

AZTEC MEN'S SOCCER

- 1 SDSU is one of only three Pac-10 teams to make a final four. The Aztecs advanced to the 1987 national championship game by defeating Harvard in the semifinals via penalty kicks.
- 2 The Aztecs have had two former student-athletes inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame. Eric Wynalda (1987-89) was inducted in 2004, while Marcelo Balboa (1988-89) was enshrined in 2005.
- 3 In the 40-year history of the program, Aztec soccer has had only three coaches - George Logan (1968-81), Chuck Clegg (1982-99) and Lev Kirshner (2000-present).
- 4 SDSU has had four former student-athletes compete in the World Cup, including National Soccer Hall of Famers Marcelo Balboa and Eric Wynalda, along with Chris Sullivan and Cle Kooiman.
- 4 San Diego State has had four Hermann Trophy semifinalists, including Chris Keenan (1987), Marcelo Balboa (1988-89), Kyle Whitemore (1988). Tally Hall was a semifinalist in 2007.
- 5 Men's soccer has five Aztec Hall of Fame members, including four individuals - Kevin Crow (1989), Vidal Fernandez (1993), Marcelo Balboa (1995), Eric Wynalda (1996) and the entire 1987 NCAA runner-up squad (2002).
- 8 Tally Hall became the eighth San Diego State student-athlete to be named an Academic All-American in 2006 when he was selected to the NSCAA/adidas first team.
- 8 The Aztecs have played in the NCAA tournament eight times, including two of the past three seasons.
- 9 SDSU has nine NCAA tournament victories in its eight appearances, owning a .633 (9-6-1) tournament winning percentage.
- 10 The Aztecs have had 10 All-America selections. The award winners include Pete Goossens (1969), Alan Kelly (1976-77), Kevin Crow (1981-82), Kyle Whitemore (1987), Marcelo Balboa (1988-89) and Tally Hall (2005-06).
- 28 San Diego State has had 28 winning seasons in its 40-year history of the program. Over the last three years, the Aztecs have gone 26-17-14 with two NCAA tournament appearances.
- 29 Twenty-nine SDSU student-athletes have been a national team member for their respective country. Current redshirt senior Myles Davis was called up to the U-23 Canadian National Team in March and has 14 international caps in his career.
- 30 The Aztecs have had 30 all-academic conference recipients. Freddy McDonald was honored as a first-team selection in 2007, while McDonald and Tally Hall were selected to the 2006 squad.
- 38 SDSU has had 38 NSCAA All-Far West selections, including Nick Cardenas' second consecutive pick in 2007.
- 40 Aztec men's soccer has had 40 student-athletes named all-conference, including six all-Pac-10 selections in 2007.
- 49 Kraig Chiles (Chivas USA of the MLS) and Omar Persad (Lousanense of Portugal) are the 48th and 49th Aztecs to play professional soccer.
- 398 San Diego State has garnered 398 wins in its 40-year history.
- 1987 In 1987 as the NCAA tournament's lowest seeded team, SDSU advanced all the way to the championship game where they lost to final four host Clemson, 2-0. The Aztecs picked up road wins at St. Louis, SMU and UCLA, before defeating Harvard, 2-1, on penalty kicks in a national semifinal game.
- .598 The Aztecs own a .598 (398-254-82) all-time winning percentage.
- .714 One of the toughest places to play on the West Coast, San Diego State has posted a remarkable .717 all-time home winning percentage (247-88-37).

2008 Season Outlook

INTRODUCTION

Optimism is at an all-time high on The Mesa for San Diego State men's soccer.

The 2007 Aztecs finished runner-up in the Pac-10 for the second straight season and posted their third consecutive winning campaign for the first time since 1990-92. On the year, SDSU went 3-1-2 against nationally ranked teams and 2-2-3 versus 2006 NCAA tournament opponents.

Best of all, San Diego State returns 10 of its 11 starters and 23 players from last year's runner-up squad, including five all-conference selections. Throw in another impact recruiting class and a top notch schedule and one can see why Aztec men's soccer is the talk of the town.

"The excitement in the program right now is enormous," ninth-year head coach Lev Kirshner said. "Every year we keep saying we're better. I don't know how long we can keep going with this, but this is unquestionably the best team and best talent we've ever had.

"That being said, last season was a bit of a disappointment, in that we did not make the NCAA tournament. Another runner-up finish in the Pac-10 was phenomenal, but we lost some games that we never should have with the way our team was playing. Those low points ultimately stopped us from having a postseason."

Kirshner is looking forward to the good mix of veteran leadership and talented newcomers that will dot the 2008 roster. Of the 27 on the initial roster, there are six seniors, six juniors, six sophomores and 11 freshmen.

"What's impressive about this team is that even with 10 starters and 23 players returning, we've got players coming in this recruiting class who could end up starting," Kirshner said. "They're that good. Talent and depth are two critical ingredients to winning championships and we have them both. Now we need to find out how much will, desire, and discipline we have."

Below is a position-by-position breakdown of the 2008 San Diego State men's soccer team:

GOALKEEPERS

If there is one question on this year's team, it's who is going to be the starting goalkeeper in the season-opener against Michigan?

Three different Aztecs - Brad Byrns, Jorge Rosales and Ryan Bowie - saw action last season because of injuries. The trio performed fine in net, combining to post an 8-7-4 record with a 1.09 goals against average and seven shutouts.

Byrns, a redshirt sophomore, seems to have the edge after earning honorable mention all-Pac-10 accolades in 2007, posting a 6-1-2 record with a 0.73 goals against average (sixth-lowest in school history) and five shutouts. Byrns started nine of the first 10 games before going down with a season-ending injury in the waning moments of the team's 3-2 victory over eventual Pac-10 champion California on Oct. 12.

"Brad was phenomenal in net and the ultimate record of our team shows that he is a significant factor for us," Kirshner said. "Unfortunately, he may not be 100 percent by Sept. 5. But goalkeeping has never been a concern here as we have one of the best goalkeeping coaches in the nation in Matt Hall."

Rosales, who became the starter after Byrns went down, saw action in nine contests, going 2-5-2 with two shutouts and a 1.38 goals against average.

"Jorge got plenty of gametime for us last year and got tons of experience," Kirshner said. "I definitely expect him to challenge for the starting job."

Other players in the mix include a pair of redshirt freshmen in Morgan Maestas and R.J. Smith, a transfer from UC Davis.

"Morgan Maestas had an extraordinary spring for us with three consecutive shutouts to close out the year," Kirshner said. "At 6-4 and 195 pounds, Smith boasts many physical similarities to Tally (Hall). Both these guys have nothing but potential."

DEFENDERS

The strength of the SDSU team appears to once again be the defense. Last season, the backline combined to allow just 10.3 shots per game and shut out seven opponents.

However, it will be the experience and depth that will lead the defense as the starting quartet of senior co-captains Danny Ortiz and Dennis Sanchez, junior Nick Cardenas and redshirt junior Steve Beitashour will start for the third straight season.

"If we have a great strength, it is in our back four," Kirshner said. "It's the same backline that started for us in 2007 with two of those being senior captains and one being a two-time all-Far West pick. And Steve will be a pro in my opinion."

Nick Cardenas

Captains Ortiz and Sanchez have been regulars in the back for the Aztecs, starting almost every game over the past two campaigns.

"I can't be any happier with having Danny represent our program," Kirshner said. "This is everything you want in an Aztec - a good student, a good athlete, a great person, a talented player and a phenomenal leader. He deserves to captain this team."

"Dennis is a mainstay in the program. His workrate is tireless and he will do whatever it takes to win games. I'm just excited to have him finish his career on the right note, wearing the armband and helping us win championships."

Cardenas returns for his third season as a two-time NSCAA/adidas all-Far West pick and all-Pac-10 selection. Over his career, Cardenas has eight goals and two assists for 18 points, all from the backline.

"Nick is obviously our most decorated player in recent times," Kirshner said. "He is a force in the air and is a winner. Hopefully Nick can stay healthy and continue to build on the career he has established his first two seasons here."

Beitashour made a big impact for the Aztecs in 2007 with three assists, while playing the majority of the games all over the field.

"Steven is without question our best 1-v-1 player, and that is on both sides of the ball," Kirshner said. "He is one of our best athletes, understands the individual parts of the game and has grown into a very good team tactician."

Beitashour could also see playing time in the mid-field, which would create more playing time for red-shirt senior Myles Davis, a former member of the U-17 Canadian National Team. Last season, Davis started 16 of the 18 games he played in, mostly from the left back position.

"Myles comes in with a tremendous amount of international experience," Kirshner said. "He can play in the center of the park for us or at the left back position."

Other defenders on the team include sophomore Andre Acevedo, St. John's redshirt freshman transfer Danny Stott, redshirt freshman Gemechu Abraham, and freshmen Chance Marden and Daniel Steres.

MIDFIELDERS

Despite the loss of three-time leading scorer and current Chivas USA player Kraig Chiles, the midfielders should be in good shape in 2008.

"Certainly losing a pro will be tough," Kirshner said. "I'm not counting on any individual; the team has to pick up the loss. We know we will lose pros within our program so we bring in good recruits to fill those needed areas."

Evan Toft will be the face of the SDSU midfield after leading the 2007 Aztecs with five assists en route to a second-team all-Pac-10 selection. Toft is coming off a solid spring and will be counted on to lead the team's offense.

"I thought Evan had a marvelous spring, arguably the best on our team," Kirshner said. "Going into his junior year, he is going to be expected to carry most of the weight in the midfield. It's time for him to have the breakout year he wants and knows he can have."

Another important part of the midfield will be redshirt junior Jamel Wallace. Last season, Wallace tallied three goals, the third-most on the squad, despite seeing time in the front, midfield and in the backline. For his efforts, he was named an honorable mention all-Pac-10 selection.

"Jamel is a winner and battles from the first minute to the last," Kirshner said. "He can play multiple positions and can win the game for us on both sides of the ball."

Sophomore Raymundo Reza comes back healthy and looks to have locked down the other holding midfield spot with Wallace. Reza earned 13 starts in his first season, the most of any freshman.

"Raymundo is a tremendous athlete, has great pace, great technique and is just a solid soccer player," Kirshner said. "We just need him to get tougher and more involved in our game to help us win championships."

Another player Kirshner thinks highly of is redshirt-freshman Justin Davies. Davies, the younger brother of former Boston College great Charlie Davies, joined the Aztecs as a spring semester admit and immediately made his presence known with a solid spring.

"Justin Davies is one of the freshmen coming in who has a chance to win a starting role," Kirshner said. "He is just a terrific athlete, who we hope will help our team sooner rather than later."

Other midfielders who will add depth include sophomore Michio Akazawa, redshirt freshman Pedro Adan and Santigui Tounkara, and true freshmen Joe Corona.

FORWARDS

Sophomore Khadim Diouf is the top returning scorer for SDSU, after recording 10 points on five goals in his first season in 2007. A clutch performer, three of the tallies were game-winners, helping Diouf to a honorable mention all-Pac-10 pick.

"Khadim obviously scored some big goals for us last year," Kirshner said. "He is a winner on the field and will help us do whatever it takes to win, whether it be slide tackling a defender or the game-winner in the 85th minute to beat UCLA."

Other players who could be in the mix up front include seniors Nick Collins and Kevin Werbner, redshirt junior Matt McManus and junior Danny Ortega.

Kirshner will be counting on the leadership skills of Collins and Werbner to help the fairly young offensive group. Both seniors will also see time in the midfield.

"Nick had a good spring for us and scored a couple of goals," Kirshner said. "He is very motivated to have a successful senior season to finish out his career."

"Kevin is a tenacious competitor," Kirshner added. "He is a great kid who will certainly get minutes to help us win games."

McManus started eight times in 2007 with a goal and three assists to his credit. Most of his playing time came in the back, but he could see action in the front line this season.

"Matt is such an influential player for us because he is a tireless worker," Kirshner said. "He has a long throw, is a beast in the air and his competition level is as high as anyone I have ever coached. He will see significant playing time for us this season."

Ortega played in 13 games with one start last year, after scoring two goals and adding an assist his first season in 2006.

"Danny is a great technician with one of the hardest shots on the team," Kirshner said. "He has really grabbed hold of our system and that's what we needed from him."

Michael Rocha should also compete for minutes in the front after a good spring and strong fall camp.

SCHEDULE

Year after year the Aztecs play one of the toughest schedules on the West Coast and this year is certainly no exception.

The 2008 schedule may be the toughest of Kirshner's nine-year tenure as eight of the 18 games are against teams who made the 2007 NCAA tournament. In addition, nine of the contests are versus teams who finished the season with a 37 RPI rating or better.

"It is one of the best, if not the best, schedules we have had in San Diego State history in terms of quality, the diversity of teams we are playing and the breadth of the location of where we are playing," Kirshner said. "We would not do this if we didn't think our team was prepared for it."

San Diego State will co-host two tournaments this season, the inaugural The Courtyard Marriott San Diego Central Tournament (Sept. 5-7) and the SDSU/USD Tournament. In those games, SDSU will meet Big Ten power Michigan and Albany, then UC Irvine and 2007 NCAA tournament member UC Davis, respectively.

SDSU also travels to Denver, Colo., for games against Denver (Sept. 12) and Air Force (Sept. 14) before flying cross country for a game against perennial Ivy League power Dartmouth on Sept. 28.

The Aztecs begin their portion of the Pac-10 schedule on Oct. 5 at UCLA.

"We've always taking pride in having a tough schedule," Kirshner said. "Obviously playing in the Pac-10 makes our overall schedule that much better, and we are ready for this challenge."

Pac-10 Conference

Entering the 2008-09 season, the Pacific-10 Conference continues to uphold its tradition as the "Conference of Champions."® Pac-10 members have claimed an incredible 159 NCAA team titles over the past 18 seasons, for an average of more than eight championships per academic year.

Even more impressive is the breadth of the Pac-10's success, as those 159 team titles have come in 26 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-10 has led the nation in NCAA Championships 42 of the last 48 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievement, the Pac-10 has captured 372 NCAA titles (259 men's, 113 women's), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's 217 titles.

The Pac-10 captured 13 NCAA titles in 2007-08 to lead the nation, finishing just one shy of the all-time Division I record of 14 titles, set by the Pac-10 in 1996-97. It should be noted that the Pac-10 total does not include California's national championship in men's rugby or Stanford's national championship in women's synchronized swimming, as they are not counted as NCAA titles. The Pac-10 led the nation with the most NCAA titles in women's sports with eight.

NCAA team champions from the Pac-10 in 2007-08 came from Arizona (men's and women's swimming and diving), Arizona State (men's and women's indoor track & field and softball), California (men's water polo), Oregon (men's cross country), Stanford (women's cross country), UCLA (women's water polo, women's tennis and men's golf) and USC (women's soccer and women's golf). The Pac-10 also had runners-up in 10 NCAA Championship events: women's cross country (Oregon), women's volleyball (Stanford), men's water polo (USC), women's basketball (Stanford), men's gymnastics (Stanford), men's golf (Stanford), women's golf (UCLA), women's tennis (California), women's track & field (Arizona State) and women's water polo (USC). Overall, the Conference had 32 teams finish in the top four at NCAA Championship events.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Conference in 2007-08. Of the 22 sports sponsored by the Pac-10, 20 witnessed at least half its teams participating in NCAA or other postseason action. The men sent 73 of a possible 90 teams into the postseason (81.1 percent), while the women sent 74 of a possible 100 teams (74.0 percent).

On the men's side, Pac-10 members have won 259 NCAA team championships, far ahead of the the 199 claimed by the runner-up Big Ten. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-10 - 15 basketball titles by five schools (more than any other conference), 49 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track and field crowns, and 26 baseball titles. Pac-10 members have won 24 of the last 39 NCAA titles in volleyball, 34 of the last 49 in water polo, and 21 total swimming and diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA men's individual champions as well, claiming 1,162 NCAA individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 27 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 19 occasions. Overall, the Pac-10 has captured 113 NCAA women's crowns, easily outdistancing the SEC, which is second with 72. Pac-10 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 20 softball titles, 18 tennis crowns, 13 of the last 18 volleyball titles, 12 of the last 19 trophies in golf and 10 in swimming and diving.

Pac-10 women athletes shine nationally on an individual basis as well, having captured an unmatched 511 NCAA individual titles, an average of more than 18 champions per season.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference date back over 90 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. Original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University), was accepted into the Conference, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the Conference in 1924, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45, when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new Conference was formed - the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAUW membership consisted of California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and two other women's sports.

COACHING STAFF

Entering his ninth season at the helm of the SDSU men's soccer program, Lev Kirshner has brought the Aztecs back into the national spotlight.

Kirshner led last year's squad to its second consecutive runner-up finish in the Pac-10, despite being picked fifth in the preseason poll. The runner-up result comes on the heels of back-to-back trips to the NCAA tournament, a feat that hadn't been done at SDSU since the 1988 and 1989 seasons.

In addition, last year's 8-7-4 mark gave San Diego State its fourth winning campaign in five years and third consecutive, something that hadn't been done on the campus since 1990-92.

SDSU's 4-4-2 mark in the Pac-10 included three straight over nationally ranked foes UCLA, California and Stanford. The victory over the Bruins on Oct. 6 was the program's first since Oct. 11, 1989. With a tie later on in the season, the Aztecs won the season series between the two schools for the first time since 1969, their second season of Division I soccer.

San Diego State was 3-1-2 against nationally ranked teams, and were ranked as high as No. 18 by Soccer America, No. 20 by Top Drawer Soccer, No. 24 by Soccer Times, No. 24 by College Soccer News and No. 25 by NSCAA/adidas.

Kirshner orchestrated the team's move to the Pac-10 in 2005, arguably one of the top soccer conferences in the nation. The move gave SDSU its full allotment of scholarships for the first time in program history and the victories followed shortly thereafter.

Over the past three seasons since joining the Pac-10, the Aztecs have gone 26-17-14 (.579) and 11-9-10 (.533) in league play. San Diego State has posted six wins against nationally ranked teams and has earned six draws.

Kirshner believes that talented players and top-notch competition go hand-in-hand, so he wants his SDSU teams to be characterized by their success against quality opponents.

"When you start stepping up your competition, you need better players," Kirshner said. "I think that the two have complemented each other well and put us in position to not only play those teams, but actually beat them."

Kirshner's disciplined approach and motto of "One team, one family, one mission" combined to produce three top-40 recruiting classes from 2005-07. The Aztecs were ranked No. 39 by College Soccer News in 2005, No. 19 in 2006 and No. 17 in 2007, respectively.

Not afraid of playing the best each and every year, Kirshner's teams have gotten results (win or tie) against top-10 schools in five of the past six seasons, including a 3-2 win against Pac-10 champion California last year.

In 2006, Kirshner guided San Diego State to a 5-2-3 Pac-10 mark to give the team a second-place finish in just its second year in one of the toughest conferences in the nation. Included in the five league wins was a season sweep over eventual champion California. The team's nine goals allowed tied Stanford for the fewest given up in conference play.

The strong season catapulted SDSU into the NCAA tournament for the second straight season, where they would fall in the first round at eventual national champion UC Santa Barbara, 2-1.

The Aztecs went 2-0 in the inaugural The Soccer Post/Aztec Classic and 1-0-1 in the USD/SDSU Soccer Tournament, and defeated three nationally ranked foes.

Kirshner's senior goalkeeper Tally Hall was a M.A.C. Hermann Award semifinalist, an All-American for the second consecutive year, a Scholar-Athlete All-American, an all-Far West selection and a first-team all-Pac-10 selection.

Hall was joined on the all-conference team by Pac-10 Freshman of the Year Nick Cardenas and five others, making the seven selections the highest total in school history.

In 2005, Kirshner led SDSU to a 9-4-6 record, its best mark since 1991, and a trip to its first NCAA tournament since 1989, before falling at UC Santa Barbara, 2-0, in the first round.

Kirshner helped the Aztecs receive numerous honors in 2005. SDSU was nationally ranked by all four polls during the season and reached as high as No. 14 by Soccer America and College Soccer News. The Aztecs ranked first nationally with a 87.9 shots-on-goal save percentage and second in the country with a 0.54 goals against average. SDSU did not allow a goal in the first half the entire season.

Under Kirshner's tutelage, Hall became the first Aztec to receive All-American honors since National Soccer Hall of Fame member Marcelo Balboa did so in 1989.

In addition to Hall, four others were named to the all-Pacific 10 Conference team, including sophomore midfielder Kraig Chiles.

Kirshner didn't rest on his laurels in the offseason. Instead, he brought in the 17th-best recruiting class in the country, according to College Soccer News.

No stranger to winning, Kirshner has a mold and a style that his players have bought into; one that has shown proven results when building programs.

Before coming to SDSU, Kirshner coached the women of Cañada College (Redwood City, Calif.) from 1992-95. During that time, he took over a program that had never won a conference game and led it to a 16-1-3 record his final year. The season would finish with a loss in penalty kicks in the California State Quarterfinals. For his efforts, he was named the Coast Conference Coach of the Year.

He also served as the men's assistant coach at Cañada and helped with their run to the state quarterfinals in 1992 and 1994.

From there, Kirshner moved to a head coaching position at Ohlone College (Fremont, Calif.) in the fall of 1995. At Ohlone, he helped take a team from a second-to-last place league finish the previous season to as high as a No. 15 state ranking.

Prior to his arrival at SDSU, Kirshner also served as the men's assistant coach at his alma mater, Rutgers. Kirshner helped the Scarlet Knights to the second round at the 1996 NCAA tournament, and a No. 13 national ranking and a 14-7-4 record.

Before taking over the Aztecs' head spot eight years ago, Kirshner spent three seasons as an assistant coach for the SDSU men's program under long-time head coach Chuck Clegg, the school's all-time winningest coach.

In his first season at SDSU's helm, Kirshner's team improved its win total from the previous year, despite playing top-ranked UCLA and traditional powers Washington, Portland and San Diego.

As a player at Rutgers, Kirshner was part of a 1987 NCAA quarterfinal team, a 1989 NCAA semifinal squad that lost to eventual co-champion Virginia and a runner-up finisher to UCLA in the 1990 championship match.

He received his undergraduate degree in communication while graduating with honors in 1991, and is listed as one of the soccer program's top 25 alumni.

"Lev was an outstanding player for us and a very integral part of a team that went to two Final Fours in his career," Rutgers head coach Bob Reasso said. "In my 25 years at Rutgers, Lev was one of the finest players ever to come through our program."

Following his collegiate career, Kirshner represented the United States in 1993, winning a bronze medal for the U.S. national Maccabiah team. In 1997, he returned to Israel as captain of the U.S. team, and led the only squad to defeat eventual gold-medalist Brazil.

Kirshner was selected as one of 250 domestic and international athletes to be assessed in the inaugural Major League Soccer combine in 1995. Kirshner also had a stint in the USISL starting for the Reno Rattlers. During that year, he trained with and played in several intrasquad reserve games for the MLS San Jose Clash.

Kirshner was named coach of the U.S. Maccabiah Pan-American U-20 soccer team in December 2003, where he won a bronze medal in Santiago, Chile. In the summer of 2005, Kirshner led the national Maccabiah squad to a second-place finish. Kirshner and his assistant, Amos Magee, became only the second and third members of the U.S. soccer delegation to have won two medals in the World Maccabiah Games. Additionally, Kirshner's squad earned the tournament's "Fair Play" Award, which is given to the team that exhibited the best sportsmanship.

Kirshner has valuable experience working with all levels of soccer having had stints with the Region IV Olympic Development Program (ODP) and serving as the interim head coach of the national runner-up West team during the 2001 U.S. regional championship. He was also as an assistant coach during the team's undefeated April 2002 tour of Australia.

Additionally, Kirshner worked as both an assistant and head coach with the Northern California ODP U-23 men's team during 1995 and 1996. He led those squads to consecutive Western Regional championships, including a third-place finish at the 1995 Donnelly Cup. He also won a Western Regional title with the under-15 ODP Northern California state team as the assistant coach of the 1984 age group.

Kirshner possesses a USSF A-License and has received the NSCAA Premiere Badge with distinguished honors; the highest accolade provided by that organization.

Recently, Kirshner was inducted to the first hall of fame class at his alma mater, Mission San Jose High School. While at Mission San Jose, he guided his soccer team to two North Coast Section (NCS) appearances. During his senior season, he led his squad to its school's first soccer league title en route to the NCS semifinals, where it fell to De La Salle on penalty kicks. Kirshner was a three-time all-league selection and led his team in points all four years. Adding to his list of prep achievements, Kirshner finished third in the NCS badminton championships his junior year, won the title as a senior and was a varsity cross country runner his sophomore and junior years.

Kirshner maintains ties with the community through his involvement with the Hotspurs Soccer Club, for which he was the director of soccer operations from 1999-2002. In addition, Kirshner has hosted numerous free clinics and seminars. Currently, Kirshner works for the PQ Premier coaching their U-12 boys team.

In his time away from soccer, Kirshner enjoys reading biographies of coaches. He is an avid golfer and resides in Pacific Beach.

Matt Hall

Assistant Coach | Ninth Season as Assistant Coach | San Diego, 2001

Matt Hall enters his ninth season as an assistant with the San Diego State men's soccer program. His primary duties are working with the goalkeepers. In addition to his goalkeeping duties, Hall coordinates the team's recruiting, and organizes and runs practice sessions.

Known as one of the top assistant coaches in the nation, Hall once again coached a goalkeeper to a postseason honor, something he has done in each of his eight seasons on The Mesa.

"I am so fortunate that Matt has become such a significant part of my personal and professional life," head coach Lev Kirshner said. "Since 1997, when Matt first played for me, I have enjoyed watching him mature as an adult and professional. Matt has become one of my closest friends and I am so blessed to have him as my assistant. This program would not be the same without him and neither would my life."

Last year, redshirt freshman Brad Byrns posted a 6-1-2 record with a 0.73 goals against average and amassed five shutouts before an injury sidelined him for the rest of the season. Despite missing 10 games, Byrns was still named to the Pac-10 all-conference team as an honorable mention selection. The feat was even more amazing as Byrns had the daunting task of having to replace two-time All-American Tally Hall.

Under Hall's guidance in 2006, Tally Hall became the first Aztec to earn All-America honors in consecutive years since National Soccer Hall of Famer member Marcelo Balboa accomplished the feat in 1988 and again in 1989.

Tally Hall also was a M.A.C. Hermann Award semifinalist, a Scholar All-American and a first-team all-West Region and all-Pac-10 performer.

In the 2006 campaign, Matt Hall helped the SDSU goalkeepers limit the opposition to just nine goals in Pac-10 play, tied with Stanford for the fewest in the conference.

A year before (2005), Tally Hall and the Aztecs led the nation with a 88.9 shots-on-goal save percentage and was second in the country with a 0.49 goals against average, both school records. For his efforts, he was named a first-team all-Far West selection and first-team all-Pac-10 pick.

In 2004, Hall earned all-academic honors by the MPSF, the same honor Colin Hanke won in 2003.

Brian Barnes broke his own single-season saves record in 2002 en route to being named a second-team all-MPSF selection and all-academic pick.

In 2001, Tim Edwards earned first-team all-MPSF honors after going 4-5-4 with a 1.56 goals against average and two shutouts. Edwards was even better in conference play, posting a 1.07 GAA in seven appearances.

Barnes, who would go onto become the school's all-time leader with 282 saves, was named to the MPSF Pacific Division first team in 2000 and was selected to the all-academic team after recording 90 saves.

Actively involved as the team's recruiting coordinator, Matt Hall helped San Diego State to consecutive top-20 nationally rated recruiting classes and three top-40 classes from 2005-07. The Aztecs were ranked No. 39 by College Soccer News in 2005, No. 19 in 2006 and No. 17 in 2007, respectively.

The accolades are not surprising since Hall helped Kirshner build the program back up to a national force. Hall helped SDSU earn a full allotment of scholarships for the first time in school history. In the process, the Aztecs joined the Pac-10, arguably one of the top soccer conferences in the nation.

Hall's efforts were recognized by College Soccer News in 2007, when he was named on of the top 12 assistant coaches in the nation. In the article, the website wrote that, "Some might overlook the contribution that Hall has made to the rise in prominence of the program at San Diego State over the past few years but that would be a mistake. The statistics regarding the effectiveness of the Aztec netminders over the past few years and the quality of the recruiting classes which San Diego State has attracted are proof positive of the contribution that Hall is making." Hall is a familiar face to San Diego State soccer fans, having spent three years (1996-98) defending the Aztecs' net and beginning SDSU's recent tradition of nationally-renowned goalkeepers.

Hall is listed third on the school's season saves list, recording 89 during the 1998 campaign. He is ranked third on SDSU's career saves list with 213. Only Hall pupils Barnes (1999-2002) and Tally Hall (2003-06) are above Hall on the lists.

In June 1998, Hall represented SDSU at the adidas Summer League, a prestigious camp designed for the nation's top collegiate players. He was one of 15 goalkeepers from across the country invited to participate in the clinic.

He also had a solid professional career, starting for the San Diego Flash, which reached the quarterfinals of the A-League championships in 2001.

Hall completed his undergraduate degree at the University of San Diego in 2001, and holds a U.S.S.F. National "B" license.

He resides in San Diego with his wife Kelli, and their daughter, Madden Michele, who was welcomed into the Aztec family on Aug. 25, 2008.

"Although being a part of Matt and Kelli's wedding party was poignant," Kirshner said. "I have to say, being there for the birth of their first child, Madden Michele, is one of the greatest moments I have experienced as an Aztec soccer coach. The ability to see Matt's happy, beaming face, while holding Madden for the first time was...well, let's just say, I was a proud mentor, but really I am just a proud friend."

Kelli and Matt Hall's daughter, Madden Michele, born on Aug. 25, 2008.

Sami B. Nedjar

Assistant Coach | First Season as Assistant Coach | USC, 1989

Sami B. Nedjar enters his first season at San Diego State, but brings 23 years of coaching experience to The Mesa, including 11 seasons at the collegiate level.

Over the past 17 years, Nedjar has worked as a professional coach for Hotspurs United Soccer Association, where he has developed 21 state Olympic Development Program (ODP) players, five regional and four youth national team players, including U.S. Olympic team member Sal Zizzo.

Besides his coaching duties, Nedjar will expand SDSU's recruiting efforts throughout the West Coast and the southern U.S. Nedjar will also be the Aztecs' special projects coordinator and camp clinic coordinator.

Nedjar was the head women's coach at Cuyamaca College (2000-04) where he guided the Coyotes to two straight Pacific Coast Conference championships (2001-02). The 2002 squad went 18-3 to finish with its best record in school history, while two of his teams (2001 and 2003) ended the year ranked among the top 20 in the nation.

While at Cuyamaca, Nedjar also coached both the Granite Hills High School boy's (1999-05) and the girl's squads (1996-2004). Nedjar led the boys team to four straight CIF San Diego Section championships and put together a 66-game unbeaten streak. Nedjar's squads managed to finish among the top 10 in the nation three consecutive years and a No. 1 ranking in 2003 with a 28-0-3 record.

Nedjar also led the Granite Hills girls team to six league titles.

Nedjar also worked three years at Occidental College, seeing time as the team's assistant coach (1988), co-coach (1989) and head coach (1990). In 1990, he led the Tigers to their first-ever .500 season in with a 6-6-2 mark and coached the league's most valuable player.

Nedjar got his start to coaching in 1986 when he co-founded USC's women's soccer club team. While at USC, Nedjar coached a competitive schedule with future Pac-10 rivals UCLA, Cal and Stanford.

Nedjar served as the director of coaching with Hotspurs from 1991-2007 where he supervised and evaluated a club with over 30 boys and girls teams. He also acted as a liaison between players and college coaches.

Nedjar holds a national youth license (2001), an 'A' license (1994) and 'B' license (1990) from the United States Soccer Federation. Nedjar was also awarded an advanced national diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) in 1989.

Nedjar has received a number of accolades throughout his coaching career, including the High School Coaching Legend Award (2006) by the San Diego Hall of Champions and CIF San Diego Section, the California High School (large schools) Boys Coach of the Year (2004) by the NSCAA, and the National Youth Girls Coach of the Year (2001) by the NSCAA.

Nedjar graduated from USC in 1989 with a bachelor's degree in science and business administration.

Oscar Rodriguez

Assistant Coach | Fourth Season as Assistant Coach | Sixth Season Overall | San Diego State, 2001

Oscar Rodriguez enters his fourth season as an assistant coach at San Diego State after spending the previous three years as the program's Director of Soccer Operations.

Rodriguez began his collegiate playing career at De Anza College in northern California, before transferring to San Diego

State after two successful years in the junior college ranks.

While at De Anza, Rodriguez helped the team to a pair of state championship appearances in 1996 and 1997. In his second season, he captained the team to the state title after going 22-2-2. That year, the squad finished at No. 11 in the national poll.

Rodriguez ended his junior college career as a two-time all-Coast Conference selection, earning second-team honors in 1996 and first-team accolades in 1997.

Fresh off winning the 1997 California Junior College Championship, Rodriguez transferred to San Diego State and made an immediate impact. The defender from San Jose played in all 20 games, getting the starting nod 17 times.

His senior season was no different from his first on Montezuma Mesa, starting 14 of the 18 games in which he played.

Following his graduation from SDSU in 2001, Rodriguez has been a staple in the men's soccer program, beginning as the Director of Soccer Operations. His duties included being responsible for all administrative and organizational facets of the program.

He was promoted to assistant coach in 2005, and has helped coach numerous Aztecs to postseason accolades, including 18 selections to the all-Pac-10 team over the past three seasons.

When not assisting the men's soccer team, Rodriguez is protecting the city of San Diego, where he works as a firefighter.

Andrew DiCicco

Director of Soccer Operations | Second Season as Director of Soccer Ops. | San Diego State, 2008

Andrew DiCicco enters his second year as the Director of Soccer Operations at San Diego State.

A four-year letterwinner on The Mesa, DiCicco brings his experience and competitive background to the Aztec coaching staff.

Last February, DiCicco had a four-week try-out period with Major League Soccer's Kansas City Wizards. In his trials, DiCicco scored three goals, including two game-winners. However, a late injury sidelined DiCicco for the rest of training and he was left off the roster.

DiCicco, a captain in 2006 with SDSU, played a large role in bringing the Aztecs back to the national spotlight. He helped San Diego State to consecutive NCAA appearances, something it hadn't done since the 1988 and 1989 seasons. SDSU posted a 18-10-10 record over his final two campaigns.

DiCicco had a breakout senior season in 2006, where he was second on the team with 14 points and tied for the team lead with four assists. DiCicco set single-season highs in goals (five), assists (four), points (14), shots (22) and shots on goal (12).

For his efforts, he was named to the Pac-10 all-conference team as a honorable mention selection. DiCicco was also named to the USD/SDSU Soccer Classic all-tournament team.

Over his four seasons, DiCicco tallied six goals and seven assists for 19 points.

DiCicco will graduate in Dec. 2007 with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

Arizona State, 1984

David Ohton is in his 23rd year as a strength and conditioning coach.

Ohton came to San Diego State after serving as a graduate assistant in strength and conditioning at Arizona State in 1984-85, where he earned his bachelor's in physical education and psychology in 1984.

Following graduation, Ohton signed a free agent contract with the Kansas City Chiefs. He later played for the USFL's Arizona Wranglers, helping the team to the 1984 championship game in Tampa Bay, Fla.

As a certified member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA), Ohton has published articles on strength training and coaching philosophies in the NSCA Journal and Bigger and Faster Magazine. In 2005, Ohton was invited to speak on the opening panel at the Association for Women in Sports Media conference held in San Diego about performance-enhancing drugs.

Ohton and his wife, Amy, reside in San Diego along with their two sons, Connor and Braxton.

Ryan Cook

Grad Asst. Athletic Trainer
First season at SDSU
Iowa State, 2007

Ryan Cook is in his first season as the athletic trainer for the Aztec men's soccer team.

Cook completed his undergraduate work at Iowa State in 2007, graduating with a bachelor's degree in health and human performance with an emphasis in athletic training. He is currently in his first year of the graduate program at San Diego State, working on his master's in kinesiology.

Cook worked with a variety of sports while he attended Iowa State, including football, women's gymnastics and wrestling.

After graduating from Iowa State, Cook worked one year as a professional internship at Colorado State, where he assisted with the men and women's cross country and track and field squads.

A native of Des Moines, Iowa, Cook is a certified athletic trainer (NATABOC) and first-aid/CPR instructor.

2007 Season Recap

REVIEW

2007 was a season of ups and downs for the San Diego State men's soccer team.

The Aztecs finished runner-up in the Pac-10 for the second straight season after being picked to finish fifth in the preseason poll. SDSU went 4-4-2, including three consecutive victories against formidable league foes No. 14 UCLA (1-0), No. 8 California (3-2) and No. 21 Stanford (2-0).

In addition, coupled with a 1-1 tie on Nov. 14, San Diego State went 1-0-1 against UCLA to become the first Aztec team to win a season series over the Bruins since 1969.

On the year, SDSU was 3-1-2 against nationally ranked foes, 2-2-3 against 2006 NCAA tournament teams and 5-4-3 against teams with a .500 or better record at the time of the match. Also, San Diego State continued its dominance at SDSU Sports Deck with a 5-3-2 record, improving to 22-5-5 (.766) over its last 32 home matches.

The Aztecs were declared the UNLV Tournament champions after a pair of wins against Missouri State and Drake, and were ranked as high as No. 18 by Soccer America, No. 20 by Top Drawer Soccer, No. 24 by Soccer Times, No. 24 by College Soccer News and No. 25 by NSCAA/adidas.

However, a pair of early season non-conference losses to UC Riverside and New Jersey Institute of Technology, and a defeat at the hands of Alabama A&M hurt SDSU's chances of making the NCAA tournament for the third consecutive season.

San Diego State opened the season in Omaha, Neb., against Missouri Valley power Creighton, a daunting task in itself. Consider the variables: the Bluejays entered the game ranked No. 17 in the nation, the Aztecs would have to play in front of a hostile crowd of 3,716 and redshirt freshman Brad Byrns would be making his collegiate debut, having to replace two-time All-American Tally Hall.

To make matters worse, Creighton took a 1-0 lead 1:28 into the game after a SDSU defender accidentally hit the ball into his own net. Later in the game, Myles Davis was given a red card, forcing San Diego State to play a man down for the final 69:33 of the match.

Despite all the obstacles, the Aztecs were able to persevere and come away from The Cornhusker State with a 2-2 tie in two overtimes. Kraig Chiles and Nick Cardenas each scored for SDSU, while Byrns made six saves in his debut.

Kraig Chiles

San Diego State dropped its next two games, both by 2-0 scores, to UC Riverside (Sept. 4) and NJIT (Sept. 7), despite arguably outplaying both teams. The Aztecs outshot UCR, 14-11, including a 4-3 advantage on net, before putting up even more of a statistical disparity against NJIT. In that game, SDSU owned a 26-11 advantage in shot attempts, a 7-2 lead in corner kicks, and had a goal taken away on a late offsides call.

In its next game, San Diego State took out its frustration on Fairleigh Dickinson with a 2-0 shutout. The Aztecs received goals from Cardenas and Jamel Wallace, outshooting the Knights, 14-4, for the match, including a decisive 6-0 advantage in shots on goal. For his weekend efforts, Cardenas was named the Top Drawer Soccer National Player of the Week and earned a spot on the website's national team of the week.

It was more of the same for SDSU on Sept. 15 in another 2-0 win, this time over Cal State Bakersfield. San Diego State had 10 shots to the Roadrunners' 1 and for the second straight game did not allow a shot on goal.

The Aztecs made it four consecutive victories the following week at the UNLV Tournament, dispatching Missouri Valley opponents Missouri State and Drake. On Sept. 21, Wallace scored a goal and Byrns made four saves for San Diego State's 1-0 triumph, its third straight shutout. Against Drake the following day, Wallace and Chiles backed a five-save performance by Byrns, with a goal each, in the team's 2-1, double-overtime victory.

Wallace's performance earned the redshirt sophomore Pac-10 Player of the Week honors, as well as garnering spots on the College Soccer News National Team of the Week.

Following a 0-0, double-overtime tie against nationally ranked UC Irvine, SDSU opened up its Pac-10 portion of the schedule, beginning with a match against No. 14 UCLA. Against the Bruins, Khadim Diouf knocked home Evan Toft's original shot in the 85th minute to give the Aztecs a 1-0 victory; their first win over the Bruins since 1989. San Diego State completely controlled the game, winning the shot battle, 17-8, including a 12-1 advantage in the second half.

The win drew national attention for SDSU, which moved into the top-25 in two polls and received votes in three others. In addition, Byrns' seven-save performance against UCLA earned him a spot on a national team of the week by three publications and websites, including Soccer America, College Soccer News and Top Drawer Soccer.

The following weekend, the Aztecs stretched their unbeaten streak to eight games with a pair of victories over No. 8 California and No. 21 Stanford. Chiles scored twice and Diouf added another in the team's 3-2 win over the Golden Bears on Oct. 12. Things weren't all peachy for San Diego State, however, as Byrns broke his elbow on a diving save in the 88th minute of the Cal victory. The injury would sideline the freshman for the rest of the season.

Against the Cardinal on Oct. 14, junior transfer Jorge Rosales made his Division I debut with a two-save performance in the team's 2-0 shutout, catapulting SDSU into first place in the Pac-10. Diouf and Chiles also scored for the Aztecs, whose eight-game unbeaten streak ended up as the sixth-longest of the program's 40-year history.

San Diego State had its streak snapped in the Pacific Northwest, falling, 3-1, at Washington on Oct. 19 and 2-0 at Oregon State on Oct. 21.

After wildfires in San Diego County forced changes to San Diego State athletics, the Aztecs were forced to play Oregon State Oct. 28 in Los Angeles on the campus of UCLA. As it had done all season, SDSU overcame adversity to down the Beavers, 3-0, behind goals by Diouf, Chiles and senior Matt Lemire. For the game, San Diego State held an 18-9 advantage in shots, 4-2 edge in corner kicks and a tell-tale 8-0 advantage in shots on goal.

Offensive woes hit the Aztecs, however, as the team failed to score in three straight games from Nov. 2-11. SDSU first lost a pair of games in the Bay Area, falling, 1-0, at No. 2 California on Nov. 2 and 3-0 to Stanford two days later. The team's final loss of the year came at the hands of a feisty Alabama A&M squad in a 2-0 setback on Nov. 11.

San Diego State did finish the season strong, racking up a pair of double-overtime, 1-1 ties at UCLA and at home against Washington. On Nov. 14, SDSU arguably played its best game of the season in a 1-1 tie against the Bruins. The Aztecs outshot the host school, 20-12, including a 13-2 disparity in shots in the second half. Redshirt sophomore Matt McManus scored for San Diego State, while Rosales made six saves in 90 minutes.

Four SDSU seniors – Chiles, David Dally, Lemire and Freddy McDonald – played their last game on Nov. 18 in the team's 1-1 tie against the Huskies. All four started and combined for eight shots, one goal (Chiles - co-captain) and an assist (McDonald - co-captain) in 345 minutes of action. Rosales made two saves for the Aztecs, who outshot Washington, 11-7.

San Diego State received a number of individual awards at the conclusion of the 2007 campaign. Foremost among the honorees was Chiles, who earned second-team Top Drawer Soccer honors as well as first-team all-Pac-10. Cardenas was selected to the NSCAA/adidas all-Far West third team and was joined on the all-Pac-10 second team by Toft. Byrns, Diouf and Wallace each were named to the all-Pac-10 honorable mention, while McDonald was named to the Pac-10 All-Academic first team.

Chiles would go on to be drafted by Chivas USA in the first round (ninth pick) of the Major League Soccer Supplemental Draft, where he would start and play in a handful of games during the 2008 season.

CAPTAIN LEADERSHIP

Danny Ortiz (left) and Dennis Sanchez (right) will be looked upon to provide leadership and guidance to the 2008 Aztecs.

The two seniors were named co-captains after being the backbone of the team's defense each of the past two seasons. The two bring experience to The Mesa, combining for 101 appearances and 85 starts.

No other Aztec has started more than Ortiz (36) over the past two seasons, while Sanchez is the most experienced on the squad with 54 appearances and 49 starts. Both players were named to the all-Pac-10 honorable mention squad after the 2006 season.

"Danny is a phenomenal young man," head coach Lev Kirshner said. "He is everything you want in an Aztec – a student, good athlete, good person, talented player, a terrific leader."

"Dennis is a mainstay in the program. His workrate is tireless and he will do whatever it takes to win games. I'm just excited to have him finish his career on the right note, wearing the armband and helping us win championships."

Community Service

Over the years, the San Diego State men's soccer team has been involved in numerous community outreach programs, including Habitat for Humanity, where the student-athletes helped build houses ruined from the San Diego wildfires, Special Olympics, Read Across America and Shop-With-A-Jock.

Visits to Children's Hospital, local elementary schools and special youth clinics are common events for the Aztecs.

San Diego State University has a partnership with Encanto Elementary School in which the Aztec athletic department provides student-athlete tutors and mentors for the school. Tickets to SDSU athletic events are rewards for outstanding academic achievement by the elementary students.

Food drives, stuffed-animal drives and Christmas gift drives are annual featured at San Diego State University.

"The students are providing a community service," Assistant Director of Academic Services Bre White said. "However, I would say that often times the student-athletes may gain the most from the experience."

Fantastic Facilities

In place now on Montezuma Mesa are arguably some of the finest facilities in the United States, and San Diego State is certainly among the leaders on the West Coast.

The department is housed in the $30 million, 130,000-square-foot Aztec Athletics Center. The new centerpiece of the department was dedicated in February 2002.

The four-story athletics center provides state-of-the-art facilities along with tremendous logistical advantages and a great location for studying, workouts, treatment and academic support.

On the south, the center is buffered by the Sports Deck, where both San Diego State's soccer squads, as well as the track and field team, compete.

On the north side, it is connected to Peterson Gym, the home of Aztec volleyball and a part-time practice facility for SDSU's basketball teams.

The west exit of the building opens onto three 120-yard practice fields. One of the fields is natural grass and two utilize field-turf, providing San Diego State daily options for its workouts.

The buildings are not just sparkling new (all of SDSU's new facilities have opened since 1997), but they are already postseason tested. Cox Arena, the 12,414-seat basketball facility, has twice served as a site for the NCAA Men's Basketball Division I Championship (first and second rounds) as well as the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball National Championship. In March 2006, Cox Arena also played host to the boy's and girl's McDonald's High School All-American Basketball games.

In May of 2007, the Mountain West Conference track and field championships returned to the Sports Deck for the second time in the league's eight-year history, while Tony Gwynn Stadium hosted the 2001 MWC baseball tournament and SDSU Softball Stadium hosted the 2005 MWC softball championship.

The final piece of the puzzle for San Diego State athletics is the new Aztec Aquaplex where the swimming and diving and water polo teams compete. The complex opened in March 2007 and features two pools, one for competition and one for recreation.

The football team plays at Qualcomm Stadium, home of the NFL's San Diego Chargers. Qualcomm Stadium also was the home of Super Bowl XXXVII in 2003.

Tony Gwynn Stadium, Aztec Tennis Center, SDSU Softball Stadium and the Aztec Athletics Center were constructed thanks to donations by San Diego Padres owners John and Becky Moores.

SDSU Sports Deck

“When there’s no room to build out...build up.” That’s the mantra of modern-day engineers and contractors and is something San Diego State took to heart when designing its soccer/track facility. The six-year-old, $13 million SDSU Sports Deck sits atop the university’s newest two-story parking structure (PS 5). The facility is located at 55th Street and Montezuma Avenue at the site of the old Choc Sportsman Oval.

- The Sports Deck serves as the home for the men’s and women’s soccer programs as well as the SDSU women’s track team. The track team competes on the Choc Sportsman Oval which surrounds the soccer field.
- The playing turf for soccer is a state-of-the-art natural grass surface with a built in automatic-drainage system. The facility features an all-weather track and was the site of the 2001 and Mountain West Conference track and field championships.
- The stadium seats about 1,500 people. The facility includes an electronic message/scoreboard, which is utilized for both soccer and track events. Future plans call for the facility to be lighted for night contests and seating capacity to be increased.
- The first official NCAA event was held at the Sports Deck on August 25, 2000, when the Aztec women’s soccer team faced Mississippi in its season opener. SDSU won that match, 2-1.
- The first men’s soccer contest at the site was held on Sept. 1, 2000, versus Christian Heritage. SDSU took that match, 5-0, making the occasion the facility’s first shutout.
- The facility was dedicated on Friday, Oct. 6, 2000, during a men’s and women’s soccer doubleheader.
- On Nov. 13, 2005, a stadium record 1,516 fans showed up for SDSU’s game against No. 6 UCLA.

San Diego State University

Beginning its 112th academic year in fall 2008, San Diego State University can take pride in more than a century of achievement in education, research and service. With an enrollment of more than 35,000 students, SDSU has grown into the largest institution of higher education in the San Diego region and one of the largest in California.

- San Diego State currently grants bachelor's degrees in 81 academic areas, master's degrees in 74 and doctoral degrees in 16.
- One in seven adults in San Diego holds a degree from SDSU.
- SDSU's undergraduate international business program ranks No. 15 in the nation, according to U.S. News and World Report's "America's Best-Colleges 2008 Guide."
- The undergraduate international business program at SDSU is the largest in the country, serving 1,100 students annually.
- SDSU is No. 6 in the nation and No. 2 in California for bachelor's degrees awarded to Hispanics – Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education, May 2008
- SDSU faculty received nearly $110 million in grants and contracts for research and administering programs during the fiscal year 2006/2007, the most of any CSU campus.
- SDSU's International Security and Conflict Resolution (ISCOR) major is the first of any kind in California.

Did You Know?

San Diego State has been designated a "Research University" with high research activity by the Carnegie Foundation. This designation places SDSU among the top 200 universities conducting research in the United States.

SDSU ranks No. 2 among universities of its type nationwide and No. 1 in California for students studying abroad as part of their college experience. – Institute of International Education, November 2007.

SDSU is home to the first-ever MBA program in Global Entrepreneurship. As part of the program, students study at four universities worldwide, including the Indian Institute of Management, Lucknow (NOIDA campus); University of Hyderabad; United Arab Emirates Highest Colleges of Technology (HCT); American University of Beirut and is currently negotiating partnerships with universities in China.

SDSU's master's degree in regulatory affairs – a key area of the biotech industry – is one of only two programs of its kind in the country and is considered the most comprehensive.

Aztec Leadership

Dr. Stephen Weber
University President

Stephen L. Weber, the seventh president of San Diego State University, provides dynamic leadership to an institution that ranks among the largest in the nation and third largest in California. Educated as a philosopher, President Weber began his tenure at SDSU in July 1996 and shortly afterward initiated a broad-based dialog intended to set the course for the University's future.

Under President Weber's guidance, students, faculty, staff, alumni and community leaders participated in shaping this "Shared Vision." SDSU is now moving boldly ahead toward goals set by those discussions: reinforcing academic excellence, nurturing students, honoring diversity and social justice, carefully stewarding resources and further developing global programs.

A champion of community involvement as well as academic excellence, President Weber has been an advocate for community service. Leading by example, he is immediate past chair of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Board of Directors and co-chairs Partners for K-12 School Reform. He also serves on the boards of governors of The Peres Center for Peace and the San Diego Foundation, and on the boards of directors of the San Diego Regional Economic Development Corporation, the San Diego Science and Technology Council, and the California Healthcare Institute. He co-chairs the College Presidents Forum of the San Diego County Policy Panel on Youth Access to Alcohol.

In addition, President Weber is a member of the international advisory board for the Foundation for Children of the Californias, the advisory council of the San Diego Performing Arts League, and the honorary advisory board of the San Diego Science Alliance. He is a member of the San Diego Rotary Club, an honorary director of the Japan Society of San Diego and Tijuana, and a member of the advisory board for Bahcesehir University in Turkey.

Born in Boston, President Weber is a graduate of Bowling Green University with a B.A. in philosophy. He received his Ph.D. in philosophy from the University of Notre Dame in 1969 and is the author of numerous articles on philosophy and higher education.

President Weber's many awards include an honorary degree from Beijing Capital Normal University. He was named among the 1997 Headliners of the Year by the San Diego Press Club. Also in 1997, the San Diego Mediation Center honored him with its Peacemaker Award. In 1999, President Weber received the Executive Director's Award from the San Diego Education Association and the Gold Key Award from the San Diego Hospitality Association. He was recognized as a Leader of Vision by the League of Women Voters of San Diego in 2000.

Before coming to SDSU, President Weber served as interim provost of the State University of New York (SUNY). He also served seven years as president of the SUNY Oswego campus. Prior to that he was vice president of academic affairs at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota, dean of arts and sciences at Fairfield University in Connecticut, and assistant to the president of the University of Maine. While a faculty member at the University of Maine, he was recognized as the outstanding professor in humanities.

President Weber is married to Susan Keim Weber, who shares his enthusiastic commitment to SDSU. They have two sons.

Jeff Schemmel
Director of Athletics

Jeff Schemmel, who has elevated San Diego State athletics to unparalleled success, enters his fourth season on Montezuma Mesa. In 2007-08, San Diego State posted its best-ever finish in the 15-year history of the Division I U.S. Academy Director's Cup for on-field broad based success. Aztec student-athletes continued to excel in the classroom as well, with 218 student-athletes earning 3.0 cumulative or 3.2 semester grade-point averages in 2007.

In addition, San Diego State is coming off one of the most successful spring seasons of any school in the country, joining Stanford, UCLA and USC as the only four schools to qualify for the national championship in men's golf, softball and women's water polo.

Added evidence of the Aztecs' success across the board was demonstrated this past spring, when four San Diego State sports finished in the top 35 of their national championships, including a second straight top-five finish for water polo and a 15th-place finish for men's golf (the highest placing for an SDSU men's sport in an NCAA Championship in eight years). In June, Schemmel was also tabbed as the chair of the NCAA Championships and Sports Management Cabinet, which directly oversees nearly every NCAA Division I championship. The Cabinet is one of six committees that make up the restructured NCAA Governance Structure.

Schemmel was named San Diego State's athletic director on July 6, 2005, and is recognized as one of the most accomplished sitting athletic directors in the country. He is a former practicing attorney, has directed a Final Four, served as a senior administrator at Big 10 and Big 12 schools, and played a part in what might be the biggest football turnaround in the history of college athletics.

Schemmel arrived at San Diego State from Conference USA, where he had served as associate commissioner for governance and legal affairs since October of 2004. During his stay in Dallas, he helped the league negotiate television contracts with ESPN and College Sports Television that exceeded more than $100 million in revenue, and he served as a member of the NCAA Division I Management Council.

From February of 2004 to October of 2004, Schemmel was the senior vice president and executive director of development for the Arizona State University Foundation, where he oversaw the school's fundraising efforts while supervising approximately 135 employees across the Tempe campus.

Schemmel was an administrator at the University of Minnesota from 1991 to 2003. During his stay in the Twin Cities, he advanced from associate athletic director for compliance to senior associate athletic director and chief operating officer for Gopher athletics.

From 1988 to 1991, Schemmel was an administrator at his alma mater, Kansas State. He served as the school's assistant athletic director for development and later was the associate athletic director for compliance while supervising the school's Olympic sports.

Schemmel was a decorated runner at Kansas State and was named the 1976 outstanding student-athlete at the school. As a Wildcat, he was a four-time track and field All-American, a five-time Big 8 Conference champion, was a member of a national champion distance medley relay team and won the Big 8 Conference Medallion.

After earning his undergraduate degree in political science, Schemmel earned his law degree at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan. He began his professional career as an attorney and later was a partner in his own firm, specializing in business and sports law.

Schemmel and his wife, Lori, have been married for 31 years. They have two sons, Justin, and Jon, who plays minor league baseball in the San Diego Padres organization.

Academics/Endowments

AZTEC SOCCER ACADEMIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS

"AN EDUCATION IS WHAT YOU MAKE OF IT..."

The men's soccer team has held the highest overall GPA for Aztec men's sports six times since head coach Lev Kirshner started at San Diego State University. The most recent achievement was spring 2007, when the Aztec squad accumulated a 3.06 team semester grade point average.

In the spring of 1998, the men's team had the highest GPA of all 18 sports in the San Diego State University athletic department.

Five different men's players have had a total of nine 4.0 GPA's since Kirshner took over the soccer program, the highest total of any sport on campus.

Thirty players have been academic all-conference selections in Kirshner's tenure.

The program is proud to have eight Academic or Scholar All-American selections. Three of the eight selections have occurred with Kirshner as head coach.

AZTEC ACADEMICS

The dual role of student and athlete can be a daunting challenge for any person at the Division I level. Recognizing that academic challenge, the Student Athlete Academic Support Services program has been developed at San Diego State to assist all student-athletes in achieving academic excellence.

It is a source of pride within San Diego State athletics that the department has developed one of the most comprehensive academic support programs in the country.

THE STAFF

The SAASS staff includes a director, a learning specialist, four academic advisors, the department's director of compliance, an eligibility coordinator, a financial aid coordinator as well as a recruitment coordinator.

In addition to the full-time staff, the department employs more than 20 mentors and tutors.

Collectively, they operate a program that enhances each student's satisfactory progress toward graduation.

THE SERVICES

Throughout the academic year, advisors offer a variety of services to aid individuals in the development of their personal goals and the blueprint for pursuing those goals.

All new student-athletes are invited to an orientation that helps lay the foundation for future successes. Each advisor teaches a section of the University's Freshman Success course (General Studies 100), which deals with specific transition issues for student-athletes. Topics include time management, study skills and test taking. In addition, the course also introduces new students to services such as the Love Library, University Advising Center, Career Services, Health Services and the counseling center.

THE RESOURCES

In the fall of 2001, the academic unit joined the rest of the athletic department in moving into the new $30 million, 130,000-square-foot Aztec Athletics Center. The academic staff is located on the third floor of the complex and includes a new 40-station computer lab, individual study rooms and two lecture rooms.

THE COMMITMENT

San Diego State's annual Scholar-Athlete Awards Banquet honors students with a grade-point average in excess of 3.2. In 2007, 192 student-athletes, more than one-third of the student-athlete body, were honored for their work in the classroom.

A new event was launched in 2005 with the inaugural Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) Awards. SDSU's student-athletes were treated to an awards banquet to recognize outstanding individual achievements throughout the athletic department.

The Brad Walsh Endowed Scholarship was established in 1998 by Bruce and Margo Walsh in honor of their son, Brad. The generous endowment benefits future generations of Aztec men's soccer players. Head coach Lev Kirshner and the Aztec Athletic Foundation are presently working on a new endowment fund in honor of former head coach George Logan.

ERIC WYNALDA ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP

The Eric Wynalda Endowed Scholarship, established in 1995, also benefits SDSU men's soccer. Wynalda received a Honda for winning the national player of the year award and donated it to Aztec athletics. Thanks to his generosity, the Eric Wynalda Endowed Scholarship was started and is now in its 14th year.

A gift of approximately $50,000 is now needed to name an endowment. If you are interested in naming an endowment or donating toward an athletic scholarship, please contact Michelle McBride, Assistant Athletic Director of AAF at (619) 594-7924.

6	The Aztecs' men's soccer team has posted the highest overall team GPA on six occasions, including the 2007 semester.
8	The program has had eight Academic or Scholar All-American selections. Three of the eight picks have occurred with Kirshner as head coach.
16	SDSU had 16 scholar-athlete award winners over the past year, including returners Gemechu Abraham, Michio Akazawa, Nick Collins, Khadim Diouf and Raymundo Reza.

THIS IS SAN DIEGO STATE

America's Finest City

SAN DIEGO - AMERICA'S FINEST CITY

Quite simply, San Diego State University and the City of San Diego, "America's Finest City," enjoy several advantages over virtually every other school in America. The climate, diversity, environment and sheer beauty of the city attracts people from all walks of life.

THE CITY

Dubbed the "jewel" of the southern California coast, the city of San Diego has grown to surround its natural harbor and is the eighth largest city in the United States and the second largest in California.

DIVERSITY

The rich flavors and colors of this diverse population blends all ethnic groups and all walks of life to create an amazing quality of life that makes San Diego all things to all people.

NATURAL BEAUTY

As America's eighth largest city, San Diego also protects vast areas of open space for riding, hiking, skiing, and camping. The region also boasts more than 70 miles of beaches along its coastline. From Torrey Pines and La Costa to Aviara, Mission Bay or Singing Hills, beautiful settings offer an abundance of golf and tennis options.

THE WEATHER

Meteorologists claim San Diego as the country's only area with a perfect climate. This year-round environment posts an average daytime temperature of 70 degrees, with an annual rainfall average of less than 10 inches.

IDEAL LIVING

Whether watching the sun rise over the east county mountains or the sun setting over the Pacific, in San Diego, one is surrounded by natural beauty, pampered by an ideal climate, immersed in old-world traditions and able to enjoy a comfortable, friendly lifestyle that no other city offers. What a treat to live, play and study in "America's Finest City."

PLACES TO GO

There's always something to do in San Diego. SeaWorld, the World-Famous San Diego Zoo and Wild Animal Park, LEGOLAND California, Balboa Park and historic Old Town are just some of the attractions San Diego has to offer.

If it's art and history you seek, you'll find it here. Did you know San Diego is the birthplace of California or that San Diego boasts the largest concentration of museums west of the Mississippi?

San Diego also offers Tony Award-winning theatre, opera, symphony, art galleries and performance art for the culturally curious.

For that "night on the town" San Diego's night life beckons with over 200 night-clubs that offer toe-tapping beats of everything from country western to R&B.

Aztec Culture

SDSU'S AZTEC HERITAGE

From the early decades of its history, San Diego State has identified itself with the Aztecs, one of the most sophisticated and distinctive societies in the history of the Western Hemisphere. A fitting choice for a university committed to internationalism and diversity, the Aztec identity evokes great pride in Mexico, as well as among many people in the United States, and certainly within the SDSU community. Consequently, San Diego State strives to honor the Aztec people by enhancing awareness, understanding and appreciation of Aztec culture and achievements.

AZTEC HISTORY

Aztec civilization dates back to at least the 12th century A.D. The precise location is still debated by scholars, but tradition tells us of a place somewhere north of modern-day Mexico City known at that time as Aztlan, which meant "the place of the cranes" or "the place of the herons." The people who lived in this land were called Azteca meaning "those of Aztlan."

became known as the Mexica. Native folklore attributes this name change to the instructions of the people's patron deity, Huitzilopochtli (Hummingbird on the Left).

Around 1325, the Mexica settled on an island in Lake Texcoco, an area that is now the heart of Mexico City, and named it Tenochtitlan or "the place of the fruit of the cactus." A century later, the Mexica and two other Nahuatl-speaking city-states, Texcoco and Tlacopan, combined to create an entity popularly known as the Aztec Empire.

Boasting a strong military force, this new alliance commanded a sphere of influence that stretched across much of present-day Mexico.

Tenochtitlan and its surrounding valley evolved into a highly sophisticated, multicultural and multilingual city-state of several million inhabitants. At this same time, major European cities numbered only 30,000 to 40,000 in population. A cradle of innovation, the Aztec Empire developed advanced systems of trade, science, politics, religion, education and agriculture. The Aztecs also enjoyed sports and built grand ballcourts to accommodate team events.

AZTECS AND SDSU

San Diego State University first adopted the Aztec name in the 1920s as a nickname for the college's sports teams. In 1925, the student newspaper followed suit, changing its name from The Paper Lantern to The Aztec. Since that time, San Diego State's celebration of Aztec heritage has permeated the campus. In 1936, a Donald Hord sculpture of Montezuma II, the last Aztec emperor, became a welcoming campus icon. With the passing years, Aztec themes echoed in the names, colors and architectural elements of new campus buildings. And Aztec culture became the subject of more than a dozen university courses.

In 1941, Monty Montezuma, a character based on Montezuma II, debuted at San Diego State athletic events as a symbolic personification of the Aztecs. Over time, the Montezuma character's look and activities have evolved from a sports mascot into a more dignified and accurate representation of the historical emperor. Montezuma now serves as the university's ambassador of Aztec culture, charged with the responsibility of informing and educating the San Diego community about Aztec civilization. SDSU continues to take pride in its affiliation with Aztec culture and to celebrate the Aztec virtues of strength, valor and intellectual achievement.

The Program

THE PROGRAM

Winning is an attitude that permeates with head coach Lev Kirshner and the San Diego State men's soccer program. It's no longer a wish on The Mesa, it's expected.

Backed by consecutive runner-up finishes in the Pac-10, three nationally ranked recruiting classes and a national caliber schedule each and every year, SDSU has become a national force. Aztec men's soccer has won 26 games over the past three seasons and advanced to two NCAA tournaments, taking out numerous nationally ranked opponents along the way.

With its "One Team, One Family, One Mission" attitude, fully-funded program and a top notch support staff, San Diego State has become the place to be.

Postseason Pride

EIGHT NCAA TOURNAMENT APPEARANCES

The numbers tell the story of the San Diego State men's soccer program's rise into elite company. The Aztecs have made eight trips to the NCAA tournament, including two of the past three seasons. SDSU is one of just three Pac-10 teams to reach the final four. The final four appearance came in 1987 when San Diego State came from behind in each of its NCAA tournament games to win by 2-1 scores. The run was stopped in the NCAA championship game when host Clemson downed the Aztecs, 2-0. The 1987 squad joined the 1973 men's championship volleyball team as the only two Aztec teams to ever make a NCAA final.

Since head coach Lev Kirshner joined the Pac-10 in 2005, SDSU has compiled three consecutive winning seasons (first time since 1990-92) and two straight Pac-10 runner-up finishes. In the Pac-10 era, San Diego State has gone 26-17-14 (.579), including a 11-9-10 (.533) record in conference play. Since receiving its full allotment of scholarships, the Aztecs have advanced to the NCAA tournament in two of its three opportunities.

In its 40-year history, SDSU has gone 9-6-1 (.594) in NCAA tournament play.

1969	AZTECS ADVANCE TO NCAA TOURNAMENT IN JUST SECOND SEASON OF DIVISION I SOCCER In just its second season of Division I soccer, SDSU advanced to the NCAA tournament after knocking off Cal State Fullerton and UCLA in NCAA qualifying matches, both by 2-1 scores in overtime. The Aztecs then tied San Francisco, 2-2, but the Dons advanced on in the tournament by having more corner kicks than San Diego State, a rule that is no longer played by today.
1981	SDSU KNOCKS OFF TWO BAY AREA TEAMS SDSU made it back to the NCAA tournament after finishing its regular season with an impressive 14-3-1 mark. In their first game, the Aztecs avenged an early season loss to California by shutting out the Golden Bears, 4-0, in Berkeley. The squad would then down host San Francisco, 2-1, in overtime. However, the team's participation in the tourney was later vacated.
1982	SAN DIEGO STATE MAKES IT TWO STRAIGHT San Diego State proved that 1981 was no fluke, setting a school record with 20 victories en route to its second consecutive NCAA tournament appearance. SDSU won its final eight regular season games and then knocked off Fresno State, 1-0, in the NCAA first round. However, San Francisco eliminated the Aztecs in the next game by a 2-0 score.
1987	AZTECS FALL IN NATIONAL TITLE GAME After entering the NCAA tournament as the last seed, San Diego State made a cinderella run through the tourney, defeating St. Louis, SMU (advanced on penalty kicks) and UCLA, all on the road and by 2-1 margins to make it to the NCAA final four. In the final four, SDSU moved past Harvard on penalty kicks before falling to host Clemson, 2-0, in the NCAA title game.
1988	SDSU LOSES HEARTBRAKER TO UCLA IN NCAA FIRST ROUND The Aztecs made their second straight trip to the NCAA tournament after posting a 15-2-4 regular season record. In its second-to-last contest, San Diego State played to a 1-1 overtime tie with UCLA, a team it had knocked off last season to reach the final four. However, the Bruins would take the rematch, 2-1, to eliminate SDSU in the first round of the NCAA tourney.
1989	THREE STRAIGHT FOR SAN DIEGO STATE The Aztecs reached their third consecutive NCAA tournament, the only team in program history to do so, after going 14-4-3 in the regular season. SDSU and UCLA did battle once again in the NCAA first round. The game was tied at 1-1 through the overtime periods, but the Bruins came out on top in penalty kicks to avenge their loss to San Diego State earlier in the year.
2005	AZTECS RETURN TO NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT SDSU returned to national prominence in its first season of Pac-10 play, finishing with a 9-4-6 record, while allowing just nine goals in the regular season. The Aztecs would have to travel to nationally ranked UC Santa Barbara and a hostile crowd. In the end, the Gauchos connected on two late second half goals to eliminate San Diego State, 2-0.
2006	SDSU PROVES IT BELONGS WITH A SECOND STRAIGHT TRIP TO THE TOURNAMENT The Aztecs proved the doubters wrong by advancing to the NCAA tournament for the second consecutive season, a feat that hadn't been done since 1988-89. San Diego State was shipped to UC Santa Barbara for the second straight NCAA tourney (and third time in two years). SDSU jumped out to a 1-0 lead, but fell to the eventual national champions, 2-1.

1987 NCAA National Runner-Ups

1987 NATIONAL RUNNER-UPS

It was a cinderella run to say the least.

After losing two of its final four games, the 1987 Aztec men's soccer team dropped to 16-5 and cautiously waited for a berth into the NCAA tournament. Their wish was granted when they earned the last seed of the 24 teams, their first NCAA bid since 1982.

However, the road would be rough and would include no home games and possible trips across the country and back. No sweat.

SDSU went on to win its next four matches, all come-from-behind victories, to reach the NCAA title game. The Aztecs began their impossible run on Nov. 15 by knocking off 10-time national champion St. Louis, 2-1. On Nov. 21, San Diego State upset No. 5 Southern Methodist after scoring a goal in the waning moments to tie the game and eventually winning on penalty kicks. Next up was No. 9 UCLA on Nov. 29, a team SDSU had lost to, 3-1, just 25 days earlier and was just 1-13-4 all-time against. The Aztecs came out of Westwood with a 2-1 result, sealing the program's first trip to the NCAA final four.

On Dec. 5, San Diego State would continue its cinderella story by eliminating Harvard in penalty kicks to join the 1973 men's volleyball team as the only Aztec teams to ever make an NCAA final. SDSU had its run come to an end the following day in a 2-0 loss to host Clemson, ironically the tournament's No. 23 seed.

Aztec All-Americans

Pete Goossens, 1969

Goossens became the first All-American in school history and the first ever from Southern California. Goossens, a defender, helped the Aztecs to the Southern California Intercollegiate Soccer Association championship. An all-Southern California and all-Southern Section performer, he backed a defense that allowed just 14 goals (12 from the opposition) in 11 games. The Aztecs defeated UCLA, Cal State Fullerton and Cal State Los Angeles en route to a 9-1-1 record and the program's first trip to the NCAA tournament. SDSU played three overtime NCAA playoff games, defeating the Bruins and Titans before battling San Francisco to a 2-2 tie in four overtimes.

Alan Kelly, 1976-77

Kelly earned second-team All-America honors in 1976, after leading SDSU to its ninth straight winning season and a 10-5-1 record. A midfielder, Kelly tied for the team lead with seven goals. The Aztecs posted impressive wins over San Francisco State and U.S. International on the way to the championship of the USIU Invitational. In 1977, Kelly became the first two-time All-American in school history when he garnered first-team accolades. Playing in his final season, Kelly recorded nine goals, tied for second most on the team, as SDSU went 13-4-1. The Aztecs once again won the USIU Invitational, as they beat the hosts, 4-2, and Long Beach State, 5-0, in the championship game.

Kevin Crow, 1981-82

Crow helped the 1981 Aztecs (16-3-1) return to the NCAA tournament for the first time in 10 seasons and finish with a school record 16 victories. The second SDSU defender to be named an All-American, Crow anchored a defense that allowed just 18 goals, or 0.90 goals per game, over the entire season. Crow joined Alan Kelly as the Aztecs' second two-time All-American after he was named to the third team the following season. The 1982 team established a new record with 20 wins, a mark which is still tied with the 1987 national runner-up squad for the most victories in the program's history. SDSU (20-3-0), which won its first 11 games and made its second straight trip to the NCAA tournament before falling to San Francisco, 2-0, in the second round.

Kyle Whittemore, 1987

One season after setting a SDSU record that still stands with 50 points on 20 goals and 10 assists, Whittemore struck for 17 goals and contributed five helpers, despite being double-teamed for most of the year. His 39 points led the squad and for his efforts was named to the All-America second team. He helped the Aztecs, the lowest seeded team in the NCAA tournament, all the way to the NCAA championship game before falling to Clemson, 2-0. SDSU would defeat St. Louis (2-1), SMU (2-1, ot/pk) and UCLA (2-1) on the road before taking down undefeated Harvard, 2-1, in penalty kicks, in the semifinals.

Marcelo Balboa, 1988-89

Balboa became the first Aztec first-team All-American since 1977 (Alan Kelly) after leading SDSU to its second straight NCAA tournament in 1988. Balboa, a future National Soccer Hall of Fame member, backed a defense that allowed only 10 goals in 22 games, as SDSU finished 15-3-4. He also scored four goals and added six assists for 14 points. Later on in the year, he was named a U.S. U-20 World Cup team captain. The following season, Balboa was a second-team selection to become the third Aztec two-time honoree. A captain from his sweeper position, Balboa tallied 23 points on eight goals and seven assists in leading SDSU to its third consecutive trip to the NCAA tournament, the only time in school history that has happened. The 1989 Aztecs finished 14-5-3.

Tally Hall, 2005-06

Hall led the nation in 2005 with a 88.9 shot-on-goal percentage and was second with a 0.49 goals against average, both school single-season records. He helped the Aztecs to their first trip to the NCAA tournament since 1989, recording a school-record 12 shutouts, as the SDSU defense gave up 11 goals in 19 games en route to a 9-4-6 mark. In 2006, Hall became SDSU's fourth two-time All-American after helping the squad to the NCAA tournament for the second straight season. Despite falling to eventual national champion UC Santa Barbara, 2-1, in the NCAA first round, Hall went 9-5-4 with a 1.04 goals against average and six shutouts. He would end his four-year career second on the all-time list with 256 saves.

Success After SDSU

SUCCESS AFTER SDSU

With national stars such as Marcelo Balboa and Eric Wynalda, it has become evident that San Diego State soccer breeds world class talent.

Overall, the Aztecs have had four World Cup participants, including Balboa, Wynalda, Cle Kooiman and Chris Sullivan, and 26 selections to a national team. Most recently, Omar Persad represented the Jamaican U-20 National Team at the FIFA U-20 World Cup qualifications in 2007. In addition, current senior Myles Davis (Canada) and former All-American Tally Hall (United States) were each call-ups to their respective country's national team camp in their preparation for the Beijing Olympics.

San Diego State has also had great success in the pro ranks with 49 either playing or coaching professionally since 1974, including five over the past four years. Last April, rookie Kraig Chiles earned his first career start for Major League Soccer's Chivas USA in a game against FC Dallas. Chiles played the first 60 minutes of the match and was involved in every set piece, taking 10 of the team's 13 corner kicks. Persad recently joined Chiles in the professional ranks after signing to play with Lousananse of the Portugese Third Division.

Aztec Soccer Year-by-Year

San Diego State's first year of Division I soccer. George Logan was the first head coach and the architect of 148 future wins. The Aztecs defeated UC San Diego, 5-1, in the school's first match. SDSU started the year winning its first four matches as the Aztecs finished with a 6-2 record.

1969

SDSU defeated CS Los Angeles, CS Fullerton and UCLA on its way to a 9-1-1 season. Jim Tollerton and Oscar Gonzalez shared the goal-scoring leadership with 12 apiece. The Aztecs played three overtime NCAA playoff games, defeating CS Fullerton and UCLA, 2-1, before battling San Francisco to a 2-2 tie in four OTs. The game was decided by which team had taken more corner kicks, making USF the winner.

1970

Al Limahelu tallied 26 points and Choo Chowana-Bandu scored 12 goals to lead the team. The largest margin of victory in Aztec soccer history came when San Diego State defeated Chapman College, 13-0. The Aztecs outscored opponents 55-9 on their way to an 8-1-1 mark.

1971

SDSU posted a 10-3-1 record with the help of Tollerton's 11 goals and Chowana-Bandu's 10 scores. The Aztecs made their first appearance in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association tournament, losing to San Jose State in the first round, 2-1.

1972

After starting the season 1-4, San Diego State went unbeaten in its last six games to boost its season record to 6-4-1, securing its fifth straight winning campaign of the program. Chowana-Bandu led the team with nine goals.

1973

The season began with a 12-0 whitewash of Arizona State and a 9-1 victory over Loyola. The team struggled at mid-year but regrouped to win six of its last seven to finish 11-6-3. The schedule included games with international teams from Mexico and Germany.

1974

Goal-scoring machine Steve Robertson arrived on Montezuma Mesa. He netted 14 goals in 13 games, including at least one tally in nine contests. The only loss in a 10-1-2 season came against CS Fullerton in the Aztecs' second match.

1975

Robertson again averaged more than a goal per game as the Aztecs put together a 10-4-1 season. Future stars Alan Kelly and Jan Norby arrived at SDSU and made an immediate impact. Kelly scored eight goals and Norby provided strength on defense.

1976

Three players scored seven goals apiece, leading the Aztecs to a 10-5-1 record. Kelly, Carlos Sainz and Lauri Somersalmi stood out in the Aztecs' ninth-straight winning season, including victories over San Francisco State and USIU on the way to the championship of the USIU Invitational.

1977

Vidal Fernandez burst onto the scene at SDSU, leading the Aztecs to a 13-4-1 record. The future New York Cosmos and San Diego Sockers star tallied 13 goals on the year to lead the team. Kelly and Sainz each had nine tallies. Four-year letterman and future head coach, Chuck Clegg, finished his first year as Logan's assistant coach.

1978

Playing its longest schedule ever, SDSU went 13-7, including a 8-2 mark at home. Fernandez again led the team in scoring with nine goals, while Chris Hull and Norby each scored five times. During a three-game stretch early in the year, Fernandez scored five times to pace three Aztec victories. Gordon Dallas wore the scarlet and black for the first time, notching four goals to go along with eight assists.

1979

The golden era of SDSU soccer begins with the arrival of several outstanding players. Micael Holmstedt, Dida Menders, Vince Bucelli and Kevin Crow all make their initial appearances for the Aztecs. In his final campaign, Fernandez scored 12 goals and had 10 assists, leading the team to a 14-3-2 mark. For the first time in SDSU soccer history, three players had double figures in goals as Fernandez and Holmstedt had 12 goals each and Menders added 10.

1980

Holmstedt set the school's single-season scoring mark, netting 17 goals in 18 games. His 42 points also set a standard for SDSU. The team went on to compile a record of 12-4-2.

1981

The Aztecs returned to the NCAA playoffs for the first time in 10 years, compiling a 16-3-1 overall record. SDSU trounced California, 4-0, in the first round of the playoffs. In the second round, the Aztecs again met San Francisco. After regulation and four 15-minute overtimes failed to produce a winner, SDSU won on penalty kicks, 2-1. Following the victory, a player was declared ineligible for the Aztecs, forcing them out of further competition.

1982

Clegg took over as head coach and guided the Aztecs to their best record in history, winning 20 games for the first time. Clegg inherited a talented group that included seniors Holmstedt, Bucelli, Menders and Crow. The Aztecs won their first 11 games as they finished 20-3 and went to the NCAA's again. SDSU eliminated Fresno State in the first round, 1-0, before falling to USF, 2-0. Holmstedt led the team with 33 points.

With heavy graduation losses, the team struggled to a 9-9-4 record. Goal scoring was the problem most of the year, with the exception being a 13-0 win over Loyola Marymount. In the game against the Lions, Jeff Ryder scored three goals. Nineteen different players tallied at least one point during the season.

1984

Kyle Whittemore arrived on Montezuma Mesa to set single-season scoring and points marks. The Seattle product beat opposing keepers 21 times during the course of the season, tallying 45 points. Eric Drabb was the team's second-leading scorer with six goals and six assists. The team tied the school record set in 1983 for goals in a game with a 13-0 drubbing of CS Bakersfield. Its final record was 14-6.

1985

With Whittemore gone for the year with a broken leg, SDSU had trouble scoring. Steve Boardman and Steve Guillot shared the team lead with five goals. Boardman set a single-season record for assists with 12. The team averted its first-ever losing record with a late goal against cross-town rival USD to win, 1-0, in the next-to-last contest of the year to finish 8-8-4.

1986

Whittemore returned from his injury to break his own point-scoring record, earning a point in 17 different contests. His 20 goals and 10 assists led the team to a 14-3-4 record. Goalkeeper Felipe Hernandez posted a 0.71 goals-against average and six shutouts. The season ended on a sour note with a loss to Wisconsin-Milwaukee in the final game, keeping the team out of the NCAA playoffs.

1987

With teams keying more and more on Whittemore, freshman Eric Wynalda was a welcome addition to the Aztecs' scoring punch. As the lowest-seeded team in the NCAA playoffs, SDSU made a storybook run all the way to the NCAA finals. The Aztecs' finish included playoff victories against St. Louis, SMU and UCLA before beating undefeated Harvard in the semifinals. In the national championship game, SDSU lost to Clemson on the Tigers' home field, 2-0. Whittemore had 17 goals to lead the way and Wynalda had 11 goals and 11 assists. Goalkeepers Bryan Finnerty and Felipe Hernandez combined for a school-record 13 shutouts. A key to the Aztec season was the play of Chris Keenan and Gerardo Jimenez, both of whom had transferred to SDSU for their senior years.

1988

The Aztecs made their second consecutive trip to the NCAA playoffs, losing to UCLA in the first round. Defender Marcelo Balboa was named a first-team All-American. Wynalda (14), Whittemore (10) and Betts (10) finished in double figures for goal scoring. Finnerty set a pair of goalkeeping records as he helped the Aztecs establish a school record of 14 shutouts in a season. Finishing the season 15-3-4, SDSU continued to establish themselves as one of the premier programs in the nation. Whittemore capped his career as the MVP of the Senior Bowl in St. Louis at Budweiser Soccer Park, leading the West to a 2-0 victory and scoring the game-winning goal.

1989

Continuing to solidify their role as a national contender, the Aztecs appeared in the NCAA playoffs for the third straight year, a first in their storied history. In the playoff game, UCLA defeated the Aztecs 2-1, in a penalty kick shootout. Senior goalkeeper Bryan Finnerty recorded the third best single-season goals-against average (0.66), and became the Aztecs' career leader in GAA (0.69) and shutouts (26.5). Betts led Aztec scorers with 32 points and U.S. National Team members Wynalda and Balboa finished with 24 and 23 points, respectively. SDSU finished the decade with the 15th-best winning percentage (.722) among Division I programs. The Aztecs ended the season 14-5-3.

1990

The Aztecs began the season basking in the accomplishments of three former players, Balboa, Wynalda and Chris Sullivan. All represented the United States on the national team in Italy for World Cup 1990. The Aztecs had more players compete for the national team than any university in the United States. On Montezuma Mesa, Patrick Merrell and company recorded an 11-6-3 record, barely missing the NCAA playoffs. The defense was anchored by Dain DeForest, but speedsters Jason French, Bill Demke and Chris Stephens combined with Brian Craft-Negrete and Merrell for 31 goals and 28 assists. Goalkeeper Curtis McAlister recorded a 0.92 GAA.

1991

Posting a 10-4-4 record, Craft-Negrete led the team with nine goals and eight assists. Captain Merrell directed the attack from the midfield, scoring two goals and adding six assists. Goalkeepers Dan Dalzochio, Chris Volk and Shannon Storey amassed 59 saves.

1992

Due to an injury-plagued season, SDSU's final tally of 10-8-1 was impressive. From the midfield, senior Andy Morrone scored seven goals and seven assists. The season saw 15 players score at least one goal. The year also marked the Aztecs' entry into league play with the creation of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation. The MPSF will prove to be one of the strongest soccer conferences in the nation.

1993

As predicted, the MPSF's strength was evidenced by four teams qualifying for the NCAA tournament. The Aztecs struggled, posting their first losing season in 25 years, going 7-9-1. Injuries again played a major role with nine of the starting 11 sidelined for part of the season. Senior Bill Demke led the Aztec attack, scoring 11 goals and two assists on the season.

1994

The strongest freshman recruiting class in recent history arrived on Montezuma Mesa. The rollercoaster season ended up 10-9, but six freshmen broke into the starting lineup. Senior Willie Franklin's career ended with four goals and three assists. The freshmen gained valuable Division I experience against top-20 teams. Sophomore Aaron Susi led the team with 22 points and began maturing into a top forward. The team recorded 241 shots on goal.

1995

As a junior, Susi led the Aztecs with 10 goals and 10 assists for a total of 30 points. The Aztecs posted a less-than-stellar record of 6-10-4, for only their second losing season in 27 years. Eleven different players scored for a total of 38 goals. Senior Pablo Nunnally recorded two assists from the defense. The freshman class contributed seven players who put the ball in the net. The year also marked the end of defender Jeff Baxter's outstanding career. The MPSF again proved to be a powerhouse in the ratings.

1996

Darren and Derek Drago and Mark Rogondino joined the team for their final year of eligibility. Those three, plus transfers Juan Velasco and John Browne, added maturity to the squad. Aztec soccer followed other SDSU sports into the Western Athletic Conference, as did fellow MPSF schools, Air Force, Fresno State, New Mexico, San Jose State, SMU, TCU, Tulsa and UNLV. The WAC certainly rivaled the MPSF in strength. Six freshmen again found playing time and the Aztecs finished 7-10-3.

1997

Coach Clegg was pleased to announce the addition of his first salaried men's assistant coach, Lev Kirshner. A northern California native, Kirshner played collegiately for Rutgers University. Sophomore goalkeeper Matt Hall came into his own, posting a 1.25 GAA, recording 80 saves and four shutouts. The overall record of 7-8-3 did not reflect the intensity of play as four of the losses were by one goal and the team took three opponents to overtime. Again freshmen made an impact with six consistently in the starting lineup. Senior Raja Hawa led the team in scoring, but 13 different Aztecs scored. SDSU remained somewhat young with only three seniors graduating.

1998

A rebuilding Aztec squad held its own throughout a competitive season, finishing with a record of 8-11-1. Junior David Beltran and Darren Parker shared goal-scoring honors with five apiece, while freshman Mike Bradbury added five goals and four assists in his inaugural campaign at SDSU. Goalie Hall was stellar in the nets, fashioning a 1.42 goals-against average. The Aztecs posted impressive WAC wins over UNLV and TCU at home and finished the season with a 4-3 overtime loss to 16th-ranked Southern Methodist, a team that went on to the NCAA quarterfinals.

1999

With the creation of the Mountain West Conference, SDSU returned to the MPSF. The young Aztec team showed signs of improvement but finished the season with a 4-15-0 record. Three of the team's wins came in the form of shutouts, including an impressive 6-0 season-opening victory over Concordia. Freshman keeper Brian Barnes was the team's primary starter seeing action in 16-of-19 matches, earning 64 saves. Junior midfielder/forward Milton Economy led the team with four goals and two assists (10 points), including two game-winners.

2000

Assistant coach Kirshner took over the head coaching reins and with it, the job of returning the program to the success it once knew. Junior midfielder Enrique Tovar led the team in goals (4), assists (6) and points (14). The story of the campaign was sophomore goalkeeper Barnes, who finished the year with a MPSF Pacific Division-leading 90 saves. Combined with 64 saves from his rookie season, his total of 154 saves placed him third on SDSU's career top-10 list. The team finished the year with a 6-12-1 record, and was 2-4-1 in the MPSF-Pacific Division after an injury-plagued campaign in which seven players underwent surgery.

2001

San Diego State completed one of the program's most successful seasons in recent years with a 7-9-4 overall mark and a 3-2-2 MPSF record. The Aztecs entered the final weekend of regular season play in contention for their first MPSF title. Sophomore Kevin Sapanli's earned all-conference and all-tournament honors. He also was a third-team selection on the Verizon Academic All-America team. Seniors

Enrique Tovar and Tim Edwards joined Sapanli on the all-conference squad.

2002

After entering the season with great optimism, a rash of injuries to several key returnees turned the year sour. SDSU posted a 4-13-2 overall record, but the young Aztecs did show signs of optimism. The highlight of the year was a 3-2 overtime victory over No. 7 Loyola Marymount. Barnes earned second-team all-MPSF honors after another solid year at goalkeeper, and Ryan Cook was awarded all-MPSF honorable mention plaudits.

2003

The 2003 Aztec squad went against the pundits and posted their first winning season since the 1994 campaign. The year also marked the Aztecs return to the MPSF championships for the second time under fourth-year coach Kirshner. The season started out with a bang as the Aztecs pulled out a 2-1 overtime victory over Oregon State. SDSU would go 6-1-1 through the month of September before injuries and a lack of depth caught up with the Aztecs, who finished a remarkable 9-8-3, including a 3-1 win over Sacramento State in the MPSF championships. The showing marked the second appearance in postseason play since 1989 for SDSU.

2004

Coming off a winning season, the Aztecs were excited about the prospects of 2004. Unfortunately, injuries sidelined two starters before the season began and by mid-year, the team was without six starters. Despite finishing with a record of 4-13-2, SDSU ended the campaign on a high note, defeating Sacramento State and UNLV and tying No. 2 New Mexico at home. Throughout the year, the team suffered some close losses, but none closer than its season-opening 1-0 loss to eventual national runner-up UC Santa Barbara. Individually, Heath Creager and Colin Jennings were honored by the MPSF. Creager, a junior forward, was named to the second team, while Jennings, a sophomore midfielder, earned honorable mention accolades.

With its first healthy team in some time and a nationally ranked recruiting class, SDSU finished the season with a 9-4-6 record and its first trip to the NCAA tournament since 1989, where it would fall to UC Santa Barbara, 2-0. In their first season of play in the Pac-10, the Aztecs finished with a respectable record of 2-3-5, with two losses coming in overtime. SDSU began the season with a 1-0 road win over perennial power Rutgers and followed it up with a 0-0 tie to then No. 5 St. John's. The Aztecs never looked back from there, going unbeaten (6-0-1) over their next seven games. SDSU was led by junior goalkeeper Tally Hall, who led the nation with an 88.9 shot-on-goal save percentage and was second in the country with a 0.49 goals against average, both school records. Hall's performance between the posts didn't go unrecognized as he became the first Aztec All-American since 1989 (Marcelo Balboa). Hall was joined on the all-Pac-10 team by senior Matt Couch and sophomore Kraig Chiles.

The 2006 Aztecs continued where last year's team left off, advancing to the NCAA tournament for the second consecutive season, a feat they hadn't done since 1988 and 1989. SDSU finished the season with a 9-6-4 record, including a 5-2-3 record in its second year of Pac-10 play, good enough for sole possession of second place. Tally Hall had a brilliant season between the posts once again, going 9-5-4 with a 1.04 goals against average. He went on to become a M.A.C. Hermann Award semifinalist, an All-American for the second straight season and an all-conference performer. Nick Cardenas made an immediate impact, scoring six times en route to being named the Pac-10 Freshman of the Year. Raul Bautista (second team), Andrew DiCicco (honorable mention), Kraig Chiles (honorable mention), Danny Ortiz (honorable mention) and Dennis Sanchez (honorable mention) were also honored by the league.

SDSU culminated an up and down season with its second consecutive runner-up finish in the Pac-10. The Aztecs posted an eight-game unbeaten streak midway through the season, which included three straight wins against nationally ranked Pac-10 foes UCLA (1-0), California (3-2) and Stanford (2-0). In addition, SDSU was 3-1-2 against nationally ranked foes. However, two key non-conference losses early and another one late ultimately cost the Aztecs their third consecutive trip to the NCAA tournament. Still, the squad posted a 8-7-4 record for its third straight winning season. Senior Kraig Chiles earned second-team Top Drawer Soccer honors as well as first-team all-Pac-10 after leading the squad with 20 points on eight goals and four assists. Sophomore Nick Cardenas was selected to the NSCAA/adidas all-Far West third team and was joined on the all-Pac-10 second team by classmate Evan Toft. Redshirt freshman Brad Byrns, true freshman Khadim Diouf and redshirt sophomore Jamel Wallace each were named to the all-Pac-10 honorable mention, while senior Freddy McDonald was named to the Pac-10 All-Academic first team.
