AZTECS IN THE COMMUNITY

• Part of being an Aztec means giving back to the community and the SDSU women's basketball team has taken this to heart. For the second year in a row, the Aztecs volunteered their time at the Girl Scouts' Run/Walk for a New Day and at a clinic for the San Diego Senior Women's Basketball Association. Previous team service projects include helping to build a playground, serving as volunteers at the Special Olympics, attending a cooking class at a nearby school in Encanto and building a house with Habitat For Humanity.

In 2007, the Aztec basketball team formed a partnership with the San Diego County Office of Education to bring kids in grades K-8 to a game each year, providing an opportunity to celebrate the success of girls and women in sports.
