 624 points in 77 games at CSU.

McFarland back in action

Sidelined by back stiffness, junior Andre McFarland missed four straight games for the Rams after playing in every game of his career at CSU to that point. McFarland missed victories over CU (77-62), Montana (62-61) and Northern Arizona (64-56), and was unable to go in the Rams' loss at UCLA (75-63). McFarland returned to the court for the Rams at Fresno State, tallying three points and one rebound in 12 minutes of action, and played in five consecutive games between Dec. 28 and Jan. 16, before missing the Rams' home game vs. UNLV on Jan. 20. McFarland returned to the CSU lineup at New Mexico on Saturday, knocking down a pair of three-pointers and finishing with eight points, his highest scoring effort since a nine-point game vs. Yale. The junior missed his sixth game of the season on Wednesday, in the Rams' victory vs. TCU.

Draining the three

After shooting just 1-for-13 from three-point range at BYU (Jan. 16), the Rams got back on track from behind the arc against UNLV on Jan. 20, hitting 8-of-20 attempts for 40 percent. The Rams followed up that performance shooting 6-for-16 at New Mexico on Saturday.

Colorado State ranks among the top schools in the Mountain West in terms of three-point shooting percentage this season. The Rams are shooting 35.5 percent from long range, which ranks third in the league behind nationally ranked programs from BYU (.416) and New Mexico (.375).

Balanced rebounding attack

Despite only having five 10-plus rebounding efforts this season, the Rams have three players - Andy Ogide, Travis Franklin and Pierce Hornung - ranked in the top 16 in the MWC in rebounding average: Ogide (5.8), tied for seventh; Franklin (5.5), tied for ninth; and Hornung (5.0), tied for 15th. As a team, Colorado State ranks fifth in the MWC pulling down 36.0 boards per game. The Rams' are outrebounding opponents by 3.5 per game, the fourth-highest rebounding margin in the league (SDSU, +7.7; BYU, +5.6; and New Mexico, +4.9).

Green means go

Entering Saturday's game vs. San Diego State, freshman G Dorian Green, the Rams leading scorer at 13.2 points per game, has reached double-digits scoring in a team-leading 13 games this season. His scoring average ranks ninth overall in the MWC and first among freshmen.

BYU freshman Tyler Haws (12.1 ppg.), SDSU's Kawhi Leonard (11.6 ppg.), and Utah's Marshall Henderson (11.3 ppg.), rank 12th, 13th and 15th, respectively, in the MWC in scoring, and are the only other freshmen to appear in the top 20.

Freshmen strong in debuts

Freshmen Dorian Green and Pierce Hornung impressed in their first weekend of action at the BTI Tip-off tournament (Nov. 13-15). Green started all three games for the Rams at point guard and wasted no time making his mark, with 16 points, six rebounds, and five assists in the Rams' opening game vs. UC Davis. He earned all-tourney honors after averaging 12 points, 5.7 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game.

Hornung looked sharp, pulling down two rebounds, and recording four assists and three steals in 23 minutes in his first collegiate game against the Aggies. He added a pair of blocks in the Rams' win over Winston-Salem State, and closed the weekend with six rebounds, two assists and one steal against the Oregon Ducks.

Greg Smith, who saw his first action in the Rams' fifth game of the season, was also impressive in his debut performance, filling up the stat sheet with 10 points, six rebounds three steals, two assists and two blocks.

If I can be frank

Junior F Travis Franklin has started 19 of CSU's 20 contests this season; he came off the bench against DU (Dec. 5). Franklin has left his mark at both ends of the court for the Rams. The Baton Rouge, La., native ranks second on the team in rebounding (5.5 rebounds per game) and third in scoring (11.0 points per game), while leading the team in offensive rebounds (46), and free-throw attempts (151). He enters Saturday's game vs. SDSU ranking in the MWC in a number of categories, including tied for 20th in scoring, tied for ninth in rebounding and sixth in offensive rebounding (2.3 per game).

Starting lineups

Tim Miles used four different starting lineups in five games, between Dec. 1 and Dec. 20. The Rams posted a 4-1 record in those contests. Overall on the season, Miles has used seven different lineups, with guards Dorian Green and Adam Nigon the only players to have started all of the Rams' games entering Saturday's game vs. San Diego State. More info on CSU's starting lineups is available at the bottom of Page 8 of this release.

Rams vs. non-conference foes

After completing this season's non-conference schedule with a win against Yale on Dec. 31, CSU has posted a record of 96-56 (.632) against non-MWC opponents since the formation of the Mountain West Conference in 1999.

Runnin' Rams?

Colorado State ran out of the gates, and ran opponent UC Davis out of the gym, in the team's 91-73 season-opening victory over the Aggies, marking the first time since Jan. 20, 2007 the team has eclipsed 90 points. Since then, CSU has scored 91 points in a double-overtime win against San Francisco and most recently 93 against Yale. The last time CSU scored 90 or more points in three games came in the 2004-05 season.

The 83 points tallied by the Rams in their victory at Wyoming on Jan. 6 marks CSU's highest scoring output against an MWC opponent. The previous high was 82 points scored in a heart-breaking 83-82 loss vs. San Diego State on Jan. 29, 2008.

Cleared for takeoff

After announcing Nov. 13 his plans to red shirt freshman Greg Smith for the 2009-10 season, Head Coach Tim Miles removed that distinction from Smith prior to the Rams' home opener vs. Mayville State. Smith, a 6-6 forward from Ralston (Neb.) High School, went on to make his debut against the Comets, finishing with 10 points, six rebounds, three steals, two assists and two blocks in 16 minutes of action for the Rams.

In the red

Head Coach Tim Miles announced Nov. 13 his plans to red shirt freshman C Trevor Williams. Williams, a 7-0 center from Denver (Colo.) Lutheran High School, will benefit from a year of additional work with Miles and his staff, before hitting the court for the Rams in 2010-11.

Colorado talent

The 2009-10 Rams roster features five players - Mike Annese, Arin Dunn, Pierce Hornung, Michael Lebsack, Adam Nigon and Trevor Williams - from the state of Colorado. You have to go back 28 seasons, all the way to 1981-82, to find a CSU basketball team that featured more local talent. Six players from the 1981-82 squad listed Colorado as their home state.

Rams juniors among top MWC returners

Junior forward Andy Ogide's 2008-09 stats have landed him toward the top of several MWC categories among returning players. As a sophomore in 2008-09, Ogide averaged 5.8 rebounds per game, fourth among MWC returners. His .500 shooting is tied for third, while his 0.63 blocks per game are fifth.

Classmates Andrew McFarland and Travis Franklin also return after strong sophomore campaigns. McFarland connected on 42.3 percent of his shots from three-point range last season, ranking among the best in the league, while Franklin led the Rams with 49 offensive rebounds a season ago, helping the Rams to finish second in the MWC in that category in 2008-09 with an average of 11.10 per contest.

On pace for 1,000

Entering the 2009-10 season, junior forward Andre McFarland ranked as the only Colorado State player on pace to reach the 1,000-point milestone for his career. McFarland - one of just two players (Adam Nigon) to have played in each of Head Coach Tim Miles' first two seasons at CSU - poured in 525 points as a full-time starter in each of his first two seasons in Fort Collins. McFarland tallied 266 points (8.3 per game) in 31 starts as a true freshman in 2007-08. Last season, he averaged 8.4 points per contest, pouring in 259 points as the only Rams player to start all 31 contests.

In 14 games this season, despite being hobbled with stiffness in his lower back, McFarland ranks sixth on the team in scoring, averaging 7.1 points per contest, while shooting 41 percent (24-of-59) from three-point range.

Marcus Walker, who completed his playing career at CSU in 2009, is the last Rams player to reach the 1,000-point milestone, tallying an impressive 1,009 points in just two seasons in Fort Collins.

All-tournament honors

Junior F Andy Ogide and freshman G Dorian Green were each selected to the all-tournament team at the BTI Tip-off tournament in Eugene, Ore. (Nov. 13-15). Ogide and Green led the Rams to a 2-1 showing in a runner-up finish. For the tournament, Ogide averaged a team-high 16.3 points, and pulled down 6.3 rebounds per game, while shooting 62 percent from the field and 78 percent from the free-throw line. Green was stellar in his debut in a Rams uniform, averaging 12.0 points, 5.7 rebounds, and 3.3 assists per game. Green notched five three-pointers for the weekend, and ranked first on the team, hitting nearly 85 percent from the free-throw line.

Rams add three players for 2010-11

The Colorado State men's basketball team signed three players - Chad Calcaterra, Dwight Smith and Maurice Wiltz - to National Letters of Intent on the first day of the early signing period, Nov. 11.

Chad Calcaterra, 6-10/250, Center, Cloquet, Minn. (Cloquet HS)

Calcaterra, a 6-10, 250-pound post out of Cloquet, Minn., averaged 23.8 points per game during his junior season. Additionally, he pulled down 10.9 rebounds a game while blocking an average of 4.3 shots. He shot 58.6 percent from the field, and was named to Minnesota's all-state team. He holds the Cloquet High School single-season scoring record and has the potential to become the school's career scoring leader this season.

Miles on Calcaterra: "Chad is a great young man with a ton of potential and a great work ethic. He is a very good athlete who plays with a physicality that will serve him well at the college level. He has an attitude that craves improvement and will work to be a productive player in the Mountain West. Chad is an excellent student and a first-class kid."

Dwight Smith, 6-4/190, Guard, Ralston, Neb. (Ralston HS)

Smith will have company when he arrives in Fort Collins next year. Smith, the younger brother of freshman forward Greg Smith, is a 6-4, 190-pound guard out of Ralston, Neb. Last season, as a junior, Dwight Smith averaged 13 points, six rebounds and two steals to earn Nebraska first-team all-state honors, and the Male Athlete of the Year in Ralston.

Miles on Smith: "We are excited about having a player like Dwight join us. He is a high-energy player with a nose for the basketball. He can make plays in the lane, he rebounds and he can really defend, too. Having him join his brother, Greg, at CSU is a special situation for both the Smith family and the Rams."

Maurice Wiltz, 6-2/175, Guard, Stafford, Texas (Stafford HS)

Wiltz is a product of Stafford, Texas, where he finished his junior season averaging 18 points a contest, to go along with four rebounds, four assists and three steals per game. The 6-2 guard out of Stafford High School was an all-state selection as a junior and played for the Houston Hurricanes AAU team.

Miles on Wiltz: "Maurice is a play-making guard who knows what it takes to win. Maurice shoots the ball well, handles pressure well and knows how to make his teammates better. Perhaps his greatest quality is his defensive ability. Maurice is the total package, as he can make plays at both ends of the floor. He has a dynamic personality and will be great to coach."

Tim Miles | University of Mary (1989) Third Season at CSU (28-55); 14th Season Overall (240-187)

When Tim Miles came to Colorado State University to coach men's basketball he arrived on campus with a winning attitude and a smile. Both are essential to the program Miles is building with the Rams. His personality draws fans and student-athletes alike to him. His attitude is apparent in the feats that sprinkle through his resume.

Despite a pair of injury-plagued seasons to begin his tenure at Colorado State, Miles, his staff, and the team beat the odds time and time again, taking the first steps to re-establishing Colorado State men's basketball as a power in the Mountain West Conference, and on a national stage.

In 2007-08, Miles' first year with the program, he led a roster that featured just one returning starter to early season success, including a tournament championship at the BP Top of World Classic in Fairbanks, Alaska. And, after battling through a tough conference slate, the Rams ended the season on a high note with a victory over rival Wyoming in the opening round of the Mountain West Conference tournament.

His second season at Moby proved to be just as fruitful as the Rams continued to make strides. Miles led the Rams to early season victories over Montana and Northern Colorado, both of which had beaten the Rams the previous year, and CSU took national power Minnesota, led by Tubby Smith, to the brink of defeat before falling 72-71 at Moby Arena. In addition, the Rams boosted their win column with four conference wins against UNLV, Air Force (twice) and TCU.

Miles' persistence and hard work has not gone unnoticed by Colorado State and Athletic Director Paul Kowalczyk. In 2008, Miles was rewarded with a contract extension, and is now signed through the 2012-13 season.

"This university is committed to Tim and his staff," Kowalczyk said. "His leadership during tough times convinces us that we have the coach to lead our program to the upper echelon of the Mountain West."

Off the court, Miles believes strongly in academics, family and CSU.

"My job is to come in and establish a winning mentality in our basketball program," Miles said. "That means we're going to win outside hanging out with the students, we're going to win in the classroom when it comes to grades and we're going to win on the basketball floor."

While establishing a tradition of winning in college basketball, Miles' philosophy extends far beyond the basketball court. He and his staff are committed to academics and the success of their student-athletes in the classroom.

"It is essential that our players realize the value of their education at CSU," Miles said. "Academics are our top priority. We also want to represent this program, this university, and this community in a first-class manner at all times."

With 14 years of experience as a head coach at four institutions, he has compiled a career record of 228-179 that includes three conference championships and three national tournament appearances.

At North Dakota State, Miles earned 16 wins in each of his last five seasons, knocked off No. 8 Marquette and No. 15 Wisconsin, both on the road, and finished as one of only two independent programs with a winning record in 2006-07.

He also previously served as the head coach at Southwest Minnesota State University from 1997-2001 and Mayville State University from 1995-97. Miles began his coaching career in 1989 as an assistant at Northern State, where he served from 1989-95.

A native of Doland, S.D., Miles earned his bachelor's degree in elementary education and health/physical education from the University of Mary in 1989. He went on to earn his master's degree in health and physical science from Northern State in 1990.

Miles, and his wife, Kari, reside in Fort Collins with their daughter Ava, and son, Gabriel.
