The San Diego State women's golf team brings one senior, three juniors, six sophomores and three freshmen into its 2006-07 campaign. In the fall, the Aztecs had two top-10 individual finishes and four top-20 team finishes, including a ninth place at the TaylorMade Aztec Fall Classic.

Senior Jamie Oliver (Los Alamitos, Calif.) was one of four Aztecs to post top-20 individual finishes with an 11th-place tie at the Aztec Fall Classic.

"Jamie has continually improved since her freshman year," said fifth-year head coach Felicia Brown. "She knows it is her last semester and I think she is really going to put forth the effort not only on the golf course, but as one of the co-captains."

Junior Anna Booth (Coffs Harbour, Australia) won her first career tournament at the La Quinta Inn & Suites Mountain Shootout in Flagstaff, Ariz. The Aztecs finished one-two individually with sophomore Maki Kamimura, coming in just behind Booth for second place. Booth's victory marked the second consecutive year the Aztecs earned medalist honors at the Mountain Shootout. Last year, it was Megan McLeod taking home the Shootout title.

Another one of the high points out of the fall season was the play of sophomore Alana Erlandson (Palm Desert, Calif.) Erlandson ended the fall stretch with a 76.88 stroke average to lead the team. She posted a career best 18-hole round at the Aztec Fall Classic in Chula Vista, Calif., by carding a 1-under 71.

Senior Jamie Oliver

"Alana can be really good," Brown said. "I expect her to play a shot better than she did in the fall and I expect Maki (Kamimura) to play one or two shots better."

Erlandson only played in two of SDSU's tournaments last spring, but finished among the top-20 in both outings, placing 14th at the Lady Braveheart Invitational and 17th at the MWC Championships.

Maki Kamimura (West Covina, Calif.) finished second at La Quinta and coach Brown expects more of that type of play from the sophomore.

"I feel she will make a big difference for us in the spring," Brown said.

Kamimura had a fine freshman outing posting two top-10 finishes and four top-20 outings. A year ago, three of her top-20 finishes came during the spring season, including a 10th place effort at the Lady Braveheart and a 13th-place tie at the MWC Championships in Utah.

Sophomore co-captain Jackie Kazarian (Dana Point, Calif.) had some of her best rounds since coming to San Diego State, posting a career-low 75 in the first round the Ron Moore Women's Intercollegiate and in the second round of the Kent Youel Invitational in Hawaii.

Kazarian used her redshirt year last season, but in the spring of 2005 she posted three top-20 finishes with her top performance being a 15th-place at the BYU Dixie Classic.

Two wild cards for San Diego State will be sophomore Megan McLeod (Fallbrook, Calif.) and junior transfer Kim Carmody (Palatine, Ill.). McLeod was unable to compete during the fall stretch due to injury, but if she is able to rejoin the Aztecs on the course, she could prove to be a vital asset.

Last season, McLeod took home individual medalist honors at La Quinta and finished in a tie for third to help guide SDSU to a victory at the Lady Braveheart. She completed the fall season of her freshman campaign leading the team with a 76.38 stroke average.

Carmody joins the Aztecs in her junior season after spending her first two years at McLennan Community College in Waco, Texas. During her time with the Highlanders, she was part of a team that finished second at nationals during her freshman season. The Palatine, Ill., native was named to the 2005 all-tournament team and finished in 17th place.

Sophomore Heather Wilson (Chula Vista, Calif.) is another player who Brown expects to turn in a good spring. Wilson ended her fall season with a 26th-place tie at the Aztec Fall Classic and didn't turn in a round above 78 after the first two rounds of her fall season.

Wilson turned in two top-25 performances last spring with the first coming at the Lady Braveheart, where she finished in a 14th-place tie. Her second came when she led all Aztecs at the BYU Dixie Classic with a 23rd-place tie.

San Diego State will compete in six tournaments this spring with the first being one they know quite well, the Lady Braveheart. Last season in Beaumont, Calif., the Aztecs won the tournament with all five of their players finishing within the top 15 and three inside the top 10. Four of the five participants from last year's squad (Erlandson, Kamimura, McLeod and Wilson) will give SDSU an advantage as they look to defend their title.

After the Lady Braveheart, the Aztecs will once again travel to Fresno to take part in the Fresno State Invitational.

"Fresno is a perfect field for us and is a very straightforward golf course and one that everybody has seen," Brown said.

"If we play well there, we still have a chance to go to regionals and get things done."

SDSU plays four more events to round out the spring schedule with its last event coming in St. George, Utah, at the BYU Dixie Classic, also the site of the Mountain West Conference tournament.

"It is a extremely visually challenging golf course," Brown said. "The teams that have never played it before will be at a distinct disadvantage."

In addition to the tough courses, SDSU will also have to deal with strong competition in the Mountain West Conference. Entering the spring season, the Aztecs will face two conference opponents ranked within the GolfWeek top-25 (BYU and New Mexico) and UNLV, who finished the fall season at No. 33.

Felicia Brown

Head Coach
Arizona, 1989
Fifth Season/Sixth Overall

A former collegiate and professional golfer, Felicia Brown begins her sixth season in the San Diego State women's golf program and her fifth as the Aztecs' head coach.

After the Aztecs won three tournaments in 2005-06 (two in the fall and one in the spring), Brown led current Aztec Anna Booth to her first individual title at the La Quinta Inn & Suites Shootout in Flagstaff, Ariz. this past fall. It was Booth's first career win and it was the best finish by an Aztec this season. In addition to Booth, Maki Kamimura also had her best career performance at La Quinta, ending up right behind Booth in second place. Two other Aztecs posted top-20 finishes this fall, including Jamie Oliver, who came in 11th at the TaylorMade Aztec Fall Classic and Jackie Kazarian, who tied for 19th at the Kent Youel Invite in Hawaii.

In 2004, Brown directed SDSU to a record-setting campaign, including an appearance in the NCAA regional tournament, the program's first since 2001. The Aztecs finished 15th overall at the regional, the best ever performance in SDSU women's golf postseason history.

Over the 2003-04 season, SDSU placed in the top four in six different tournaments and finished the year at No. 40 in the Golfweek rankings.

Individually, Brown helped three players break the school's all-time average scoring record, including freshman Jenna Wilson, who was named all-Mountain West Conference, only the third Aztec and first freshman so honored.

In the fall of 2003, the Aztecs saw dramatic improvement under Brown, jumping 46 spots to No. 41 in Golfstat's rankings. Included in the outstanding fall was the program's first 54-hole victory in five years at the Lady Aztec Invitational, as SDSU broke the school's team scoring record by nine strokes with a total of 878 (+14).

The Aztecs also set a school record for 36 holes at the 2003 Heather Farr Invitational with a 597 (298-299), while Wilson set an individual 54-hole record at the Lady Aztec Invite with a 211, good for medalist honors.

In her first year at the helm of the program, Brown guided the Aztecs to three second-place finishes after inheriting a team that lost its top scorer and another regular in the lineup.

Brown served as assistant coach in 2001-02, when the Aztecs claimed top-10 results in all 10 event, including a second-place finish at the 2002 Mountain West Conference Championship.

Brown is a local product who prepped at San Marcos High School, where she competed as the only female member of the boys' team.

Following high school, Brown played for one of the nation's premier collegiate programs at the University of Arizona from 1984-88, helping the Wildcats to a number of top-10 national rankings. She also earned scholar-athlete honors all four years.

After completing her bachelor's degree in 1988, Brown went on to play professionally on the Players' West Golf Tour, racking up three tournament victories and 26 top-10 finishes. She also competed on the Futures Tour from 2000-01.

Brown won the 2002 Ladies Professional Golf Association Touring and Club Professionals' Western Section and qualified for the McDonald's Championship in Wilmington, Del., one of the LPGA's four majors.

An eight-year member of the LPGA's teaching division, she possesses a Class A rating and previously served as the assistant men's golf coach from 1991-92 at Pima Community College in Tucson, Ariz.

Before joining the Aztec staff as an assistant coach in 2001, Brown worked in various capacities at the Lake San Marcos Resort and Country Club, including as a teaching professional.

Doug Barba

Assistant Coach
USIU, 1990
Fourth Season

Doug Barba is in his fourth season as assistant coach with the women's golf program.

This fall, Barba helped lead the Aztecs to an individual title at La Quinta for the second straight year and a ninth-place team finish at the TaylorMade Aztec Fall Classic.

In his first year on The Mesa in 2003-04, Barba helped direct SDSU to the program's first NCAA regional appearance since 2001. The Aztecs ended up 15th overall at the regional, the best finish in school postseason history, and were ranked 40th nationally.

He also coached SDSU to a pair of team scoring records and top-four finishes in six tournaments.

Barba was first associated with SDSU as a teacher for five years, instructing classes for SDSU's Department of Exercise and Nutritional Sciences. He earned his Ph.D with an emphasis in motor behavior and sport psychology from the University of Florida.

Barba returned to coaching after several years off. Barba assisted the University of Florida's women's golf team from 1995-98 serving as the team's sport psychology consultant. He was instrumental in helping team members with the mental aspects of the sport of golf, and under his guidance, the Gators finished second at the 1998 NCAA National Championship.

Barba played professional baseball for five seasons out of high school in the Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets organizations. After his playing days, he returned to school and earned his bachelor's and master's degree in psychology from United States International University in San Diego, which is now Alliant International University. While at USIU, Barba was also on the baseball coaching staff.

Barba and his wife, Laura, have two children, Gavin and Sam, and reside in San Diego.

Beginning its 110th academic year in fall 2006, San Diego State University can take pride in more than a century of achievement in education, research and service. With an enrollment of more than 35,000 students, SDSU has grown into the largest institution of higher education in the San Diego region and the fifth largest in California.

▶ San Diego State currently grants bachelor's degrees in 81 academic areas, master's degrees in 72 and doctoral degrees in 16.

▶ One in seven adults in San Diego holds a degree from SDSU.

▶ SDSU is No. 14 in the nation for bachelor's degrees conferred to ethnic minorities according to the June 2006 edition of Diverse Issues in Higher Education.

▶ The international business program at SDSU is the largest undergraduate international business program in the country, serving 700 students annually.

▶ SDSU is No. 9 in the nation and No. 4 in California for bachelor's degrees awarded to Hispanics according to the May 2006 issue of Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education.

▶ SDSU is No. 22 in entrepreneurship among best graduate programs according to the April 2006 edition of U.S. News & World Report.

▶ The SDSU College of Business' Entrepreneurial Management Center is a Nasdaq Center of Excellence, which places it among the top eight such programs in the nation.

▶ SDSU's joint psychology program (with UCSD) was ranked No. 89 on the U.S. News & World Report's 2004 rankings of best graduate schools.

Did You Know?

▶ San Diego State has been designated a "Research University" with high research activity by the Carnegie Foundation. This designation places SDSU among the top 200 universities conducting research in the United States.

▶ SDSU's undergraduate international business program was ranked No. 9 in the nation in August 2005 by U.S. News & World Report.

▶ San Diego State's Graduate School of Public Health is No. 1 in the continental U.S. for Hispanic graduates.

▶ SDSU's College of Education ranked No. 57 in the nation in the U.S. News & World Report's 2006 rankings of best graduate schools.

▶ San Diego State students volunteer more than three million hours annually in community service - which, if valued at minimum wage, would be a donation to the region worth more than $20 million a year.

▶ SDSU is the first U.S. university to offer an transnational triple degree program in international business. In fact, SDSU has the only two such programs in the country. Undergraduates earn degrees from SDSU and universities in Mexico and Canada in the CaMexUs program, or degrees from SDSU, Mexico and Chile in the TransAmerica program.

▶ The SDSU student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) is a past finalist of the National Robert Ridgeway Award and is ranked among the five best ASCE student chapters in the nation.

From the early decades of its history, San Diego State has identified itself with the Aztecs, one of the most sophisticated and distinctive societies in the history of the Western Hemisphere. A fitting choice for a university committed to internationalism and diversity, the Aztec identity evokes great pride in Mexico, as well as among many people in the United States, and certainly within the SDSU community. Consequently, San Diego State strives to honor the Aztec people by enhancing awareness, understanding and appreciation of Aztec culture and achievements.

Aztec civilization dates back to at least the 12th century A.D. The precise location is still debated by scholars, but tradition tells us of a place somewhere north of modern-day Mexico City known at that time as Aztlan, which meant "the place of the cranes" or "the place of the herons." The people who lived in this land were called Azteca meaning "those of Aztlan." The Azteca eventually left their homeland and became known as the Mexica. Native folklore attributes this name change to the instructions of the people's patron deity, Huitzilopochtli (Hummingbird on the Left).

Around 1325, the Mexica settled on an island in Lake Texcoco, an area that is now the heart of Mexico City, and named it Tenochtitlan or "the place of the fruit of the cactus." A century later, the Mexica and two other Nahuatl-speaking city-states, Texcoco and Tlacopan, combined to create an entity popularly known as the Aztec Empire.

Boasting a strong military force, this new alliance commanded a sphere of influence that stretched across much of present-day Mexico.

Tenochtitlan and its surrounding valley evolved into a highly sophisticated, multicultural and multilingual city-state of several million inhabitants. At this same time, major European cities numbered only 30,000 to 40,000 in population. A cradle of innovation, the Aztec Empire developed advanced systems of trade, science, politics, religion, education and agriculture. The Aztecs also enjoyed sports and built grand ballcourts to accommodate team events. Aztecs and SDSU

San Diego State University first adopted the Aztec name in the 1920s as a nickname for the college's sports teams. In 1925, the student newspaper followed suit, changing its name from The Paper Lantern to The Aztec. Since that time, San Diego State's celebration of Aztec heritage has permeated the campus. In 1936, a Donald Hord sculpture of Montezuma II, the last Aztec emperor, became a welcoming campus icon. With the passing years, Aztec themes echoed in the names, colors and architectural elements of new campus buildings. And Aztec culture became the subject of more than a dozen university courses.

In 1941, Monty Montezuma, a character based on Montezuma II, debuted at San Diego State athletic events as a symbolic personification of the Aztecs. Over time, the Montezuma character's look and activities have evolved from a sports mascot into a more dignified and accurate representation of the historical emperor. Montezuma now serves as the university's ambassador of Aztec culture, charged with the responsibility of informing and educating the San Diego community about Aztec civilization. SDSU continues to take pride in its affiliation with Aztec culture and to celebrate the Aztec virtues of strength, valor and intellectual achievement.

Dr. Stephen L. Weber
University President

Stephen L. Weber, the seventh president of San Diego State University, provides dynamic leadership to an institution that ranks among the largest in the nation. Educated as a philosopher, President Weber began his tenure at SDSU in July 1996 and shortly afterward initiated a broad-based dialogue intended to set the course for the university's future.

Under President Weber's guidance, students, faculty, staff, alumni, and community leaders participated in shaping this "Shared Vision." SDSU is now moving boldly ahead toward goals set by those discussions: reinforcing academic excellence, nurturing students, honoring diversity and social justice, carefully stewarding resources, and further developing global programs.

In the process, SDSU has become an increasingly popular and selective choice among college-bound students. For fall 2006, some 52,000 undergraduate applicants competed for 8,707 vacancies. Not surprising, the overall academic quality of SDSU students is also rising. In addition, alumni involvement and private financial support of the university have never been stronger.

A champion of community involvement as well as academic excellence, President Weber has been an advocate for community service. Leading by example, he is a past chair of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Board of Directors and co-chair of Partners for K-12 School Reform. He also serves on the boards of governors of The Peres Center for Peace and the San Diego Foundation, and on the boards of directors of the San Diego Regional Economic Development Corporation and the San Diego Science and Technology Council. He co-chairs the College Presidents Forum of the San Diego County Policy Panel on Youth Access to Alcohol.

President Weber is a member of the international advisory board for the Foundation for Children of the Californias, the advisory council of the San Diego Performing Arts League, the Community Advisory Board of Union Bank of California, and the advisory board for San Diego Gas & Electric (SDG&E).

He serves on the National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) Division I Board of Directors and served on the Presidential Oversight Committee for the Bowl Championship Series. He is a member of the San Diego Rotary Club, an honorary director of the Japan Society of San Diego and Tijuana, and an honorary advisor to the Asia Desk of the San Diego World Trade Center.

Born in Boston, President Weber is a graduate of Bowling Green University with a B.A. in philosophy. He received his Ph.D. in philosophy from the University of Notre Dame in 1969 and is the author of numerous articles on philosophy and higher education.

President Weber's many awards include an honorary degree from Beijing Capital Normal University, and distinguished alumnus at his alma mater, Bowling Green University. He was named among the 1997 Headliners of the Year by the San Diego Press Club. Also in 1997, the San Diego Mediation Center honored him with its Peacemaker Award. In 1999, President Weber received the Executive Director's Award from the San Diego Education Association and the Gold Key Award from the San Diego Hospitality Association. He was recognized as a Leader of Vision by the league of Women Voters of San Diego in 2000.

Before coming to San Diego State University, President Weber served as interim provost of the State University of New York (SUNY); he previously served seven years as president of the SUNY Oswego campus. Prior to that, he was vice president of academic affairs at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota, dean of arts and sciences at Fairfield University in Connecticut, and assistant to the president of the University of Maine. While a faculty member at the University of Maine, he was recognized as the outstanding professor in humanities.

President Weber is married to Susan Keim Weber, who shares his enthusiastic commitment to SDSU. They have two sons.

Jeff Schemmel
Director of Athletics

Jeff Schemmel, who brings a wealth of experience, a history of success and new expectations to Montezuma Mesa, was introduced as San Diego State's Director of Athletics on July 6, 2005.

Schemmel immediately became one of the most accomplished sitting athletic directors in the country. He is a former practicing attorney, has directed a Final Four, served as a senior administrator at Big 10 and Big 12 schools, and played a part in what might be the biggest football turnaround in the history of college athletics.

Schemmel arrived at San Diego State from Conference USA, where he had served as associate commissioner for governance and legal affairs since October of 2004. During his stay in Dallas, he helped the league negotiate television contracts with ESPN and College Sports Television that exceeded more than $100 million in revenue, and he served as a member of the NCAA Division I Management Council.

From February of 2004 to October of 2004, Schemmel was the senior vice president and executive director of development for the Arizona State University Foundation, where he oversaw that school's fundraising efforts while supervising approximately 135 employees across the Tempe campus.

Schemmel was an administrator at the University of Minnesota from 1991 to 2003. During his stay in the Twin Cities, he advanced from associate athletic director for compliance to senior associate athletic director and chief operating officer for Gopher athletics.

Along with his departmental duties, Schemmel directed the school's efforts in hosting NCAA Championship events, including the 2001 Final Four, one of America's fastest growing events.

He also supervised and implemented a $3 million capital improvement campaign, and was heavily involved in the hiring of football coach Glen Mason and men's basketball coach Dan Monson, both of whom have revitalized programs in Minneapolis.

From 1988 to 1991, Schemmel was an administrator at his alma mater, Kansas State. He served as the school's assistant athletic director for development and later was the associate athletic director for compliance while supervising the school's Olympic sports.

Schemmel was part of the management team that hired Bill Snyder as the Wildcats head football coach. Under Snyder's direction, Kansas State executed what is considered one of the greatest turnarounds in college football history. K-State had made just one bowl appearance in its history prior to Snyder's arrival, did not win a single game in the two seasons before he took over in 1989, and had just three wins in the previous four seasons. Under Snyder, the Wildcats went to a bowl game 11 times and claimed their first-ever Big 12 title.

Schemmel was a decorated runner at Kansas State and was named the 1976 outstanding student athlete at the school. As a Wildcat, he was a four-time track and field All-American, a five-time Big 8 Conference champion, was a member of a national champion distance medley relay team and won the Big 8 Conference Medallion.

He also served as an ABC Television and Time Magazine correspondent for the 1976 Summer Olympics in Montreal.

After earning his undergraduate degree in political science, Schemmel earned his law degree at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan. He began his professional career as an attorney and later was a partner in his own firm, specializing in business and sports law.

Schemmel and his wife, Lori, have been married for 29 years. They have two adult sons, Justin, and Jon, who plays minor league baseball in the New York Mets organization.

In place now on Montezuma Mesa are arguably some of the finest facilities in the United States and San Diego State is certainly among the leaders on the west coast.

The athletic department is housed in the $30 million, 130,000-square-foot Aztec Athletics Center. The centerpiece of the department, which was dedicated in February of 2002, is located just across the street from Cox Arena and just east of Tony Gwynn Stadium.

The four-story Athletics Center provides state-of-the-art facilities coupled with tremendous logistical advantages and a great location for studying, workouts, treatment, academic support or just stopping by between classes.

On the south, the AAC is buffered by the Sports Deck, where San Diego State's track and field team, along with both soccer squads, compete.

On the north side, it is connected to Peterson Gym, the home of Aztec volleyball and a part-time practice facility for the Aztec basketball teams.

The west exit of the building opens onto three 100-yard practice fields. One of the fields is natural grass and two utilize field-turf, providing San Diego

State daily options for its workouts.

A state-of-the-art weight room, encompassing more than 15,000 square feet, is located on the first floor of the building. It includes a running track for indoor timing.

The sports medicine center and equipment operations are also located on the first floor and help provide incredible convenience to the locker rooms, weight room and other practice facilities.

A first-floor auditorium that seats more than 200 has already been the site of major news conferences, watch parties and public forums.

Each varsity sport, with the exception of the baseball squad which has a clubhouse at Tony Gwynn Stadium, has a plush locker room on the first floor of the building. The locker rooms include a lounge, television area and oak lockers.

The academic center, complete with two lecture halls, private tutorial rooms, and a new computer lab, is housed on the third floor. The computer lab and study areas are flanked by academic counselors, tutor offices and learning specialists.

The third floor is also home to the athletic administration and the men's and women's basketball staffs.

Women's golf coaches' offices and more administration offices are located on the fourth floor of the building, along with a recruiting lounge and a staff lunch room.

The Athletics Center also overlooks Tony Gwynn Stadium, the brand new softball and tennis complexes and the future site of the new pool that will be the home of the swimming and water polo teams.

All of SDSU's facilities, including the athletics center, Cox Arena, Tony Gwynn Stadium, the Sports Deck, the tennis complex and softball stadium have opened since 1997.

The entrance lobby of the Aztec Athletics Center houses the 5,000-square-foot Aztec Hall of Fame, presented by the Wise Foundation. The museum is the first permanent home of the Hall of Fame and features displays, informative kiosks, interactive video trivia games and a plaque commemorating the induction of each Hall of Fame member. Included in the Hall of Fame is women's golfer Barbara Barrow.

Aztec Athletics Center Quick Facts

1. State-of-the-art 15,000 square-foot weight room.
2. Aztec Hall of Fame features every Aztec inductee, team and individual awards.
3. The auditorium has been the site of major news conferences.
4. Includes a computer lab with 25 stations and 20 mentors/tutors.

Salt Creek

Barona Creek

Mt. Woodson

Singing Hills

Salt Creek (Formerly The Auld Course)

Lying within the magnificent foothills of Mt. Miguel, this traditional John Cook and Cary Bickler designed course features 18 truly distinctive holes with five sets of tees, panoramic ocean and mountain views and acres of wetlands. Salt Creek (formerly The Auld Course,) which served as the site of the 2003 to 2006 Aztec Fall Classic, provides an unmatched golfing experience with its ideal setting.

Barona Creek

An award-winning $12 million golf course, Barona Creek takes advantage of the natural beauty and contours of the Barona Indian Reservation. The Barona course offers dramatic changes in elevation and stunning views of the surrounding valley. Designed Gary Roger Baird Design International, the par 72, 7,088-yard course boasts nearly 100 bunkers, and a series of lakes and ponds, that put a premium on shot-making.

Cottonwood

Cottonwood offers two 18-hole mature tree-lined tournament-quality courses that allow the SDSU golf team to work on a variety of shots. The Ivanhoe Course allows the Aztecs to use every club in the bag with the tree-lined fairways placing a premium on accuracy. The Monte Vista Course is more wide open but still challenging due to its length. Both courses offer memorable scenic beauty plus the playability and feel of the classic traditional courses.

Mt. Woodson

With breathtaking mountain and valley views, Mt. Woodson offers challenging play in one of the region's most dramatic golf course settings. Set amidst ancient towering oaks, huge granite boulders and sparkling lakes, the course is considered one of San Diego's best and most scenic. This beautifully maintained classic 18-hole Schmidt/Curley design was patterned after more traditional courses where shot-making is at a premium.

Rancho Bernardo

Rancho Bernardo Inn and Country Club is an 18-hole championship course designed by William Bell, Jr. It is a par-72 course that plays to 6,877 yards. The Aztecs find this a good course for practicing because it allows them the opportunity to score and show low numbers. It also has excellent greens.

Steele Canyon

Steele Canyon Golf Club is the home of three 18-hole courses designed by Gary Player, Canyon/Ranch (par 71, 6,741 yards), Ranch/Meadow (par 71, 6,808 yards) and Meadow/Canyon (par 72, 6,479 yards). Steele Canyon offers the Aztecs the opportunity to practice on difficult driving holes as well as short-game technique.

Singing Hills Resort

Singing Hills Resort is the site of two 18-hole, par 72 courses, Oak Glen (6,597 yards) and Willow Glen (6,605). Singing Hills allows San Diego State the opportunity to work on its short game.

The dual role of student and athlete can be a daunting challenge for any person at the Division I level. Recognizing that academic challenge, the Student Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) program has been developed at San Diego State to assist all student-athletes in achieving academic excellence.

It is a source of pride within San Diego State athletics that the department has developed one of the most comprehensive academic support programs in the country.

The SAASS staff includes a director, a learning specialist, four academic advisors, the department's director of compliance, an eligibility coordinator, a financial aid coordinator as well as a recruitment coordinator.

In addition to the full-time staff, the department employs more than 20 mentors and tutors.

Collectively, they operate a program that enhances each student's satisfactory progress toward graduation.

Throughout the academic year, advisors offer a variety of services to aid individuals in the development of their personal goals and the blueprint for pursuing those goals.

All new student-athletes are invited to an orientation that helps lay the foundation for future successes. Each advisor teaches a section of the University's Freshman Success course (General Studies 100), which deals with specific transition issues for student-athletes. Topics include time management, study skills and test taking.

In addition, the course also introduces new students to services such as the Love Library, University Advising Center, Career Services, Health Services and the counseling center.

In the fall of 2001, the academic unit joined the rest of the athletic department in moving into the new $30 million, 130,000-square-foot Aztec Athletics Center. The academic staff is located on the third floor of the complex and includes a 40-station computer lab, individual study rooms and two lecture rooms.

San Diego State's annual Scholar-Athlete Awards Banquet honors students with a grade-point average in excess of 3.2. In 2006, 206 student-athletes, more than one-third of the student-athlete body, were honored for their work in the classroom.

A new event was launched in 2005 with the inaugural Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) Awards. SDSU's student-athletes were treated to an awards banquet to recognize outstanding individual achievements throughout the athletic department.

To further increase the opportunities for success, San Diego State is part of the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The curriculum of Aztec PRIDE (Promoting Responsibility, Integrity, Diversity, Education) offers a wide range of programs and activities that enhance the educational experience. Special emphasis is placed on the areas of personal development, community service and career development.

In conjunction with SAAC, the Life Skills Program represents SDSU's total commitment to enhancing the quality of each student's experience.

This past year at the SAAC awards, 91 Big Red awards (GPA above 3.2) along with 100 Monty Awards (GPA above 3.5) were handed out to student-athletes.

From its inception in 1999, the Mountain West Conference has been committed to excellence in intercollegiate athletics, while promoting the academic missions of its member institutions. Progressive in its approach, the MWC continues to cultivate opportunities for student-athletes to compete at the highest level, while fostering academic achievement and sportsmanship. The MWC has been assertive in its involvement with the NCAA governance structure and has taken a leadership role in the overall administration of intercollegiate athletics.

The MWC is noted for its geographic diversity. Some of the most beautiful terrain and landscapes in the nation can be found within Mountain West Conference boundaries, including the majestic Rocky Mountain range, which borders four MWC schools (Utah, BYU, Air Force and Colorado State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,220 feet – the highest Division I campus in the nation) contrast with the desert city of Las Vegas (the fastest growing metropolitan area in the West) and the Pacific Ocean locale of San Diego State. The southwestern flavor of New Mexico complements the western heritage and culture of Fort Worth, Texas, home of the MWC's newest member, TCU.

The MWC was conceived on May 26, 1998, when the presidents of eight institutions — Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV, Utah and Wyoming — decided to form a new NCAA Division I-A intercollegiate athletic conference.

The split from the former 16-team Western Athletic Conference re-established continuity and stability among the membership within the new league and signaled the continuation of its tradition-rich, long-standing athletic rivalries. Five of the MWC's eight members have been conference rivals since the 1960s (Brigham Young, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado State), while San Diego State (1978) and Air Force (1980) were longtime members as well. UNLV entered the fold in 1996 and TCU began its first year of competition in 2005-06.

A new era begins in the fall of 2006 as College Sports Television (CSTV) becomes the official television partner for the Conference. The MWC forged a potential 14-year agreement with CSTV, giving the fastest-growing independent cable network exclusive rights to Mountain West Conference football and men's basketball, plus coverage for all other MWC sports. With a "fans first" focus, CSTV has assured that MWC constituents will see more MWC sports at more convenient times and in more media platforms than ever before.

The agreement incorporates all Conference-related media and marketing rights, including all television, national over-the-air and satellite radio, video-on-demand, and online and broadband rights. The multimedia partnership also includes The mtn., the first-ever regional sports network dedicated solely to an intercollegiate athletic conference.

The MWC has produced over 425 All-America selections among its 19 sponsored sports in the last seven years, including a league record 84 All-America honorees in 2004-05. Over 70 MWC student-athletes have also earned Academic All-America accolades in that span. The MWC has sent at least 30 teams to NCAA postseason events each of the past seven years.

Prospective Student-Athletes

Recruiting Regulations

-When do I become a prospective student-athlete? When you start classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you become a prospective student-athlete if an institution gives you (or your relatives or friends) any financial aid or other benefits that the college does not provide to all prospective students.

-When is a college considered to be recruiting me? If any coach or representative of the institution's interest approaches you (or any member of your family) about enrolling and participating in athletics at the institution.

-Who can recruit me? Only institution coaches can recruit you. Alumni and friends of the institution are NOT permitted to contact prospective student-athletes in any way.

Official and Unofficial Visits

-How many official visits am I allowed to take and when can they begin? A prospect is limited to five official visits, which may be taken following the opening day of classes of your senior year of high school.

-Can I pay my own way to visit a college campus? You may visit an institution's campus at your own expense an unlimited number of times. This is an unofficial visit.

Phone Calls

-Who can call me on the phone and how often? Coaches are permitted to call you or your parents once a week starting July 1, following your junior year. Boosters are not permitted to call you.

-When are coaches allowed unlimited calls to me? During the five days before your official visit to the institution; on the day of a coach's off-campus contact with you; during the time beginning with the initial National Letter of Intent (NLI) signing date in your sport through the two days after the signing date.

-Can I call a coach? You may call coaches or institutions at your own expense at any time, including before July 1, following your junior year in high school (NCAA Bylaw 13.1.3.2.2).

Correspondence & Recruiting Materials

-From whom can I receive letters and beginning when? Coaches, faculty members and students (but not boosters) can send you letters, starting September 1 of your junior year in high school.

-What can an institution send me? A Division I institution may provide you with the following material: General correspondence, including letters, US Postal Service postcards and institutional note cards, and materials printed on plain white paper with blank ink; NCAA educational information, pre-enrollment information subsequent to signing a National Letter of Intent or a written offer of admissions; one athletic publication (media guide or recruiting guide), which may include only one color printing inside; official academic, admissions and student services publications or videotape produced by the institution and available to all the students; questionnaires.

-Can they send me anything prior to my junior year? Only questionnaires, summer camp brochures and NCAA educational materials.

National Letter of Intent

A national letter of intent is the official document administered by the Collegiate Commissioners Association and used by colleges to establish a commitment to attend a particular college. Once you sign a NLI with an institution, you are bound to that school for one academic year. The early signing period is a seven-day time frame during the second week of November, while the late signing period begins the second week of April and ends August 1. You may get information on the NLI by visiting their website at www.national-letter.org.
