2006 Spring Season Preview

Winning two of its four tournaments is not a bad way at all for SDSU to kick off the 2005-06 season.

SDSU took home the team title in both the La Quinta Inn & Suites Shootout and the Lady Aztec Invitational. In the La Quinta Shootout, the team title wasn't the only first-place finish for the Aztecs. Redshirt freshman Megan McLeod (Fallbrook Calif.) also won the individual crown as well. McLeod dominated the tournament, as she led all golfers on the first day of action and was the daily leader after two rounds of play.

McLeod wasn't alone in posting low scores during fall competition. Senior Heather MacRae (Dunblane, Scotland) had three, top-10 finishes this fall and MacRae was also the top golfer for SDSU in three tournaments.

"I was pleased with the effort. We showed a lot of depth," said fourth-year head coach Felicia Brown. "I expected a certain level of performance from MacRae and I got that. Maki (Kamimura) and Heather (Wilson) were both pleasant surprises. If we had stayed healthy, we would have been rock solid."

The leader for the Aztecs came into this fall with some momentum. This past summer, MacRae won the Ladies' British Open Amateur Stroke Play Championship in Narin, England. MacRae, who made the decision along with Brown to redshirt last season, is looking to end her tenure at SDSU on a winning note.

"Heather has come back playing better than she has ever played," Brown said. "She looks like she's going to continue that trend. Heather and Megan (McLeod) are going to be a tough combination. If somebody keeps pace with those two, and I believe that other players on this team have that kind of talent, we'll be really good. They're all talking about

Megan McLeod

McLeod enters the spring season with a tournament title already under her belt.

Heather MacRae

After winning an amateur national championship in England this summer, MacRae now leads the Aztecs in her final season at SDSU.

going to nationals - that's their goal."

The spring squad also consists of a group of sophomores who had a strong first season and now have a year of experience under their belts. The sophomores will have to contend with a hungry group of freshmen who wasted no time in jumping right into the action, competing to play in the opening tournament of the fall.

Three sophomores and seven freshmen make up most of the young team, with two seniors and a junior. Although it is a young team, everyone on the squad is talented enough to earn a shot to play.

"All of the returners have worked really hard and they've got a year under their belt," said Brown. "Basically, my No. 1 player last year is going to be playing two or three this year, which is great. It's really been fun and a joy to watch."

Another Aztec who finished last spring's season on a high note is junior Jamie Oliver (Los Alamitos, Calif.), who only competed in two tournaments in the fall. In the Lady Aztec, Oliver finished with the third-best Aztec score, while finishing 13th overall.

Last spring, Oliver's top two performances came during the season's final pair of tournaments, when she was the team's top individual finisher. At the BYU Dixie Classic, Oliver tied for 13th out of 78 golfers and carded a 159 (+15). Oliver had her best finish of the season at the 2005 Mountain West Conference Championships, finishing in seventh place out of 30 golfers with a score of 226 (+8).

The bulk of the team comes from the returning core of sophomores, including, Anna Booth (Coffs Harbour, Australia), MacKenzie Swecker (Winnemucca, Nev.), Jackie Kazarian (Dana Point, Calif.) and redshirt freshman Amanda Egan (Benicia, Calif.).

"MacKenzie is extremely talented mechanically and athletically," Brown said. "She is the most gifted athlete that I have ever coached. I think she could play any sport that she wanted."

Kazarian, who did not compete this fall, had a strong start to the spring season in 2005, leading the Aztecs in the first two tournaments. In the Bay Area Classic, she finished 16th out of 70 and carded a 158 (+14). The following tournament, the Donnis Thompson Invitational, Kazarian led all Aztecs, scoring a 256 (+40) and tied for 18th out of 49. She also followed up Oliver at the MWC championships, coming in 15th with a 160 (+16).

Adding to SDSU's depth is a group of incoming freshmen. Freshmen Heather Wilson (Chula Vista, Calif.) and Maki Kamimura (West Covina, Calif.) both finished third and fourth respectively overall for SDSU in the fall in stroke average. Wilson and Kamimura are two Aztecs Brown was pleased to see play so well in the fall. There's no doubt that Brown hopes for a repeat performance in the spring.

The other newcomers include Alana Erlandson (Palm Desert, Calif.), Petra Cole (San Diego, Calif.), and Ashley Wood (Lake Tahoe, Calif.).

"Our freshmen are really solid, Brown said. "It was a good showing for them to come out and do what they did."

SDSU will compete in four tournaments this spring. It opens up the campaign with a tournament at Fresno State, followed by a tournament at UNLV and the Oregon Duck Invitational. The Aztecs finish the regular season at the BYU Dixie Classic.

"The most competitive tournament will be the one at BYU," Brown said. "It will be the same course for the conference tournament. New Mexico and UNLV will be competing and they are currently both in the top 20."

"The most important tournament for us to play well in will be Fresno. If we can beat the teams in that field, our regional ranking will go up."

Maki Kamimura

Kamimura is one of the new Aztecs who already made a big impact for SDSU, helping with its success in the fall season.

Felicia Brown

Head Coach ► Fourth Season
Arizona, 1988

A former collegiate and professional golfer, Felicia Brown begins her fifth season in the San Diego State women's golf program and her fourth as the Aztecs' head coach.

This past fall, Brown led SDSU to two tournament victories, including at its home event, the Lady Aztec Invitational. The Aztecs took both the team and the individual titles in their other victory, the La Quinta Inn & Suites Shootout.

Two years ago, Brown directed SDSU to a record-setting campaign, including an appearance in the NCAA regional tournament, the program's first since 2001. The Aztecs finished 15th overall at the regional, the best ever performance in SDSU women's golf postseason history.

Over the 2003-04 season, SDSU placed in the top four in six different tournaments and finished the year at No. 40 in the Golfweek rankings.

Individually, Brown helped three players break the school's all-time average scoring record, including freshman Jenna Wilson, who was named all-Mountain West Conference, only the third Aztec and first freshman so honored.

In the fall of 2003, the Aztecs saw dramatic improvement under Brown, jumping 46 spots to No. 41 in Golfstat's rankings. Included in the outstanding fall was the program's first 54-hole victory in five years at the Lady Aztec Invitational, as SDSU broke the school's team scoring record by nine strokes with a total of 878 (+14).

The Aztecs also set a school record for 36 holes at the 2003 Heather Farr Invitational with a 597 (298-299), while Wilson set an individual 54-hole record at the Lady Aztec Invite with a 211, good for medalist honors.

In her first year at the helm of the program, Brown guided the Aztecs to three second-place finishes after inheriting a team that lost its top scorer and another regular in the lineup.

Brown served as assistant coach in 2001-02, when the Aztecs claimed top-10 results in all 10 events including a second-place finish at the 2002 Mountain West Conference Championship.

Brown is a local product who prepped at San Marcos High School, where she competed as the only female member of the boys' team.

Following high school, Brown played for one of the nation's premiere collegiate programs at the University of Arizona from 1984-88, helping the Wildcats to a number of top-10 national rankings. She also earned scholar-athlete honors all four years.

After completing her bachelor's degree in 1988, Brown went on to play professionally on the Players' West Golf Tour, racking up three tournament victories and 26 top-10 finishes. She also competed on the Futures

Tour from 2000-01.

Brown won the 2002 Ladies Professional Golf Association Touring and Club Professionals' Western Section and qualified for the McDonald's Championship in Wilmington, Del., one of the LPGA's four majors.

An eight-year member of the LPGA's teaching division, she possesses a Class A rating and previously served as the assistant men's golf coach from 1991-92 at Pima Community College in Tucson, Ariz.

Before joining the Aztec staff as an assistant coach in 2001, Brown worked in various capacities at the Lake San Marcos Resort and Country Club, including as a teaching professional.

Doug Barba

Assistant Coach ► Third Season
USIU, 1990

Doug Barba is in his third season as assistant coach with the women's golf program.

This fall, Barba helped guide SDSU to two tournament wins, and one individual crown.

In his first year on The Mesa in 2003-04, Barba helped direct SDSU to the program's first NCAA regional appearance since 2001. The Aztecs ended up 15th overall at the regional, the best finish in school postseason history, and were ranked 40th nationally.

He also coached SDSU to a pair of team scoring records and top-four finishes in six tournaments.

Barba was first associated with SDSU as a teacher for five years, instructing classes for SDSU's Department of Exercise and Nutritional Sciences. He earned his doctorate of philosophy with an emphasis in motor behavior and sport psychology from the University of Florida.

Barba returned to coaching after several years off. Barba assisted the University of Florida's women's golf team from 1995-98 serving as the team's sport psychology consultant. He was instrumental in helping team members with the mental aspects of the sport of golf, and under his guidance the Gators finished second at the 1998 NCAA National Championship.

Barba played professional baseball for five seasons out of high school in the Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets organizations. After his playing days, he returned to school and earned his bachelor's and master's degree in psychology from United States International University in San Diego, which is now Alliant International University. While at USIU, Barba was also on the baseball coaching staff.

Barba and his wife, Laura, have two children, Gavin and Sam, and reside in San Diego.

The University

Beginning its 109th academic year in fall 2005, San Diego State University can take pride in more than a century of achievement in education, research and service. With an enrollment of more than 33,000 students, SDSU has grown into the largest institution of higher education in the San Diego region and one of the largest in California.

- San Diego State currently grants bachelor's degrees in 81 academic areas, master's degrees in 72 and doctoral degrees in 16.
- One in seven adults in San Diego holds a degree from San Diego State.
- SDSU is No. 15 in the nation for bachelor's degrees conferred to ethnic minorities according to the June 2004 edition of Black Issues in Higher Education.
- SDSU's undergraduate international business program was ranked No. 7 in the nation in August 2004 by U.S. News & World Report. SDSU was also ranked No. 26 in entrepreneurship among best graduate programs in April 2005, by the same magazine.

- SDSU is No. 9 in the nation and No. 4 in California for bachelor's degrees awarded to Hispanics according to the May 2005 issue of Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education.
- The School of Accountancy was the first and one of only four accredited accounting programs in California. Student test scores on the CPA exam consistently rank among the top five in the nation.
- The SDSU College of Business' Entrepreneurial Management Center is a Nasdaq Center of Excellence, which places it among the top eight such programs in the nation
- Increasingly recognized for innovative research, San Diego State University has achieved the prestigious Doctoral/Research University-Intensive designation. This is granted by the Carnegie Foundation to the top 6.7 percent of the nation's research-conducting universities. Since 2000, SDSU faculty and staff have attracted more than $600 million in grants and contracts for research and program administration. SDSU ranks among the top 100 public universities nationwide in research expenditures, and SDSU's research funding has doubled from a decade ago.
- In 2002, SDSU was ranked among the 31 hottest and trendiest universities in the nation according to Kaplan's Annual National High School Guidance Counselor Survey.
- Recently completed facilities, totaling more than $200 million in value, include Cuicacalli, a dining and residence complex; the Chemical Sciences Laboratory, a showcase of leading-edge laboratories and infrastructure; a

2,458-space parking structure, the largest in the California State University system; and the Aztec Athletics Center, housing coaches' offices, training facilities and the Wise Foundation Hall of Fame. This past July also marked the long-awaited completion of the SDSU trolley station and tunnel, part of the Metropolitan Transit Development Board's Mission Valley East extension of the San Diego Trolley system.

Aztec Culture

From the early decades of its history, San Diego State has identified itself with the Aztecs, one of the most sophisticated and distinctive societies in the history of the Western Hemisphere. A fitting choice for a university committed to internationalism and diversity, the Aztec identity evokes great pride in Mexico, as well as among many people in the United States, and certainly within the SDSU community. Consequently, San Diego State strives to honor the Aztec people by enhancing awareness, understanding and appreciation of Aztec culture and achievements.

Aztec History

Aztec civilization dates back at least to the 12th century A.D. The precise location is still debated by scholars, but tradition tells us of a place somewhere north of modern-day Mexico City known at that time as Aztlan, which meant "the place of the cranes" or "the place of the herons." The people who lived in this land were called Azteca, meaning "those of Aztlan."

Around 1325, the Mexica settled on an island in Lake Texcoco, an area that is now the heart of Mexico City, and named it Tenochtitlan or "the place of the fruit of the cactus." A century later, the Mexica and two other Nahuatl-speaking city-states, Texcoco and Tlacopan, combined to create an entity popularly known as the Aztec Empire. Boasting a strong military force, this new alliance commanded a sphere of influence that stretched across much of present-day Mexico. Tenochtitlan and its surrounding valley evolved into a highly sophisticated, multicultural and multilingual city-state of several million inhabitants. At this same time, major European cities numbered only 30,000 to 40,000 in population. A cradle of innovation, the Aztec Empire developed advanced systems of trade, science, politics, religion, education and agriculture. The Aztecs also enjoyed sports and built grand ballcourts to accommodate team events.

Aztecs and SDSU

San Diego State University first adopted the Aztec name in the 1920s as a nickname for the college's sports teams. In 1925, the student newspaper followed suit, changing its name from The Paper Lantern to The Aztec. Since that time, San Diego State's celebration of Aztec heritage has permeated the campus. In 1936, a Donald Hord sculpture of Montezuma II, the last Aztec emperor, became a welcoming campus icon. With the passing years, Aztec themes echoed in the names, colors and architectural elements of new campus buildings. And Aztec culture became the subject of more than a dozen university courses.

In 1941, Monty Montezuma, a character based on Montezuma II, debuted at San Diego State athletic events as a symbolic personification of the Aztecs. Over time, the Montezuma character's look and activities have evolved from a sports mascot into a more dignified and accurate representation of the historical emperor. Montezuma now serves as the university's ambassador of Aztec culture, charged with the responsibility of informing and educating the San Diego community about Aztec civilization. SDSU continues to take pride in its affiliation with Aztec culture and to celebrate the Aztec virtues of strength, valor and intellectual achievement.

Administration

Dr. Stephen Weber
University President

Stephen L. Weber, the seventh president of San Diego State University, provides dynamic leadership to an institution that ranks among the largest in the nation and third largest in California. Educated as a philosopher, President Weber began his tenure at SDSU in July 1996 and shortly afterward initiated a broad-based dialog intended to set the course for the University's future.

Under President Weber's guidance, students, faculty, staff, alumni and community leaders participated in shaping this "Shared Vision." SDSU is now moving boldly ahead toward goals set by those discussions: reinforcing academic excellence, nurturing students, honoring diversity and social justice, carefully stewarding resources and further developing global programs.

A champion of community involvement as well as academic excellence, President Weber has been an advocate for community service. Leading by example, he is immediate past chair of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Board of Directors and co-chairs Partners for K-12 School Reform. He also serves on the boards of governors of The Peres Center for Peace and the San Diego Foundation, and on the boards of directors of the San Diego Regional Economic Development Corporation, the San Diego Science and Technology Council, and the California Healthcare Institute. He co-chairs the College Presidents Forum of the San Diego County Policy Panel on Youth Access to Alcohol.

In addition, President Weber is a member of the international advisory board for the Foundation for Children of the Californias, the advisory council of the San Diego Performing Arts League, and the honorary advisory board of the San Diego Science Alliance. He is a member of the San Diego Rotary Club, an honorary director of the Japan Society of San Diego and Tijuana, and a member of the advisory board for Bahcesehir University in Turkey.

Born in Boston, President Weber is a graduate of Bowling Green University with a B.A. in philosophy. He received his Ph.D. in philosophy from the University of Notre Dame in 1969 and is the author of numerous articles on philosophy and higher education.

President Weber's many awards include an honorary degree from Beijing Capital Normal University. He was named among the 1997 Headliners of the Year by the San Diego Press Club. Also in 1997, the San Diego Mediation Center honored him with its Peacemaker Award. In 1999, President Weber received the Executive Director's Award from the San Diego Education Association and the Gold Key Award from the San Diego Hospitality Association. He was recognized as a Leader of Vision by the League of Women Voters of San Diego in 2000.

Before coming to SDSU, President Weber served as interim provost of the State University of New York (SUNY). He also served seven years as president of the SUNY Oswego campus. Prior to that he was vice president of academic affairs at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota, dean of arts and sciences at Fairfield University in Connecticut, and assistant to the president of the University of Maine. While a faculty member at the University of Maine, he was recognized as the outstanding professor in humanities.

President Weber is married to Susan Keim Weber, who shares his enthusiastic commitment to SDSU. They have two sons.

Jeff Schemmel
Director of Athletics

Jeff Schemmel, who brings a wealth of experience, a history of success and new expectations to Montezuma Mesa, was introduced as San Diego State's Director of Athletics on July 6, 2005.

Schemmel immediately becomes one of the most accomplished sitting athletic directors in the country. He is a former practicing attorney, has directed a Final Four, served as a senior administrator at Big 10 and Big 12 schools, and played a part in what might be the biggest football turnaround in the history of college athletics.

Schemmel arrived at SDSU from Conference USA, where he had served as associate commissioner for governance and legal affairs since October of 2004. During his stay in Dallas, he helped the league negotiate television contracts with ESPN and College Sports Television that exceeded more than $100 million in revenue, and he served as a member of the NCAA Division I Management Council.

From February of 2004 to October of 2004, Schemmel was the senior vice president and executive director of development for the Arizona State University Foundation, where he oversaw that school's fundraising efforts while supervising approximately 135 employees across the Tempe campus.

Schemmel was an administrator at the University of Minnesota from 1991 to 2003. During his stay in the Twin Cities he advanced from associate athletic director for compliance to senior associate athletic director and chief operating officer for Gopher athletics.

Along with his departmental duties, Schemmel directed the school's efforts in hosting NCAA Championship events, including the 2001 Final Four, one of America's fastest growing events.

He also supervised and implemented a $3 million capital improvement campaign, and was heavily involved in the hiring of football coach Glen Mason and men's basketball coach Dan Monson, both of whom have revitalized programs in Minneapolis.

From 1988 to 1991, Schemmel was an administrator at his alma mater, Kansas State. He served as the school's assistant athletic director for development and later was the associate athletic director for compliance while supervising the school's Olympic sports.

Schemmel was part of the management team that hired Bill Snyder as the Wildcat head football coach. Under Snyder's direction, Kansas State executed what is considered one of the greatest turnarounds in college football history. K-State had made just one bowl appearance in its history prior to Snyder's arrival, did not win a single game in the two seasons before he took over in 1989, and had just three wins in the previous four seasons. Under Snyder, the Wildcats have been to 11 bowl games and claimed their first-ever Big 12 title.

Schemmel was a decorated runner at Kansas State and was named the 1976 outstanding student athlete at the school. As a Wildcat, he was a four-time track and field All-American, a five-time Big 8 Conference champion, was a member of a national champion distance medley relay team and won the Big 8 Conference Medallion.

He also served as an ABC Television and Time Magazine correspondent for the 1976 Summer Olympics in Montreal.

After earning his undergraduate degree in political science, Schemmel earned his law degree at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan. He began his professional career as an attorney and later was a partner in his own firm, specializing in business and sports law.

Schemmel and his wife, Lori, have been married for 28 years. They have two adult sons, Justin, and Jon, who plays minor league baseball in the New York Mets organization.

Aztec Athletics Center

In place now on Montezuma Mesa are arguably some of the finest facilities in the United States and San Diego State is certainly among the leaders on the west coast.

The athletic department is now housed in the $30 million, 130,000-square-foot Aztec Athletics Center. The new centerpiece of the department, which was dedicated in February of 2002, is located just across the street from Cox Arena and just east of Tony Gwynn Stadium.

The four-story Athletics Center provides state-of-the-art facilities coupled with tremendous logistical advantages and a great location for studying, workouts, treatment, academic support or just stopping by between classes.

On the south, the AAC is buffered by the new Sports Deck, where San Diego State's track and field team, along with both soccer squads, compete.

On the north side, it is connected to Peterson Gym, the home of Aztec volleyball and a part-time practice facility for the Aztec basketball teams.

The west exit of the building opens onto three 100-yard practice fields. One of the fields is natural grass and two utilize field-turf, providing San Diego State daily options for its workouts.

A state-of-the-art weight room, encompassing more than 15,000 square feet, is located on the first floor of the building. It includes a running track for indoor timing.

The sports medicine center and equipment operations are also located on the first floor and help provide incredible convenience to the locker rooms, weight room and other practice facilities.

A first-floor auditorium that seats more than 200 has already been the site of major news conferences, watch parties and public forums.

Each varsity sport, with the exception of the baseball squad which has a clubhouse at Tony Gwynn Stadium, has a plush locker room on the first floor of the building. The locker rooms include a lounge and television area and oak lockers.

The academic center, complete with two lecture halls, private tutorial rooms, and a new computer lab, is housed on the third floor. The computer lab and study areas are flanked by academic counselors, tutor offices and learning specialists.

The third floor is also home to the athletic administration and the men's and women's basketball staffs.

Women's golf coaches offices and more administration offices are located on the fourth floor of the building, along with a recruiting lounge and a staff lunch room.

The Athletics Center also overlooks Tony Gwynn Stadium, the brand new softball and tennis complexes and the future site of the new pool that will be the home of the swimming and water polo teams.

All of SDSU's facilities, including the athletics center, Cox Arena, Tony Gwynn Stadium, the Sports Deck, the tennis complex and softball stadium have opened since 1997.

The entrance lobby of the Aztec Athletics Center houses the 5,000-square-foot Aztec Hall of Fame, presented by the Wise Foundation. The museum is the first permanent home of the Hall of Fame and features displays, informative kiosks, interactive video trivia games and a plaque commemorating the induction of each Hall of Fame member. Included in the Hall of Fame is women's golfer Barbara Barrow.

Aztec Athletics Center Quick Facts

1. State-of-the-art 15,000 square-foot weight room.
2. Aztec Hall of Fame features every Aztec inductee, team and individual awards.
3. The auditorium has been the site of major news conferences.
4. Includes a computer lab with 25 stations and 20 mentors/tutors.

Aztec Home Courses

The Auld Course

Lying within the magnificent foothills of Mt. Miguel, this traditional John Cook and Cary Bickler designed course features 18 truly distinctive holes with five sets of tees, panoramic ocean and mountain views and acres of wetlands. The Auld Course, which served as the site of the 2003-05 Lady Aztec Invitational, provides an unmatched golfing experience with its ideal setting.

Barona Creek

An award-winning $12 million golf course, Barona Creek takes advantage of the natural beauty and contours of the Barona Indian Reservation. The Barona course offers dramatic changes in elevation and stunning views of the surrounding valley. Designed Gary Roger Baird Design International, the par 72, 7,088-yard course boasts nearly 100 bunkers, and a series of lakes and ponds, that put a premium on shot-making.

Cottonwood

Cottonwood offers two 18-hole mature tree-lined tournament-quality courses that allow the SDSU golf team to work on a variety of shots. The Ivanhoe Course allows the Aztecs to use every club in the bag with the tree-lined fairways placing a premium on accuracy. The Monte Vista Course is more wide open but still challenging due to its length. Both courses offer memorable scenic beauty plus the playability and feel of the classic traditional courses.

Mt. Woodson

With breathtaking mountain and valley views, Mt. Woodson offers challenging play in one of the region's most dramatic golf course settings. Set amidst ancient towering oaks, huge granite boulders and sparkling lakes, the course is considered one of San Diego's best and most scenic. This beautifully maintained classic 18-hole Schmidt/Curley design was patterned after more traditional courses where shot-making is at a premium.

Rancho Bernardo

Rancho Bernardo Inn and Country Club is an 18-hole championship course designed by William Bell, Jr. It is a par-72 course that plays to 6,877 yards. The Aztecs find this a good course for practicing because it allows them the opportunity to score and show low numbers. It also has excellent greens.

Steele Canyon

Steele Canyon Golf Club is the home of three 18-hole courses designed by Gary Player, Canyon/Ranch (par 71, 6,741 yards), Ranch/Meadow (par 71, 6,808 yards) and Meadow/Canyon (par 72, 6,479 yards). Steele Canyon offers the Aztecs the opportunity to practice on difficult driving holes as well as short-game technique.

Singing Hills Resort

Singing Hills Resort is the site of two 18-hole, par 72 courses, Oak Glen (6,597 yards) and Willow Glen (6,605). Singing Hills allows San Diego State the opportunity to work on its short game.

Academic Commitment

The dual role of student and athlete can be a daunting challenge for any person at the Division I level. Recognizing that academic challenge, the Student Athlete Academic Support Services program has been developed at San Diego State to assist all student-athletes in achieving academic excellence.

It is a source of pride within San Diego State athletics that the department has developed one of the most comprehensive academic support programs in the country.

The Staff

The SAASS staff includes a learning specialist, four academic advisors, the department's director of compliance, an eligibility coordinator, a financial aid coordinator as well as a recruitment coordinator.

In addition to the full-time staff, the department employs more than 20 mentors and tutors.

Collectively, they operate a program that enhances each student's satisfactory progress toward graduation.

The Services

Throughout the academic year, advisors offer a variety of services to aid individuals in the development of their personal goals and the blueprint for pursuing those goals.

All new student-athletes are invited to an orientation that helps lay the foundation for future successes. Each advisor teaches a section of the University's Freshman Success course (General Studies 100), which deals with specific transition issues for student-athletes. Topics include time management, study skills and test taking. In addition, the course also introduces new students to services such as the Love Library, University Advising Center, Career Services, Health Services and the counseling center.

The Resources

In the fall of 2001, the academic unit joined the rest of the athletic department in moving into the new $30 million, 130,000-square-foot Aztec Athletics Center. The academic staff is located on the third floor of the complex and includes a new 40-station computer lab, individual study rooms and two lecture rooms.

The Commitment

San Diego State's annual Scholar-Athlete Awards Banquet honors students with a grade-point average in excess of 3.2. In 2004, 199 student-athletes, the most in school history, were honored at the Scholar-Athlete Awards Banquet and attended a San Diego Padres baseball game at PETCO Park.

Life Skills

To further increase the opportunities for success, San Diego State is part of the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The curriculum of Aztec Pride (Promoting Responsibility, Integrity, Diversity, Education) offers a wide range of programs and activities that enhance the educational experience. Special emphasis is placed on the areas of personal development, community service and career development.

In conjunction with the Student Athlete Advisory Committee, the Life Skills Program represents San Diego State's total commitment to enhancing the quality of each student's experience.

Mountain West Conference

Craig Thompson
Commissioner

Carrie Wolf
Assistant Commissioner
Championships

Becky Olson
Assistant Director of Communications

From its inception in 1999, the Mountain West Conference has been committed to excellence in intercollegiate athletics, while promoting the academic missions of its member institutions. Progressive in its approach, the MWC continues to cultivate opportunities for student-athletes to compete at the highest level, while fostering academic achievement and sportsmanship. Now in its seventh year, the MWC has been assertive in its involvement with the NCAA governance structure and has taken a leadership role in the overall administration of intercollegiate athletics.

The MWC was conceived on May 26, 1998, when the presidents of eight institutions — Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV, Utah and Wyoming — decided to form a new NCAA Division I-A intercollegiate athletic conference.

The split from the former 16-team conference re-established continuity and stability among the membership within the new league and signaled the continuation of its tradition-rich, long standing athletic rivalries. Five of the MWC's eight members have been conference rivals since the 1960's (BYU, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado State), while SDSU (1978) and Air Force (1980) were longstanding members as well. UNLV entered the fold in 1996 and TCU begins its first year of competition in 2005-06, completing the membership in the MWC as it stands today.

When the MWC officially began operations on July 1, 1999, the new league had in place a seven-year contract with ESPN, giving the broadcaster exclusive national television rights to MWC football and men's basketball; and three-year agreements to send the league's football champion to the Liberty Bowl and a second team to the Las Vegas Bowl. Thompson also arranged a third bowl tie-in each of the first three years (1999 Motor City, 2000 Silicon Valley, 2001 New Orleans) before securing a four-year deal with the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco in 2002.

The MWC established a comprehensive television package to promote its sports, anchored in a partnership with ESPN. Currently in the final year of a seven-year deal, ESPN holds exclusive rights to MWC football and men's basketball, distributing the league's football and men's basketball games through ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication via ESPN Regional Television.

Through the league's first six years, excluding institutional local packages, 574 football, volleyball, men's basketball and women's basketball events have aired on television, with 114 football games and over 100 men's basketball contests broadcast nationally.

A new era begins in the fall of 2006 as College Sports Television (CSTV) becomes the official television partner for the Conference. The MWC forged a seven-year agreement with CSTV, giving the fastest-growing independent cable network exclusive rights to MWC football and men's basketball, plus coverage for all other MWC sports.

The MWC provides a first-class athletic and academic experience for over 4,000 student-athletes each year. The past three years, nine MWC student-athletes have earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, and since the league's inception in 1999, an additional 10 student-athletes were named MWC Scholar-Athlete of the Year and awarded league-sponsored postgraduate scholarships. Two student-athletes have earned distinction as Rhodes Scholars (Jessica Mellinger, Wyoming and Delavane Diaz, Air Force).

Prospective Student-Athletes

Recruiting Regulations

-When do I become a prospective student-athlete? When you start classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you become a prospective student-athlete if an institution gives you (or your relatives or friends) any financial aid or other benefits that the college does not provide to all prospective students.

-When is a college considered to be recruiting me? If any coach or representative of the institution's interest approaches you (or any member of your family) about enrolling and participating in athletics at the institution.

-Who can recruit me? Only institution coaches and staff can recruit you. Alumni and friends of the institution are NOT permitted to contact prospective student-athletes in any way.

Official and Unofficial Visits

-How many official visits am I allowed to take and when can they begin? A prospect is limited to five official visits, which may be taken following the opening day of classes of your senior year of high school.

-Can I pay my own way to visit a college campus? You may visit an institution's campus at your own expense an unlimited number of times before your senior year of high school. This is an unofficial visit.

Phone Calls

-Who can call me on the phone and how often? Coaches are permitted to call you once in the month of March of your junior year. After this date, a coach can call you or your parents once a week starting July 1, following your junior year. Boosters are not permitted to call you.

-When are coaches allowed unlimited calls to me? During the five days before your official visit to the institution; on the day of a coach's off-campus contact with you; during the time beginning with the initial National Letter of Intent (NLI) signing date in your sport through the two days after the signing date.

-Can I call coaches collect or toll free? You may call coaches or institutions collect or use a toll free number. They may receive calls on or after July 1 after you complete your junior year in high school.

Correspondence & Recruiting Materials

-From whom can I receive letters and beginning when? Coaches, faculty members and students (but not boosters) can send you letters, starting September 1 of your junior year in high school.

-What can an institution send me? A Division I institution may provide you with the following material: General correspondence, including letters, US Postal Service postcards and institutional note cards, and materials printed on plain white paper with blank ink; NCAA educational information, pre-enrollment information subsequent to signing a National Letter of Intent or a written offer of admissions; one athletic publication (media guide or recruiting guide), which may include only one color printing inside; official academic, admissions and student services publications or videotape produced by the institution and available to all the students; questionnaires.

-Can they send me anything prior to my junior year? Only questionnaires, summer camp brochures and NCAA educational materials.

National Letter of Intent

A national letter of intent is the official document administered by the Collegiate Commissioners Association and used by colleges to establish a commitment to attend a particular college. Once you sign a NLI with an institution, you are bound to that school for one academic year. The early signing period is a seven-day time frame during the second week of November, while the late signing period begins the second week of April and ends August 1. You may get information on the NLI by visiting their website at www.national-letter.org.

More Information

If you have any questions or concerns about NCAA rules and regulation or if you have eligibility questions, please contact San Diego State's associate athletic director of compliance Jenny Bramer or assistant director of compliance Jennifer Daniels at (619) 594-3395.
