DOUBLE DEGREE IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

What is a double degree?

International double degree (also DD) is a growing trend in university level business education. By taking two bachelor degrees, at Seinäjoki University of Applied Sciences (SeAMK) in Finland, and one of its international partner universities, you can strengthen the competitive advantage of your future career.

What are the benefits?

As a double degree student you can:

- integrate studying in two degree programmes in two countries
- spend a well-organized study period abroad
- gain valuable practical training experience abroad
- learn about international business from different viewpoints
- become familiar with the language and culture of the host country
- develop your skills in Business English

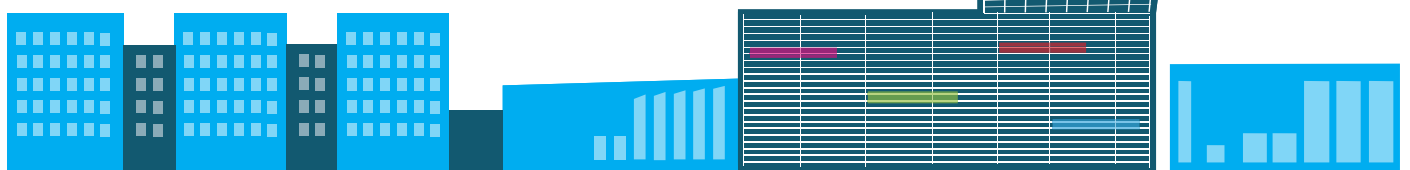

A double degree leads to two bachelor degree certificates
