RIGHT AWAY

• Long Beach State continues a season-opening eight-game road trip after a signature early win at DePaul with a familiar but daunting foe in defending NCAA runners-up San Diego State. The Beach and Aztecs will face each other for the first time since 2021 in the 62nd meeting between the programs, one of the Top 10 matchups in the history of Beach Basketball.

• The Beach returns all five starters from a season ago, as AJ George, Jadon Jones, Aboubacar Traore, Lassina Traore and Marcus Tsohonis are all back for the Beach. Additionally, major contributors in Amari Stroud and Chayce Polynice return as well. That returning core leaves Long Beach State as one of the favorites in the conference starting the year, picked second in the Preseason Big West Coaches Poll. The Beach is also receiving votes in the Mid-Major Top 25 to open the season.

• In total, Long Beach State returns over 75 percent of their scoring a rebounding and over 90 percent of their blocked shots from a season ago, one of just a handful of about 15 programs to return over 75% of a teams scoring in the NCAA.

• Lassina Traore was selected as First Team All-Big West and was chosen the Big West Newcomer of the Year after a dominant first season at the Beach. Traore also earned NABC All-District honors, finishing the season with 17 double-doubles which ranked 9th in the nation. Traore is one of just 10 returning players in the NCAA to average a double-double a season ago, closing the year averaging 12.9 points per game and a Big West leading 10.5 rebounds per game.

• Coming out of the Ivory Coast, Long Beach State's dynamic inside duo of Aboubacar Traore and Lassina Traore ranked 1 and 2 in the rebounding for the Big West. Lassina led the league with 10.5 rebounds per game, while Aboubacar was second at 8.8 per game. Reunited over 7,000 miles apart from where they met as youth national teammates and friends in Abidjan, Côte d'Ivoire, Lassina Traore joins Aboubacar Traore at the Beach where served as the starting frontcourt in all 33 games. Both were named to the Big West Preseason All-Conference team entering the year.

NEWS & NOTES

• Rebounding was a major strength for Long Beach State in the 2023-24 season behind the two Traores. In total, Long Beach State ranked third in rebounds per game in the nation and was just one of seven programs in the NCAA to grab over 40 rebounds per game as a team.

• The Ivory Coast duo combined to record 29 double-doubles on the season, bettered only by National Player of the Year Zach Edey and Caleb Furst with 30 and national leaders Joel Soriano and David Jones of St. John's who had 32. Only Azoulas Tubelis and Oumar Ballo of #17 Arizona joined the Traores as teammates to combine for 10 or more double-doubles this season.

• Long Beach State legend Larry Anderson has joined the coaching staff as the team's third assistant. One of the "Fab Four" for the Beach that started for four straight years leading to the 2011-12 NCAA Tournament appearance, Anderson is the program's steals record holder and ranks in the Top 10 in career scoring, rebounding and assists at LBSU as one of the best all-around players to ever put on the uniform at Long Beach State.

• Under Dan Monson, Long Beach State is now 12-70 against Power 6 conference opponent foes. After Saturday's 77-73 win at DePaul, Long Beach State has won two straight games against Big East competition after a 66-65 win over Providence as part of the 2021 Wooden Legacy.

PLAYER NOTES

• A dominant season on the glass helped Lassina Traore earn multiple honors in his first season at Long Beach State after transferring from Saint Louis. Traore was named the Big West Newcomer of the Year after leading the league in rebounding at 10.5 per game and coming in second on the active team with 12.9 points per game. A second-team All-District pick, Traore also earned First-Team All-Big West honors. Traore picked up his first double-double of the season with 17 points and 11 rebounds at DePaul.

• The 17 double-doubles for Lassina Traore in 2022-23 matched the program's single-season high, set twice by T.J. Robinson. Additionally, his 347 total rebounds on the year ranked second in school history, nine fewer than the record set by Dave Jones in the 1960-61 season.

• Marcus Tsohonis is averaging 19.5 points per game for Long Beach State after scoring 22 against DePaul in the victory on the road in Chicago. Last season's leading scorer, Tsohonis has scored over 20 points for the Beach on seven occasions, and set the Long Beach State program record with 46 points at UC San Diego in 2022-23. The senior needs 40 points to reach 1,000 Division I points in his career with stops at Washington, VCU and Long Beach State.

• Aboubacar Traore avoided a sophomore slump, putting up another outstanding season in rebounding while increasing his offensive output in his second season. Traore, who set the mordern era record at LBSU with 23 rebounds in a game in 2021-22 averaged 8.8 rebounds per game while increasing his scoring to 10.1 points per game in 2022-23. Additionally, Traore took over as the team's leader in assists, finishing the year with 114 assists, an average of 3.5 per game that ranked 7th in the Big West.

• Aboubacar Traore became the 19th player in program history to record 500 career rebounds just under two seasons, and currently ranks 12th at the Beach with 567 career rebounds. Additionally, the junior is rounding into a nightly triple-double threat, and has the chance to join a legendary trio of players at the Beach who have scored 1,000 points, grabbed 500 rebounds and made 300 assists in their career.

• The 2021-22 Big West Defensive Player of the Year, Jadon Jones closed the season with 45 steals and 22 blocks, leading Long Beach State in both categories despite missing six games. Leading the Beach in 3-pointers made in 2022-23, Jones averaged 8.3 points per game as an all-around threat for the Beach. Jones became the 18th player to hit 100 3-pointers at LBSU and currently ranks 9th in program history with 147 made 3-pointers.

• The Beach has four players who are on pace to reach the 1,000 career point milestone, a club with just 24 members at Long Beach State. Junior Jadon Jones is the closest at 753 career points, though the Traores and sophomore AJ George are all also on track to reach the milestone before the end of their careers at Long Beach State.

• AJ George had an impressive debut season for the Beach. Ultimately starting 25 games, George was fifth on the team in scoring at 8.6 points per game while adding 3.1 rebounds per game and generally serving as the primary perimeter defender for the Beach. George shot .562 from the field on the year and shot 41.4 percent from distance as well. George led the Beach in scoring on three occasions and scored in double-figures in the last six games of the year.

• Senior Amari Stroud also played big role off of the bench for Long Beach State last season. Averaging 5.2 points per game, Stround increased his role in Big West action, and averaged 6.7 points and 3.8 rebounds per game in league play this season after transferring in from junior college. Stroud is an outstanding defender and active big man who complements the up-tempo pace favored by the team.

• Senior Chayce Polynice also returns for LBSU. Playing in 23 games after transferring in from the College of Southern Idaho, Poylnice averaged 3.3 points and 1.6 rebounds per game with pair of double-figure scoring contests on the year.

• Among the reserves, Jeffrey Yan has played in 47 games as he enters his sixth at the Beach, bringing a veteran presence to Long Beach State's forward depth. Son of head coach Dan Monson, Maddox Monson has also featured this season in a depth role, making the biggest impact at UC San Diego, where he made the steal and assist leading to AJ George's game-winner in triple overtime.

• Long Beach State returns two medical redshirts as well. Shaumba Ngoyi is a promising big man who lost the 2022-23 season with a preseason knee injury, while guard Jason Hart Jr. played in five games before his season ended prematurely.

• The Beach has turned to a pair of Division I transfers to help supplement the team's guard depth, part of four newcomers joining Long Beach State in 2023-24. Isa Silva was a consensus national Top 100 recruit coming out of Jesuit High School in Sacramento two seasons a year ago, and comes to the Beach after two years in the rotation with Stanford, playing 64 games with the Cardinal. Messiah Thompson also joins the Beach as a graduate transfer, having scored 902 points over four seasons in Division I with Campbell and Alabama A&M. At Alabama A&M a season ago, Thompson averaged 10.8 points per game and shot 40.8 percent from three.

• Two true freshman will also look to make an impact for Long Beach State this season. Eli Djordjevic is a 6-8 guard out of White Rock, B.C. A Canadian youth team stalwart in international competition, Djordjevic will pose a matchup problem with his size. Another guard in 6-3 freshman Varick Lewis looks to be another shooter, coming from Monterey Trail High School in Elk Grove, Calif. where he averaged over 20 points per game.

THIS AND THAT
• Long Beach State continues to have an outstanding record in the Walter Pyramid. Since the start of the 2008-09 season, the Beach has piled up a 130-41 record at home, winning nearly 80% of their games in the iconic building. Per Ken Pomeroy, Long Beach State also sports the best home court advantage in the Big West.

• Head Coach Dan Monson is the winningest coach at Long Beach State, with more victories than basketball luminaries such as Jerry Tarkanian, Tex Winter, and Seth Greenberg who have also coached at the Beach. The Beach now has over 1,000 wins in program history, with Monson having won over 250 of those games. Monson also captured his 400th career win over three stops at Gonzaga, Minnesota and the Beach Feb. 8 at home against Cal State Fullerton. Monson also claimed his fourth Big West Coach of the Year award for his efforts in leading the Beach to the 2021-22 Big West regular season title.

• The Monson family legacy continues here at the Beach, as a third generation of the family joins the coaching ranks. Dan Monson's father Don Monson was a Division I head coach as well, leading Idaho and Oregon. Now, in addition to Maddox Monson joining the program as a walk-on, MicGuire Monson is also collaborating with the coaching staff in 2022-23 as a Graduate Assistant.

• In terms of legacy, the Beach also has a pair of sons of NBA veterans on the team. Jason Hart Sr. was a standout point guard at Syracuse before a ten-year NBA career, and is currently the head coach of the NBA G-League Ignite. Olden Polynice, father of Chayce Polynice played college ball at Virginia and was a Top 10 NBA Draft Pick. Polynice then played for 15 years in the NBA, scoring over 8,000 career points with 7,000 career rebounds.

Long Beach State 77, DePaul 73

CHICAGO – Long Beach State had a 17-0 run in the first half as part of a dominant first 20 minutes, and the Beach found enough big plays from their veterans to hold off a charge from the home team in the second half to come away with a 77-73 win over DePaul.

For Long Beach State (1-1), the win in Chicago marked the second straight Big East win for the program, as the Beach defeated Providence in the last tilt of the Big East vs. Big West for LBSU.

DePaul (0-2) scored the first basket of the game, but Long Beach State answered with an 8-0 run, sparked by stifling defense that lasted through the first half as the Beach held the Blue Demons to just 24 percent shooting and only 21 points.

The big push for Long Beach State came as part of a 17-0 run capped by a transition three from Jadon Jones, giving the Beach a 33-11 lead on the way to a 37-21 halftime edge.

Long Beach State finished with a 45-28 rebounding edge, helped by 15 offensive rebounds that offset DePaul chipping away at the LBSU lead. That came in the midst of a great individual battle between Marcus Tsohonis and DePaul's Elijah Fisher, who finished with 25 points.

Tsohonis had 22 points himself, however, including 18 in the second half to help keep pace for the Beach as Depaul turned around their offensive output. A Fisher basket brought the Long Beach State lead back to single digits with just under 14 minutes to play and the cushion would hover around six for most of the rest of the contest.

An Aboubacar Traore putback kept the lead at six points with 1:15 to play, but two K.T. Raimey 3-pointers kept the Blue Demons within striking distance in the final minute. Jones knocked down a pair of free throws with 12 seconds left to keep the lead at three, and a final stop and rebound for the Beach grabbed an early signature win, the 12th Power 6 conference win coming under Dan Monson.

Junior Lassina Traore finished with 17 points and 11 rebounds for his first double-double of the season, while Aboubacar was close with 12 points and 9 rebounds to go with two blocks. Jones had four steals while leading the defensive effort for the Beach.

The road swing continues for Long Beach State who will face two high-profile opponents next week, traveling to face last year's NCAA finalists San Diego State before playing Michigan for the first time since the 2013 season.

Dan Monson has rebuilt the Long Beach State basketball program in his 16 seasons with the Beach. The winningest coach in LBSU history, Monson has piled up over 250 wins at LBSU and led Long Beach State to four Big West Championships, seven top three finishes, four NIT appearances as well as a trip to the 2011-12 NCAA Tournament.

Monson was named the Big West Coach of the Year for a fourth time in 2022 after leading a Long Beach State squad picked to finish eighth before the season to a Big West championship, the 15th league title in program history. The Beach had four players named All-Big West, while senior Colin Slater was the Big West Player of the Year and Jadon Jones was the Big West Defensive Player of the Year.

Monson's success at Long Beach State has been rewarded with four Big West Coach of the Year awards, as well as back-to-back NABC All-District Coach recognition from 2010-11 and 2011-12. The conference coaching award following last season marked the fifth time that Monson has been recognized as a league's top coach, previously winning the honor as the West Coast Conference Coach of the Year in 1998 following his first season at Gonzaga.

Success at the collegiate level hasn't been the only measure of what Monson has accomplished at Long Beach State. Two-time Big West Player of the Year Casper Ware reached the NBA with the Philadelphia 76ers, becoming the first LBSU player to enter the NBA since 2003. 2013 Big West Player of the Year James Ennis also became the first LBSU player picked in the NBA Draft since 1992, and has gone on to a tremendous career over eight seasons with 10 different organizations.

Navigating the COVID-19 Pandemic was especially difficult for Long Beach State, as the program was one of the last in the nation to begin to any team activities, was not allowed inside the Walter Pyramid until late in October, and suffered through three separate full pauses. LBSU also had 12 players miss at least one game due to injury, and had five players miss seven or more games, just one of two programs in the country to be hit that hard. But the Beach bounced back to reclaim the title in 2021-22, the first full season back after the pandemic. The team then went on to make the program's ninth NIT appearance, and the fourth under the leadership of Monson.

Junior Joel Murray was named first-team All-Big West along with Colin Slater, marking the 10th time in 13 seasons that the team's primary ball-handler has earned either first or second team All-Big West, with seven of those point guards earning first-team honors.

Monson had no returning starters in 2015-16 but still led Long Beach State to the Big West Tournament Finals and an NIT appearance, the fourth postseason appearance in his tenure at Long Beach State. Playing the nation's toughest non-conference schedule, the Beach went 7-9 against Top 100 teams, and picked up signature wins over Seton Hall and BYU. Let by Big West Newcomer of the Year Nick Faust the Beach went on to face Washington in the first round of the NIT.

In 2012-13, Monson directed a squad that lost four starters from the 2011-12 NCAA Tournament team, and guided them to a another Big West championship, a third-consecutive regular season championship, the first time in over 40 years The Beach had won three straight conference titles.

LBSU's championship season in 2012-13 came on the heels of a four-year run based on a nucleus of solid recruiting in his first few years on campus. His first recruiting class featured Greg Plater, the second-leading all-time 3-point shooter at the school, while his second recruiting class of Larry Anderson, Eugene Phelps, T.J. Robinson and Casper Ware may go down in school history as the best recruiting class of all-time at Long Beach State.

Anderson, Phelps, Robinson and Ware all rank among the all-time leaders in school history in at least two categories and all four have earned all-league honors at least twice.

Three of the four own a school record. Ware is the school's all-time assist leader, Anderson has more steals than anybody in LBSU history, and Robinson is not only the all-time leading rebounder at Long Beach State, but the leading rebounder in the history of the Big West Conference.

Ware established himself as not only one of the top players in the conference, but one of the best players in the nation. Named a finalist for the Bob Cousy Award, honoring the top point guard in Division I, as both a junior and a senior, Ware won Big West Conference Player of the Year awards and was named an honorable mention Associated Press All-American in 2011 and 2012, while also being named the U.S. Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) District IX Player of the Year as a senior.

In 2010-11, Ware became the first player in Big West history to be named both the league's player of the year and its defensive player of the year. His first-team all-league selection made him the third Monson recruit at LBSU to be named first-team all-league. Ware also was named first-team All-District 9 by the NABC and first-team All-District IX by the USBWA as both a junior and senior.

Monson's team also picked up two wins over nationally-ranked teams in 2011-12, handing No. 9 Pittsburgh an 86-76 defeat on the road before knocking off No. 14 Xavier 68-58 at the Diamond Head Classic in Honolulu. The two wins over ranked teams marked the first time a LBSU team had beaten multiple top 25 teams since the 1992-93 season.

Monson was tabbed as the 16th head coach in Long Beach State men's basketball history on April 7, 2007. He inherited a depleted roster but still managed to be competitive in his first season at LBSU. Monson has been a Division I head coach for 20 years, during which he has compiled a career record of 387-352, with 11 trips to postseason play, including a trip to the Elite Eight in 1999 with Gonzaga University.

Monson was the head coach at the University of Minnesota for seven-plus years, compiling a 118-105 mark and reaching postseason play in five of his seven seasons.

In 2004-05 he led the Gophers to a memorable year. He engineered the second-best Big Ten turnaround in the previous 20 seasons, finishing with a 10-6 conference mark after posting just three league wins the previous campaign. Minnesota reached the 20-win plateau for the first time since 1992-93 and Monson led the Golden Gophers to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1999. In 2005-06 the Gophers advanced to their fifth postseason appearance in six years. Senior guard Vincent Grier was named All-Big Ten and All-District for the second straight year. In 2002-03 Minnesota went 19-14 and earned the program's first trip to the NIT semifinals in Madison Square Garden.

Monson reached two personal coaching milestones in 2004-05. With a victory over Indiana in the Big Ten Tournament quarterfinals, he earned his 100th victory at Minnesota. When he defeated Purdue on February 26, 2005 he picked up his 150th career head-coaching victory. With 100 victories in his first six years at Minnesota, Monson ranks second all-time at the school behind Jim Dutcher (1975-85) in wins during his first six years as head coach.

Monson stepped into the Minnesota job on the heels of NCAA sanctions against the school. Those NCAA violations during the mid-1990s severely limited scholarships and put strict recruiting sanctions on the program since the summer of 1999, coinciding with Monson's arrival at Minnesota. The summer of 2005 was the first Monson and his staff could recruit on par with every other college basketball program and that season concluded with a trip to the NCAA Tournament, the programs first year off probation.

Prior to accepting the Minnesota job on July 24, 1999, Monson was the head coach at Gonzaga for two years. In 1998-99 he led the Bulldogs to within a breath of the Final Four.

Gonzaga, which went 28-7 on the year and won the West Coast Conference regular season and tournament championships, defeated such notable NCAA powers as Minnesota (75-63), Stanford (82-74) and Florida (73-72) before bowing out to eventual national-champion Connecticut (67-62) in the Elite Eight.

His first year as head coach at Gonzaga resulted in a 24-10 mark, as the Bulldogs advanced to the second round of the NIT. Monson had a sparkling 52-17 (.754) record in his two seasons as the head coach of the Bulldogs.

Monson spent 11 years helping build the Gonzaga program. He began at GU as an assistant coach in 1988 and spent six years laying the groundwork. In 1994-95 he was elevated to associate head coach under head coach Dan Fitzgerald.

Three years later he took over full control of the Gonzaga program. He led Gonzaga to a West Coast Conference title in 1998 and was named the WCC Coach of the Year. The squad set a school-record with its 24 wins and Monson was also named the National Rookie Coach of the Year by Basketball Times.
Monson was a key figure in the Bulldogs turnaround in the 1990's. Gonzaga had a record of 223-89 over 10 seasons and he was responsible for recruiting many of the key players in Gonzaga's NCAA Sweet 16 appearances from 1998-2001. From the time Monson was named associate head coach in 1995, Gonzaga averaged 22 wins per season and reached postseason play every year but one.

Prior to joining the Bulldogs' staff, Monson spent two seasons as a graduate assistant coach under Gene Bartow at the University of Alabama-Birmingham.

Monson played one year of football at Idaho, but turned his attention to coaching when a knee injury cut short his gridiron career. He coached the boys' basketball team at Oregon City (Ore.) High School for one year prior to taking the UAB graduate assistant post.

A 1985 graduate of the University of Idaho with a bachelor degree in mathematics, Monson earned his master's degree in education with a concentration on athletic administration from UAB in 1988. In addition to his 20-plus seasons coaching Division I basketball, as either a head or assistant coach, Monson has served on two coaching staffs for USA Basketball representing the United States in international competition.

Monson gained valuable experience by coaching on the international level with USA Basketball. He was an assistant coach for Kelvin Sampson on the gold medal winning 20-and-Under World Championships for Young Men Qualifying Tournament squad in the summer of 2004 in Halifax, Nova Scotia. He also assisted Oliver Purnell at the 1999 Men's World University Games in Mallorca, Spain where the U.S. won the gold medal. With Team USA, Monson had the opportunity to coach future NBA players Sean May, Brendan Haywood, Bracey Wright, Chris Paul, Michael Redd, Mark Madsen, Kenyon Martin and Charlie Villanueva.

Monson grew up around basketball as his father, Don, was a well-respected collegiate coach. Don was the head coach at Idaho and Oregon and was an assistant coach under Jud Heathcote at Michigan State (1976-78) for two years.

Monson and his wife Darci have four children, a son, MicGuire, a daughter, Mollie, a son, Maddox and a daughter, McKenna.
