—HEAD COACH

→ Three-Time Mountain West Coach of the Year

→ In his first five seasons as head coach, guided SDSU to its most victories (43) in a five-year span in 39 seasons

In the 17-year history of the Mountain West, no football coach is more synonymous with success than Aztec head coach Rocky Long.

Named San Diego State's 18th head coach on Jan. 12, 2011, he begins his sixth year at the helm of the Aztecs. He will also continue his role as the squad's defensive coordinator, a position that he has held when he first arrived on campus in 2009.

Long is the winningest head coach in the history of the Mountain West and has helped usher in two of the biggest turnarounds at MW schools - New Mexico and San Diego State.

Over the last seven seasons (two as defensive coordinator and five as head coach and defensive coordinator), Long helped institute a hard-nosed, blue-collar, physical-style of football on Montezuma Mesa that revitalized a program that had been struggling to find an identity for decades.

Now firmly established, that identity has taken the San Diego State football program to heights that would have been unthinkable just a decade ago. The Aztecs have been to a school-record six consecutive bowl games and has enjoyed its best five year run in nearly four decades.

This SDSU run has placed Aztec Football among the best in the state and in the nation.

Since 2010, San Diego State's 52-27 record (65.8 percent) is tied with USC and trails Stanford among the seven FBS schools in California in winning percentage, placing the Aztecs ahead of, among others, UCLA and Fresno State.

With six consecutive bowl appearances, San Diego State is one of just 25 FBS schools to advance to postseason play every season since 2010 and just one of three - Boise State and Northern Illinois - to make a bowl appearance each of the last six seasons from a Group of 5 conference.

Long's sixth Aztec team is a veteran group that many have picked to be the favorite to win the West Division of the Mountain West.

→ The Foundation

In December 2008, Long was named defensive coordinator at San Diego State after serving as head coach at his alma mater, New Mexico, for 11 seasons.

He inherited one of the worst defensive units statistically in the country. The previous season (2008), the Aztecs went 2-10 and posted one victory over a FBS team. The team's defense allowed an average of 37.2 points, 460.8 yards, 247.5 rushing yards and had a passing efficiency defense rating of 151.5. San Diego State also ranked among the bottom eight nationally in all four of those categories, allowing 35 or more points in seven of its final eight games of the season.

Enter Long and his attacking 3-3-5 defense, and the improvement was immediate. Despite employing a drastically different style, Long, in his first year as SDSU's defensive coordinator in 2009, managed to shave more than a touchdown a game off the team's average points allowed and took more than 78 yards per outing off of the total offense allowed figure.

In 2010, Long built a top-40 defense that ceded 20 points or less six times, as the Aztecs posted a winning record for the first time in 12 years, claimed nine victories for the first time since 1977, and captured a bowl victory for the first time since 1969.

Rocky Long - Head Coach

SIX STRAIGHT BOWL GAME APPEARANCES ► 20 CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIPS

→ Building On Success

Following the departure of the previous head coach, Long took over the program entering the 2011 campaign, while continuing to serve as the defensive coordinator.

The 2011 campaign was no different, as he became the first Aztec head coach to lead the team to a bowl game in his debut season. SDSU compiled an 8-5 record, including its first 3-0 start in 30 years, while also snapping a 19-game losing streak against Pac-10/12 foes and a 23-game skid vs. schools from automatic-qualifying BCS conferences.

In 2012, Long garnered his second Mountain West Coach-of-the-Year award after guiding the Aztecs to their first conference championship since 1998 and a third straight bowl appearance. Despite a modest fifth-place prediction in the MW preseason poll, Long and SDSU closed out the regular season by winning seven consecutive games, matching the program's longest victory streak since 1980-81.

During that stretch, the Aztecs ranked fifth in the nation in allowing 4.7 yards per play, while limiting the opposition to 19 points or less on five occasions.

In 2013, Long directed SDSU to an unprecedented fourth straight postseason appearance, capped by an impressive 49-24 victory over Buffalo in the Famous Idaho Potato Bowl.

With Long at the controls, the 2013 Aztecs became just the 19th team out of 488 from 1980-2013 to advance to a bowl game after starting the season with an 0-3 record. The gritty SDSU squad flashed its mettle down the stretch, rallying from fourth-quarter deficits in five games and led the FBS Division with three victories when trailing by 14 points or more.

In 2014, San Diego State advanced to its fifth straight bowl game and finishing in a tie for first in the Western Division of the Mountain West. The Aztecs finished in the top 20 nationally in nearly every defensive category, including scoring defense (13th) and total defense (16th). In addition, SDSU posted a perfect 6-0 record at home during the regular season.

The 2015 Aztecs built on their success from a year prior. After opening the season with a 1-3 mark, SDSU ran the gamut with 10 straight wins and a blemish-free 8-0 mark against MW opponents. San Diego State earned its second Mountain West title since 2012, its first outright league championship since 1969 and the 20th conference crown in program history with a win in the MW Championship game against Air Force. The Aztecs matched a school record with their first 11-win campaign since 1969, defeating Cincinnati in the Hawai'i Bowl, 42-7, marking their sixth consecutive bowl game appearance.

→ The Background

Long had already made the transition from defensive coordinator to head coach once before, as he directed New Mexico to unparalleled success from 1998-2008. During those 11 years, Long compiled a 65-69 record, including seven seasons with six victories or more.

To put that accomplishment in perspective, consider that since 1984, the Lobos are 67-157 with only four six-plus win seasons in the 18 campaigns without Long at the helm.

At New Mexico, Long compiled a school-record 65 victories and led the Lobos to five bowl game appearances in his final seven seasons, despite inheriting a team that had only three winning seasons the previous 15 years. His teams were also bowl eligible in seven of his final eight campaigns.

Long, the 2002 Mountain West Coach of the Year, has earned a national reputation for producing one of the nation's stingiest defensive units. In his final nine campaigns in Albuquerque, Long's defensive units ranked among the top 30 in fewest yards allowed six times and among the top 40 nationally against the rush every year. In addition, six times his units were among the top 26 in fewest rushing yards allowed per game, including fifth-place finishes in both 2001 and 2003.

While at New Mexico, Long coached 13 players selected in the NFL Draft, 10 players who earned All-America honors and 44 first-team all-conference selections. In addition, four Lobos garnered

Long Tidbits

→ Long was one of four NCAA players that visited U.S. servicemen in Vietnam in the summer of 1971. Along with Johnny Musso (Alabama), Lydell Mitchell (Penn State) and Stan Mauldin (Texas), Long spent two weeks in the country going to different U.S. bases.

→ Long is a member of both the University of New Mexico Hall of Honor (inducted in 1996) and the New Mexico Sports Hall of Fame (inducted in 2011).

→ Long met his wife, Debby, while coaching the Pi Beta Phi sorority team in the spring of 1971. He guided the sorority to consecutive undefeated championship seasons in 1971 and 1972. Long's defense was not scored upon in any game in either year.

→ Bobby Knight paid Long a home visit and recruited the two-sport athlete to play basketball at Army.

→ Long was a three-time academic all-conference selection, earned the WAC Scholar-Athlete Award (1970) and was an honorable mention Academic All-American in 1969. He earned a coveted NCAA postgraduate scholarship in 1974.

→ Long has been on the winning sideline of the San Diego State-New Mexico game in 13 straight meetings. He won the first eight meetings as the head coach at UNM and has been on the sidelines as the defensive coordinator or head coach in Aztec victories in 2009, 2010, 2011, 2013 and 2014.

→ Long was the starting quarterback at UNM when the Lobos posted consecutive winning seasons in 1970-71. That was the only time that occurred in the 33 seasons between 1964 and 1996.

→ At New Mexico, he left the program as the all-time leading rusher (2,071 yards) and threw just 23 interceptions in 30 career games.

→ Both of Rocky and Debby Long's children were Division I student-athletes and have coaching ties. Hannah, who was named the head women's volleyball coach at Division II Queens University in April 2016, earned five conference coach of the year nods and is Division III Southwestern University's winningest women's volleyball coach (.794). Collegiately, she was a two-sports athlete at Portland State. Roxanne, who played collegiately at Oklahoma, was a successful basketball coach at Rogers State University, before stepping down to pursue her Ph.D.

Academic All-America accolades five times during his tenure.

And Long does not mince words when describing what his vision for his San Diego State football program is.

"Everybody should anticipate that this program eventually will be competing for conference championships, year-in and year-out," Long said. "Now, how many you win is determined by a whole lot of factors, but we ought to be able to get to the point where we compete yearly for it."

Prior to accepting the head coaching position at New Mexico, Long served as defensive coordinator for 12 seasons at three different schools. He was the defensive coordinator for two years under Bob Toledo at UCLA in 1996-97, for five seasons at Oregon State from 1991-95, and for five campaigns at Wyoming from 1981-85.

He also served as an assistant coach at TCU and the CFL's British Columbia Lions after starting his career at New Mexico as a graduate assistant coach in 1972.

Originally a defensive back, Long became a three-year starter at quarterback for the Lobos from 1969-71. He earned team MVP honors three times and was the Western Athletic Conference Offensive Player of the Year as a senior. He is a 1974 graduate of New Mexico and was awarded an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

→ At San Diego State

■ With 29 years of collegiate coaching experience, including seven as a head coach, Jeff Horton begins his seventh season at San Diego State.

■ Prior to the 2015 season, Horton was promoted to associate head coach and offensive coordinator. He is entering his sixth season overseeing the running backs.

■ In his previous four seasons on The Mesa, he served as assistant head coach and running backs coach.

■ Since 2011, when Horton was named SDSU's running backs coach, San Diego State ranks 22nd nationally in average yards per carry (4.9), 18th in rushing yards per game (204.7) and 20th in rushing touchdowns (146).

■ The 2015 Aztecs made history, yielding the most rushing yards in school history (3,266) and producing two 1,000-yard rushers for the first time in program history. The team also had 10 straight games with at least 200 yards rushing to close the season.

■ Assisted Donnell Pumphrey in a junior season that resulted in Sports Illustrated honorable mention All-America and Mountain West Offensive Player-of-the-Year honors after leading the Aztecs in rushing yards and receptions, one of four players in the nation to accomplish the feat.

■ Under his guidance, SDSU ran for 2,000 yards as a team and produced a 1,000-yard rusher for the sixth year in a row in 2015.

■ In his five years with San Diego State, Horton has coached each of his starting running backs to All-Mountain West honors, including current Denver Bronco Ronnie Hillman in 2011, Adam Muema in 2012 and 2013, and Donnell Pumphrey in 2014 and 2015.

■ In 2014, San Diego State set a school record for yards per carry, averaging 5.4 yards per rush. That figure ranked 13th nationally.

■ Helped Ronnie Hillman receive All-America recognition from the Associated Press in 2011 after the Aztec running back rushed for a conference-record 1,711 yards, which ranked fourth nationally, and added 19 touchdowns. Hillman, who was one of 10 semifinalists for the Doak Walker Award that season, was selected in the third round of the NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos in April 2012.

→ Previous Experience

■ Came to The Mesa after spending the final five games of the 2010 campaign as the interim head coach at Minnesota. With Horton at the helm, the Gophers went 2-3 with victories over a pair of bowl-bound teams in Illinois and Iowa after beginning the year with a 1-6 mark.

■ As the co-offensive coordinator, the Gophers saw drastic improvements from 2009 in the NCAA rankings in total offense (+34 spots), rushing offense (+26), passing offense (+18), scoring offense (+11), turnovers (+82), time of possession (+82) and penalties (+21).

■ Prior to his time at Minnesota, he was the quarterbacks coach for the Detroit Lions in 2009, working with No. 1 overall Draft pick Matthew Stafford. Stafford started 10 games and threw for more than 2,000 yards.

■ NFL career started with the St. Louis Rams from 2006-08, where he was the assistant offensive line coach, special assistant to the head coach and an offensive assistant.

■ Was on the sidelines in six bowl games as the quarterbacks coach at Wisconsin from 1999-2005. The Badgers tallied four post-season victories and claimed the 2000 Big Ten championship.

■ Coached Wisconsin signal-caller Brooks Bollinger to a 30-12 record over his four seasons as a starter. Bollinger and quarterback Jim Sorgi were picked in the NFL Draft during his time in Madison.

■ Was the head coach at UNLV for five years. In 1994, he was named the Big West Coach of the Year after leading the Rebels to the conference title and a berth in the Las Vegas Bowl.

■ Compiled a 7-4 record at Nevada in his first season as a head coach in 1993. The Wolf Pack led the nation in offense that campaign, including 4,373 yards passing.

■ In addition, he spent six years as a wide receivers, special teams or running backs coach at Nevada (1985-89, 1992) and two campaigns as an assistant head coach, running backs and wide receivers coach at UNLV (1990-91).

■ Started his collegiate coaching career in 1984 as a graduate assistant at Minnesota under head coach Lou Holtz.
